

This sub was WAY ahead of it's time

February 14, 2021 | 883 upvotes | by BlindingTwilight

I used to spend a lot of time in here about 5-6 years ago. I was an endorsed contributor but I had to delete my old username due to doxxing threats. Those were great times and I remember them very fondly. The things I learned in here were life changing and I had the pleasure of passing on tips to help other guys. Now we exist in an age of censorship but this sub copped it all first and you are still standing! Quite an achievement to give so much truth in a world where speaking the truth is now a crime.

1. You were one of the first subs to be quarantined/ banned for “wrongthink”
2. You were cutting edge. This knowledge was seKret before you let the cat out of the bag and you DID IT FOR FREE!! You did it for the LOVE of your fellow man
3. You told the TRUTH! To quote G Orwell “In a time of deceit, telling the truth is a revolutionary act.” We are truly living in a time of universal deceit and this sub right here was one of the canaries in the coal mine.
4. It was always FREE. This place was never successfully co opted for profit (although there was the Red Man debacle)
5. askTRP was a resource ahead of its time. Filled with noobs asking for all sorts of advice and it was given for free by guys like Vasily. That sort of consulting service should cost per hour but the very best endorsed contributors gave of their time for free to help sad strangers
6. I have absolutely no doubt that this site saved many lives. I recall seeing Redpillschool and other senior members helping desperate broken men to make sense of their situation and find a new way. My bet is that there is a lot of people above ground today 100% due to this kindness
7. There was some absolutely top notch and extremely well written stuff. GLO is an amazing writer and his satire and double meanings were wonderfully instructive and fucking hilarious. Guys like Whisper, Humansockpuppet and Uncle Vasily were sharing absolute gold which was helpful in more ways than just getting laid. Some of GLOs posts were world class and I learned a lot from his style.

Due to my involvement in this sub my life is very different to the way it could have been. Apart from the wonderful HBs I enjoyed spending time with in and out of the bed my personal life also improved dramatically. I kept myself in better shape and always had my pick of high quality women to spend time with. Learning skills like agree and amplify, how to ignore shit tests, maintaining good eye contact and how to control the flow of conversation has enormous applications in business, friendships, family and all other personal interactions. My life is better off physically, emotionally, financially and socially because of my work in this sub. I learned a lot of things and I helped a lot of people. To give is to get.

I can see that the current mods are very vigilant as to what gets posted here and this is very important. The price of freedom is eternal vigilance and this mindset has allowed you to stay relevant, stay pure and to continue to help men. So I hope this post finds you all well and I also hope this post does not break any former or existing rules. I would love to come back from time to time, share some comments and maybe even post a little if people find my insights to be worthwhile. For those of you who are relatively new to this knowledge you need to stick at it and fail forward. We all need to learn to walk before we can learn to run. So a huge congratulations to all of the mods, senior members and endorsed contributors that have made this place so special and helped so many people.

Man this is the type of post that reminds me how much love is in this space. No greater love for you fellow man than giving him TRUTH, and thus the freedom to CHOOSE. I owe a lot and will continue to owe a lot to this place.

BlindingTwilight[S] • 40 points • 14 February, 2021 04:37 AM

That is why this place is pure. It is all about love for our fellow man, free advice given from the heart. It is also best for women because they are naturally red pill. They get the benefit of masculine men in their life which is what they crave. Femininity is attracted to masculinity

[deleted] • 28 points • 14 February, 2021 03:34 AM

A huge thank you to this sub and everyone involved, especially the OG's. Seriously changed my life and many other's. Life savers for sure.

DareHaunting6136 • 28 points • 14 February, 2021 05:35 AM

Found redpill since 2014 am 26 now. I just graduated and got a career in a high paying field I enjoy. Got in a LTR for two years before uni for experience god I learned woman weren't shit the hard way. But also I can fuck girls just one day after meeting them now so no regrets. I think the best days are ahead.

armenian_UwUcide • 123 points • 14 February, 2021 03:02 AM*

I found TRP in 2016. Been lurking here ever since under different usernames. Definitely life changing, but did manage to hit a few RP "milestones." (Turns out a few things I would later absolutely not care about)

There's, of course, been shitty posts and griefers here ever since. Has the rate of them gone up a bit? Yeah. But Reddit use in general has been at an all time high.

