

Where to fuck

October 26, 2018 | 58 upvotes | by salamchik

I live with my parents at house so I can't bring girls here. It was way easier when I was studying in college since I lived by myself.

Hotels are kinda expensive for me. This makes me reluctant to go on dates etc because I do know where to bring girls. My house is located 40 minutes away from the city and this fact makes me lazy to go out. Since I was studying abroad for 5 years I do not know any places to go out in my home town. I do not know the city that much.

That's why I usually end up watching porn like a bitch, I am tired of this cycle. Work-Lift-Read-Porn-Sleep-repeat. I fuckin tired of this.

There many girls on my IG and waiting for my text messages but instead I just procrastinate by referring on no place to fuck.

What would u do in my situation ?

Do not do a mall. You can go to jail for it. Really bad idea.

Damn that never in crosses my mind. So simple. Great find! Thanks for the heads up

O_Duderino • 24 points • 26 October, 2018 07:05 PM

How does that work, you can rent a airbnb room/house for one night only?

And how to approach the girl to do it? Like, "hey, i rented a airbnb room for 1 night only, you in"?

eccentricrealist • 27 points • 26 October, 2018 07:44 PM

Talk about high risk

AlmightyPhoenix • 4 points • 26 October, 2018 10:46 PM*

dont mention that its an airbnb, maybe? by the time you have the airbnb rented id assume you already know youre getting laid and arent just blowing your money hoping you are, id probably rent it after approaching a chick unless youre just gonna go out one night with the aim of getting a stranger into an airbnb... in which case, after talking her up a bit maybe bring it into the "yo want to get out of here? i have a place nearby we can be alone" area

EDIT: another thought, see if you can rent an airbnb at any moment like a hotel room or if you need a reservation reserved

Imaooo^^^ so true.

Stop worrying about girls. Start worrying about launching into your own life as an individual and a man. Goal is to get out on your own. To accomplish that, you need means to support yourself, so you need a job that will pay the bills.

Can you get a job in the City that's 40 min's away? Is there a train to take to get there? Might be tough at first, but save some money, then move there, close enough to work that you don't need a car to save expenses?

Something like a roommate situation?

Regardless figuring out an income and a living situation you can afford and sustain - that's first. Stop worrying about girls until you get that step done first.

alaskanarcher • 23 points • 26 October, 2018 06:22 PM*

I actually agree with this but with the caveat that living with your parents is often a really sound financial decision long term and that it can be extremely mutually beneficial on a personal level, so long as you have a healthy relationship with your parents. I don't think it is anything to be ashamed of or a situation that you should necessarily rush to get out of if you can't actually secure your entire independence of living while saving for your future. Anything short of that is a recipe to eventually needing a handout, possibly forcing you back into your parents house at an even less optimal time in your life.

Many people do not have healthy adult relationships with their parents, so this certainly doesn't apply to everyone. A common pitfall is the fact that living with your parents can mean that they are literally taking care of you like they did when you were a child. That is certainly not a good environment for personal development. But that is a dynamic you can change over time. You can take on more responsibilities in the household, help your parents and generally reduce how dependent you are on them without entirely moving out.

Source: I'm young, live with my mom, and saving for my future. Reshaping my relationship with my mom has been a huge learning experience for me and also a huge challenge. My main problem isn't dependence but rather impatience with her personal dysfunctions. Fortunately none of those issues are toxic to be around. She is very supportive and always means well. We laugh with each other every day and I have learned a lot of better strategies for working and living with her that carry into other areas of my life. If you're lucky, no one loves you quite like your mother.

Edit: PS regarding your original question I don't have a good suggestion for this. I have the same logistics problem although I could technically bring a girl over if I wanted and even basically ask my mom to mind her own business. But frankly that'd have to be a pretty unique chick for me to even want to expose my mom to her. I don't need to bring any additional crazy home.

I do like the Airbnb option that someone else mentioned. I'm going to keep that in mind but I personally have no desire of hiding the fact that I live with my mom from any woman I'm interested in. Obviously I wouldn't open with that though haha. ;) Not really pursuing women at this point in my life anyway so not a big deal. Just one of the trade offs for living at home.

