

Sunday TRP humor - girl requests open relationship while on vacation, boyfriend starts immediately fucking another girl, girlfriend melts down.

Saw this in r/relationships. Was able to copy the text before it got deleted. I guess she couldn't handle the heat people were giving her hahaha

TLDR - Before my vacation i [F24] asked my boyfriend [M25] to open our relationship temporarily. Now hes regularly having sex with some girl in our apartment and im heartbroken

Im pretty fucking upset righ now , Im going to do my best to explain everything thats happened.

Ive had an extended holiday (3 months) planned with my best friend (Tory) for years. We have always talked about it and my boyfriend (Daniel) knew we were going to do it. She finally finished college this December and we put our plan into action.

Another friend (Michelle) went on a similar trip years ago. She and her friend both had longterm boyfriends at the time, and they both ended up cheating on the trip. A while later their friendship fell apart, and they both revealed each others infidelity. It got ugly. Michelle and her boyfriend broke up, her (ex)friend stayed with her boyfriend but from the sounds of it their relationship was severely damaged.

At first i thought they were absolutely horrible for doing it, but after talking to her i could see their side of things - months of no sexual contact/release, being in a party atmosphere, of course there would be temptation. She's young, attractive and gets lots of male attention. The encounter was purely sexual, she was drunk, and they used protection. The next day the boy was out of her life completely and that was it. I vehemently disagreed with doing all this behind her boyfriends back though.

Talking with Michelle about a month ago, she asked what im going to do about Daniel. I honestly hadnt thought about it like that, i felt like i could easily go 3 months without having sex. And id never want to betray Daniel's trust. But Michelle made a good case for 'opening' our relationship while i was away - she said (paraphrasing): "Of course you love Daniel. But traveling is about experiencing new things, and that includes sex. Youll say it wont happen now, but you just have to trust me that once youre there youll feel different. Daniel is going to wonder either way if youre fucking other guys on your trip. Just be upfront with him and see what he says."

And so that night i talked to him about it. I explained that i wasnt going to be looking to fuck every guy i see that im attracted to, and that my love for him was as strong as ever, but i also wanted to be able act freely and party like other girls my age. It was more contingency if anything - i dont plan on fucking other guys, but if it happens it happens. A nigh of partying half the world away with people ill never see again shouldnt ruin what we had here. Id insist on using protection. And of course he would have the same opportunity as me, he would be able to freely see girls if he chose to. He wasnt happy, but said he understood. He said "Youve tied my hands. If i tell you i forbid it, ill still be worried if youre being true to your word. By expressing that this is what you want, theres nothing i can do to stop you".

Daniels a bit of a homebody - he goes out with his friends on occassion, but most nights he spends in our apartment playing video games or watching netflix. Given his lifestyle i wasnt overly worried hed be hooking up with all these random girls.

Me and Tory left on February 17. Its been eye-opening and a ton of fun. But its also been stressful. We havent done any partying, we talked to some guys one night but nothing came of it. Tonight i checked my email at an internet cafe and there was a message from Kay, a sweet old lady who lives above us in our apartment complex.

"I have debated for days whether to send this to you and potentially ruin your vacation. But you deserve to know the truth. Daniel has been seeing another woman since you left. There is no doubt that he is seeing her, she has come over most nights and I have heard them being intimate. You deserve so much better. I'm so sorry."

I thought i could handle this open relationship arrangement. I cant. This message shattered my heart into a million pieces. This isnt what i intended at all, i wanted the freedom to act in the moment. He is taking this as a free pass to regularly fuck some girl. And i have a feeling i know exactly who it is, a girl from his work who was always overly flirty with him.

I regret ever taking Michelles advice and opening my stupid mouth. I dont want him to fuck other girls, i dont want to fuck other guys. I want this slut out of my apartment NOW!!! I am a fucking wreck and need other womens opinions. Tory has been so unhelpful, basically telling me to grow up and that i got what i asked for. No shit?! People arent allowed to change their minds or regret their decisions?!

How do I go about contacting him and expressing that this needs to stop NOW without coming across like a crazy hypocritical bitch? And let him know that i will be 100% faithful on my trip? I dont even know how i am going to look at him when i get home. I am beyond hurt, this feels so wrong and so sick.

EDIT: guys, seriously stop it. I know i fucked up, i brought it all on myself. Kicking me while im down isnt helping. Im not asking for your opinion on my stupid selfish decision, im asking the best way to approach this and fix it.

Tory says i should email him saying "what i said before about opening our relationship was a mistake. I havent slept with anyone here and i dont want to. Youre my parter and i dont want to compromise what we have. Please be faithful as I will be to you. I love you." Simply dont tell him about Kay's email or that i know there's another woman. Thoughts?

Nice work. The comments in that thread are fantastic.

Evers89 • 37 points • 23 February, 2014 09:53 PM

Every single one over there drags this girl over the coals. It's awesome.

How come they only react like that when it's boldly put it in their face? I swear there's a way to swing this story so she looks like a victim here.

The_Determinator • 13 points • 24 February, 2014 06:40 AM

No, if there was it would have been the top comment. The only reason they're actually calling out the gasp! female is because there is absolutely no other way to see the situation.

[deleted] • 8 points • 24 February, 2014 02:04 PM

I suspect the thread wasn't open long enough for white knights to read all the comments and get offended for the OP. The SJWs tend to abuse the reddit downvoting system to brigade through downvoting anything non PC and upvoting anything vaguely "you go girl".

zirzo • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 02:45 PM

Give it time man, someone will come along willing to ignore the facts and fit it into their own narrative

You didn't see the comments from Nievvein. She's managed to spin it for the Feminine Imperative.

SgtSplacker • 44 points • 24 February, 2014 03:05 AM

Best comment I found:

"There's no point calling this other girl a slut because she's not, the same as you wouldn't be a slut if you ended up sleeping with other guys on your trip."

How thick is the wool over our eyes. That some girl that goes abroad with every intention she had yet to believe she's not a slut...

Somebodys gotta deserve the title....

EnforcerBudu2355 • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 06:03 AM

They were calling her out on her hypocritical view of the girl, pot vs. kettle.

RedBigMan • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 01:21 AM

Damn...

Just looking at the comments I would swear it was posted in this sub.

Cyralea • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 04:34 PM

This one is fucking hilarious:

I felt sorry for you making such a mistake (not the having an open relationship part as that works for some people but thinking that you could handle one) until you called the woman your boyfriend is fucking a slut. Uncool and nasty, man.