Some advice to some newbies and lurkers: Don't do something just because "the redpill" recommends it. The ultimate redpill is being free to do what you want to do. I've done a few things suggested here as "redpill achievements" that I otherwise would prefer to not have done in hindsight. That all said, this sub has still been a positive contribution to my life.

jackandjill22 • 4 points • 14 February, 2021 10:58 PM

Likewise, I remember whenever something like a mass shooting by an incel or something happened. When the media was creating a narrative blaming men this sub was always here with amazing with it's Moderators & unbelievable content producers to explain things with a nuanced take.

chopping_livers • 11 points • 14 February, 2021 09:18 AM

I otherwise would prefer to not have done in hindsight

Like what? If you don't mind sharing.

armenian_UwUcide • 87 points • 14 February, 2021 09:52 AM*

Went way too far down the dark triad rabbit hole, primarily.

Ending up in relationships where I downright mistreated them into what I could only describe as diet Stockholm syndrome, getting a girl knocked up, threesomes that probably weren't worth the hassle, butchering my appearance because "it's masculine to be ugly bro," fucking girls for cash and cars, and wasting so much damn time while ruining friendships just to spin as many plates as I could. It was basically a full time job as a sociopathic male prostitute, and was a running joke with one girl. (For perspective, I'm normally highly empathetic and really couldn't care for sex at this point) Sounds like an incel's wet dream, and yes the girls themselves were neither unattractive nor too many red flags, but trust me when I say it sunk my mental health to a new low pretending to be a piece of shit to feed their sense of victimhood and keep them sexually involved. Some of the advice here is solid, some of it bad, and others good but can be completely unnecessary depending on the person. Honestly the best thing I'd tell my old self is to digest the awareness this community provides, but make better decisions on my own to preserve my sanity and focus more time on developing an actual, profitable skill independent of others. Pussy nor the ego ain't always worth the trouble.

This place is like a toolbox, as they say. Take what you need, leave what you don't, and, like a gun, respect the tool's capabilities and don't misuse it. I still see some noobs in asktrp who don't quite get that TRP is not meant to be treated as a religion.

chopping_livers • 13 points • 14 February, 2021 11:21 AM

Thanks for sharing. It seems you've grown and learned a lot.

chomponthebit • 7 points • 14 February, 2021 12:51 PM

Better to be eclectic than dogmatic.

armenian_UwUcide • 14 points • 14 February, 2021 01:02 PM*

Very true. And, I do apologize if my reply brought a seemingly negative counter-view to an otherwise positive post.

TRP did get my foot out the door. And a lot of what I did was ultimately to float above homelessness, as I split off from both indoctrinated and absent yet controlling parents to actually gain life experience. Granted, in hindsight was both absurdly excessive and didn't quite achieve that goal all the time.

But it did confirm a lot of what was Redpill theory for me, and I did gain invaluable skills, experience and cherished memories throughout my misadventures, not to mention some bomb ass cuddles. Better to have lived and learned than not at all. Many things I would not do again, but I got out that cycle relatively unscathed. No regrets.

