

How to get a Girlfriend in the Modern Age of Social Media

August 19, 2020 | 803 upvotes | by Aspiringbucket

Actually meet these women (Approach, online dating, meet through friend's events/parties, clubs (dancing, workouts, etc), you're not going to meet members of the opposite sex at home complaining on reddit...

Eliminate all neediness (chasing a woman's validation = death sentence), develop an abundance mindset (He who doesn't want usually gets). BE ON YOUR PURPOSE. Scarcity = high value (human psychology).

BE SCARCE (ESPECIALLY WHEN YOU'RE JUST GETTING TO KNOW THEM ! 1-3 DATES STAGE) .

More texts you send = less value you have in their eyes. TEXTING IS FOR LOGISTICS ONLY (In the dating stage).

You sell yourself in person. The more you text , the better chance you have of talking them out of liking you.

Overpursue a woman = get rejected. DO NOT CHASE. Text them (once a week) to setup the date for the 1st 3 dates. By the 3rd date, THEY SHOULD BE THE ONES REACHING OUT TO YOU. If not, HARD NEXT. You don't want to be in a relationship with somebody that has low interest in you right?

When they reach out to you ("hiii I was just thinking about you, I had a great time on saturday"), you setup a date and thats it. NO TEXTING IN BETWEEN. However, they will usually reach out to you in between, and you can acknowledge them, thats okay. You don't want to coldfish a woman. However, do not blow up her phone or have a 4 hour long phonecall. You're literally doing yourself a disservice. ATTRACTION IS FORMED IN PERSON.

During the dates you should be escalating physically from -> touching their hands/shoulders/ hugs -> kisses -> sex.

The Objective of a date is to have a fun filled romantic time and to create an opportunity for sex to happen.

A WOMAN DEVELOPS HER FEELINGS FOR YOU WHEN YOU GIVE THEM SPACE TO.

They are wondering WHY ISN'T THIS GUY CHASING ME LIKE THE OTHER 99% OF GUYS DO. YOU ARE ON THEIR MIND. When you are texting them 24/7 and blowing up their phone, WHY THE HELL WOULD THEY EVEN THINK ABOUT YOU. She's going to be wondering about the one guy she fucked passionately and why he hasn't reached out to her yet. BE THAT GUY

Let the woman be the one to want the relationship. If you've been doing everything right, she should be the one to say "What are We", "Are we dating", "Are you seeing other girls", by the 7th week of you doing this. This is your opportunity to ask her what she means, and to get exclusivity (if thats what you want).

Usually, when a guy gets all clingy and mopey/emotional after meeting the girl for the first time and he starts to over pursue, the woman gets all uncomfortable because the man is being a WOMAN. All that relationship stuff is feminine energy.

As a MALE WITH MASCULINE ENERGY, literally all you have to do is setup the date, have a fun time, have sex with her, and withdraw yourself emotionally after. THIS IS WHY WOMEN ARE ATTRACTED TO "ASSHOLES" , "EMOTIONALLY UNAVAILABLE MEN", "PLAYERS" all that shit. These men are being MALES IN THEIR MASCULINE. They aren't being little simp boys begging for validation or for a relationship. Leave the relationship to the women. Nice guys = FEMININE ENERGY

AND THATS IT. THATS HOW YOU GET A GIRLFRIEND IN THE MODERN AGE.

Summary:

- NON-NEEDINESS IS ESSENTIAL. The relationship is the womans idea (that is FEMININE ENERGY).

- The man's job is to setup the date, have a fun time and create an opportunity for sex to happen. THAT is MASCULINE ENERGY.

This is exactly why you spin plates, ie date and have sex with multiple women at the same time.

Another part of this I'd add from a psychology piece is we are trained to feel guilty for this type of behaviour as men. Don't let society tell you that being a "player" or a "fuckboi" is a bad thing.

that_star_wars_guy • 56 points • 19 August, 2020 03:34 PM

Don't let society tell you that being a "player" or a "fuckboi" is a bad thing.

If you've set expectations from the beginning, there's nothing to feel guilty about or feel bad for.

If there's an issue well, how hard is it to replace a plate that won't spin?

Ill_mumble_that • 21 points • 20 August, 2020 11:34 AM

Exactly. If I want to sleep with other women, I dont hide it. There is no need to hide it, we are men. Fuck anyone that shames us for being men.

RemiOmega • 45 points • 19 August, 2020 05:24 PM

I don't like the term fuckboy, most fuckboys I know are just superficial (because they wear streetwear or some "badass" clothes), but most of them are betas in the inside.

volvestupidshit • 15 points • 19 August, 2020 10:58 PM

Yeah most of them can act abundant because they have the looks but once they lose it they will not know how to recover.

