

redpill boomers need to hurry up and die off.

You will soon have outlived your usefulness, which was combating the Disney bluepilled just world fallacy that we were so raised with for centuries. But at the end, only the truth wins out, only the biological truth. No amount of game, frame, or alphaness will ever help some 5ft balding Indian janitor. At the end of the day, the most important thing in this world is firstly, and lastly, looks, and the genetics that created them.

90% of the redpill boomers from the late 2000s and early 2010s geomaxxed a long time ago and left the internet for the most part.

The terminally online folks are blackpillers these days

I knew this 50 year old who geomaxxed to a part of Africa. He made a website showing off the hot black girls he fucked and it seemed like they modelled for him because he made a lot of money in the West. He definitely wouldn't have been able to do it in the West.

Not even a boomer and I can tell you that if this guy adjusted expectations and leveled up his life he would increase his chances.

Don't forget, the corporate boomers literally ruined the planet, while bitching that the younger generations are entitled.

"Go play outside."

The outside is literally on fire thanks to them.

You should say this to women because all these words you said are meant for women.

Man can level up anytime

It's amazing how well Reddit hides info on how to embed pics lol
