

Men don't want healthy relationships with women. They want a controlled, labotimised, robot. Taking dating advice from the insane. As usual no source for where the statistics "most men" comes from. It's just _opinion_ as per usual...

Sisterhood is resistance!!

GLOBAL RESISTANCE

Most men want women's friendships to break down because then they're easier to isolate, control & abuse. They insult women's appearances to make them insecure, envious and compete with oneanother. They tell women they're special and not like the other envious girls- so the woman becomes dependent on them for company and belonging. They don't want you out socialising with other women in case you realise you've been tricked & could do much better than them.

Post like that scream, "I had a bad dating experience and now I've become bitter, projecting my own psychological issues onto the entire opposite sex."

Of course, this is all coming from the "I need a sex and dating strategy guide despite playing on the easiest difficulty setting" subreddit, so...

Let's not act like incels here. This subreddit is for documenting and fighting against misandry, not hating on women as a whole.

No hating on women as a demographic is allowed here.

I don't mind throwing shade at FDS though. They've earned it.

Yeah, I agree with insulting FDS, but come on, "playing on the easiest difficulty level" sounds like something ripped outta the incel's playbook.

Is it your considered opinion that access to penis and access to vagina are equally difficult?

Bro, you are doubling down on the bs, stop acting on your hurt feelings (like a woman /s)

Shittalk fds all day, but don't generalize women or men. Be better than that, or at least smarter.

We work with logic and intelligence here, not emotion. Take hold of yourself and grow mighty.

I appreciate your concern, but this isn't about my feelings and emotions. I'm not sure what gave you that impression.

The issue is that I think it's counterfactual to claim that heterosexual men and women have an equally easy time getting access to sex. So while that's a generalization, I believe it's a fair one (and one devoid of value judgements).

There's a reason that sex work skews heavily in one direction, you know?

Not all men are your ex boyfriend, sweetie.

Marcuspie • 1 point • 22 August, 2021 10:09 PM

But you can't say not all men. /s