Yep, the problem isn't that she wanted to go ride dicks against her boyfriend's wishes, it's that she called another chick a slut.

[deleted] • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 01:09 AM

Wow, good information. Did not know.

elevul • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 01:47 AM

THanks.

RedBigMan • 745 points • 23 February, 2014 05:35 PM

I like the part where the guy is banging the shit out of some chick and she's not even gotten to ride the carousel yet.

Seems pretty Alpha for a dude who just sits around at home playing Xbox most of the day.

gekkozor • 328 points • 23 February, 2014 05:48 PM*

This was a good line on his part:

"Youve tied my hands. If i tell you i forbid it, ill still be worried if youre being true to your word. By expressing that this is what you want, theres nothing i can do to stop you".

It's not 100% alpha, but it's definitely TRP aware. He knew he couldn't just say "I demand that you don't fuck anyone" because how the hell is he supposed to control that outcome while she's out partying and getting sloshed on the other side of the world?

He passed the shit test, though, by playing the classic "agree and amplify" move. He said "sure let's fuck other people"... and then fucked another person.

RedBigMan • 255 points • 23 February, 2014 06:06 PM

Oh hell yes he passed the shit test with flying fucking colors when he went out and found someone to bang for the next 3 months.

I'm sure his GF is having the tingles for him thousands of miles away now.

Only way to fail now would be to agree to close the relationship before she comes home because we all know she went with the intent to get laid at some point because we'll know at some point it will 'just happen' and she'll magically slip and land on some dude's cock.

[deleted] • 64 points • 23 February, 2014 07:36 PM

yeap, next logical step is plate downgrade or just telling her to piss off

vaker • 41 points • 23 February, 2014 11:45 PM

It'll be sweet to tell her when she gets home to find a new boyfriend and a new place to live.

She'll have definite tingles, so plate downgrade should be possible.

[deleted] • 1 points • 24 February, 2014 01:43 PM

[permanently deleted]

TheLawlessMan • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 05:37 PM

She is currently his girlfriend. She obviously fucked up and he now knows better than to have her as such (or at least he should). Downgrading her to a plate would be breaking up with her and keeping her as an FWB.

vaker • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 06:24 PM

Please read the sidebar.

It's when you downgrade a long term relationship into a fuckbuddy - basically reducing male commitment.

[deleted] • 116 points • 24 February, 2014 03:37 AM

You can bet she's gonna be a super bitch and throw it in his face that he fucked some other girl while she didn't fuck anything. She'll act all butthurt and shit. I pray that the guy has the balls to say, "Sweetheart. Your exact words were so-and-so. This was what you wanted."

Then she'll rant on about how she didn't mean that. pfft. Women

And who's the fucking neighbor thinking she is? Keeping tabs on our hero like that? Cheeky cunt.

hashtagpound2point2 • 66 points • 24 February, 2014 04:29 AM

I bet that neighbor is gonna act like a bitch to the guy for the rest of her life since she probably won't tell the neighbor "Oh don't worry about it. I told him he could fuck other chicks," despite all of this happening because of her.

[deleted] • 13 points • 24 February, 2014 04:33 AM

Bah. Women will only see what they want to see. Why should we bend over backwards to clear up the air for them?

Far as I see it, let her fall into the shithole. Her problem. I used to try and help everyone out, and I went wayyyyyy above and beyond. Literally thought it was kindness.

But kindness doesn't mean you let others walk all over you. Some people deserve the shit they get themselves in. Sometimes. I don't want any dying or anything... I'm still too nice.

lol

The_Determinator • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 05:04 AM

I don't want any dying or anything...

Good looking out man.

[deleted] • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 05:10 AM

lol I know... I'm so bad at this. xD

I try being hard as fuark.. But its like.. well.. let's just come out and say, I come on reddit for the cats. Theredpill is just a consolation prize. Something like /r/eyebleach for my mentality.

The_Determinator • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 07:04 AM

Am I detecting... a chink in that armor. Lol but seriously you sound like you have your shit in a row, or ducks together, whichever.

renegade2point0 • 7 points • 24 February, 2014 10:55 AM

She'll use the fact that she didn't actually bang anyone to try and shame dude. She was just looking out for him of course.

[deleted] • 8 points • 24 February, 2014 02:30 PM

I hope he knows what's going on and what's going to happen. Just dump her ass and when she begs and cries, keep her on a leash. Fuck her enough, but not enough for her. Give 90%. Never let her be fully satisfied.

This method fucks a woman up sooo much. Since this is what they do to beta-orbiters.

[deleted] • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 03:46 PM

You can bet she's gonna be a super bitch and throw it in his face that he fucked some other girl while she didn't fuck anything.

But she was the one that ASKED for the opening in the relationship. If she is going to be hypocrite I say he needs to drop her ass ASAP.

Whind_Soull • 2 points • 7 March, 2014 02:16 AM

I agree with everything but the last part. If I noticed compelling, clear evidence that my neighbor was cheating on his/her significant other while they were gone on vacation, I would sent a (probably anonymous) email to the cheatee. I say this regardless of the neighbor's gender.

Does that make me a judgemental prick? If so, I wear the label proudly. I just know I would sleep better at night than if I didn't tell them.

If they're in an ACTUAL open relationship, then nothing happens and it's just funny for everybody involved. If not, fuck 'em....I have no obligation to cover for your cheating ass.

polysyllabist • 99 points • 23 February, 2014 07:24 PM [recovered]

Look at the timing:

3 months vacation

"Me and Tory left on February 17."

"We havent done any partying, we talked to some guys one night but nothing came of it."

Posted to reddit on yesterday or today, that is Feb 22 or 23.

So it's been five days or so but she's already complaining that she didn't have any luck yet: "some guys one night but nothing came of it."

She absolutely had the intention to ride as much cock in those 3 months as she can squeeze in. This 'something might happen' was utter bullshit.

EDIT:

One more thing

I want this slut out of my apartment NOW!!!

It's her apartment. Anybody wants to take bets that the rent is paid by the boyfriend?

[deleted] • 159 points • 23 February, 2014 10:51 PM

That was my first thought too - she says "I won't be looking to fuck any guy I just see, just occasionally IF it happens." Then, she's bitching about how she didn't get piped on her first night out. She was looking for at least 1 cock per friday and saturday at that rate, for a good 3 months straight.

