Should I "shoot my shot" even though she may not like black men? I heard from my boy this one girl I'm interested in doesn't date black guys.

Tbh I've heard this a lot from different women. But, I usually end up being "the one exception". She gives me IOIs but idk..

And what do you guys do if they outright don't like/date your race?

Shoot your shot. Your friend could just be a heter who doesnt want you to try and actually succeed.

She might not like/date black people but she might like/date you, if you see what I mean. It's probably BS from your friends anyway, ignore the noise.

Who gives a fuck? That's just words. Go after what you want righteously.

Just because she won't date doesn't mean she won't fuck you. Besides celebrities a lot of young women look up to bang/date black dudes. I'm Hispanic with a brownish cock and I bone white chicks all the time that never been with Hispanics.

Never listen too much to what women say or let alone what they might've said (Outside the realm of consent of course). What they say and what they actually mean or feel about anything in relation to romance are two completely different things. Reread the Rational Male if you need reminding.
