

Jeff Bezos to divorce wife of 25 years, leading to the costliest divorce settlement ever...

January 9, 2019 | 691 upvotes | by Hencley

Title says it all, one of the richest women in the world will now have gotten there by marrying and divorcing someone. Apparently she "co-founded Amazon in the beginning by doing accounting for it for awhile" but I think this is his wife's lawyer speaking. Can't wait to hear how the media defends a billionaire for once, ironically one that didn't earn a penny of it.

Here's where it gets scary... Here's the article about Jeff Bezos and his wife divorcing. And here's an article about Judge Judy divorcing 3 times... The situations are similar, one person made incredible monetary gains based off of smart work and innovation in their respective industries. Both people were very rich, and wanted divorces. You'd think that society would naturally side with either the "earner" or the "victim" (being the person losing their cash cow.) Society instead, will always side with the woman.

I'm guessing all we are going to hear is how Jeff Bezos wife was there in the beginning, and Amazon might not even exist without her and therefore she deserves her money. She will be defended and branded "brave" for divorcing someone as successful as Jeff. Judge Judy divorced her ex husbands because "men in this generation are different. They expect to be taken care of even if they have no right." The article implies Judy was brave for divorcing the men and she basically tossed them aside to focus on herself, making her a strong independent woman.

Here's the thing, I admire Judy a lot and shit if her husbands were not up to her standards and she wanted out, good for her. Her husbands don't deserve to have paid settlements because of her success as a TV Judge. She even scoffs at the implication that she's a feminist just because she's a successful woman. I also feel the same way about Jeff, he created his own success and status beyond anyone I can even think of. He should be able to divorce his wife the same way. Society will always cater to women in these events though, which makes marriage a very unfair arrangement as a man.

To become the richest woman in the world you just divorce the richest man in the world.

Nice example.

I don't think this case was a case of gold digging or divorce rape. Seems like Jeff had affairs and it's been on for a while. I mean within hours of it, he's already hooking up with another woman who divorced her husband to be with him. And I don't get it - did you see what his new girlfriend looks like. Ugh! I couldn't put her at 2/10 even if I tried Dang, his wife's way more prettier (even at her age) than who he's with. Doesn't add up. If he wanted a hot late 20s model it might have made sense. He's hooking up with someone who's divorced 2 high profile husbands already.

EDIT : It's confirmed Jeff was cheating. Man, he has terrible taste.

My 2 cents, but I think Jeff certainly will know what gold digging means in the far future. He's making a mistake.

VasiliyZaitzev • 21 points • 11 January, 2019 02:45 AM

Dunno. Evidently that gal has a pussy worth 68.5 BILLION, since that's what Skeezos has to give up for it. What a fucking 'TARD.

SKRedPill • 7 points • 11 January, 2019 04:50 AM*

I doubt if she has any reason for leaving at the moment - if she were married, all of Jeff's money would be hers to spend anyway, plus kids and family. Late phase epiphany? Nah, not at this age. She wouldn't be wanting cats for company. Plus, who's really higher up the hypergamy scale than Jeff himself? It doesn't make sense.

But if Jeff had a dead bedroom going for years, I might not be surprised either. Still, what a dumb way to make the biggest possible monetary loss in one man's history.

My gut's still convinced with the data available as on date that Jeff's been negotiating a settlement over the affair for a long time now - since most of their wealth is actually shareholder money. That's why they've made such a seemingly amicable announcement.

But don't be surprised if he gets really gold dug down the road.

VasiliyZaitzev • 10 points • 11 January, 2019 05:07 AM

He is rich beyond avarice and may just want to do what he wants for the rest of his life. Or it could be that the wife is pissed off enough abt the extra-curricular nooky. The narrative is that infidelity by the husband should result in immediate divorce, even in a dead bedroom situation or if the wife got obese and gross because: "woman good, man bad".

If it were me, I'd tell her she can have $100M, and peace of mind, or she can sue for half, and wake up every morning wondering if that day was the day she stepped off of the wrong curb.

UseForThrowAwayStuff1 points 12 January, 2019 05:46 AM* [recovered]

i guess he would threaten her if he wanted to

VasiliyZaitzev • 6 points • 12 January, 2019 01:42 PM

It would have to be more subtle, but that's a possibility. Bezos is too much of a nerdy BetaFag to go that route.