Details like these make me doubt what's being said.

vaker • 29 points • 23 February, 2014 07:37 PM

Good question. Might be a fake. On the other hand so many people do so many stupid things, stuff like this could happen.

The fact that she deleted the post based on the reactions it got makes me think it could be real.

[deleted] • 3 points • 23 February, 2014 09:48 PM

I still get a strong sense this is fake. I do believe such a scenario is possible however.

Yes it's perfect in a sense (the story sounds right), but remember it's the little details are what let down lies. This is also a useful method to use in interactions. When you feel someone is lying note the details rather than the story (everyone thinks through lies to some level), ask about the details and focus on them.

lookingatyourcock • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 05:27 PM

I would assume that by email she meant Facebook. It is extremely common to add neighbors on Facebook since you only need to know their name.

Dasmahkitteh • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 10:30 AM

It makes me physically sick.

"What are you going to do about Daniel" just think about what that says for a second.

Also I'm sure it didn't start as a "contingency" plan, she just flipped it when she realized he could get other, possibly better sex elsewhere.

[deleted] • 16 points • 23 February, 2014 10:22 PM

I wouldn't assume he's alpha.. he's probably just decently attractive and the girl from work probably was DTF to begin with.

RedBigMan • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 12:50 AM

Good point... though to get a girl into a position where they're DTF usually takes a bit of game to pull off.

Whether the guy was a sleeping alpha (got comfy in his relationship and acted more beta) or it's an unintentional alpha it's nice to see the ending isn't the one that was expected.

lookingatyourcock • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 05:39 PM

I think if you're decently attractive and somewhat indifferent, in my experience with girls, and from observing friends who are similar to me, there are certain girls that are somewhat aggressive and make all the moves. I put more effort into avoiding girls advances these days, but back in the day when I was more open to hooking up, I never really did anything. Girls just start talking and turn the conversation towards sex, and I would just play along. I find that girls will play hard to get if you chase them, but run after you if you run away.

Kimjungillestt • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 06:20 AM

Why, Kay?

Knight_of_autumn • 77 points • 23 February, 2014 07:42 PM [recovered]

Agh, old women have nothing to do but spread gossip. I have lived with my grandparents for several years during my childhood and old women would always come by and gossip to my grandma for hours. I swear, they cannot help but get their nose into everyone's business.

Just try living in an apartment complex with an old lady living by herself. She will come running to listen in to every argument or loud conversation you ever have.

Why is this a thing? What happens to women in old age that they suddenly care about every little thing going on while men just default to a "I don't give a shit about anything anymore" state?

[deleted] • 80 points • 23 February, 2014 11:10 PM [recovered]

Because women need the feel of relationships in their life - they need to feel in a place where they are surrounded by positive, chatty energy, where everyone loves them. This is not bad at all - ideally you have a mother in a house, she has her kids, her husband, her nieces and nephews, etc, and she blankets everyone with her nurturing femininity, cares about everyone's problems, provides a nice refreshing environment for the man coming home from his masc. work environment.

Now when a woman DOESN'T have this family around her, this instinct goes terribly wrong. She lacks a son to care for, a man to look up to, daughters to do feminine shit with, sisters to gossip with, etc. Because she was a annoying slut in her 20s, men used her and girls were smart to get caught up with her, so she has no friends. She's older now, she's fat, there's no single guys. Her own family can't deal with her hamstering.

All of her positive feminine instincts just well up inside of her with no outlet. This is why 38 year old female store employees will literally talk to you about dumb shit for 15 mins if you accidentally ask them a personal question. They need that flow of social energy in their life, they need to create the illusion that they are sitting happily by the warm fire with their beautiful family and friends. So they constantly inject themselves into every situation, hoping to be a voice of maternal authority or support or nagging, trying desperately to live out a lie.

[deleted] • 17 points • 24 February, 2014 01:10 AM

This is the deep dark truth. Your 38 year old female store employee analogy is spot on.

t2lspectre • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 09:22 PM

Dude... no one has described my aunt better. It's amusing how single, child free men i their 40s and 50s usually have great lives whereas women in the same situation are often bitter, resentful, and cynical. Oh and most get fat thinking they can eat away their depression.

How and why did a sweet old lady living above them HAVE her email address?

Am I the only person who is friendly with his neighbors? I have phone numbers and email addresses. I feed dogs when people go out of town. Husband of the lady across the street from me is a civilian contractor who regularly goes to Iraq (or at least, he used to) and she's like 60. I used to help her all the time. She came pounding on my door one night because she'd put a coffee cup in the microwave and it had a gold rim or something on it. She didn't turn the microwave off, mind you, she just booked it to my house. She's a very sweet lady and yeah, she has my email.

This.

I like my neighbours, but where my aunt lives it's all cheap rentals, so it's people taking drugs on their front lawn and throwing rubbish on the street, then screaming at people for leaving mcdonalds wrappers on their lawn (when they leave them on others laws, or just kick the boxes into their neighbours lawn).

I just can't fathom how people can live in filth without any respect for their community or neighbourhood.

That's because they grew up in trashy, fatherless households (or lived with a douchebag their smart single mom decided to shack up with) and raised by single-mom society.

Women are trashing the good beta men that would make good fathers for the alpha fucks.

Best comment in the other thread

Here's what happened at home - Daniel is a good guy, stays home, takes care of his responsibilities and does right by his girlfriend. His gf planned a trip with friends and he was cool with it. Then she comes home one night and tells Daniel she wants to fuck dudes while she is on vacation. Daniel, being a regular bloke understands this to mean that she will fuck dudes while she is on vacation. Daniel begins to insulate himself emotionally from his ex (she is his ex at this point, ex's fuck other dudes, gf's don't in Daniels worldview). When she leaves for vacation, Daniel accepts an invite to the pub from a girl he works with. After a couple of pints, he explains his new found single status and the work girl is over-joyed. She has liked Daniel for sometime, saw some great qualities in him, but her efforts to flirt had been rebuffed to date because he is a stand-up guy and wouldn't disrespect his gf by engaging in these flirtatious. But now, after Daniels ex gf pissed all over him and their relationship by treating his fidelity in a cavalier and selfish fashion, work girl has her in. Daniel now has a new girlfriend.

The lesson I (and work girl) take away from this - if you plan on fucking randoms, Daniel ain't gonna fucking be there when you get back.