Herdseengineers • 3 points • 26 October, 2018 08:07 PM

Yeah, I lived with my parents for a year after college. Was making good money, I just saved it and paid off all my student loans after that year. Then moved out to a roommate situation that was very affordable. Even managed to get laid a few times, never at parent's house though.

bosshawg502 • 3 points • 27 October, 2018 01:46 AM

This is exactly what people need to hear. I'm currently in a very similar situation. I do still live with my parents but it's a very symbiotic relationship. They don't support me financially at all besides giving me really cheap rent and my mom cooks food quite often. I do my own thing and pay for cars, my own stuff etc literally all they do is give me food sometimes and a roof over my head.

I works out well because I'm pretty independent while getting a break on life for a little bit. And to be honest my parents would be in pretty rough shape without me. I fix most stuff around the house, and mainly their money-to-car situation keeps them buried. My dad runs his vehicles into the ground and they don't have the money pay to have them fixed. And neither of them can fix them themselves. That's where I come in. I save them massive amounts of money just being there to keep their vehicles alive, I have connections everywhere automotive related and get them deals on parts etc.

Basically I do all the hard shitty work that keeps their lives fairly comfortable and easy, and in return I get some meals, a roof, and greatly discounted rent. We get along, mostly happy, etc. it allows me to save money, them to save money, and we all lean on each other when need be alaskanarcher • 1 point • 27 October, 2018 01:54 AM

That's awesome! Sounds like a really good situation. I help my mom out in this way too. She cooks occasionally but since I lift and want to control my diet and eat a ton I cook most dinners now. I also am helping her build her own life, encourage her to get out of the house and build a life. She joined a weight lifting group for women her age and I'm super proud of her for that. It's not intense at all but it gets her out of the house and it's something. We also are working together to sort through decades of clutter in the house and are making great progress.

Thank you.

AlmightyPhoenix • 2 points • 26 October, 2018 11:01 PM

I'd like to note that, although you should work on your career and that is indeed more important than random one night stands and fucking a bunch of sluts, you should also have fun. You can figure out an income/sustainable living situation/career while talking to chicks, having sex, etc., along the way. Career advancement is good, yes, it should be prioritized over banging random chicks... that doesn't mean you shouldn't have something else to focus on meanwhile or that you shouldn't try to get laid until you're out on your own.

Not arguing that occupation/living situation shouldn't be a priority, just wanted to add more thoughts to that for OP... ie, do what Herds said, prioritize your career and whatnot, just don't focus on it 24/7 365, there's nothing wrong with wanting to get laid in your off-time.

Herdsengineers • 1 point • 29 October, 2018 01:17 PM

I agree. I lived with parents for my first year after college. Worked, paid off student loans early, etc. Then moved in with a roommate. During that year, I did get laid, it was just mainly at other girl's places. When they saw I was otherwise working a high paying job, fresh graduated, and paying off debt from school, there were enough that didn't bat an eye at living at parents given everything else that I didn't lack for options.

neodal • 22 points • 26 October, 2018 03:32 PM

HMM I'm kinda curious as well now, Lets see how the experts are going to answer this 1.

CainPrice • 12 points • 26 October, 2018 04:56 PM

Get a job and get your own place.

Meanwhile, meet women close to their residences and have sex there.

jaketesnake5000 • 30 points • 26 October, 2018 03:47 PM

Ok, first off as you know already you need to get your own place. But back to your question...

1) do they have their own spot? That would be ideal. I am living with my ex wife as we try to sell our house and that's the first thing I ask about: their place. 2) your car. Escalate in the car, it's really easy to get a blow job and from there sex is simple 3) Could always fuck her in a bathroom stall 4) take her to the mall and fuck her in a changing room, go to a store that's empty like jc penny. Tell her she has to be quiet haha. (She's never quiet when you tell her to be) 5) could always go natural and fuck in a park, but that's more summer time weather. Most women have never had sex outside so they will love it.

I am planning to acquire a car after new year. And yes that's a great point. I doubt that girls here have their own spot. There no international students and most of the girls live with their parents as well. It would be great if I found one.

jaketesnake5000 • 8 points • 26 October, 2018 04:44 PM

Fuck it. The women I met have their own places and don't care about my situation. They just want dick and I'm happy to provide that

MallowPallow • 4 points • 26 October, 2018 07:09 PM

Car works. Put the seats down in the back.