[deleted] • -2 points • 12 January, 2019 08:43 AM

That would be the day your pathetic ass would end up with a bullet in his head and that's why losers like you can't reach Bezos' level, you think like a retard.

VasiliyZaitzev • 7 points • 12 January, 2019 01:49 PM

Well I guess we know what Jeff Bezos' reddit alt it is.

You are correct, I will never get to the level where I'm writing retard level six grade love notes to my buddy's wife, who is a post-Wall<sup>SPLAT!</sup> THOT. So yeah, go choke on a bag of moldy dicks.

If you're talking about his money, I just got $68.5 billion closer to him. Because he can't handle bitches. That said, money is a shitty way to keep score. It's simply a store of value, and useful as a tool, and that's it.

L'Affaire Besos has illustrated yet again that money is only useful in the right hands.

[deleted] • -1 points • 13 January, 2019 10:30 AM*

It's not about money, it is about power. Jeff Bezos is (or at least was lmao) one of the most powerful men worldwide, you are a nobody next to him. A tremendously successful genius who started from nothing, given the right circumstances he could be your boss.

That being said, he is simultaneously a genius on business related issues and a fucking retard on dating related issues. Although I am amazed that as a bald manlet with ptosis he managed to fuck the girl of a man one foot taller than him with a full head of hair, he indeed acted like an unexperienced retard.

My problem with your comment is that, if he explicitly threatened her life if she chose to leave, and she could earn 100+ BILLION DOLLARS from his death what ethical restrictions would she have to not hire a hitman to take him out? There are out there hitmen who could kill you for a burger from mcdonalds, imagine a woman who can easily pay someone even 50 million dollars without her husband even noticing because they have 100+ fucking billions, she could hire someone who could kill you with 10 shots in the back of the head and make it seem like you committed suicide and actually convince people.

What we can see from this case is that first of all it is not an example of AWALT but instead APALT (All People Are Like That), both men and women can cheat, it's not about the gender but the person. His wife looks amazing for her age (way better than she looked when they were younger), she supported him when he had nothing (he quit his job to start amazon and she was the one financially supporting him during this time). So for all we know he had a faithful, good looking wife who is putting effort into her appearance, she supported him even at the worst times and he chose to throw all of these things out for a slut, I don't feel sorry for him and I wouldn't even if she took all of his money.

VasiliyZaitzev • 6 points • 13 January, 2019 12:16 PM

It's not about money, it is about power.

And yet your metric for power is money.

given the right circumstances he could be your boss.

The "right circumstances" would be that I want to work for Amazon. I did a deal with them about ten years ago. There is nothing about that interaction that would make me ever want to work for Amazon.

what ethical restrictions would she have to not hire a hitman to take him out?

You're assuming, of course, that he couldn't do the same thing.

10 shots in the back of the head and make it seem like you committed suicide

I see the flaw in your plan.

His wife looks amazing for her age

Any time anyone says "for her age" or "for his age" or "for you age" it negates whatever came before it.

So for all we know he had a faithful, good looking wife who is putting effort into her appearance, she supported him even at the worst times and he chose to throw all of these things out for a slut, I don't feel sorry for him and I wouldn't even if she took all of his money.

I was wrong. We've found McKenna Bezos' alt.

MattyAnon • 1 point • 11 January, 2019 09:49 PM

Plus, who's really higher up the hypergamy scale than Jeff himself? It doesn't make sense.

Younger, taller, hotter, sportier.....

She won't find richer (more beta), but more alpha isn't gonna be too hard.

Don't forget Jeff is no longer richer than her - she's got half his wealth now.

SKRedPill • 1 point • 12 January, 2019 03:28 AM

I think here it was a case of polygamy, not hypergamy. Let's see, what makes you think Jeff's new girlfriend is in any way a better choice?

MattyAnon • 2 points • 13 January, 2019 03:02 PM

Let's see, what makes you think Jeff's new girlfriend is in any way a better choice?

Why don't these super wealthy men sign prenups?! So many get burned hard like this yet they font learn

VasiliyZaitzev • 9 points • 11 January, 2019 06:10 PM

Because when it comes to love, titans of industry are often fucking retarded. Prenuptial agreements are valid in Washington state, provided they meet the criteria of local law, but otherwise it is a community property state, which means he's fucked. I mean he'll still have 68.5 billion, but that's a lot less than 137 billion.