She is not his girlfriend anymore. She is his ex-girlfriend. He didn't go out and fucked some other girl, he got himself a new girlfriend.

torrentialtomato • 6 points • 24 February, 2014 02:12 PM

[deleted] • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 04:33 PM

I bet she didn't have sex with him that often, maybe once or twice a week. And they were never loud enough such that the old lady upstairs can hear it. What really gets to her is that he is with the new girl almost every night, and the new girl is probably fucking him harder than she ever did. And there is nothing that she can do about it for the next three months.

TRPsubmitter • 189 points • 23 February, 2014 05:14 PM*

The encounter was purely sexual, she was drunk, and they used protection. The next day the boy was out of her life completely and that was it. I vehemently disagreed with doing all this behind her boyfriends back though.

This is infuriating. Here she is in backwards fashion sneakily trying to imply that "it doesn't count" for her or her feeeemal friends. "hey it was a confusing situation!", as the guy's dick plunges into her.

This is why no one respects these bitches. They don't even have the self-respect to own up to their decisions. If you cheat, do it and admit you did it.

I explained that i wasnt going to be looking to fuck every guy i see that im attracted to, and that my love for him was as strong as ever, but i also wanted to be able act freely and party like other girls my age.

"Love is strong as ever?" So disingenuous.

And no, you don't get to keep your bf and "act freely and party". Make a decision. He doesn't owe you that and assuming he does makes you a cunt.

IDefyAxioms • 27 points • 23 February, 2014 09:35 PM

The next day the boy was out of her life completely and that was it.

This is actually a PERFECT example of how women don't understand that men don't value emotional commitment as much as they value sexual monogamy. She just doesn't understand the huge difference in value that women and men give to these two different parts of a relationship, and the underlying reasons for it.

[deleted] • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 04:42 PM

I bet what really gets to her is that he is with the new girl every night. I bet they didn't have sex that often, and when they did, it wasn't loud enough to wake up the old lady upstairs.

It was always a possibility that he would have sex when she brought up the open relationship, so it shouldn't have bothered her that much. But she fears the emotional break because the new girl seems to have better sexual chemistry with him than she did. He's not just fucking some random chick and then moving on, he's fucking the same chick daily (as well as working with her daily) and doing the wild stuff in bed that she never did for him.

[deleted] • 10 points • 24 February, 2014 03:37 AM

To me this post reflects exactly what it is we say about perceptions of cheating:

Females are more concerned with the emotional connections of their partners with others, men are more concerned with physical cheating.

It's really obvious that what burns her the most is that her bf is in one place with one girl drinking fine wine in front of the fireplace and fucking on the bear skin rug. It burns her. What was she up to? You know, no real attachment to the nightly rail riding on the beach. So it's not really cheating, right? Especially if we're in an open relationship...

My favorite part of this post is that she wants to try to control her bf from thousands of miles away by hiding information and claiming that it is her second thoughts about compromising 'what we have' by hooking up with strangers that has caused this change of heart. I honestly don't think this post is a troll (and frequently I do) because of this last part, it's just perfect enough: a true to life narcissistic rationalization, finally revealed as a desperate measure to make their 'relationship' all about her and her feelings.

deptii • 403 points • 23 February, 2014 04:54 PM

"The encounter was purely sexual, she was drunk, and they used protection."

I remember reading about this here. The way women and men define cheating. Most women does not see sexual encounter as cheating its much more about the emotional connection with another woman. This is just yet another proof to it.

[deleted] • 88 points • 23 February, 2014 05:45 PM

what probably set her off the most is that he was seeing the same girl regularly

vaker • 129 points • 23 February, 2014 06:01 PM

Correct. Males are threatened by physical cheating (cuckoldry). Females feel threatened by emotional relationships (loss of access to male's resources).

PokesHoleInCondoms • 75 points • 23 February, 2014 07:24 PM

It reminds me of a post I saw on /r/korea regarding the prostitution business there. One of the posters was an English tutor for the wife of an executive at a major Korean Chaebol (or conglomerate.) It was fairly obvious why he was coming back home late every night since it's perfectly normal in that business culture for these executives to get together after work to party and fuck high end prostitutes. But she said that she wasn't really bothered by that since it's purely physical and he comes home every night to her. What she was worried about was that hot, young translator his company hired who's accompanying her husband on long business trips abroad and spending an awful lot of time with him.

[deleted] • 9 points • 23 February, 2014 08:29 PM

This is evidenced in the fact that women try and use men as emotional tampons. Also the countless examples of girls who have other guy friends they use for emotional support. I had 2 girlfriends in a row that I'm sure (as sure as you can be at least) that they weren't physically cheating on me, but they were emotionally involved with other guys.

Some actions are irreversible. When you pour water on a slice of bread, that bread can never go back to what it was like before. Even when it dries, it'll be hard and inedible.

The same thing is true when you tell a long term committed partner that you're going to go fuck other people. That better be really important to you, because the relationship is permanently changed, and most likely ruined, the second you say it.

Ceekoe • 74 points • 23 February, 2014 05:26 PM

This clearly illustrates the polarity between the feminist imperative thrust on young girls today that says the consequences of a modern woman's exploits were paid for by the suffering of previous generations of women, and the practical outcome of behavior associated with the expression of that imperative. How dare we not accept Ms. Xs proposal to sew her seeds with strange men with grace and humility, then await her return home as a "better, more fulfilled woman"? It is unthinkable that a man should expect loyalty, commitment or self-control from his mate.

Undercut this with the delusional construct that all men are cheaters. Simply by his response and subsequent behavior Mr. X shines a spotlight on his own commitment and monogamy until it is no longer part of their relational contract.

PaulRivers10 • 47 points • 23 February, 2014 06:44 PM

Feminism has simply turned women into the men that they used to criticize, claim were victimizing them, and say were bad.

They used to go on and on about what bastards men who said "it was just sex! it didn't mean anything!" were. All that's changed is that now they're saying that to.

That was really fun. Woman sounds like a 4 if she's having that much trouble getting laid. Meanwhile bf brought a spinning plate right into the mix.

She's shattered because her attempt to game him backfired.

abcd_z • 20 points • 23 February, 2014 08:34 PM

Woman sounds like a 4 if she's having that much trouble getting laid.

As mentioned upthread, it was only 5 days of vacation before she posted to Reddit.