Ensifror • 4 points • 14 February, 2021 10:12 PM

The first rule of life should always be "want what you want, not what other people think you should want".

pappo4ever • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 03:01 PM

getting a girl knocked up, threesomes that probably weren't worth the hassle, butchering my appearance because "it's masculine to be ugly bro," fucking girls for cash and cars

Sounds awesome except for the part of knocking up a girl. TRP says, always use protection.

armenian_UwUcide • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 07:33 PM

In some ways, but the biggest problem were the costs of all of this. Costed too much time, too much effort, too much money, isolated me from actually developing close connections when I could've used them the most, and too much in other ways. (Complete lack of insurance coverage included) All things in moderation they say, and there certainly wasn't in my case. And with no safety net and a lot of drug use, it was a very unstable way to live, which would go on to exacerbate already pre-existing mental health conditions.

empatheticapathetic • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 04:44 PM

Do you think if you told your past self this information, it would prevent him from taking the same steps?

armenian_UwUcide • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 07:36 PM*

I'm honestly not sure, considering my past self's circumstances were already dubious enough. Most prudent message for me to know though would be that employing all of this would not fix any of the problems I initially set out to fix in the first place.

Edit: I would, in hindsight, absolutely tell myself to not take a Machiavellian, "fake it till you make it" approach too far. I got to a point I did not recognize myself in the facade I was living, and that, inevitably, is why I sacrificed the situation to start over eventually, as it was completely incongruent to my true character.

offbeat_glass • 2 points • 24 February, 2021 04:17 PM

this is something I can really relate to in my early thirties especially. Instead of using trp to get woman to flock to me. I simply use it to discern social situations and gauge weather or not I even have a chance with a girl. I definitely don't go out of my way AT ALL to try to impress a woman. Or even say things that might impress them (unless im slippin). My GOAL when I go out for the night isn't to get laid. It's to make sure the people I'm with, and interested in HAVE FUN. That way im never disappointed, I always have a good time, and thats the best way to plant seeds for the future imo you sound legit retarded. imagine if you had fallen in some radical political cult. this is why awareness is the most valuable of all virtues.

TheyCallMeAdonis • 1 point • 25 February, 2021 10:22 PM

_do_not_read_this_ • 11 points • 14 February, 2021 02:02 PM*

For me the big one is "spinning plates".

I'm older, I'm not super focused on sex all the time, and I'd rather have one woman I can rely on and get along with and have great sex with, than trying to manage 2 or 3 plates that maybe I don't like that much.

I tried spinning plates a few years back and I just didn't have the time, the energy to deal with needy women, nor the motivation. I've got other shit to do. I'd rather do serial monogamy, with the occasional overlap and the occasional fling.

I can always find a new woman to replace an old one, that's not a problem. But it's literally impossible to replace the time I've wasted on women that weren't worth the time I spent on them.

"Spinning plates", for me, seems like a young man's game (I know ... Vasily and some others ... I know ...).

PhaedrusHunt • 5 points • 14 February, 2021 05:21 PM

Spinning plates has been some of column A some of column B.

The advantage of dating multiple women simultaneously is that you can get a few years worth of dating in in a much shorter amount of time. Parallel vetting. That plus your balls stay empty.

The disadvantages that if you like one more than the others and decide that you're going to be in a relationship with just her breaking up with three or four women all at once is not much fun lol

They used to have a simpler term for "spinning plates."

It was called being single.

_do_not_read_this_ • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 06:55 PM

When I get into a more ... committed ... relationship with one over another, I'll just keep seeing the other/s until they naturally break off.

What I do on a Thursday night is none of my Saturday girl's business, and I've had good luck the last few years finding Saturday girls who respect that I like to go out "by myself" other nights of the week. LOL they seem to forget how I used to only meet them Thursday nights.

I'm always on the lookout and still do "first dates", and being a not-gay, mid '50s professional in a liberal area filled with married older men, gays and beta males is surprisingly attractive to women.

It's just a question of prioritizing where I spend my energy.

RedGille • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 06:16 PM while by no means young anymore, I find plating to be essential to keeping frame and dealing with the question: wtf do you do when she loses it - and all of them do once in a while.

before, the answer was - try to "understand her" - a ridiculous endeavor in hindsight, of course, which results in tons of frustration and eventually is ruinous to the relationship.

Now, it's just "bye and see you when you're sane again". Paradoxically, having several women makes for healthier relationships with each of them.

_do_not_read_this_ • 1 point • 14 February, 2021 06:50 PM*

Paradoxically, having several women makes for healthier relationships with each of them.

