

Im close to my 30 and single

March 9, 2022 | 3 upvotes | by blackhammer57

I cant bear this feeling im close to my 30 and single, everyone i know is getting married or marrying. While im left alone. It sucks i mean i cant see a day i get a gf, i dont even have that hope. And in totally given up on life, in Rational Male tomassi says no guy should settle until the age of 32, but all i know are married by the age 27 or 26, and i cant handle this peer pressure and feeling of this loneliness. The more days passes the more sad and depressing i get. I dont know how people find a woman and get past this they dont even know what game is, what redpill is, what hypergamy is. All i know they meet woman after a woman and they get marry. Am i that much unluncky? All my messeges get ignored in the social media. I dont have a big circle of social friends or family. I work in construction in rural areas, same as work in military no life no woman no holidays nothing. I dont even know how to or where to get a gf. And on top of that the embarrassment of all around me in relationships and im not. Idk im not ranting here, but idk what to do and dont tell marriage is waste of money or woman not worth it. I cant die alone. At this point even a toxic cheating woman is fine as i cant bear this loneliness. Please tell something.

Their extended social network (most guys who don't know game marry the friend-of-a-friend).

man shut the fuck up. You sound like a total bitch right now. You shouldn't even be stressing about no one dating you now.

You need to be in the fucking gym and self improving, but no you wanna sit and bitch and moan about how miserable you are.

Give me a fucking break.

Gotta get out of this blue pill mindset. You watch rollo and you are still very much plugged into the matrix. Go Monk mode for a bit and improve yourself and self worth.

The only advice I'll give is you're still very young. Many adults will say your life's just started. Don't compare yourself to anyone but yourself

In my country all are married by 26 im left alone. And im deeply depressed when im gonna get a life. As rollo say if i stay single till 32 whose gonna marry me. Like when i cant even get a date now, atleast a phone number. How am i gonna spin plates as he, when i atleast dont have a social life cause of my job

Bro turn on the news your life could be way fucking worse. I'm sure you have a college degree, a family that loves you, a roof over your head. Come on man it can be so much fucking worse. I'm thankful for the exact times you're talking about. Those depressed times where I felt worthless. Whenever I get sad or tired I think back on those times and push forward. You either are a person that uses adversity as fuel or you aren't. I'd hate to be the later

I know my guy. But life is so unfair to me

Dazzling-Importance1 • 1 point • 9 March, 2022 01:00 PM

just do things and talk to people

my best advice is to find a area you can settle down in and start going out bars learn how to dance skateboard the gym.

blackhammer57[S] • 1 point • 9 March, 2022 01:42 PM

Theres no such bar or hookup things in my country bro.

Go and see a therapist starting tomorrow. It's important and will help you work through your issues. It will also help you find a girl. If you can't afford one, find one online or refer to your healthcare. Affordable options will come up.