And sure, they've been married for 25 years, and he was worth a lot less in the early 90s when they got married, but really, not having a prenup was a stupid move on his part.

[deleted] • 3 points • 11 January, 2019 07:48 PM

Yeah, they got married before he even started Amazon. He came up with the idea AFTER being married and probably thought it wouldn't become this big. Regardless, you got to get a pre-nup or just not get married at all in this day and age.

No amount of sex is worth over $60 billion. Even $1 billion.

jupe • 1 point • 12 January, 2019 06:50 AM

If it is too late for a prenup, do a post-nup.

A few more limitations, but same purpose.

metallicdrama • 6 points • 11 January, 2019 06:40 AM

I did worse when I was young. Sometimes you just gotta fill a hole and not tell people about it. Where he is fucking up is having this trash be public.

SubstantialTension31 points 13 January, 2019 10:21 AM [recovered]

Who cares if he was cheating. He was still doing his husband duties as a provider of his family. if you switch the roles, do you think if Bezo caught his ex cheating that he would receive a cent? Absolutely not. Also, even if his wife cheated, we live in a no fault divorce world meaning that she would get alimony and half his property regardless. No one deserve your life's work simply because they are unhappy. Logically, they were married for 25 years in order to deserve compensation of 139 billion dollars of work you would need to do service that would merit that. They had 4 kids together and a couple of homes. For the most part a wife usually takes care of the kids,household, and ocassional sex. If you hired a nanny , maid, and a sex worker 24/7 for 25 years straight, those services rendered wouldn't equal even 100 million dollars. So why is she deserving beyond that? And to top it off she has her own wealth. She was a millionaire, activist , and well educated. Marriage laws are corrupted.

FredWeedMax • 1 point • 5 February, 2019 10:13 AM

Money doesn't matter when you're worth 60+B even after getting half of your assets taken from the divorce

Can't really comprehend what that much money represents but easily multiple lives living the jet set dream

FullMetalAsshole • 1 point • 18 January, 2019 04:41 AM

Talk about an inflation of pussy prices. No women could build something this successful. Really she's just following her tingles and feels like any other woman would. Goes to show you can be an alpha in the material and a beta faggot in the inner spiritual immaterial world.

hidemyface1234 • 126 points • 9 January, 2019 05:56 PM

We'll have to see how it plays out before we really see it as "redpill confirmed".

If she only gets a tiny slice, then maybe lawyers still have power amongst the elites.

I'd like to know if this is Jeff getting "hawt" and wants to try all the pussy he can get or if this is a reinforcement of the idea that even if a relationship is good and the man is alpha, she will always crave variety. You certainly can't get much more alpha in terms of wealth, power, social status than Jeff, but he doesn't come across as having any game. He did get quite a bit more fit recently (past 5 yrs approx), so he does lift (or TRT).

[deleted] • 72 points • 9 January, 2019 06:06 PM

Def. he was a nerd and started taking lifting seriously. Looks a lot better now.

beginner_ • 34 points • 9 January, 2019 06:11 PM

Not that bad for a 48-year old woman.

She's prettier now than 10-20-years ago. It seems she put in some work to increase her SMV.

A billion dollars can do that for you.

Unfortunately no. You have to lift the god damn weights yourself. No matter how much money you have.

Taking a step back from my initial chuckle, I hope this plays out for ol' Jeff. This guy's read his Ayn Rand, for sure – no compunction about ripping off factory workers and decimating the mercantile landscape, so it stands to reason that he might be coming out on top of this one.

The community here is likely to cry "sad beta Jeff," but given their so-called amicable split (which smacks of negotiation even regarding their PR), I don't think it's so inconceivable that ya boy Bezy decided to take the L on something like a third of his assets, still be one of the top-five richest humans alive, and to cruise his way through pussy the way that billionaires do – very, very, privately. There's a reason we still make movies about the debauched lives of the rich, with the implicit allure, "see what goes on behind closed doors."