There's definitely merit in the "abundance" theory - I'm all for it.

I may occasionally "lose frame" but ultimately and truly don't care if any particular woman leaves my life.

Just between the rona making everyone depressed, trying to keep my business in business, and getting the bills paid, I don't have the energy to babysit two or three women at a time. Maybe when sanity comes back to my area.

SlickBlackCadillac • 18 points • 14 February, 2021 04:41 AM

2015 was the year I found this subreddit. Absolutely amazing. I still find good stuff here and there when I visit every so often (I've internalized most of TRP at this point), but it's a mere shadow of what it was like in '15.

I was one of the young men TRP saved. I still have a long ways to go, but at least I know how to get where I want and accurately troubleshoot issues on my journey.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart TRP.

luvwrestling5 • 1 point • 15 February, 2021 10:17 PM

Same here...I sometimes use wayback machine to view old posts every now and again. The difference, sometimes, (this isn't a dig towards the current crop of articles, by the way) is night and day.

Having said that, there are still a few gems in the last few months, so I'm still, at the moment, optimistic.

gotgame740 • 3 points • 16 February, 2021 12:47 AM

2015 was like PEAK TRP. Soo many gems at that point, it was when I started reading The Rational Male and The Book of Pook, etc.

Funny enough I'm married now (I met my wife post-TRP), and I would definitely not be ready in the same way that I am now if not for TRP

Agreed and well put, tradcons are bitching too much here, or jerking each other off thinking of 1950s America. Those people are as sad as the extreme left simps - all living in a fantasy world and completely missed the sidebar ryan574 • 1 point • 14 February, 2021 04:52 PM

As a former tradcon, that sort of ideal in my head made trp hard to swallow, but I'm so glad I did. It was certainly the part of my former belief system that required the most effort to beat out of existence.

RealMcGonzo • 8 points • 14 February, 2021 05:16 AM

Yeah man. Stopped reading a lot after a well received post by some loser that was in a club, getting his crotch rubbed and fucking pointing it out to his homies. Like "Huh? Huh? With two index fingers." JFC. This guy wasn't a player. This guy had no game what so ever. This guy had nothing to teach. But there he was, getting upvotes on this very forum.

So I guess a newbie tip. Don't invite friends over to your place to see you fuck some chick. Even if they pay you well.

armenian_UwUcide • 11 points • 14 February, 2021 12:05 PM*

I still haven't forgotten the post from last year about some guy masturbating his ego because he got a haircut, and was trying to convince everyone that you need to be ugly because that's the masculine norm and that only women are meant to be aesthetically appealing. That post went to the moon. Unfortunately not the first time that same idiotic idea has been shared here before. (Protip: a man wears what he wants; you can literally be dressed like a woman and still swoon girls, arguably moreso for having the balls to do it)

There's definitely a certain type of guys that end up in this sub quite often, usually to post with no actual wisdom of their own, that brings an air of tryhard machismo-ism that can actually be extremely detrimental to many of the learning newbies that discover this place, and end up taking that garbage at face value. And I've learned, the hard way, about whether some of these ideas work or not by testing them out in my own naivety. Newsflash, it reeks of scarcity as it comes from a place of deprivity and feeling the need to be overcompetitive for resources. Or as the layman calls it, overcompensating.

As a general rule of thumb, if it sounds like a quick fix, it's most likely bullshit. If it's extremely click baitey sounding, it may be flawed or otherwise useless vague information, quite possibly bullshit, in an attempt to gain karma or status. (Which is a hotbed for financial gain as you have an audience of lost, confused and/or maturing men looking for knowledge that you can market "answers" to) Or if it's just a lot of OP talking about and stroking himself off, they're generally phishing for validation and most likely unintentionally preaching bullshit.