Tarnsman4Life • 35 points • 23 February, 2014 09:03 PM

I'm sorry; if a decent looking woman (7-10) is looking to get laid she can easily find at least one, if not 2 or 3 men in that time.

refrigeratorbob • 20 points • 23 February, 2014 11:00 PM

Even a 4, if she REALLY wanted to, could make it happen, just keep buying dudes drinks

Tarnsman4Life • 9 points • 24 February, 2014 01:05 AM

Yep pretty much; with OKC, Tinder, Skout, other apps like that you have to be pretty disgusting before its what I would call difficult to find sex if thats what your after.

TP_2 • 11 points • 24 February, 2014 01:23 AM

The thing about women is they typically believe their own bullshit.

When they say "I'm not going out looking for cock" to themselves, they believe it, and typically also have retardedly unrealistic standards, regardless of their own physical attractiveness.

So add these together and you get a billion "opps it just happened" stories. Just not every night of the week.

And of course he would have the same opportunity as me, he would be able to freely see girls if he chose to. Daniels a bit of a homebody - he goes out with his friends on occassion, but most nights he spends in our apartment playing video games or watching netflix. Given his lifestyle i wasnt overly worried hed be hooking up with all these random girls.

Behold that manipulation right there guys. She tries to sound like she's reasonable but she knows exactly what she's doing, this is a power game and premeditated. She's in an environment to fuck and she's the girl (does the choosing, not the convincing) in the mating game whilst he's just sat at home and is a guy and therefore must work much harder to get sex. She tries to sell it as a fair deal, but if it was a fair deal she wouldn't offer it - this is an entirely one sided deal and she tries to make it seem like she's buying into the whole equal shit but she's not, the dynamics of this situation clearly favour her rather than him, she exemplifies that by saying "i dont expect him to get with a girl anyway" whilst she parties half way across the world with a bunch of sluts and wants to be guilt-free of being a whore.

"I have debated for days whether to send this to you and potentially ruin your vacation. But you deserve to know the truth. Daniel has been seeing another woman since you left. There is no doubt that he is seeing her, she has come over most nights and I have heard them being intimate. You deserve so much better. I'm so sorry."

The old lady goes to bat for the womans team straightaway, knowing nothing of the situation and saying this chick deserves better. That's the joke, she's the one who instigated the infidelity. Notice how quickly and unquestionably she sided with the woman? 99.9% of women do this and are like this.

I thought i could handle this open relationship arrangement. I cant. This message shattered my heart into a million pieces. This isnt what i intended at all

She could handle it if it was on her terms and she had it under control, she can't handle it because her supposedly introverted boyfriend who wouldn't get any tail is smashing the next girl and she hasn't even got herself some dick yet. She's heartbroken because essentially he violated their relationship before she did. It's hilarious I can't help but see the dissonance in the double standard here.

I regret ever taking Michelles advice and opening my stupid mouth. I dont want him to fuck other girls, i dont want to fuck other guys.

Now he's demonstrated high value by showing he can get other girls, you suddenly find him attractive again and get a little bit of respect, this is fucking dread game in full swing right here. Michelle poisoned this girls mind with bluepill bullshit and she was an idiot to put it into action. Michelle is not the kind of person I'd want any of my girlfriends hanging around with.

People arent allowed to change their minds or regret their decisions?!

You must take responsibility for your actions young girl.

How do I go about contacting him and expressing that this needs to stop NOW without coming across like a crazy hypocritical bitch?

You always want to have your cake and eat it. First it was not losing your relationship while going and fucking some strange whilst you thought he couldn't get any. Now you know he's getting some you want your cake again by reasserting your dominance over him and expecting him to just "trust you" to have enough self-discipline to not fuck anyone for the next few months. This is fucking hilarious honestly. I love the U-TURN here, the only reason you changed your mind at all was because he got another pussy, if he hadn't you'd have been a slut and had no regrets. So simple and so easy to read.

I am beyond hurt, this feels so wrong and so sick.

Because he beat you at your own game, you lose. You took a risk and it didn't pay off, you got greedy.

Tory says i should email him saying "what i said before about opening our relationship was a mistake. I havent slept with anyone here and i dont want to. Youre my parter and i dont want to compromise what we have. Please be faithful as I will be to you. I love you." Simply dont tell him about Kay's email or that i know there's another woman. Thoughts?

These bitches are just born with manipulation skills aren't they? This is all total horseshit designed just to stop him fucking this other girl because she can't handle it. Again, hilarious.

Pushnikov • 15 points • 24 February, 2014 03:29 AM

Your analysis highlights the prime example of a woman needing a committed validation tool (boyfriend). Without that sense of comfort knowing that someone wants her at all times without question or "judgement", she falls apart into insecurity. Now that she feels threatened by that other girl and she is thousands of miles away and can't do anything at all, she feels powerless.

rebuildingMyself • 10 points • 24 February, 2014 10:27 AM

Don't forget her calling the work girl a slut that needs to get out of her apartment. Yeah...

LegalPusher • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 05:10 AM

I agree with everything else, but I'd give the old lady the benefit of the doubt. I would also think the boyfriend was cheating, if I didn't know she'd "opened" their relationship so she could slut around on her vacation.

enticingasthatmaybe • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 03:34 PM

CultOfBlackPhillip had some good insight, too:

When a person suggests an open relationship, what is really implied regardless of it being true is "I have set up or am looking for somebody new to fuck, but I want you as my safety net to come back to when i'm done."

[deleted] • 14 points • 23 February, 2014 07:43 PM

Amazing.

This is one of the rare occasions when /relationships does not support the hamster and comfort her for all the bad things that suprisingly happened to her.

FloranHunter • 8 points • 23 February, 2014 10:42 PM

My tentative hypothesis is that they put way too much stock in words. When the hamster merely acts wrongly, they support it. When the hamster speaks wrongly (eg asking for an open relationship, not just cheating then crying about it) they don't support it.

blahbergstein • 4 points • 23 February, 2014 11:17 PM

From one of the comments:

There's no point calling this other girl a slut because she's not, the same as you wouldn't be a slut if you ended up sleeping with other guys on your trip.

I wish people could see. Even if she doesn't sleep with any guys on this trip, she's still a slut.

2) an open relationship is not a relationship

rebuildingMyself • 3 points • 24 February, 2014 10:29 AM*

If a girl proposes an open relationship, it's nothing more than signing a relationship's death warrant. If my girl says that, she's instantly demoted to plate status at best. Why should I pay relationship coins to a woman that's giving her sex away for free to alphas on weekends?

