

Dr. Warren Farrel, often referred to as the father of the men's issues movement, has a great YouTube channel that is criminally underviewed. Many videos have fewer than 500 views. Let's give this guy some love.

January 31, 2021 | 188 upvotes | by AAKurtz

<https://youtube.com/user/drwarrenfarrell>

Archived from theredarchive.com

Comments

AAKurtz[S] • 25 points • 31 January, 2021 07:30 AM

This guy paved the road for much of what is discussed here. I was amazed to see how few views his content has. Let's give the guy some love.

NotherThrowaway2848 points 31 January, 2021 04:59 PM [recovered]

He's almost the founder of the men's rights movement. I mean, yeah, there were guys like Sam Keane and Robert Bly before him, but they never really thought their way through the phenomenon of male disposability: it was Farrell and Farrell alone who did that.

Oncefa2 • 3 points • 31 January, 2021 10:14 PM

Earnest Belfort Bax wrote about men's rights back in the 1800s.

IIRC he does casually question why women appeared to be so privileged, stretching back into history. And, being a socialist, he did talk about how capitalism appears to have made this worse. But I don't think he ever proposed a real reason for it besides like "female favoritism".

[deleted] • 10 points • 31 January, 2021 11:14 AM

Subbed

SultanSoSupreme • 2 points • 1 February, 2021 02:07 AM

Same.

TheTinMenBlog • 4 points • 1 February, 2021 08:53 PM

Subbed <3

avidmoviegoer44 • 3 points • 1 February, 2021 03:37 AM

I am so glad you posted this.

Just watched his video interview where he outlines how he believes we can fix this whole crazy world. I'm going to spread this everywhere I can.

Thanks

ignaciocordoba44 • 3 points • 1 February, 2021 01:51 PM

Yeah, let's express our gratitude by supporting his youtube channel with additional subscriptions ☐ ☐

2Berries • 2 points • 1 February, 2021 04:04 AM

Man dad is so hard to listen to for any length of time, but totally worth it.

Subbed.