There's some - a lot, actually - good content to be found here, but filtering for it at best can require at least a little bit of an experienced eye, and a bit of a grounded frame.

pappo4ever • 7 points • 14 February, 2021 02:56 PM

At the beginning it was the PUA techniques, that most of us resented it because we knew it was some kind of dirty psychological manipulation to get sex. Then TRP surged as a honest way to get sex. Turns out, the honest way to get sex is that of self-improvement. Then sex, while a big part of TRP, became secondary to become a true man, and master of your own destiny.\

I'm so sad I found this when I'm almost 40. But now I knew my kids will always know the truth, and they never will fall victims of deceptions and manipulations like we all men suffered since we were born.

basicslovakguy • 6 points • 14 February, 2021 11:47 AM

I will use this opportunity to share a word of appreciation.

Found you guys about 2 years ago. By TRP terms, I am 50 shades of blue, and then some more, although I got a disgusting reality check from my own mother who divorced my father, and during the process threw me and my brother (figuratively) under the BUS for her own gain. I swore to myself I will never get married.

TRP opened my eyes in several ways - I really have to get in a shape, and I generally need to work on myself, if I ever hope to get (properly) laid. It is hard to write it like that, especially as I am closing to being 30 years old, but that's the reality for me. I am still coming to terms with the fact that in the past, I was focused on wrong things when it comes to girls. And some of the FRs I read gave me an opportunity to cringe really hard about how I dealt with situations around girls in the past.

So yeah. Thank you.

It is all about intention. Firstly don't obsess over being a muscle god, that is a long term goal. Just make sure you are not too fat or too skinny. Seems like you already learned the “don’t put the pussy on a pedestal” lesson - that is a big one so good work there. When dating it is all about eye contact and kino. Fail forward. Lightly touch her fingers or hold her hand. If she pulls away, regroup, establish some rapport and try again. If she still pulls away, bail and next. If you need more tips they are all on the sidebar. We all had to learn to walk before we learned to run

How to get laid like a warlord is a classic. It is not 100% accurate but it covers a lot of territory. My favourite post of all times was “Managing your bitches” by Human Sock Puppet. An absolute masterpiece. When you are playing with that many women at a time, things get out of hand fast. That post saved me a lot of grief.

SalporinRP • 5 points • 15 February, 2021 09:15 PM

"The most important part of game is not being emotionally invested" by Woujo is the greatest post in the history of this subreddit in my opinion. Lengthy, detailed, and extremely well written.

It includes gems like : "If a hot girl tries to strike a Faustian bargain with you and let you fuck her in return for treating you like shit, you must reject that deal out of respect for your own mental health."

I think that might be one of the only times I've genuinely laughed out loud from a post on TRP.

Brother I agree with every word. My heart is heavy at this sad state of affairs. It is overwhelming. I feel like I am living in a fantasy/ nightmare world which is 50% The Truman Show and 50% Weekend At Bernies. Western society has taken leave of it's senses. For now and for as long as I can I will hold my tongue on this sub when it comes to politics.

It is really bad, I mean really bad. For anyone who cannot see what is coming next then they have their heads in the sand. It could be just around the corner but in certain western jurisdictions free thought and free speech will soon result in a jail term (in fact it is very easy to make the argument that we are already at that point and from here things will get dramatically worse). For me there was an internal need to return to this sub as one would return to their roots.

Even a small amount of light can show the way in the darkness. One lit candle can light someone else's candle. Your gravitas and solid reasoning are a breath of air in a world which is submerged in insanity. We are living in clown world. GLO posted extensively on “clown world” when I used to live here. His words were prophetic

Hayekr • 6 points • 14 February, 2021 02:36 PM

My heart is heavy at this sad state of affairs. It is overwhelming. I feel like I am living in a fantasy/ nightmare world which is 50% The Truman Show and 50% Weekend At Bernies. Western society has taken leave of it's senses. For now and for as long as I can I will hold my tongue on this sub when it comes to politics.

I have been brooding over this as well. I could write an entire thesis on what is occurring and why (the loss of our shared ethnic and cultural identity, the loss of our shared understanding of Western and American exceptionalism, etc). Those things have been happening for a while though, and used to be part of a vibrant debate.

