Check out this post, I plan to remake an updated version later this week.

Based on my top 3 recommendations, start off with The Rational Male first, secondly Outwitting The Devil and then finally The Prince by Machiavelli; the last two aren't directly related to getting women but they help you become a high value man and allow you understand the world from another perspective.

i've never directly dealt with this guy so I'm not gonna be held accountable for what the post claims. Talk to OP for proof.