Anyhow, if he ends up with a model girlfriend in circa 6 months, just remember that when your company tops the Forbes 500, a mythical "alpha provider" archetype does exist, but Black Swans are labeled that way for a reason. Your money just has to swing big-dick weight higher than most countries' GDPs, so please remember that you are not advised to draw corollaries between this man and yourself.

(Edits: typed fast, made typos)

ahg1008 • 100 points • 9 January, 2019 06:46 PM*

Exactly. Do not compare yourself to the billionaires and celebs.

Besides you never know. The reason she's leaving him could very well be the hot model side piece or pieces :P

A woman wants to see her man become the alpha but only to the point where she can be his main bitch. The moment she realizes he's out-alphaed the fuck out of anyone she can get and he can get 10x better pussy she will carry out a pre-emptive strike.

Women don't do good with competition. They compete for a while but when the competition gets too intense they just quit.

Her next guy will be beta as fuck I assure you. A proper snowflake even.

At any rate ..I bet he won't give two fucks once the shits done.

Yakatonker • 44 points • 9 January, 2019 08:23 PM

Most high status women with money get boy toys for fucking. Money does wonderful things even for those people who are physically low to no value.

[deleted] • 37 points • 9 January, 2019 09:15 PM

A woman wants to see her man become the alpha but only to the point where she can be his main bitch.

No this is incorrect. TRP 101 is that women would rather share an alpha than have a beta all to themselves. Likely she is just tired of him and realizes she can take half his money and fuck 100% pure alphas with zero need for beta provisioning.

broek_325 • 18 points • 10 January, 2019 12:44 AM

What 100% alpha is going to want her old post wall body to fuck? These men are out slaying whatever women they want.

The only thing she's getting is weak men who are way below her in the financial food chain, or gold diggers looking to exploit her money and/or social status/connections.

-Fidelio- • 12 points • 10 January, 2019 03:08 PM

It doesn't matter if they're gold diggers because she has more than enough gold to never feel the digging, ecvept when he's plowing her, but that's the point.

Women can get laid by men that are much better looking than they are. They just can't get commitment.

Also... lots of dudes would probably plow Bezo's ex just to say they did it. If you could fuck a decent looking 48 year old woman with like $20 billion dollars, you'd do it just for shits and giggles.

Exceptions to every rule my dude. Even if your husband is the richest man alive... if he's getting pussy on the side from 21 yo Insta models, while ignoring her completely this will drive most people crazy.

Another reason why this situation is an exception is because she can get billions of dollars from divorcing him. That's an incentive to leave. The rule applies to having 3 plates for example my dude... who have 0 incentive in leaving you... not a billionaire husband.. completely a wrong comparison

I don't think it's so inconceivable that ya boy Bezy decided to take the L on something like a third of his assets, still be one of the top-five richest humans alive, and to cruise his way through pussy the way that billionaires do this wouldn't surprise me either. in before he has a top tier insta thot.

how old is the guy now? he probs it the latter half of his life now he just wants to have some fun.

I don't blame the guy though I mean 25 years? was amazing even around 25 years ago?

Pays bare minimum, demands long hours, creates high turnover rates to keep costs low. Also actively works to replace them with technology.

[deleted] • 5 points • 10 January, 2019 01:57 AM

This is all wrong lmao. Amazon workers earn well for their labor, high turnover makes work more expensive, and anyone would replace with tech when they can

Thunderbird93 • 26 points • 9 January, 2019 07:05 PM

Depends on what her lawyers want. A cash settlement would be his best option if possible. Extend liquidity to the tune of half a billion would be the best deal. If her lawyers on the other hand want her to take part of his stock which stands at 16%,different story. He should just give her cash and be done with it, equity on the other hand would be a serious hit

NYCSPARKLE • 2 points • 10 January, 2019 06:15 PM

It's honestly a crime against humanity that a man who has built an empire that has changed the world is (possibly) going to lose half of his ownership stake in that company because of a woman. Who has, most likely, contributed very little to that effort. I know they're saying it's amicable and all that other bullshit, but it's insane.

Instead of him having another $60 billion to utilize in creative endeavors, she will take that money. And it really doesnt matter what she does with it, because it pales in comparison to what a legitimate tycoon could do with it.

True redpill of this thread: People hating on other people who they don't know, because they have nothing better to do and low self-worth. It is not like anybody doesn't know about the bad and good parts about marriage. It is just that you either don't have anyone who you love or you feel so low that you are grateful for every possible attack on others that makes you feel better about yourself.

