

Is it a red flag when a potential partner or date says you can't have any female friends?

Third date in, and I don't want to see your socials interacting with other females. Fair enough. But what if your job is painting females, or having to interact with women on a daily basis, why can't you not have females as friends or even best friends? And why do some ladies not like it?

Why would you need female best friends? There is nothing a female can offer a man that would make the friendship so strong as to deem it best.

If you want to spin plates, do it. You don't owe her anything after 3 dates, unless you had the explicit conversation about your boundaries.

Is she your mom? Check between your legs and tell me if you still have balls there.

You can do whatever you want.

Yes. It is a red flag. This is a crazy question.

She shouldn't dictate to you who your friends are.

Having said that, if all your friends are girls, you have a problem.

Have you read NMMNG? With asktrp gone, the r/marriedredpill sidebar may be the best sidebar around for reading atm.

What's the problem with girls as friends? And a good number of them?

You need to surround yourself with men.

I said "all".

Do the reading, or your questions will be basic. Probably start with No More Mr Nice Guy.

The problem is that your perspective will be dominated by a girl perspective. Men experience society differently, and have to behave differently to women. You need men around to know what that is.

You need men around to know what that is.

Not just any men, I think men that are similar to a lifestyle, social class too, would that help?

Yeah, apply some brain cells to the process. Don't just friend a bum and call the job done.