BitingInsects • 3 points • 26 October, 2018 07:22 PM

I took some big risks in the car back in the day. In retrospect, me and the girl could have gotten arrested and it's definitely not cool. Indecent exposure on your record. When I lived home, I'd just invite them over super late. I made it a normal thing to play music or TV loud in my bedroom - even without anyone over. So I would have the girl sneak in and have the TV on loud. I made it work... good times!

agsuy • 5 points • 26 October, 2018 04:06 PM

How much for a cheap hotel night? 50-50 is usually the way to go

salamchik[S] • 5 points • 26 October, 2018 04:31 PM

Hmm that might be an option. But I doubt that girls here will pay. In the western counties that will work. But here, hell no

The_Lightskin_Wonder • 2 points • 26 October, 2018 08:19 PM

Im 27 and I still live at home , I only bring 1 girl home but the rest I can afford to bring to hotels, but even then I've maintained relations with women just fucking them in my car before parting ways.

I make good money and I'm lucky to have generous and respecting parents but, I also prefer to respect them and keep the in house pussy to just 1 girl.

I usually grab a room at motel 6 and crash there. Or I sleep at there house. I make about 4800-5000 a month though so I can disguise the night as a staycation. They cover dinner or something I get there room and drinks.
Etc.

Tachankers • 2 points • 26 October, 2018 09:34 PM

car, or her place

fretbord • 2 points • 27 October, 2018 04:21 AM im in the exact same boat. live with parents.

I have a few big / empty / dark parking lots I found near my usual date spots. so if it's going well, and I know she's down, I drive there to one of the parking lots - favorite one is a train station lot that's massive- find a secluded spot, turn the lights off, put on music, move both front seats forward, and we go at it in the back seat. make sure you bring towels to lay out. one time I a girl squirted all over the back seat and it smelled bad for for a while. also, the away from the bodies will stain the seats.

use towels. trust.

ive also done it in a secluded park late at night over a bench, and in as school parking lot but I wouldn't recommend that.

Lostitink • 2 points • 27 October, 2018 04:45 AM

All you need is your car, seriously I'm in my 30's and when I drive home to my parents. I hook up with chicks in my car. They like it, it's exciting. You can always go to their place. Which I like because I can leave whenever I want. I know a lot of these guys are spouting off about getting you're shit together but that's not helpful right now. What you need to do is be confident and just escalate in the car. It works and generally if they want to fuck you they will either take you back to their house or just do it right there in the car. Obviously drive somewhere a little out of the way. Put up the sun shade

orezavi • 1 point • 26 October, 2018 10:52 PM

Let the girl figure that out. You just work on attracting her enough.

Slolum • 1 point • 27 October, 2018 02:12 AM

Get your shit together and move out.

Your post doesn't mention how old you are, but a financially secure man is going to attract a lot more women than someone living with his parents.

OfficerWade • 1 point • 27 October, 2018 05:59 AM

Why can't you bring girls home? My parents don't ask don't care, better to ask for forgiveness than permission. I once brought a girl to my uncles whom I wasn't living with but just visiting for a concert. I brought a girl home from said concert and he said next time just give me a heads up so I don't walk in on y'all. Ez pZ

Psychological_Radish • 2 points • 26 October, 2018 03:48 PM

I live with my parents at house so I can't bring girls here.

Why not? You're an adult, and you're entitled to a sex life. It's time for a frank discussion with your parents about this matter.

While a 40 min drive definitely complicates things logistically, it shouldn't be a dealbreaker. You can always try to finagle getting back to her place instead.

And perhaps you haven't considered this...and it's just a suggestion...but maybe you should think about not relying on mommy and daddy and instead get your own place like a real man. Too many man-children out there extending adolescence indefinitely.

If you want to spend a year or two crashing with the rents in order to save money for a good purpose, fine. Just accept that getting poon is going to be more difficult.

salamchik[S] • 10 points • 26 October, 2018 04:00 PM*

I live in a Muslim family and my parents will kick me out if they will hear me having sex. I didn't ask tho. Maybe I should try lol. You right, I would get laid if I had my own place but I can't afford it now. It will be simply irrational. I am working with my dad and our house is huge that there could live 3 families. our house is big and rent prices are so freakin high. Based on that fact I would rather spend my salary on something else for now. Here back home it's normal to live in a parents house until my brother will be an adult. After that I should move and leave the house. That's a tradition. Anyways, as soon as I will get a chance, I will move to the city. That would make things so easier

Psychological_Radish • 3 points • 26 October, 2018 04:49 PM

Then do what I did for a year and bang girls while away for vacation and long weekends. There are opportunities everywhere. Hell while I was helping my sister move into college I fucked a girl while I was there. Where there's a will there's a way.

salamchik[S] • 1 point • 26 October, 2018 04:53 PM

True. I should definitely consider that.