RemiOmega • 7 points • 20 August, 2020 04:47 AM

Exactly, you need a strong frame and mindset, looks are very helpful, but without a strong mentality you'll lose it no matter what.

Angelrun • 1 point • 6 September, 2020 09:32 PM

Most of them don't lift hahaha

Coolrubblings • 121 points • 19 August, 2020 09:11 AM

Great write-up.

Let me add that guys, getting rejected is not the end of the world, I've met up with girls, they rejected my advances, and I didn't react negatively and just went home about my day.

Sometimes they hit me up again later and we fuck, sometimes they don't, it's a numbers game.

CHAD_J_THUNDERCOCK • 9 points • 23 August, 2020 12:53 AM

Some (most?) of the hottest women I've been with initially brutally rejected me. Then I would handle it unphased and they would a day or two later be super into me. For a long time I genuinely believed it was the only way to date above my league.

yvngmysterious13 • -19 points • 19 August, 2020 05:09 PM

How many bodies do you have?

falecf4 • 40 points • 19 August, 2020 10:31 PM

6 in the freezer, 3 in the trunk...

Coolrubbings • 6 points • 19 August, 2020 07:16 PM

I don't really count, but I'd say between 12 and 16, excluding times where we just messed around.

jasondougies • 3 points • 20 August, 2020 06:55 AM

12 to 16 isn't that high for you to not know even if you weren't counting

Sisyphus_XIV • 179 points • 19 August, 2020 10:16 AM

Wait a minute, what do you guys call a "girlfriend" ?

These are good tips for plating, but not so good for finding an LTR, i.e. a meaningful relationship. If you act like a robot, follow an instructions manual, act a certain way to get a certain thing instead of being cool and honest, you'll have a real hard time connecting with the person, and the relationship will end up feeling really shallow.

I believe it's important to keep that in mind. Thanks for the post.

Ryzasu • 64 points • 19 August, 2020 11:59 AM

I'd say this post is only meant for the initial stages of dating

INNASKILLZ2K18 • 41 points • 19 August, 2020 12:59 PM

This is how you build attraction in the beginning.

You shouldn't be thinking anything in regards to LTR's during this phase. That's later.

Stron2g • 61 points • 19 August, 2020 11:56 AM

LTR red pill is an entirely different beast

DetroitGangster • 43 points • 19 August, 2020 01:18 PM*

It is basically dealing with female nature set on the hardest fucking difficulty

Stron2g • 34 points • 19 August, 2020 01:22 PM

Yep. You need a steel frame to have a successful LTR.

dopexile • 31 points • 19 August, 2020 04:24 PM

And even then the benefit is not worth the reward. Most women will try hard in the beginning to portray they are a great catch.

Over time they will feel secure, start to coast, and make less effort. The cost in terms of your time and energy will exceed any benefits.

As someone who pays child support, that is a plan for having a child. Anyone depending on a woman to take birth control is gambling with their future.

Very few women take the pill at the same time everyday as directed which makes it much less effective.

A woman can decide to just stop taking the pill to trap a man and lock him down if she thinks that is in her best interest. Wow, I forgot to take my pill. I Can't believe I got pregnant while I was on the pill. It happens a lot more than you would think.

Irreverent_Alligator • 18 points • 19 August, 2020 04:37 PM

PhilipChr • 2 points • 22 August, 2020 11:38 PM

That's the problem with today's society isn't it? The human mind has not evolved to deal with this type of temptation and abundance of choice. Coupled with female hypergamy it's a recipe for disaster. What's the solution then for LTR's? Not dating girls active on these apps? Either that or being ok with open relationships is the path of least resistance.

Stron2g • 3 points • 20 August, 2020 12:59 AM

Your grandfather must be John Wayne's twin - doesnt take shit from Indians, black people, nor Mexicans (Boondocks reference ofc) michael1962-01 • 9 points • 19 August, 2020 02:36 PM

Yes and No. AWALT still holds. Text will be more than logistics.

Power play will be daily task to deal with.

Stron2g • 6 points • 19 August, 2020 02:50 PM

The fundamentals will always be necessary.

What I meant to say was in regard to the difficulty not quite the strategies involved.

HumanSockPuppet • 17 points • 19 August, 2020 04:29 PM

The tips for finding plates and girlfriends are the same. The reason is because it's up to the girl to inspire you to want to make her a girlfriend.

Once you find a girl who is worthy of a LTR, you take the appropriate steps to train her.

