

Comedian Speaks Truth on How Feminists Blame Male Society for School Shootings

June 28, 2014 | 18 upvotes | by BustinAllKindsOfNuts

[removed]

Archived from theredarchive.com

Comments

cyber_rigger • 2 points • 29 June, 2014 06:13 AM

<http://www.nationalreview.com/corner/366405/sons-divorce-school-shooters-w-bradford-wilcox>

PrisonerOfLife • 1 point • 29 June, 2014 04:55 AM

Not funny or amusing in the slightest, especially since he missed the premise of why the great majority of school shooting (or spree killings in general) are now occurring as a result of third-wave feminism. The event he refers to was caused solely by the advent of extreme hypergamy (especially in the killer's locale) and the absolutism of female privilege. Given an environment this toxic and some random variation in both genetics and social conditioning, it is impossible to prevent some men from committing these acts. Society is now structured in such a way that a small number of men can fulfill their biological imperatives through fucking women, and the rest get treated as if they were invisible or as ATM machines. And since most men don't have the fortitude to undergo long-term celibacy or go MGTOW, they will eventually wise up to the infrastructural imbalances in the SMP and become very angry. I'm still angry about this injustice today even though I realize it will never be rectified.