What I am seeing now concerns me far more though, and that is the growing asymmetry of mutual understanding combined with a refusal to even hear the other side of a discussion (let alone weigh and consider it). The principle of charity in philosophy/rhetoric has completely evaporated in public discourse. This has caused people to retreat to their own echo-chambers/ideological enclaves, which only serves to augur them in on their extreme beliefs even more. We're witnessing a Balkanization of virtual territory across ideological lines.

Frankly, I am shocked this subreddit even still exists. It helped me tremendously when I came to it in 2015/16, but I think it is bound to be purged at some point like all the others who dared to go against the woke narrative.

I would be less concerned if that was where it ended, but we have seen politics now spread like a virus into all parts of our society. You used to be able to watch TV without overt political messaging taking place. In sports, the political messaging used to begin and end with the Pledge of Allegiance/Star Spangled Banner. Corporations and businesses are now picking one side of the discussion to protect their bottom line.

Politics used to be relegated to arenas where people who wanted to engage in it went. Now, you cannot avoid it; and heaven help you if you take the wrong stance on a topic that the mob is fervent about. There are more and more people every week, lying prostrate in front of the mob like a Maoist struggle session, begging for forgiveness for the pain they have caused in a completely contrived and forced apology to save their career.

As you wrote, 'anyone who cannot see where this is heading has their head in the sand'. If we can't have a dialogue over our disagreements without the threat of 'cancellation' and unpersoning, then we can't have a discussion. And if we can't discuss things, then there is only one logical next step.

I honestly believe this sub may survive some political censorship. Perhaps it's my feed, but with the exception of certain few endorsed contributors, I haven't seen as many political posts or comments. Most of the content seems to just stick to sexual strategy and self improvement, and, like Christian end-times prophecies, the deletion of this sub has continually been predicted for years.

My best prediction, though, will simply be the sub's degradation into low quality shit posts and market phishing, as the sub is slowly abandoned by older members who grew up and replaced by the next generation of lost and misguided boys. Who knows what the future holds though.

DareyFathom • 1 point • 14 February, 2021 01:18 PM

Sexual strategy is directly affected by the political climate. The causal relationship is undeniable. If the Orwellians have their way, this community will be persecuted. And when that happens, getting laid will be the least of our concerns.

I was blind, but now i see.

what_cube • 14 points • 14 February, 2021 04:33 AM

Just want to share, I discovered this sub when I was 18-19, still, put a girl on a pedestal, I thought you guys view were too extreme, I can be in the middle, etc. Nope, i was wrong, everything you guys mentioned came true, lift, got few girls spin plates, got comfortable (like you guys mentioned before don't get too comfortable with an LTR) , fallout happen, I worked my ass off, and manage to get a job and studying in the United States now, It all starts from lifting when I was 18-19. Cheers

MrK_HS • 3 points • 15 February, 2021 10:11 AM

This is unironically one of the most empowering subreddits for me.

gotgame740 • 3 points • 16 February, 2021 12:42 AM

Yes, I was here wayyyy back in 2014/2015 and it changed my life. Crazy how long ago that was, there was really some top shelf stuff here.

Noitrasama • 3 points • 20 February, 2021 12:49 PM

Someone in the comments uploaded a link to the old-earliest TRP posts archive. I've always wanted the earliest posts as they are regarded one of the best.

I am in the process of creating an ebook out of these posts.

The first in a series to come is done. It's redpill theory. About 100+ posts. A few are missing because the original posts are deleted though the text is available. Their are about 10 more series to come. I may take a bit of a break though.

To avoid being blocked, i've broken down the link. But u know what to do.

Beautiful work, my friend, thanks for sharing!

scriptkiddie1337 • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 10:38 AM

While you're here, I'd suggest the happier abroad forums. They were spitting red pills back in 2008

DareyFathom • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 01:21 PM

I remember following Roosh V back then.

youmeare • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 10:58 AM

Never had a big brother but my bros over here helped me a lot, I have changed my life 180 and have lead a really good life since I found this sub, thanks!