Sisyphus_XIV • 2 points • 20 August, 2020 08:05 AM

True. I guess the wording of the post is what made me react: I mean if you still have to obey a manual to pull, you're not ready for an LTR.

oic123 • 14 points • 19 August, 2020 11:43 AM

OP isn't telling anyone to lie or be uncool.

zino193 • 23 points • 19 August, 2020 02:10 PM

No, you do not create connection - it forms. If you "sell" yourself as a boyfriend you lost the game before it even starts.

A meaningful relationship \neq I need a mommy figure to nurture me.

A meaningful relationship is one where she molds to your life - and supports because that is her sinking in her feminine nature. It has nothing to do with you or what you want, it's about her and what she wants, what she feels she has to do.

Your job is to be masculine, to offer her strength, guidance, teachings. This opens her up to be feminine and give you more of herself.

Ill_mumble_that • 8 points • 20 August, 2020 11:36 AM meaningful relationship

Define meaningful. Have you actually spent time with women?

Other than sex, I can't think of a time that hanging with my buddies isn't better. Women are boring outside of sex and cuddles.

WesternRattle • 5 points • 19 August, 2020 06:03 PM

Take a look at the married redpill sidebar to get more info on that.

To find an LTR, follow OP's post then agree to be exclusive with them. Then, use the tools from married redpill sidebar to create a strong relationship.

hearse223 • 7 points • 19 August, 2020 12:14 PM

"LTR redpill" is more in the purplepill realm.

Redpill classic rejects LTRs and marriage, spinning plates is the only focus.

oferow • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 12:56 PM

This is actually not true at all, you can get and keep a girlfriend doing this in the first stages, and then let the relationship develop. Hopefully with some red pill LTR knowledge so you don't become blue pill again.

welderbyad • 66 points • 19 August, 2020 11:57 AM

Just gonna say this texting "only for logistics" shit has caused many girls to flake on me over the years. I stopped doing that shit more than 5 years ago.

DetroitGangster • 50 points • 19 August, 2020 01:20 PM*

Same here man. I thought I was being mysterious and more of a valuable man because my time was limited but a ton of girls stopped chasing because they took it as me being cold or dismissive. Now adays, I still don't over-text but I definitely send over some quick playful banter "check-ins" to keep the rapport going in order to set up more "logistics" for a date.

yellowsquare1980 • 34 points • 19 August, 2020 04:21 PM

Exactly, considering women are on their phones 95% of their day (even when they're "working") they want something to look forward to or someone to respond.

Sure don't overwhelm her but the conventional advice for logistics only doesn't work for me.

Sisyphus_XIV • 42 points • 19 August, 2020 12:04 PM

Same. it's about time we dropped that advice.

eddielovett • 17 points • 19 August, 2020 11:36 PM

The advice is solid for most guys since they would otherwise over text and blow it redditthrowaway1478 • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 06:50 PM

All depends on how strong of an impression you made. When it comes to OLD, 99% of the time you're right that you'll have to keep the fire stoked until you can meet, but the better her first impression of you, the less you have to care about this Maintenance step

empatheticapathetic • 55 points • 19 August, 2020 09:08 AM

Why would an online dating girl meet you if you have established zero rapport over text?

narcissistPenguin • 22 points • 19 August, 2020 09:39 AM

As the OP said, don't overchase. Ofc you'll have to text in online dating, but making the woman feel like she's all you've got is a cock blocker. Even if you're only talking to only one girl, you've to keep your frame intact. Jealousy and competition are the guiding factors.

empatheticapathetic • 35 points • 19 August, 2020 10:05 AM

Yeah that's fine. But this whole "texting for logistics" never made sense to me when its OLD. You need to give them a reason to want to meet you.

askmrcia • 14 points • 19 August, 2020 12:40 PM

You're right. The only time i would do text for logistics for an online girl is if they are responding to my first two messages slow or have a few words of text.

If they going to be low effort off the bat then so should you. I think the whole text for logistics thing came about because guys really do struggle with texting when trying to build rapport.

Like guys don't know when they should text, how often, how long the messages should be, should they use emojis or not, ect... (tip, none of this really matters. If they trip over this then they aren't worth the effort anyways).

So texting for logistics takes all that away.

destraht • 4 points • 20 August, 2020 01:42 AM

You text-only for logistics in scenes/peoples that are played out. If a place hasn't raced to the bottom yet then you can show a bit more humanity. Most of the Red Pill in 2020 is about how to lick more droplets of moisture from the cactus in the morning.

thop89 • 1 point • 19 August, 2020 10:32 PM

Why not get better at texting? To cut texting off is fucking absurd.

redpillschool • 2 points • 21 August, 2020 02:10 PM

I had a chuckle reading this, because to me it was more like a list of instructions on how not to meet anybody online...

