

Why do you all care so much about your looks when men literally have been known to fuck donkeys and shit?

Women have the ability to offer so much to men, yet, all they focus on are looks. Why is this? Do you realize that men stick dicks into anything? So, why so much focus on the looks?

Tons of men have like zero standards yea. Male interest is cheap. Female interest is expensive. When women act like they are hot shit because they have offers of penis, its sad. Because its a poorly kept secret that a large percentage of men are desperate simps and bidding up the price of pussy. As much liberal reddit cucks deny it and pretend like men are not far more thirsty than women. Women are thirsty only for Chad and beta buxx.

Some men*

Most men would pick a pretty girl than a average/ugly girl. Some even require it.

RatDontPanic • 6 points • 6 November, 2022 10:24 PM

Ugly women get laid and married all the time though. Women really don't have shit to worry about in this area.

SilentFroggy • 3 points • 6 November, 2022 11:16 PM

Well that depends on what type of men they are getting. Just like some men don't want an ugly girl.

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 6 November, 2022 10:26 PM

Most men would pick a pretty girl than a average/ugly girl.

Pick for what? To stick our dicks into? Yes, all men would prefer to fuck a pretty girl. This is a no-brainer. The question is why do girls only focus on bringing looks to the table?

SilentFroggy • 4 points • 6 November, 2022 11:15 PM

Oh well I didn't clearly read your post.

I'm guessing they are focusing on looks because that's what gets the most attention.

SmarmyPapsmeas • 10 points • 6 November, 2022 09:56 PM

Cuz men won't wife up the donkeys

ElectricBugs • 2 points • 7 November, 2022 03:50 AM

Some men have actually. Try again.

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 1 point • 6 November, 2022 10:01 PM

You are striving to be with one man for the rest of your life?

SmarmyPapsmeas • 3 points • 6 November, 2022 10:02 PM

Oh I'm a married man lmao

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 6 November, 2022 10:24 PM

The question was posed for women, dude.

Men have little to no standards when it comes to sex cause it's hard out here but for commitment..that's a different story.

rurunoa • 3 points • 7 November, 2022 03:03 AM

because hot men want hot women generally

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 7 November, 2022 09:21 PM

because hot men want hot women generally

Want hot women to stick dicks into?

rurunoa • 2 points • 8 November, 2022 01:32 AM well the hot men who end up settling down end up settling down with hot women

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 8 November, 2022 01:53 AM

well the hot men who end up settling down end up settling down with hot women

Prove you arent living in a fantasy world by listing 5 public men you find attractive who have been married to a "hot woman" for over 10 year relationship.

rurunoa • 2 points • 8 November, 2022 02:14 AM

i dont know what youre trying to say but regardless of wether they settle down or not, looks are important for women in order to attract the most attractive male generally to settle down with him. thats the main motivation. you can argue they live in a fantasy and whatnot but i only answered the initial question

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 8 November, 2022 02:29 AM

rurunoa • 2 points • 8 November, 2022 02:45 AM

girl bye im not gonna argue about this. women focus on looks because attractive males dont want to be seen with obese becky

ElectricBugs • 3 points • 7 November, 2022 03:51 AM

I don't care and many other women don't. But the reality is that sexism has forced women to consider their worth based on the male gaze.

noonereadsthisstuff • 4 points • 7 November, 2022 04:02 AM

I would guess that most women don't want the kind of men who fuck donkeys.

FightMcCthullu • 2 points • 7 November, 2022 06:19 AM

Real life woman here!

I was focussed on looks, and it used to be in an unhealthy way.

As a child, i was taught that the worst thing a girl could be was ugly. I wasn't taught this explicitly, but by seeing characters on TV, in books, in movies, valuing a woman's appearance first, and by seeing women who didn't fit the standard being degraded (in tabloid magazines etc) I learned to fear being ugly.

So as a teen and up until I was 24, my mission was to be beautiful. I wanted people to recognise my worth but also recognise my beauty. I was obsessed with appearing beautiful even if I didn't feel like I was.

Then I started working on myself and I can confidently say I'm less concerned with people thinking I'm beautiful. The only people I want to find me attractive are fiancée and myself.

Tl;dr society places a lot of emphasis on beauty and young impressionable minds soak up that shit.

NOTE: not every woman has my experience and some people never cared. This is just my experience. Women aren't a monolith.

Why do men play video games? Women don't care about those things.