KelownaZ • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 04:45 PM

Yeah free thought is definitely under attack. Its okay to disagree people, in fact its crucial, without it society devolves into hatred.

mgtowthroww • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 07:17 PM

MGTOW/TRP saves lives from the blue-pilled way of life that leads to self-destruction.....

Wanted to get married again after my ex-wife made rape allegations to win in family court....never again will I put myself in those shoes.

Andgelyo • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 07:52 PM

Happy Valentine's Day to my red brothers

afoolforfools • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 10:44 PM

Thanks for sharing and to everyone else here. This post hit me just right. I was a broken man a year ago. I've struggled with anxiety and depression and self hate my whole life. I finally started to fix that. It took me to such depths that I wanted to give up often. I've spent the last couple years doing that hard work of healing and evolving. This past week I finally started to believe I have changed. The things I have learned here in this sub have helped me make these changes. I just had one of the best weeks of my life. I finally found my self worth and myself. I now have the confidence to put my true self out there and not care how I'm received. I care more about being true to who I am. To see the results of all that hard work, to see myself out there crushing it with women, with conversation, my job, with my fellow man, it's unreal. To know that feeling of worth is not from anyone else, it's from me, has changed my life. I cannot believe where I have taken myself in life knowing where I came from.

BlindingTwilight[S] • 1 point • 14 February, 2021 11:04 PM

The magic part of what you have done is NOW YOU KNOW YOU CAN DO IT. Even if you go backwards you know how to get back here. Women are a byproduct of being awesome, not a goal.

MKING80 • 2 points • 15 February, 2021 02:42 PM

Found this sub by pure luck sometime back in april/may 2019 right around one of the lowest points in my life, had serious oneitis and felt lost, this sub saved me. Lord knows where I'd be without it.

arakouzo • 2 points • 17 February, 2021 05:40 PM

The Red Pill is important. A lot of haters out there get their panties in a twist about negative language about women.

But if The Red Pill has saved even one man from taking his own life (or going full on crazy and murdering his wife and family or some random women somewhere), it has saved lives. It has done more good than all of the wrongthink the haters hate has done bad.

If The Red Pill has gotten just one guy to go to the gym and not die from diabetes or a heart condition at age 29, it has saved lives.

If The Red Pill has gotten just one guy to turn from unfuckable to fuckable, it has improved mental health. If he was a dumbass and got married and had kids, The Red Pill even created life that would not have been without it.'

If The Red Pill has gotten just one guy a better job, more friends, an easier time making friends, gotten a guy into hobbies, then the Red Pill has changed lives for the better.

The Red Pill does real, concrete, tangible good in the world.

Went from around 80k when I first came in, to over 1.7 million now. Mindblowing.

GayLubeOil • 6 points • 14 February, 2021 03:24 PM*

We could sit around reminiscing about the good old days and that's exactly what all the loser beta males are doing in this thread. The point is if you want to be consistently, innovative on point and ahead of the curve, well informed and have a high risk tolerance. Beta males don't have the stomach for that which is why they cling to antiquated strategies that worked back in the day.

At this point this place is a beta male farm, which in a strange way is incredibly useful because beta males are always wrong. So if a beta male disagrees with you, by definition you are right.

Some people in high places made some big mistakes and now the inovaters are investing their labour elsewhere.

Whisper • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 08:53 PM

This kind of thinking is how we get Jordan Peterson. "He disagrees with feminists, so he must be right!"

The most dangerous blue pill is the second.

GayLubeOil • 7 points • 14 February, 2021 10:56 PM*

Jordan Petershill doesn't disagree with feminists because he believes in women voting. Also if you see his daughter it's clear that she was on the receiving end of liberal patenting.