Don't chase, don't approach, avoid contact, and get laid!

dopexile • 4 points • 19 August, 2020 04:28 PM

For a man in the top 10% they can be a criminal and they will meet up. Just look at how some of these conversations go... some girls agree to meet up and bang on the second and third text.

Opening with "Wanna bang" works successfully.

chomponthebit • 7 points • 19 August, 2020 10:14 AM

Abundance mentality: you match, be fun, make a meeting IMMEDIATELY, and prove why your p oughtta be in her v in person

empatheticapathetic • 24 points • 19 August, 2020 10:18 AM

You've ignored the issue in your response. Why is she meeting me? The question is based on experience. Arranging this meet immediately never works. People don't go meet someone they don't know without some conversation first (unless you're chad thundercock).

IslayGuppy • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 01:34 PM

If that's the case for you then maybe you just didn't create the right setting. It's just like kino, you work up to a point. Close to half of my messages sent before meeting are about us meeting or doing something together. Meeting up is why you're there, it's the natural thing to do, make it feel like the natural thing to do.

empatheticapathetic • 6 points • 19 August, 2020 01:38 PM

So texting isn't just for logistics then? Not sure what you're trying to say.

empatheticapathetic • 1 point • 19 August, 2020 05:11 PM

I literally just said I don't know what he's saying. And then I confirmed "so texting isn't just for logistics then?"

I don't get matches anymore anyway so it's irrelevant. Just never understood how the TFL rule actually was supposed to work.

TheMF-J • 2 points • 20 August, 2020 01:33 AM

This doesn't work in my experience. Go for the meet too soon and you come off too intense/desperate. You should be busy. Make her suggest the meet first once you've been talking on the app for a little while.

Pleasenodrugs • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 09:46 AM

Whatever u want really. I'll post jokes, funny shit I see, racing cars, cool parties. Just having fun really and I got a bunch of girls that watch my shit religiously like a soap opera lol. Fact is most girls under 25 will think ur a weirdo if u don't post on social media

empatheticapathetic • 8 points • 19 August, 2020 10:15 AM

I got an insta but haven't posted anything for 2+ years. Occasionally post a story here and there when its something i'm proud of. Culled my pics down to 40 or something. Everyone else on my insta, girls and guys, just post their normal shit. Seems boring as fuck to me.

Basically have a goal in mind before texting her. Don't text for no reason. You can start a convo getting to know them but your goal at the end is to set up a meeting, date etc. that's how I took it as and how I've seen this kind of advice on other platforms.

Don't over text (long paragraphs) just match their energy or less if you can. But yes you're right it's not literally just logistics like "hey let's meet up on X for Y" and then that's it, show your personality and have a goal/plan in place for your texts

So many rules to follow when you actually should just do one single thing - put your interests above hers while having no fear of losing her. It is my way or highway. The relationship with her exists for your satisfaction, you know that you are the prize and that it would be her loss if the relationship ends.

Trying to do "the right cool high value thing", trying to "do what alpha should" is just another form of betaness and neediness. Instead of trying to not be needy so that she didn't left you - just stop being needy by changing your priorities from keeping her around to satisfying your desires, either with her or with someone else.

The real high-value man is egoistic and follows his desires more than anything else. He isn't trying hard to keep the girl around him by following rules he have read somewhere.

nebraskaguy402 • 6 points • 19 August, 2020 11:22 PM*

Yuuup. Dated a girl for 5 weeks. Didn't care about her for the first month and she was all about me. The last week I started engaging over text more, got feelings for her, asked her when I could see her again and she couldn't have bounced sooner. Took 3 days of me texting her like 4 to 5 texts spaced throughout each day to completely kill her attraction for me when we would go a day or two without talking prior. I was shocked but I only have myself to blame. Played the "I'm stressed at work and need space, you're a great guy and its nothing you did wrong" card. She then had a firefighter in her friend group blowing her back out a few weeks later.

Almost word for word with a few other tidbits sprinkled in

ZachMeadows • 22 points • 19 August, 2020 12:18 PM

It's not as easy as that write up.

In their sexual prime (if they are above average) women will post a picture online and get hundreds of matches in a day, why would they bother try to know you, especially if you are not 'advertised' as in lots of stories on Insta ?

Have you ever seen a girl put thought and research an actual well manufactured, solid yet good looking wrist watch ? No, they all wear that Daniel Wellington chinese crap they saw in between stories or that someone else gifted them.

You build an influence through whatever means. Social media is the most prominent nowadays, sadly, but it can be achievement at school, work, sports club, charity associations or local bar events. Once you are "the guy", you can play your game and pull.