Felt good then and feels good now.

CultOfBlackPhillip • 37 points • 23 February, 2014 05:22 PM

I managed to get a post in there before it was deleted, I told her she's gotten exactly what she asked for and that it was hypocritical of her to hold her bf to a standard she wasn't going to hold herself to, most of the comments in the thread we're surprisingly similar. Her only advice would be to not try to weasel her way out of theoretical future cheating from now on, but it looks like all she wanted was people to make her feel better about being upset.

lovelustus • 38 points • 23 February, 2014 06:15 PM

That's exactly what she wanted, she didn't want actionable advice. She wanted everyone to tell her how shitty her soon to be X is and validate her own ridiculous behavior.

This is one of my favorite parts. This was a nakedly obvious shit test and he passed. She was probably getting bored of him "being a homebody" (not that she'd admit to her boredom), so she figured she'd go fuck around awhile with some slut friends. She figured he'd do what he always does and chill out at home, which would be a shit test failure. "I'll tell him he'd be free to do it too, but obviously he won't. So really I'm just giving myself a free pass to whore around for a few months! I can't lose!" She thought she fucking had him. She'd found her beta bucks, and managed to find some alpha fucks without guilt. But he alpha'd the fuck up and passed with flying, vibrant colors.

Phwoar! That kicked her back right in the face! This is one of the most egotistical bits of shit I have ever read about a girl.

if it happens it happens.

Id insist on using protection

Some good reasoning right here..... lol

I used to see a girl, and she was one of the most beautiful I had ever met with a gorgeous face, 5'3 and boobs too big for her. She told me she was going on holiday to Zante or somewhere with her girlfriends and that was that. I stopped talking to her because the health is zapped out of a relationship as soon as the active choice to do something / go somewhere sexual is made.

[deleted] • 14 points • 23 February, 2014 10:02 PM [recovered]

[deleted] • 39 points • 23 February, 2014 05:17 PM

I doubt the old lady would go along with such deviant manipulation unless she was like hardcore traditionalist. As earlier discussed, women tend to side with other women.

MelodyMyst • 29 points • 23 February, 2014 06:01 PM

PaulRivers10 • 21 points • 23 February, 2014 06:38 PM

I doubt the old lady would go along with such deviant manipulation unless she was like hardcore traditionalist. As earlier discussed, women tend to side with other women.

No, women appear to stand up for each other on the surface, but behind the scenes they're constantly infighting, backstabbing, and shaming each other.

A woman from an older generation also doesn't have the "oh it's so bad to slut shame! and girls should be able to sleep around freely!" mentality that girls of our generation have. She's probably FAR more used to critisizing girls for being promiscuous.

Problem is, the old lady doesn't know the girls friends or social circle, and even if she did they wouldn't listen to an old lady anyways. So she can't talk about her behind her back. Plus the girl is out of the country.

And since this girl has a friend providing social validation for her choice to slut it up, making her feel bad (even if it was possible) isn't going to work either. She's not going to feel like she's doing something wrong with her friend right there telling her she's doing something right.

So dread game or negging is the only option left. "you deserve better than this" is CLASSIC female-to-female shaming or negging language. It's real life concern trolling.

It's not necessarily that the guy "convinced" the little old lady to send this email. It's more likely that the guy is a classic nice guy beta, the little old lady likes him, and he was telling his story to the little old lady. This lady goes "oh, dear, well - I think I know what I can say to her to get her to stop this foolish behavior".

That assumes the above story is real, though. There's a few things that make it implausible as being realistic.

FloranHunter • 3 points • 23 February, 2014 10:44 PM

There has been research showing that women side with women against men. I'm not sure of the exact circumstances they used but my guess is that the Sisterhood is only active when there's an explicit disagreement where siding against men is an option. If women are fighting over a man then there is no Sisterhood. If there are no men then there is no Sisterhood.

johnnight • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 01:39 PM

BooksofMagic • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 11:33 PM

Well look at it this way. No apartment break up drama. She left and he has the place to himself for 3 months. He can strategize his exit at his leisure - - maybe get his name off the lease - leave without having to worry about losing any of his shit or any wierd games.

When she gets back she can figure out her situation - by then he should be all good.

When it comes to cohabitating - shit gets a little more complicated. You have to be somewhat slick about it. You can't just shoot your mouth off like Sonny from the Godfather.

All he had to do was smile, agree and let her go. When she gets back - I'm sure he won't be around any more and that will be that.

Like I said he played it just right. Now he's fucking new girl in that bed on his terms like a bauce. He'll move into a new place like a bauce and eveything will flow without drama.

The stupid ex-bitch played herself out - and he let her.

Sometimes smarter is definitely more alpha.

He probably doesn't even know she's freaking out over knowing he's getting laid by some other girl.

All he knows is that he's getting ass on his terms and he's going to relocate on his terms.

How can that not be a good way of handling the situation? This is far and away the most convenient method. When she gets back he's going to be like: Hope your sex tourism vacation was worth it... Bye now.

Have you ever lived with a girl then broke up?

Not the greatest situation to go through.

Being smart is not being weak.

Evers89 • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 10:04 PM

There's a reason you want to escape with as little blame as possible. Depending on where you live, what you do, how big your social circle, how bat shit your woman is, etc... A girl with enough scorn for that has the potential to ruin you.

This is why I agree with the subtle approach he went by. Gives him a free pass out of the relationship without drama. Besides, looking at the story, I believe he said one thing to her, then immediately did another. Seems dark triad to me here.

foghorn19 • 4 points • 23 February, 2014 08:21 PM [recovered]

The GF of a decently RP guy wouldn't dare think of proposing such an idea in the first place.

WAFC • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 10:02 PM [recovered]

Taking the red pill does not inoculate you from bitch/slut behavior. It merely tells you how to handle it when it inevitable pops up.

Gyaltso • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 08:05 PM

I think he handled it like a pimp.

[deleted] • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 08:24 PM

It would be easier finding a girl to lay than orchestrating a plot like that. Besides imagine if the girlfriend found out what position does that leave him in?

Gyaltso • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 08:43 PM

The idea is to teach her a lesson, then really be about it yourself. I would view it as an intelligent move made by a man who knows what he's doing.

Tonight i checked my email at an internet cafe and there was a message from Kay, a sweet old lady who lives above us in our apartment complex.