I'll give you a clue: realize that the guys who started this place are a hell of a lot smarter than you think and they had a precise reason for setting the tone as they did. Also realize that "puss" (and by extension, self improvement) is the only reason the founders created TRP, and they in fact like women very much despite the harsh and critical tone towards them. Those two sentences are not contradictory.

DeltaDiezel • 7 points • 10 January, 2019 03:09 PM*

Be more specific. Why would the TRP leadership deliberately cultivate a misogynistic culture? How does "women hating" translate to "puss and self-improvement"?

DeltaDiezel • 4 points • 10 January, 2019 06:05 PM

What are you talking about? I'm not criticizing TRP, I'm criticizing you for you're comment on the implication that TRP is misogynistic. If you somehow forgot read here:

Misogyny is a feature of The Red Pill, not a bug.

FieldLine • 0 points • 11 January, 2019 06:07 AM

TRP is misogynistic, dummy. You can quote me on that as an official senior endorsed Grand Poobah of TRP.

That's the definition of a feature: an attribute that is deliberately introduced to play a specific role, in contrast with a bug which is an unwanted, unintended side effect.

Lendoran • 5 points • 10 January, 2019 05:56 PM

What an absolute disgrace of a comment. RedPill at it's core is to improve yourself as a man. It has nothing to do with misogyny.

FieldLine • 8 points • 10 January, 2019 06:03 PM

You're missing the point. This conversation has nothing to do with what "RedPill is about at its core".

askmrcia • 11 points • 9 January, 2019 07:56 PM

Your comment is spot on. I mentioned numerous times on this sub that one of the benefits of getting married is the status and image that comes with it.

Most people in high profiled positions are married or at least married once.

The rest of your comment was great. Really nothing to add there.

[deleted] • 1 point • 10 January, 2019 02:03 AM

True. Though the true alpha move would not be to rely on companies for your financial growth and especially dont fall into their frame as a reason to get a wife. Will being a bachelor hurt you into your 40s and 50s in business? Yes.

Rich people get divorced all the time. The only reason this is news is because it's happening to the world's richest person.

Does Mackenzie feel like she "missed out" after locking down Bezos at the height of her prime at age 23, and now wants to explore strange cock before it's too late? Does Bezos display Alpha traits in business but is actually a total Beta at home? Or does he secretly dream about nailing supermodels that are much hotter than his aging wife?

Who knows, and frankly, who cares. Jeff is going to do fine over the long-term. He still has his mission. He is still one of the world's top five richest people. He looks great for a man in his 50s and is going to soak the panties of hotties half his age.

Mackenzie is actually the loser here. She is well past the Wall, for one. With all her billions, satisfying hypergamy is going to prove very challenging, not to mention that nearly every man on the planet would feel emasculated being with her. I think she will be in for a very lonely existence as far as men are concerned.

edit: seems like Jeff was definitely thinking about nailing those hotties

[deleted] • 0 points • 12 January, 2019 04:28 PM

You don't really think 22yr old model is getting panties wet over bezos?

Sure I do. Bezos not only has money, he has status and power as CEO of one of the country's largest and most influential corporations. You think Henry Kissinger was nailing celebrities because of his money or dashing good looks? No, he was nailing celebrities because he was the most powerful man in government next to the President himself.

Bezos has everything - money, power, and looks. Maybe you haven't noticed, but he's jacked.

[deleted] • 3 points • 13 January, 2019 05:15 AM

Bezos looks like a spawn of the hunchback of notre-dame lol women aren't turned on by his appearance and definitely not his attitude because he most likely is a beta bitch that can't create tingles..but you're right about the money and power.

leyxk • 1 point • 13 January, 2019 07:50 PM

[deleted] • 19 points • 9 January, 2019 06:44 PM

Honestly as much as we can define alpha as the orientation to successfully spin hella plates and never settle down, that's only in a sexual sense. Eliminating the alpha value of being wealthy, well known and powerful if it's not being converted into lays is only a way to undermine the success of others. TRP is an approach to one facet of life and it's not a lens through which to view everything at all times. If you spent literally all your time towards the goal of getting laid, you'd die knowing you got as much pussy as possible but wonder if you should have put some of your eggs in other baskets. The more your life becomes a means to the end of getting pussy, your activity becomes stifled by a constant drive for outcome, rather than enjoyment of a process. Jeff's already super alpha for being him and I hope he converts it into spinning some fine china in the upcoming years. But let's stop disparaging outlandishly successful men who haven't been RP'd for marrying so they can focus on success. I'm sure he'll come around.