Or you know, be attractive.

zino193 • 16 points • 19 August, 2020 02:17 PM

Sorry doomer, but most women don't know what they want. Stop taking at face value what they do.

You can be a plumber, be aloof, be scarce and spike her feelings when you're with her and have a IDGAF attitude when you aren't.

Leave the INCEL culture at entry. It's not only possible to fuck the club slut without a rolex, it's even more likely because if she is a status hunter she will hold out for the guys she is actively pursuing and get her rocks off with a FWB on the side.

There is a difference between what she thinks is dating, and what she actually fucks. You want to be the fucker, not the one she dates and parades around social media.

ZachMeadows • 6 points • 20 August, 2020 09:59 AM*

[EDIT] : I've red the original post again and your comment in the main thread.

Just to clarify, I'm saying that getting that first date can be a difficult task when the girl is always being notified on social media.

Indeed when she 'kinda' knows you and you've established yourself the advices are sound. It's just that meeting someone randomly at a bar and leaving such a good impression that she will think about you when you are playing hard to get is not how it works.

Nowadays people don't even bother registering names on their phone, so sending a text every 4 days to set up a date is going to be difficult. [/EDIT]

Sorry doomer

Nice, I like it.

I know that women don't know what they want, or how they're feeling at any given point. And I agree with your statement about your job and how you act.

And yes you can fuck the club slut, thanks to the setting and the alcohol.

But IMO if you don't have a 'seal of value' of any kind, you don't get to be picked if you are not good looking.

Now the post was on getting a girlfriend in the modern age of social media. It is easier to be the fucker than to get a girlfriend when starting from scratch. That is not what I was talking about.

Being established (in your group of friend for example) will make it easier to pull girls at a bar or at a party than to be the new guy.

Stop taking at face value what they do

I've done that and got away with it lots of times. But it isolate you. You start to lose empathy and just live in your own selfish/assholey bubble and people will notice.

It works, maybe can help one get laid, but you will not build meaningful relationships whether with males or females.

Leave the INCEL culture at entry.

I considere myself an incel, but I don't use it as an excuse. I encourage people to adapt and increase SMV accordingly.

zino193 • 1 point • 20 August, 2020 02:53 PM

Just to clarify, I'm saying that getting that first date can be a difficult task when the girl is always being notified on social media.

I respect that follow up and the thoughtful reply.

I think neither me or OP are talking about pick up techniques. Sarge pick up is not really what you do after you get 2 plates.

What OP was talking was more lifestyle design. Something that sounds a bit alien unless you passed that stage of scarcity.

What I complemented was more about mindset - trying to bridge the gap between the PUA that has a clear short term goal and the plate spinning lifestyle of a red pill man that integrated pick up into his life and is focusing on other things and has the women part just as a component of his life.

Nowadays people don't even bother registering names on their phone, so sending a text every 4 days to set up a date is going to be difficult. [/EDIT]

I think texting is just a umbrella term for short form text communication. Most people do instagram nowadays, but it varies. As for setting up the date - again this is a misunderstanding between the short term pick up artist and the lifestyle approach. Fundamentally you should not have time or interest to insist and have a texting session with a girl. (unless she is making the effort and trying to make it interesting - in which case you immediately reward with a: I'm done with work, come at my place and bring a good wine and <insert call back to something you talked about.>).

But IMO if you don't have a 'seal of value' of any kind, you don't get to be picked if you are not good looking.

Again that misunderstanding. You have value for being a man. Honestly - most women suck at entertaining themselves and are so bored. Most women do not have access to Chad because they aren't sultry HB8+. It's just about minset - and there everything else branches out - the aloofness, the intensity and the fun slip and slide to sexy time.

You know already that :

When women say they want kind and gentle they are talking about the hawt guy. Similarly when inexperienced men with scarcity talk about women being picky, they aren't talking about the 7 that doesn't put herself together and has less than $200 / month make up budget. You are talking about the dominant, sexually aggressive top girl in an environment where she is the prize and can find another guy to entertain her just by turning her head. Yes man, definitely - you must be Hot Guy +8 for her to notice you among her orbiters. Yes man, you need to be the group leader of a mixed group for her to invest the initial 2 minutes. BUT: most women aren't there and EVEN those women, will be open to give you 2 minutes if you meet her while she is waiting for her friends or if you meet her in a professional environment where you are the one calling the shots and crushing it.

But it isolate you. You start to lose empathy and just live in your own selfish/asshole bubble and people will notice.