Anyone who doesn't see Petershill as controlled opposition is too retarded to be helped. As you and I know that's 80% of this community

Protocol_Apollo • 2 points • 15 February, 2021 01:17 AM

Also if you see his daughter it's clear that she was on the receiving end of liberal patenting.

This.

I never saw Peterson as the true red pill but I thought he could be a tangential/almost red pill because of that enemy of my enemy logic.

But that stopped soon after I saw what you and u/Whisper had to say which was a long time ago.

If one follows Peterson's advice, you will become either:

Like Peterson, on benzos.

Like his daughter, on head meds.

Or more likely

Like his daughter's ex-husband. A guy who clearly isn't respected and is treated by contempt by Mikhaela but yet still works under her creating more contempt and erasing what little respect he had left.

Meanwhile, if one takes a real red pill, they'd be similar to someone like Andrew Tate.

Funny how Peterson's daughter, out of all people, dated a guy like Tate, out of all people.

Clearly shows you what's red pill and what's blue disguised as red.

wtf this youtube video is incredible lol

BlindingTwilight[S] • 2 points • 14 February, 2021 09:16 PM

To be fair this place has always been full of betas. Some learn, most don't

ArcTrooper_5555 • 1 point • 14 February, 2021 07:17 PM

Some people in high places made some big mistakes and now the inovaters are investing their labour elsewhere.

Only question is who and where?

GayLubeOil • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 07:24 PM

Go read the most controversial post I've ever written on the Red Pill and you'll figure it out

JackOfDiamonds • 6 points • 14 February, 2021 04:40 AM

I'm sure one of the mods wrote this to pat themselves on the back. Of course, Thanks but this ain't fine literature we're reading- this is a community sharing information. It isn't professor X's school for the gifted.

This sub has actually always been used for cash grabs too -the difference is they gave a lot of free shit along the way.

Lastly this sub is always gonna be conservative to some extent politically but it got worse when trump entered the scene. I hope now that he's gone we can challenge each other past our political boundaries and get to the information of real value.

There's really good information here don't subscribe to a culture war or political faction. Just read, take risks, and learn and if you feel like breaking any of the golden rules do it- because this doesn't all work the same.

RedUncleCad • 2 points • 15 February, 2021 02:04 AM the sub started with guys swapping notes on how to get laid. then tips on fitness, social circles and careers and masculinity.

we didnt look for politics.

politics found us

JackOfDiamonds • 1 point • 15 February, 2021 02:12 AM

Yeah it's true. I hate it. Alt-right and evropa blew this sub's spot up and SJWs went nuclear.

BlindingTwilight[S] • 6 points • 14 February, 2021 04:44 AM*

I was never a mod, I was an endorsed contributor and I haven't been a regular in here for about 5 years. I can tell everything I need to know about you by a certain comment within your note. If you think this place is about money you are way off.

JackOfDiamonds • -4 points • 14 February, 2021 04:47 AM

It is though. People have been selling their ebooks and publications for years. Ask anyone.

TRPCops[M] • 0 points • 14 February, 2021 06:25 AM

You won't be censored here. You followed the really simple rules - stay on topic, no moralizing....

Nothing wrong with dissent when it's written decently.

JackOfDiamonds • 0 points • 14 February, 2021 01:32 PM

Well hey good to know but I don't care.

[deleted] • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 01:59 PM

GLO has a cuck fetish and works for the devil. Otherwise this sub definitely raised many men.

GayLubeOil • 3 points • 14 February, 2021 03:16 PM

Ha ha you post in Jordan Peterson.

warshadow518 • 2 points • 2 March, 2021 12:14 AM

Thanks for writing this up. When I suicidal about my situation from last year. Ppl commented and talked to me; total strangers I was to these men. Yet cared about my well being. It's weird for someone to give a shit about you when you're a Man. I thank this community and will continue to do my best. I love ya guys.

r32_skyline • -9 points • 14 February, 2021 09:23 AM lol has a post ever screamed so loud for "gimme some more karma"

You sound beta and all you care about is that great great pussy.

And no, this place unfortunately is not 'free'.