Thunderbird93 • 6 points • 9 January, 2019 07:08 PM

I agree bro. RP doesn't seem to follow Finance 101's best rule, DIVERSIFICATION. All this talk of divorce rape and lifting instead of strengthening the mind which is the definition of amused mastery for me

[deleted] • 9 points • 9 January, 2019 07:14 PM

I think the main motivation for the Bezos crew would be purely financial engineering and tax dodging. They both have enough money to do whatever they want, with or without the divorce.

They could legally stay married and live on opposite ends of the globe and live lush lifestyles.

Not going to comment on Fake-Judge Judy.

TitusDorsus14 points 9 January, 2019 06:53 PM [recovered]

I don't see the problem here.

Nobody knows the behind of the scene, who initiated the divorce and it seems like they still have a good relationship.

And from what I understand, she was 23 y.o. when they married and Jeff was from being rich and alpha. She locked down a man with a good potential while she was at her prime. During all those years, she had many opportunities to divorce-rape him and cash out. Basically, she did what we recommend here to the women.

Lifelong marriages are almost a thing of the past. I think this one ends well.

askmrcia • 4 points • 9 January, 2019 07:47 PM*

Jeff always had money. He went to fuckin Princeton and worked on Wall Street. Maybe not billionaire rich, but I'm sure he had more cake than most if not every guy on this sub before Amazon took off. And by that, I mean his family was pretty well off.

With that said, even if he loses 50%, the bastard is still a multi billionaire.

In all honesty I don't even think he cares about this divorce other than his public image may take a hit.

hearse223 • 6 points • 9 January, 2019 08:52 PM

His public image will only take a hit with the "marriage is supposed to be forever" bible crowd. But we all know those people are massive hypocrites who stay in failed marriages to the bitter end and expect everyone else to.

Redpill77 • 1 point • 10 January, 2019 11:20 PM

Mozorelo • 16 points • 10 January, 2019 10:29 AM

You fucking fools this is a financial trick to get around insider trading laws.

This is what Lou Pai the head of Enron did to get out of his insider trading charges. The divorce forces a stock sell and he gets out of Amazon like he has been wanting to for the last 3 years.

Hencley[S] • 7 points • 10 January, 2019 03:58 PM

Goddamn that is interesting, if he actually pulled this off as you said I'd be scared of the raw intelligence that Jeff has. I'm not sure how they investigate this, but I'm assuming she immediately sells it, and then a few years later they "rekindle and re-marry?"

Mozorelo • 2 points • 10 January, 2019 05:02 PM

Even better they don't need to remarry. The divorce allows him to sell his own stock to liquidate assets.

Austiny1 • 6 points • 10 January, 2019 03:00 AM

All the research I've done says over and over she was a legit cofounder of Amazon. I don't know if she deserves half of his net worth but she's so something

[deleted] • 5 points • 10 January, 2019 03:38 PM*

If he wasn't a cheater too then I might have felt bad for him. Karma is a bitch, and apparently she has expensive tastes.

It doesn't matter that society takes women's side more; if you decide to get married especially if you have aspirations to be a multi-millionaire, a prenup should be standard.

[deleted] • 3 points • 13 January, 2019 05:06 AM

TheDevilsAdvokaat • 7 points • 9 January, 2019 11:48 PM*

One thing I don't understand about rich men who get divorced and lose shitloads of money....sometimes over and over again.

A lot of them seem to decide the answer to their troubles is...another woman.

Look at John Cleese for example.

If you've had your marriage, had your kids....leave women be. Fuck them if you want, but don't allow a woman into your house. (And I mean literally that. Don't even allow one to sleep over.) All you're doing is asking for trouble.

I'm tired of courts who think a woman married to a billionaire somehow deserves a huge chunk of his wealth...why on earth should someone be forced to enable someone else to live "in the style they are accustomed to".