I disagree that is actually empathy and I will argue more in my next paragraph. I want to argue that the bubble is your frame - everyone has it. Whether you are a blue boy that thinks he can turn the girl chatting and laughing at your memes and the feminist that think that if he saves enough damsels one will inevitably slip and fall on his dick. Similarly with super front brain heavy MGTOWs or Incels - your frame is your own and it's built because self image is important to us as humans, it provides a reference for who we are and helps us engage with new situations. My question is - is it enough? Are those values yours or societies? Do you have them because you see them work, or because the alternative is scary as shit. Think about it - does your framework actually make you happy, or have you just accepted and built upon years of pain and loneliness. No shade, I was a doomer too. And still have those lonely nights between christmas and nye.

It works, maybe can help one get laid, but you will not build meaningful relationships whether with males or females.

Until you make a woman come that woman can not be honest with you. Emotionally she is afraid to open up and be vulnerable. Only after her body is "conquered" lead by her instincts - and all the shit testing that comes from them - can she truly let her guard down, stop with the manipulation and the image projection. That being said - is anything other than fuckery - actual empathy? Are you relating to the slut? the chick that dreamt of sucking off a horse - or the little girl that learned from a early age to put on a play pretend of high status, high expectations and the one that needs to be wooed and won over. Women love arseholes because they are the only ones that they actually get to meet. They are the only ones that make her feel like a woman, not a character in a simulation of their life. And truth be told - men are similar - at least blue pill men. They act as men. That's not empathy, that's a role they learned to play. Being empathetic to a woman that is throwing away her life on activism and gender studies is a bitch slap. If you genuinely care for her as a human, you will treat her as a drug addict. But that's not the "empathy" that is expected of us. <there is no feminist fuckable feminist that is, that didn't admit her beliefs are bullshit - they just use it because they don't have power and control over their life>

I considere myself an incel, but I don't use it as an excuse. I encourage people to adapt and increase SMV accordingly.

That's nice, but that sounds to my ears: I consider myself dead. Man, unless a horse stomped on your head when you were a kid - you are not too ugly for a girl. And even if you do get ripped at the gym and you will change how you think of yourself and how others think of themselves. Trust me, there's some ugly motherfuckers in the gym - a busted face seems to just give the muscles street cred.

ZachMeadows • 1 point • 21 August, 2020 09:04 AM

I feel like we agree on some points and have a nice conversation about some others where we do not. That's a nice change.

I think neither me or OP are talking about pick up tehniques.

Fair enough. It might be where the discussion diverge.

trying to bridge the gap between the PUA [...] and has the women part just as a component of his life.

I completely agree on that.

Most people do instagram nowadays, but it varies.

It is an entirely different topic, but to me it boils down to respect. Also, when you failed to give a woman tingles on the first encounter, she doesn't register you and never bother to reply. Only the ones she registered are in the "maybe" category. I don't have a problem with it, but when you do not know that, you invest (all things considers of course) time and effort to set up dates with no return and it can wear down self esteem.

Of course, self worth, soft next, aloofness, DGAF, etc... are valid points for another discussion.

About your point on the 2min window. I agree, that's how I've been doing all these years. But maybe it's dependent on local culture, where I live it's all about legitimacy. If you come out of nowhere, it will be harder to get the girl to agree to a date. Kinda like if you are not part of the company, you cannot join the afterwork event. It is possible, but considerably harder.

Think about it - does your framework actually make you happy, or have you just accepted and built upon years of pain and loneliness.

You have a good point. It is difficult but I must admit that it is the latter for me.

Until you make a woman come that woman can not be honest with you.

Completely agree. But the rest of the paragraph is confusing.

A WOMAN DEVELOPS HER FEELINGS FOR YOU WHEN YOU GIVE THEM SPACE TO

Important to understand. Yet again last week one of my old plates contacted me again (I guess this was 4th time when she returned.) She knows that I won't be monogamous. Usually she goes away to "try it out with this new dude" and won't see me for 3-4 months and then she comes back. Little by little she has been more open/talkative about her attempts to get that love dovey monogamous relationship which fails every time because of the same reason:

She is attracted and interested of the guy for the first 4-5 dates and then the guy gets needy and fucks it up and then she loses her attraction. She feels like she is suppressed and that the guy has nothing else going on because they just wanna be with her (even tho guy had something going on - it's irrelevant because for her the only relevant thing is what she feels).

Now, she is a bit hard case scenario and really has a thing going on for "emotionally unavailable men" which she has stated in those exact words but at the same time she is really good example how women feel for too needy and pushy men.

I'm pretty much the only man she has been interested for months and not gotten that suppressed feeling (we dated 3 months until she demanded monogamy) - the joke is on her tho because I'm also the only one who hasn't promised her monogamy. She will be an interesting case study for me in months to come. She is a high value women with LTR properties so I wouldn't mind making her my girlfriend but I just can't do it if she demands monogamy.