Why do men follow sports and teams? Women don't like that.

Why do men do woodworking/hobby cars/DnD/insert any hobby which has fuck-all to do with attracting a mate here?

How can men keep asking this stupid question?

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 2 points • 7 November, 2022 09:17 PM

Why do men play video games?

wtf?

Why do men do woodworking

Are you asking this sitting on a chair a man made? I hope not.

Do any of you honestly believe that everything women do is designed to attract men?

Yes. This is common sense.

women love beauty and we look at each other too. women are not stupid and know men look at beauty :)

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 1 point • 15 November, 2022 09:54 PM

What do you have to bring when a man becomes jaded to your beauty?

ifiniasms • 1 point • 16 November, 2022 12:20 AM when its not beauty there is character . when we are young, beauty is easier. and we are actually unaware. when we are older, beauty is a skill and a practice to protect and preserve ourselves... when we are old, beauty is deep, like a great tree. :)

wisdom = beauty = longevity = eternity no one stays on earth by the way :) beauty is not something to be jaded by. Buddha and Jesus were both beautiful men. what did they bring to the table?

a woman gets to be beautiful around a good man. a woman is dragged by a lower man. no man should be jaded by beauty, because it will leave.

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 1 point • 16 November, 2022 01:08 AM

You mentioned beauty SEVEN times! This is exactly why I say so many women are so focused on looks.

Please give tangible components of character where a woman can bring it to the table.

Spacetalks3114 • 1 point • 5 December, 2022 01:45 AM

Because while men have been known to fuck donkeys and sheep, they haven't been willing to commit to a relationship with me. xD

And I know for a fact that looks are the initiator into a relationship, therefore I try my best to attract a man, knowing that is a surefire way to atleast get some interest. Personality is subjective and if you're good looking enough, everyone ignores personality or frames it in a positive way.

Looks are way more important than personality.

Also, many women are getting their degrees and trying to better themselves so I don't know what you mean by not offering anything else?

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 1 point • 5 December, 2022 02:39 AM

Looks may matter to a certain point. A man does NOT benefit by a woman having a degree or not. A woman having a degree does not put more money in his pocket, not does it help him advance his life.

It's sad that the only thing so many women are even trying to bring to the table have little to no value in the long run for the relationship.

Spacetalks3114 • 1 point • 5 December, 2022 02:55 AM

I completely disagree with your first point, especially in a context of marriage where oftentimes couples have joint accounts. And if he is married and they have the same bank account then yes it will.

_Duriel_1000_[S] • 1 point • 5 December, 2022 03:00 AM

Okay. Since you think looks matter so much, are you married? Second, joint accounts does NOT mean the womans paycheck goes into the joint account? The woman is usually added to a separate account of the man's.

Spacetalks3114 • 1 point • 5 December, 2022 03:36 AM

My personal circumstances on whether or not I'm married are irrelevant.

And 2. According to this one article (I haven't looked too deeply into the statistics of married couples joint accounts so I'm not going to convince you I'm an expert) <https://www.bankrate.com/finance/credit-cards/us-joint-account-survey/> and according to this 43% of a couples do have a joint bank account in the usa.

According to this data, we can assume that these couples share bank information equally as it is a joint account.

But, again, there isn't really many studies on this topic, so sadly, neither of us have conclusive evidence to support our positions resulting in anecdotes and biased beliefs. And that turns into a he said she said which is not really productive.

1. If you have ever been to groups like r/foreveralonewomen you would realize that online dating isn't the hail mary people like you think it is. Lots of women there have been known to get ghosted and matched, but then ignored. And high quantity of matches doesn't always translate to good real world outcomes.
2. I'm not arguing this because I don't watch Zoophilia content nor do I know the attractiveness of the people engaging in it. And again, this is a he said/she said because there isn't data to really support either of this. As attractiveness is some degee subjective and it would turn into feelings argument.
3. I wrote this as something to not take seriously because I was mocking OPs simplication of looks matter by using rare outliers of men mating with donkeys. Which is why women should not care because few men have been known to sleep with animals. Hence the retort "Because while men have been to fuck donkeys and sheep, they haven't been willing to commit to a relationship with me. xD" It was moreso making fun of the absurdity of this implication. Because you could also argue, that hot women (as you put it) have been known to fuck these same animals so why haven't you been able to score with hot women? It's ridiculous.