If I lose my job, can I sue them so that I can live in "the style I am accustomed to"?

If I quit writing books, can I sue my readers and force them to support me so I can "live in the style I am accustomed to"?

If I quit hunting, can I sue the government and force them to supply me with dead animals so I can "live in the style I am accustomed to" ?

Our divorce laws are outdated. We no longer live in a world where women don't work and can't earn property or get an education.

Marriage should not be a ticket to an income for life - any more than women should have to provide sex and cooking for men they are no longer married to.

Whatever happens to Jeff this time, I hope he has the brains and determination to stay unmarried after this.

SKRedPill • 1 point • 10 January, 2019 06:48 AM

In this case I'm sure it's Jeff himself to blame. He's had affairs for a while. I mean look at his wife and now the woman he's dating. Seriously?

TheDevilsAdvokaat • 1 point • 11 January, 2019 10:57 AM

Haven't seen the woman he's dating, I will now go google some pics.

Vs the wife - she looks like she's trying; but even so fashion advice and dieting and a million dollar wardrobe can only do so much.

She's pretty average, yes.

Edit: Just saw the new woman. Seriously, Jeff? She's better than his wife - but not by much. In addition I can see her already piling the pounds on; within five years she may actually be worse than his current wife!

Wake up Jeff. You're a billionaire; do you really feel the need to have a permanent female companion? For fuck's sake just rent them.

citizen1a • 3 points • 10 January, 2019 06:49 PM

metallicdrama • 3 points • 11 January, 2019 05:40 AM

That guy looks like he is descended from the hunchback on 300. When you have that kind of money you almost have to burn mad cash to convince yourself you're a Chad when you're not, especially in a late mid-life crisis. Dude is huge betabux and had to subconsciously fill that role. I doubt the TRT helped.

[deleted] • 2 points • 13 January, 2019 05:05 AM

cafeitalia • 3 points • 13 January, 2019 12:43 AM

Jeff, the buffed up testosterone injected steroid juiced rich man. Married to a hot ass looking 48 years old, having an affair with a married 50 year old hottie with 3 kids, and writing love poems to her. He is the pure definition of beta in man and woman relationship. All the trp guys who were going bazooka saying he got ass raped with divorce etc and how they claimed he was a Chad and would be fucking supermodels... You ain't know shit and what worse you make your own fantasy and live off the reality. If a man is beta in the heart and sends love letters to the woman he is having an affair with deserves to be ass raped in a divorce. He had to announce the divorce asap as well because the news was about the break out about his affair. Well 60 billion is more than enough money for him.

[deleted] • 2 points • 13 January, 2019 04:57 AM

Agree with this. Jeff is a betafag and deserves all that coming to him. I don't think he's bothered as much as some in this thread though. He cheated and filed for divorce himself. Look who he cheated with as well...holy shit disgusting.

Ehhhhhhhhhhh.

Nah.

I own a business. If I had been married at the outset and had someone that was able to cover living expenses while I gambled on the future, shit would have been much easier. Also, that's his wife, who do you think he bounced ideas off of?

On top of that - getting to where he is takes work, intelligence, timing, and luck. Bill Gates talks about those last two a lot. Two years earlier or two years later and he'd be just another career IT Architect.

I have no issue with her getting half, because if it would have gone tits up like most startups she'd have been out the money she was spending on living.

Bottom line - she didn't marry into it.

[deleted] • 4 points • 13 January, 2019 05:03 AM

Agreed. I don't think she's a gold-digger like some are stating. She was with him before amazon and all the money. She had 4 kids with him and he cheated with another married woman.

alphabachelor • 6 points • 10 January, 2019 03:44 AM

Gotta agree.

In the early days of Amazon when Bezos was using doors as desks she was grinding away right next to him. She deserves a few billion for that.

Where I think he's a complete jackass is the lack of a prenup and his new girl - a washed up local TV news anchor. When you're worth $140, $70 billion — the world's your oyster when it comes to women.

Oh well, hopefully he prenups the new one.