Doesn't really work. If I don't text, she won't reach me out. They always have another guy reaching them out if I don't.

TL;DR: Abundance, Frame, Push-pull.

kaymaximus • 5 points • 19 August, 2020 04:19 PM

This is a really good summary of How to be a 3% man by Corey Wayne. In my opinion, that book is the only thing you need to learn to get good game.

YoloHambone • 4 points • 19 August, 2020 07:05 PM

If you are on your purpose in life being rejected by a female is no big deal. Girls are to have fun with but being hurt by being rejected by them shows that you want to marry or LTR. Neither are very available these days. Financial health, physical health and mental health are the things you need. Everything else is a byproduct.

ChadMini • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 09:24 PM

Also stop talking about yourself. Get her talking about herself, so she is the one validating.

NigroqueSimillima • 3 points • 20 August, 2020 10:46 PM

By the 3rd date, THEY SHOULD BE THE ONES REACHING OUT TO YOU. If not, HARD NEXT. You don't want to be in a relationship with somebody that has low interest in you right?

This is dumb. Many girls are insecure, and won't reach out no matter how much they like you. They're programmed to think if a guy likes them he'll make the moves. Gauge interest by how she responded to your text and how she treats you on a date.

Rest is pretty spot on, but be careful about being too withdrawal. Make a women too insecure and she'll self reject. If she's treating you right, you don't have to pretend like you barely like her after sex.

MattyAnon • 3 points • 22 August, 2020 02:18 PM

Pretty solid stuff, but:

AND THATS IT. THATS HOW YOU GET A GIRLFRIEND IN THE MODERN AGE.

You shouldn't be trying to get a girlfriend. If you need or even want a girlfriend you are acting out of scarcity. You want a solution to your problem of sexual availability, and you've been conditioned to believe that the solution is to offer your commitment in the hope of receiving sexual favours.

This is an unattractive mindset to be in.

If you want sex (and you should), you should be aiming to fulfil that need without offering your commitment. Commitment is a fundamentally beta objective, hence offering it implies you are unattractive.

Girls know this shit instinctively. "Why is he going straight for the consolation prize? Why is he offering so much for so little? He must be low value".

Instead aim to get your needs met. Don't entertain the idea of commitment until you are complete and happy and satisfied. And when you get there you might think twice about entering into a fundamentally beta proposition.

This subreddit sucks now. Just regurgitation of information. Read the sidebar and the top posts then just unsub.

ntkstudy44 • 2 points • 19 August, 2020 05:03 PM

I think ur going a bit far w/ the texting part...texting is normal, I have never lost a girl's attraction by texting her. The only time that would work is if she's already extremely attracted to you.

OneTrueQ • 2 points • 19 August, 2020 05:37 PM

Also vet relentlessly and believe/probe for red flags. Goes hand in hand with non neediness

StingRayFins • 2 points • 20 August, 2020 04:24 AM

The best way to get a girlfriend is to act like you care but don't actually care. If you really care you come off thirsty and desperate and they HATE that. But if you don't care too much they'll feel offended and ignore you to protect their own ego.

You want to care enough to make them feel like there's something special about them. People generally like people who like them. This keeps them interested and invested. Love and unconditional love and all that shit is nonsense.

It's all disguised and looks like that but it's all a means to boost your own ego.

js10rc • 2 points • 20 August, 2020 11:22 AM

Solid advice.

Coach Corey Wayne and his book 'How to be a 3% man' has some great info on the subject of LTR.

And if you have neediness issues 'No more Mr nice guy' and 'Models'.

As you read through these books you can quickly analyse where you went wrong in your experience with women.

When reading any of these books more important than reading the material is applying it.

Failure is success in progress lads!

spartanblood1 • 2 points • 21 August, 2020 05:40 AM

"What are We", "Are we dating", "Are you seeing other girls", by the 7th week of you doing this.

I got this question asked after 7 months ...

TheFlyingPro • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 12:29 PM

Did TRP reach some kind of ceiling? Don't get me wrong: this one is not necessarily a bad post, but tbh I don't see any value added in all the recent stuff that gets published on the sub.

NYCMusicMarathon • 2 points • 19 August, 2020 04:33 PM*

As an older Red Pill adherent this is gold mine stuff.

If you've been doing everything right, she should be the one to say "What are We", "Are we dating", "Are you seeing other girls", Let a woman work for her life with you.

She needs a trophy guy, be that guy.

Allow her to do her feminine work.

zino193 • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 02:40 PM

Excellent post. I just wanna complement it with what is a date.

A date is time off from society between the woman and you. A date is fun, honest, cheeky. A date gradually grows the connection of your mind, bodies and sexual identity - and enables the rest of your lives to fall into the background.