Do people know their neighbors this well? Fuck, I don't even know my next door neighbor's name and I've been living here for over 5 years.

RC_5213 • 7 points • 23 February, 2014 07:40 PM

Old people, being probably more lonely, like to talk a lot. I know my elderly neighbors much better than my neighbors my parents age.

It is wrong and sick. No rules were broken. I would say she goofed, but then I read this part again:

"I honestly hadn't thought about it like that, i felt like i could easily go 3 months without having sex."

Daniel dodges a bullet. He had a girl blowing him while he played Madden. Keep it up Daniel!

batman50 • 7 points • 23 February, 2014 08:16 PM

Talking with Michelle about a month ago, she asked what im going to do about Daniel. I honestly hadn't thought about it like that, i felt like i could easily go 3 months without having sex. And id never want to betray Daniel's trust. But Michelle made a good case for 'opening' our relationship while i was away - she said (paraphrasing): "Of course you love Daniel. But traveling is about experiencing new things, and that includes sex. Youll say it wont happen now, but you just have to trust me that once youre there youll feel different. Daniel is going to wonder either way if youre fucking other guys on your trip. Just be upfront with him and see what he says."

Slut getting others to slut. And of course, she never considered her what her boyfriend would do. This is not only hampering, this is narcissism and stupidity all on one.

I wouldn't be surprised if Michele is the one banging her BF.

This is hilarious.

She wanted her cake and the ability to eat it, too.

She just didn't think anyone else would have the nerve to want cake.

Newsflash: most people LOVE cake, especially if it's cake that you've been given free, all-you-can-eat, access to.

I guess she just couldn't understand that other people like cake, too (how dare him?), and now she's gonna have to go back and change all the free-cake rules.

She'll be very lucky if he's already satisfied his sweet tooth.

FortunateBum • 69 points • 23 February, 2014 04:40 PM

So... she tells her boyfriend to fuck other women and he does and she realizes it was a horrible mistake?

carrotplanter • 124 points • 23 February, 2014 05:14 PM

she tells her boyfriend to fuck other women

Nah son see she told her bf that she might be in a situation to fuck other dudes and so she needed to know that she could do so with no consequences. The bf wasn't meant to think the rule applied to him as well!

RedBigMan • 78 points • 23 February, 2014 05:42 PM

No the truth is like most women who pull this stunt. She thought her man was sufficiently beta-ized that he would not be able to get new pussy in the 3 months she was gone or that the 'wife/gf-goggles' effect would have him waiting until she got home for some sex.

She never expected him to be a sleeping alpha and start banging some chick immediately after she left.

I was never a big fan of schadenfreude until I joined TRP. But it's nice to see women reap what they sow.

colovick • 6 points • 23 February, 2014 09:19 PM [recovered]

This... It's not about what she wants or appeasing her... It's about shaping your world around you and she can either happily tag along (and most do) or they can leave... When she makes this kind of statement she's gone as far as you're concerned

[deleted] • 6 points • 24 February, 2014 12:39 AM*

So... she tells her boyfriend to fuck other women and he does and she realizes it was a horrible mistake?

She sees the BF as a homebody beta who won't be able to bed another woman in that time frame. That way she gets the best of both worlds - she can go from one exotic bed to another for three months, but it's okay because they agreed to open up the relationship. And then the plan was for her to arrive home and hear "I know we said it would be okay to see other people, but I just played video games while you were gone. And thinking of you in another man's arms is driving me crazy, will you marry me?"

Lesson here: Never ever take literally anything that comes out of a woman's mouth. If your gf tells you to fuck other women, you know for sure she's not saying that.

That's not at all what she's saying. She's saying "I'm going to fuck other men for three months."

MockingDead • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 06:27 AM

Lesson here: take what you gf says and do exactly that. If you gf tells you to fuck other women, do so.

[deleted] • 14 points • 23 February, 2014 09:38 PM

Consequences. Choices have them, and every once in a blue moon, a western woman is forced to acknowledge that they exist, and gasp they even apply to her!

kragshot • 8 points • 24 February, 2014 05:38 AM

This line is the key to the entire post:

"This isnt what i intended at all i wanted the freedom to act in the moment."

See what's bolded? The "i" is what that was all about. She wanted the freedom to fuck around in Europe with the party boys and she expected him to just stay at home and deal with it.

The free sex was for meeee...not you! How could you do that to meeee? I was the one who wanted the freedom!

It doesn't get any better than that!

fuk_offe • 9 points • 24 February, 2014 07:02 AM

I just ADORE the whiteknight responses in the redditlog. Dig user /u/Nievvain and how he keeps defending her

I swear, whiteknights like this must think that if they defend the reddit internet girl, then she'll fall in love with them and fly out to them and they'll finally lose their virginity.

Hrel • 17 points • 23 February, 2014 05:50 PM

I think it's hilarious that she didn't think SHE could go 3 months without sex but her boyfriend could and would. How do you get to be 24 and never learn how much stronger men's sex drives are than women's?

[deleted] • 12 points • 23 February, 2014 05:54 PM

without coming across like a crazy hypocritical bitch

Holy fucking shit! She's able to critically look at herself. She recognizes the hypocrisy.

cbarrett1989 • 4 points • 24 February, 2014 01:58 AM

That was such a fucking hilarious read I spit my scotch on my desk.

So basically from what I'm gathering:

Dumb whore A went and took advice from Dumber whore B who couldn't keep a relationship together. Dumb whore A found out that Dumber whore B gives shitty advice. Now her plan to suck and fuck her way across whatever foreign land shes in backfires when alleged "loser beta" boyfriend is actually a coiled up tiger chomping at the bit to blaze new trails.

Reading posts like this make me so happy at a visceral level that I found TRP. I wouldn't say I was a beta white knight before TRP but I would say that I needed some missing pieces to the puzzle.

I hope that the boyfriend continues plowing pussy until the night he has to pick her up from the airport; then dumps her stupid ass for trying to weasel her way into getting permission to fuck around while implicitly stating he's a loser with no chance to get pussy besides her.

There is one thing she can do at this point. She can call Daniel, tell him that she made a terrible mistake, she did not fuck anybody and if he forgives her, she will immediately break off the vacation and come back to him.

In this arrangement Daniel wins one notch count, she has zero and Daniel can be reasonably sure that she will be too scared to try anything like this again. He's got a loyal bitch now and he has no reason to look for another gf to relive the same story again (because AWALT). Everybody is happy?

