

Black pill is location dependent

September 13, 2022 | 2 upvotes | by WisdomGains

I feel like black pill only applies in first world countries and among middle class and above people . I migrated from Nigeria to the US and it's apparent that women especially young ones value looks a lot over most things. In Nigeria you could be good looking and get no pussy if you're poor or have trashy social status. But in my college in the US , I see chads who dress poor or have no car get high quality girls all the time

It's not water because many of these guys don't specify that they mean it only applies to the US.

Why do you think geomax is advice given in blackpill spaces? Because they know the value of money in third world countries. Blackpill is only pertaining to dating in first world countries.