What starts with a touch of the hands or a punch in the shoulder evolves naturally and smoothly into you digging her out. Just keep that same energy going. Whether she pulls back, whether she passes on coming back to yours, taking of her shirt or refusing to take you up on your offer of a threesome.

You are with her to have fun, and you will have it. You will maintain that same cheeky playful but penetrating energy from minute one until the plate falls.

You are not there to negotiate, you are not there to argue, hold her hand while she relives her sexual assault or her chat with Karen earlier in the day at the office.

You are there to have fun, and nudge towards sexual release for both of you. She can stop, she can doubt, she can complain - but the energy is only going one way. You will stop, you will listen and you will understand - but your energy will not change. She can flake, she can ghost for 3 weeks or disappear for 3 years - you do not change your tone, your mood or your intent. You are a slip-and-slide to sexy time. She may not want it today, next month or while she is still in a relationship - but she knows, that you are the one that she can call if she wants the easy life, the careless chad experience where nothing matters and she always gets a good fucking at the end of the date.

Women have choice, use that. Just how she chooses to sap to cry late at night with, or the daddy that pays for her vacation, she choose men she calls when she is bored and horny. Don't worry about her needs, wants and sorrows. She has other dudes to handle that, you need to be the guy she calls because she knows he can reliably deliver the dick.

Having this attitude, being "that guy". Will make fucking irrelevant because after you date and prime 12-20 women that you are "that guy". There won't be a week, where you can't set something up with someone from the past.

It may not be Cheryl, or that cute little tease from the parking lot you don't approach because she said that one time you're old - but if you cast your "that guy" identity wide enough, there will always be some girl "in town for just one night needing a place to crash", a "birthday girl bored of her party", a "just broken up with my bastard boyfriend" or a "kids are with him tonight" milf.

Fuckbois, and big dick energy aren't just jokes. Women have choice, stop worrying about what women want and just be what they need maybe once a year when she starts thinking about Tinder.

dopexile • 2 points • 19 August, 2020 04:19 PM

How to get a girlfriend in the modern age of social media:

- 1) Have attractive looks
- 2) Don't be unattractive

Aspiringbucket • 3 points • 19 August, 2020 04:57 PM

Brother you could be Brad Pitt but if you're needy, weak, clingy, emotional and overall a bitch boy you're not even going to land a 6/10

zino193 • 2 points • 19 August, 2020 08:37 PM

Only guys that fear owning up to their sexuality think like this.

Yes, girls will hit on you if you look good. And that's where it ends.

Everything else is the same blue pill bullshit. Entertaining her, begging for the puss or holding her purse.

Looking good does not compensate for mental game.

What it does though is give you the right mindset. You know there's another right around the corner, you know she wants to get fucked down. You know she will scamper back to you with fucking enthusiasm after she hears that girl Becky was withing 3 ft of you at a party.

But all that, all that mindset that keeps them investing and makes them fall for you - all that can be done by just playing the field, spinning plates and not falling for the first girl that holds your hand.

That's true male maturity. Acceptance of female nature and going with it while getting yours.

classicliberal1 • 1 point • 19 August, 2020 03:06 PM

My brother is 35 and wants to start a family. His last go at a girl he did exactly the opposite of what you described here. and even boasted about how "they were texting all the time so things are going well". After 2-3 dates (where he cooked for her and all that shit, but didn't even come close to kissing her) HE asked HER the "what are we?" question.

Naturally, the girl ghosted him

I read Corey a lot before finding TRP and it helped as much as it could be have. However, Once I found The Red Pill, I literally threw his book away. He is Purple Pill at best, but I think the guy's got good intentions. Funny enough, I could tell long before the last line that you had read 3% Man.

I think you did a great job putting a more RP spin on his principles so I'll give it my upvote, but I think his book is a bit remedial for anyone who's read the sidebar and/or the Rational Male.

You would prefer if your BOYFRIEND texts you all the time.

However, when some guy you just met blows up your phone you're going to think this guy is a stage 5 clinger and get rid of him ASAP.

This guide is directed for males in the DATING/Getting to know somebody stage.

When you're in a relationship, feel free to text your girlfriend and let them receive your love. However, doing this when you're getting to know somebody is an automatic ghosting throwaway_179292 • 1 point • 28 August, 2020 05:19 PM

No, even when I just start talking to someone I like the constant contact. My ex and I actually started talking 24/7 almost right after we met. I met him coming out of an abusive relationship and him constantly being in touch and showing he cared made me feel a lot better. I don't mind if a guy is "clingy", I'd rather him be himself if that means texting a lot.