Daniel has no obligation to say yes to this.

This is so satisfying! She describes her boyfriend as a puppy dog beta and decides to fuck around because she doesn't think he'll be able to get any. And she doesn't want to man up and leave him because this way she doesn't have to worry about paying to store her shit for three months while he pays all the bills. I only wish that what the neighbor thinks is one girl is actually multiple plates. She could've had her boring, beta, "homebody" but she wanted to have her cake and spin some plates. Now he's doing the spinning and she's just a lonely woman eating cake.

"Tory says i should email him saying "what i said before about opening our relationship was a mistake. I havent slept with anyone here and i dont want to. Youre my parter and i dont want to compromise what we have. Please be faithful as I will be to you. I love you." Simply dont tell him about Kay's email or that i know there's another woman. Thoughts?"

Whew baby!

This is like porn for Red PillArs.

[deleted] • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 04:55 AM shes only pissed off because she cant get another man, meanwhile her boyfriend is fucking someone in her apartment haha. this girl is a cunt and he should forget about her.

monogamousprostitute • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 07:59 AM

This is why one should experience the single life. Relax and have fun in your earlier years. Later on when you settle a bit, you might have some of those whore-ish tendencies and jaeger bombs put aside.

luxury_banana • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 10:32 AM

It's funny how she's acting like a child with a toy she didn't want to play with but didn't want anyone else to play with either.

FearlessBurrito • 1 point • 24 February, 2014 01:53 PM

Funny, my dog acts the same way.

vanzant38 • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 12:30 PM

I'm probably not the only one here who thought of this but IF I were Daniel, I'd be sly and get her to apologize and lead her on to get her to come back "home" immediately. Then, DUMP her.

Happily Ever After !!!

brons104 • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 03:50 PM

Ohh god, my sides hurt so much because I can't laugh as hard as I want to right now! You have to love the part "People aren't allowed to change their minds or regret their decisions?!" Of course you are, but you also get to live with the consequences of your decisions.

4vox1 • 2 points • 28 February, 2014 12:32 AM

Love this [deleted] • 2 points • 6 April, 2014 09:23 PM

oh this was delicious

KyfhoMyoba • 2 points • 11 April, 2014 12:39 AM

Oh, the tears of unfathomable sadness!

I don't buy that she was CONSCIOUSLY intending to cheat, I think that when Michelle made the case for slutdom, OP's limbic system lit up like fucking Times Square, her hamster got a shot of methamphetamine, and out came this rationalization, with a little help from good ol' Michelle.

Guys, we underestimate the power of her reptilian brain. The limbic system rules all, the cerebral cortex is just along for the ride.

Inventi • 2 points • 22 May, 2014 12:28 PM

You would've done the same if you were in his position. A friend of mine had this exactly happen to him. He, on the other hand, broke up with his "unfaithful" girlfriend. You may even be lucky enough to get your boyfriend back. I guess you learned Another lesson on this road called life.

canadianbud420 • 2 points • 9 July, 2014 03:11 PM

This is fucking awesome... Before I was weary on subscribing to this sub, but this post is just way too fucking great not to.

GrantNexus • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 05:53 PM

Classic Kay: she ruins everything.

HeadingRed • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 08:56 PM

Wants the freedom to do what she wants- doesn't like giving her man the same.

Reminds me of that line in "as good as it gets"

"How do you write about women so well" "That's easy- I just think of a man and take away reasoning and accountability"

archeasterisk • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 08:56 PM

Some friend, this Michelle girl.

sheriffbigbywolf • 2 points • 23 February, 2014 09:51 PM

This bitch is straight up retarded

[deleted] • 2 points • 24 February, 2014 06:49 AM

this has got to be fake. it's like a virgin redditor's wet dream.

luxury_banana • 6 points • 24 February, 2014 08:28 AM

Probably not fake. Most women who try to set up relationships like this don't want the chump boyfriend to actually be getting any of their own. If he didn't, I can almost assure you she'd have fucked someone during the trip and not felt bad about it.

bassivemalls • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 07:47 PM

First 2 lines put such a big smile on my face.

lorde_i_am_laffin • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 08:03 PM

Worst case scenario you break up with her and have a new gf that you've been with for 3 months.

Best case scenario you keep fucking both girls after she gets done with her vacation.

JP_Whoregan • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 09:47 PM

The most telling sentence in that whole rambling:

It was more contingency if anything - i dont plan on fucking other guys, but if it happens it happens. A nigh (sic) of partying half the world away with people ill never see again shouldnt ruin what we had here.

(emphasis mine)

Sloots gon sloop, and the ration-hamster picks up some serious speed.

Well, well, well, my Michelle...

mdadm • 1 point • 23 February, 2014 11:48 PM

This has got to be a troll. There's no way anyone's that dumb.

[deleted] • 1 point • 24 February, 2014 01:01 AM

Sure there is. Entitlement attitude is everywhere.

Kelly_Gruber • 1 point • 24 February, 2014 12:36 AM

Nailed it

what happened at home - Daniel is a good guy, stays home, takes care of his responsibilities and does right by his girlfriend. His gf planned a trip with friends and he was cool with it. Then she comes home one night and tells Daniel she wants to fuck dudes while she is on vacation. Daniel, being a regular bloke understands this to mean that she will fuck dudes while she is on vacation. Daniel begins to insulate himself emotionally from his ex (she is his ex at this point, ex's fuck other dudes, gf's don't in Daniels worldview). When she leaves for vacation, Daniel accepts an invite to the pub from a girl he works with. After a couple of pints, he explains his new found single status and the work girl is over-joyed. She has liked Daniel for sometime, saw some great qualities in him, but her efforts to flirt had been rebuffed to date because he is a stand-up guy and wouldn't disrespect his gf by engaging in these flirtatious. But now, after Daniels ex gf pissed all over him and their relationship by treating his fidelity in a cavalier and selfish fashion, work girl has her in. Daniel now has a new girlfriend.*

all you can do is get over it, and i would suggest you do it sooner rather than later. thats a can of worms that doesn't just get closed back up.

I need a solid dose of r/pussypass now to calm down my epic justice boner.

jacksbane • 1 point • 24 February, 2014 02:07 PM

Made me laugh out loud this did, I have just read it aloud to the girls in our office, one of them said "Just suck it up and deal with it bitch"
