

Kenya: domestic violence pushes more boys into streets — Report says unlike for girls there are fewer organisations fighting for boys. Kenya has 46,639 street people, with seven out of ten being male.

June 15, 2021 | 176 upvotes | by Long_Cut_7015

<https://www.the-star.co.ke/news/2020-07-29-domestic-violence-pushes-more-boys-into-streets--report/>

Archived from theredarchive.com

Comments

Long_Cut_7015[S] • 20 points • 15 June, 2021 10:17 PM

A report says unlike for girls there are fewer organisations fighting for boys. guess who is the source of the report ? the organization "Global Sisters" ! even the report that says there is no organizations that help men and boys is from a women and girl's organization. this show how the situation is biased against men and boys in the modern world. and not just in the west.

More people should understand that a men's rights movement is needed even in Sub Saharan Africa.

SamaeLET • 3 points • 16 June, 2021 02:01 PM

Surprised they did not attempt to hide the numbers of boys. Maybe it would have been a too big of a lie.

But the rate of male rough sleeping in every countries is always higher so this is not surprising.

billsull_02842 • 1 point • 20 June, 2021 03:58 AM maybe oprah will build them a college.

Juhnthedevel • -6 points • 16 June, 2021 07:02 AM

Even homelessness is more of a boy problem in Africa? Never thought of. Can someone search information on family tradition in Kenya? Maybe the cause of their rejection is here. Give complementary sources.

Also it could be interesting to look for girls: maybe if they aren't homeless they become prostitute? I don't think it is a better situations.

SamaeLET • 7 points • 16 June, 2021 01:57 PM

Better than living in the street, being subjected to violence, acohol, drugs, cold, heath, starving to death, etc.

In every western countries, +75% of rough sleepers are male. Nothing to do with Kenya's culture.

Maybe there are in fact even more boys but they are dead after being exploited in mines or other dangerous workplaces.

Long_Cut_7015[S] • 5 points • 16 June, 2021 09:53 AM

What do you mean by "family tradition in Kenya" ? the cause that make the majority of the homeless male in Africa is the same that make it in all Western countries. stop being racist.

The report say there are organizations that help girls i don't know why you are assuming they are prostitutes. but even if they become sex workers that's better than being homeless.