J both bezos and his wife met and married while working at D. B. Shaw, a reputable financial turned tech company(like everything) in the 90's. The idea of Amazon came from a single brainstorming session within db shaw that hatched many modern successful ventures. Bezos acted on the idea. Mackenzie certainly does not deserve bezos's wealth, but she's no dumbass. The way I see it, she stuck by her alpha during the fledgling days of Amazon when bezos' top investor was his own foster parents. AWALT as always but I don't want anyone to walk away from the thread without some context.

FractalNerve • 3 points • 10 January, 2019 06:07 AM

Why does everyone conclude with divorce rape? I believe he totally tricked the system! He grew so big that only divorce "on paper" allows him to diversify his wealth in coordination with his "formal ex wife" without the government blocking. He can still happily live together the same way with her!!

Who said that they won't live the couple life anymore? As a billionaire you don't divorce ever, but get her killed, unless marriage would stop you from doing something you wanted. Or the government gets or will get in your way. This trick helps him to become more successful strategically! And he can strike back two times harder with his "wife who became his girlfriend".

Don't forget that he wanted a wife who can get her out of a third world prison!! Now he's getting closer to that, making her more independent of him and able to strike harder on strategic moves on their enemies without the weakness of marriage.

WinjetRed • 1 point • 10 January, 2019 04:04 AM

I have a feeling this will be a pretty amicable divorce. Too much to lose for both of them. The only people to gain if it isn't are the gossip media and the divorce lawyers. Her posturing is expected and pretty tame it seems going strictly by your write up.

[deleted] • 1 point • 10 January, 2019 12:18 PM

He can blame only himself for signing a contract with the government (aka marriage). He will still be a billionaire so here's that. And he knew that divorce is a thing in our world so he knew the cost of his actions all along. He knew what would happen in worst case scenario and that marriage is very very unstable business.

throwitdownman • 1 point • 14 January, 2019 07:03 PM

You know how growing up we had participation awards? Basically, we didn't do anything but we got something?

This is that, on steroids. $68b, a claim at half of Bezos' everything just by having shared the same living space, insane.

Where was she when Bezos was starting Amazon? "Hey guys, you do the work, I'll bring the tea. In 25 years, we split everything 50:50, okay?"

Another example to show young women that beta bux is a winning strategy. For reference, Bezos was working in a hedge fund when he met her. Married one year later, babies the following year.

LMFAO Omg this is just hilarious. Long time no see trp, damn quarantined so sad. So much of trp philosophy is legit, the pure truth of this world, its crazy how true a lot of the philosophy preached here was lol, we will keep seeing the evidence time and time again.

Richmest man in world? Most alpha man in terms of money and power? CUCKED by the marriage system, all the women has to do is say she wants a divorce and the richest, calmest headed and nicest guy in the world can get cuckolded hard, lose half of everything instantly lmfao. This is just plain hilarious actually,

This makes me actually really want to never get married its crazy. If you ever get rich and powerful everything is in on the line if people know you have money... especially with all this #metoo stuff tons of women out there could be predators preying on you, be careful out there you bastards!

SeasonedRP • 1 point • 13 January, 2019 11:18 AM

Some of the comments on here are BP to the core. Bezos's wife doesn't deserve tens of billions because, horrors, he screwed some other woman. The family court system in this country is insane and the reason isn't feminists but white knights who have the same mentality as many of the commenters here. If Bezos's wife were getting gangbanged regularly by Seahawks players and he threw her out, he wouldn't get a dime, and the people here bashing him would be defending the fair damsel's trashy behavior.

Judging from the cringe-inducing texts, Bezos is the one who wants the divorce. Rather than using his status to couple with younger attractive women, he wants to wife up some has been slut. She'll likely dump him in a year or two for an aging rapper or other bad boy type.

Both are good, I don't really see why reading more of one than the other makes you inherently a winner or loser. One thing is for sure, Jeff Bezos wife definitely won, which makes Bezos the loser so MGTOW theory was proven correct in this case, it would've been better for Bezos to have not married. I relate to the Red Pill community on a lot of points, and agree with MGTOW on self-improvement, anti-feminism and the less you need woman, the less power they have over you. I relate to you guys at the Red Pill a lot more honestly, but I like both.

Great point. Its like a government printing fiat currency and the general population paying an inflation tax. It all depends on how greedy his ex wife is, if she decided she wants equity(stock shares) over cash then I agree, otherwise he can extend liquidity to her in the tune of 1billion in cash and go about his business
