In the purple pill server someone asked the opposite question for women so I want to try to do something different here. I hope you all don't mind

Sure. My husband and I are monogamous and exclusive. Plus I've figured out pretty early that I need to feel secure about a person to be intimate with them and I'm pretty squeamish, so the idea of having sex with someone I'm not exclusive with is rather disgusting. Also sex is risky. I'm not taking the risks with bad partner who doesn't want to have future with me.

Thank you for sharing I appreciate it. Do you think we can have a more intelligent conversation about hook up culture and casual sex instead of just freedom of choice? I don't believe choices exist in a vacuum like these hook up warriors believe and I think we have every right to critique hook up culture and its ideology it's trying to sell people. I posted a while back about my theory on hook up culture but I want to repost and add more details to it. I also think the discussion should not be focused on women like how it is I am tired of hearing men can do casual sex and women can't which I think is the reason why progressive folks support hook up culture. But I personally believe men are also affected negatively and there has been data on men experiencing postcoital dysphoria. These are just my thoughts I like to hear yours.

Tbh I'm not necessarily against hook up culture for others. It's just not my cup of tea. From the other hand, I also didn't witness it much as I'm from a more traditional community. Most people I know closely haven't heavily engaged into casual scene. I do think people should be more responsible about their choices as STDs and unwanted pregnancies are still pretty common and I've heard that STDs are on the rise. They also should be aware that using casual sex as coping isn't really a great choice, just as using alcohol or weed instead of actually treating your issues.

I understand what you mean but don't you think we can analyze hook up culture on a much deeper level. I have personal folk theory of how hook up culture is product of modern economic stress and harmful cultural norms. Promiscuity in the past was different namely it's was more like polyamory rather than one time interaction like we see in solitary animals. Plus polyandry in the past existed so the women has multiple caregivers to increase the chance of survival of her kids since child mortality rate was higher back then and the women had more kids back then.

I knew from a young age i wanted to get married so i spent my time doing things to make this happen. Casual sex would have been a waste of my time.

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 04:18 PM

I respect you for sticking to your values. As a man I knew I always wanted to get married I don't really understand how people feel like they need to find themselves or what ever it just sounds cringe to me.

Yes I know a lot of women who do not like casual sex and only have sex in relationships

When you feel like you have met someone that makes you feel like no one else has, that makes you want to be a better person to make them proud, it's love, it's the way you can do the most boring thing but it's fun as they are there, that even when you are angry at them you still want them to be happy

[deleted] • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 07:11 AM

I thought guys like me only thought that But I am like this with my close friends too.

SwimmingTheme3736 • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 07:12 AM

I am like that with my close friends too, but it's different with my husband it's hard to explain or put into words.

He is one of my two soul mates

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 07:15 AM

He is a lucky man for sure

SwimmingTheme3736 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 08:10 AM

And I'm a very lucky woman

lizzstomania • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 11:46 PM closed to all of the above because I don't want to be that intimate with someone who I'm not in love with/who loves me. I don't see the point in having sex just to have sex. I don't want to feel like my body is worth sex but my personality is not worth dating. + I don't want diseases from someone just for sex without love.

I've always been too goal oriented for anything like FWB. I've broken up with a guy I liked when it became obvious (to both of us) that our relationship had no future. To me, the point of dating was always to find my life partner.

And I worried about hormones from sex clouding my judgement.

SwimmingTheme3736 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 06:31 AM

I am not closed to the idea as I am married

I did have a fwb on and off for 15 years

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 06:47 AM

So would you go back to an fwb if you got divorced?

SwimmingTheme3736 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 06:48 AM

Not that one no.

But possibly one if I was single and I met someone that was a good fit it would be a possibility

[deleted] • 4 points • 6 October, 2022 06:50 AM

Well there goes my faith in romance in youth again ☐

SwimmingTheme3736 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 06:52 AM

Youth? I'm 40 so nothing youthful about me these days

If I was to find myself single I would not want a partner right now I have a young child, blended families are hard and I wouldn't do it again.

But I also really like sex, so a fwb would probably be a good fit

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 07:01 AM

Does that mean are all girls like you in that they would be cool to do fwb as soon as they break up. Is freinds with benefits the proper way humans should engage in sexual relationship. If sex is not romantic then is kissing also not romantic either. If that's the case what the fuck makes romantic relationship different than platonic is it simply just feelings but feelings aren't a good way to measure either cause many of them chemicals involved in romance like oxytocin and dopamine can be found in relationships. This may not apply to humans but they did conduct study on lemurs in which they shut down oxytocin in their brain but evidently the lemurs still formed bonded pairs. So why are modern humans against romance so much especially in their youth and why is this behavior vehemently defended as if it will always be here throughout humanity?

SwimmingTheme3736 • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 07:04 AM

Are all girls like me?

No

Lots don't like fwb, we are different people who like different things.

I never said I would straight away

For me long term sex is the best, one night stands the worst. If I didn't want a long term then fwb would be a good way of getting good sex.

The connection is what makes it different, sex with my husband is different as we love each other

[deleted] • 0 points • 6 October, 2022 07:06 AM

Is it possible to find a women in this day and age who don't like casual sex?

What do you mean by connection?

Environmental_Lie561 • 3 points • 6 October, 2022 03:47 PM

Right here. I do not like casual sex. I won't do it.

GenericWoman12345 • 1 point • 7 October, 2022 04:25 AM

Many women do not like it. I also am not a fan of fwb, casual sex, polyamory or hookups but feel it's what more men prefer these days so I've just been abstinent for quite a while.

no_bling_just_ding • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 09:22 AM note: male

yes i think sex is something intimate for me not something i'd do with just about anybody at least not for my age

Glad-Discount-4761 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 01:38 PM

I was in something like situationship with a guy just few months ago.I was using it as opportunity just to meet or be close to him because I had crush on him.

Was there any hope for this turning into something else?Yes but I wasn't expecting something.Then later found out,he asked out another girl so I stopped lol.

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 03:04 PM

I am sorry to hear that, that sounds rough. I hope you feel better

Best_Illustrator_137 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 02:55 PM

I'm okay if it's fwb but if we're in a monogamous relationship that sh*t shouldn't even be a question.

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 02:56 PM

Are you a man or woman?

Best_Illustrator_137 • 0 points • 6 October, 2022 02:57 PM

No but can't I still post?

[deleted] • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 02:57 PM

This is a question for women

Best_Illustrator_137 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 02:58 PM

I'm a tranny then. There problem solved.

[deleted] • 2 points • 6 October, 2022 03:03 PM

Why do you refer to yourself as that isn't that word a slur?

Best_Illustrator_137 • 1 point • 6 October, 2022 03:04 PM

My bad "transgender" I identify as a woman.
