Most people who come to askTRP are already carrying the answers to their question with them.

You are no exception. And you know it.

You know perfectly well that you are not her first choice. You know perfectly well that you do not inspire the same passion as the randoms she banged. You have come to me not because you need answers, but because you need help facing the answers you already have.

You know perfectly well that you face a choice between blowing up your marriage, and spending your life as a slut's plan B. You're just hoping against hope that this awful news can somehow not be. Well, it is.

There's no way of talking her into feeling passion for you like she did for them. Desire is not under the control of the conscious mind. No matter how you reason with her, or threaten to leave, she will not change, even if she agrees with what you say. Because she cannot control the part of herself where sexual desire lives.

This means she hasn't wronged you by denying you passionate sex. That's your fault. You failed to inspire that passion.

Instead, she wronged you by agreeing to marry you when she knew full well that the best of her was reserved for others. This deprived you of a chance to find someone who felt that way about you, and marry her instead.

The good news is that you are 25, and have plenty of time left to find that someone, if you start right now.

Hey OP, this guy /u/Whisper is awesome. After I finished reading the sidebar, I started reading just the "TRP Vanguard" writers. This is one of my favourites. I also recommend /u/IllimitableMan. Now go read!

The truth hurts OP, but this guy laid it out for you.

That, right there, is the reason /u/Whisper is a RP Vanguard.

Just imagine what that relationships sub would say if you had previously jetted GFs around the world for exotic trips, provided them with superb housing, entertained them and their friends with exciting social opportunities, and provided monogamous commitment when asked. But now you had no interest in providing your wife with such benefits, since you now feel yourself to be a different person. DO you think that sub would endorse you withholding all those relationship benefits from your wife, after having provided them to other women? Ah, hell no.

But when it comes to sex and women in marriage, boy, do those rules change for the guys and their expectations. Anyway, the rest of your concerns are relatively immaterial compared to this:

I'm not satisfied sexually

If you were stupid-happy with your sex life, I would tell you to STFU and stop worrying about things. But based on what you say here, she is not interested in doing things to change what you see as a crappy sex life.

That is where her prior conduct becomes relevant. Because for other guys, oh yeah, she was plenty interested in doing things to make sure they were satisfied, from what it sounds like.

I don't care what her partner count it, or what her prior actions were. What is crucial is she was willing to do things with and for men who had not given her the title of wife, but her husband is refused those same things, and she apparently seems unwilling to expend efforts to address his dissatisfaction.

If ever a situation was AFBB, this sounds like that situation.

Do not continue in this marriage unless and until she takes very seriously your requests for a more satisfying sex life, immediately.

Until and unless she is your sexual dream girl in terms of her enthusiasm and availability, no kids.

Anyone saying to you that you cannot use her relative disinterest in sex with you, as compared to other men in her past, as a means for deciding whether to marry or stay married to a woman is full of shit. That is a crucial component to giving any woman any commitment of any type.

That sub isn't worth the data it uses. Total garbage. Reading that hateful diatribe they threw at you, they just kept calling you insecure and petty.

For example, if I had a wife who gave bjs to all of Alpha Chad Omega, I'd be a little pissed I didn't get the same treatment after putting a ring on it.

Don't buy their garbage, it's like asking a middle aged divorcee for relationship advice.

Regular sex can be hard to come by, so bjs forget about it

You really need to go on self improvement spree. In MRP read the sidebar, it's called a MAP. Basically you lose weight, hit the gym, start dressing better, recognize and pass shit and comfort tests and become more independent. Those are basically the first 5 or 6 stages of 12 stages of dread. Look that up.

What it does is two things. It makes you a more attractive person. This makes you attractive to other women, but most importantly it makes you more attractive to your own wife.

The second thing it does it makes your wife insecure (it's called dread for a reason) because now she sees you could easily cheat on her and get a prettier woman than her to have sex with. It will make her think about you and put in more effort into the relationship. The fact is also that she does want to have sex with an attractive male. Attractive male is not about looks alone. You could look like Chad but if you're acting like a supplicating beta you will be treated as one. You are simply not that attractive right now.

I had roughly 5-10 blowjobs and only few of those to completion through the first 12 years of my marriage. Since I swallowed the pill and implemented the knowledge from the sidebar along with the gym, I've had more blowjobs in the last 6 months than I've had through the first 12 years of marriage and they all have ended with me cumming in her mouth. Fuck I've had 5 or 6 this month alone while she is all achy and pregnant. Think about it for a second. My wife couldn't be bothered to blow me when she felt good cause I looked like shit, but now when I look good and pass shit tests even if she feels achy and bloated she still gets on her knees and takes my load in her mouth.

It's easy to blame her, but realistically you have to change yourself and become a more high value person. Someone that has options. I have a good job, look good, dress well. I would absolutely have no problem getting chicks off Tinder or casually dating if I chose to do that. My wife knows it and behaves appropriately. Before I was a fatass and my wife behaved like a fatass would deserve his wife to behave. Food for thought.

Freddy_Fedora • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 02:34 PM

That is not the kind of marriage you want to be in.

Stayinghereforreal • 18 points • 16 September, 2015 06:01 PM

Equal consideration?! To a random guy she banged?!

To give some woman the title of wife, and only expect equal consideration to some guy she had a one night stand with, strikes me as selling a Ferrari for the price of some half-chewed chewing gum.

A woman that wants to be your wife better treat you with so much more consideration, care, and attention than she did anyone else. And yes, that includes sexual adventurousness. If she was good to go with something for someone else, but not you? Big, big red flag.

If she tried something, and was sincerely just not into it, well, okay, whatever. But if she had literally years of wild sex with other people, it is not a matter of "tried anal once--hated it. No more anal." or "tried a threesome once. Relationship blew up instantly. Needed counseling afterwards. Huge mistake. No more threesomes."

I dunno, you tell me, but it sounds like she was into what she did, she just is not doing it with you.

Nothing wrong with her having a wild time. Good for her. But to suddenly go relatively prude on the guy who married her? A guy who wants to do what she already did, and presumably liked well enough to keep doing for 5 years?

/whistlethroughteeth

Hello Beta Bux...

Dacorrector3 • 11 points • 16 September, 2015 06:03 PM [recovered]

[deleted] • 8 points • 16 September, 2015 06:51 PM

It's not lack of consideration. It's lack of attraction.

You're a provider.

Please read the sidebar.

ImTryingToHelp001 • -1 points • 16 September, 2015 08:58 PM

It's not exactly the same, right? I mean there's probably a reason she's not doing certain sexual things; she probably didn't like them. I mean it's like if you tried anal x many years ago and hated it, but now your wife says she wants to fuck you in the ass, because she's never done it and you did it before... It's not really the same. It's also not fair for her to be completely closed off to your wants, but that's a normal problem in relationships. It takes compromising

Dacorrector3 • 1 points • 16 September, 2015 09:00 PM [\[recovered\]](#)

And I understand that point of view. I just feel like it has less to do with her enjoyment of them and more to do with her attraction to me. She would never say that so I don't really know for sure.

ImTryingToHelp001 • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 03:27 AM

I don't want to make assumptions, but maybe you have a low view of yourself/self worth? It sounds like your sex life isn't nonexistent, which signals to me that she still enjoys sleeping with you and finds you attractive. I'm not sure how direct you have been with her about your concerns, but maybe you can give you some reassurance that her attraction for you hasn't lessened.

Dacorrector3 • 1 points • 17 September, 2015 03:47 AM [\[recovered\]](#)

Well honestly, we are in once a month range. If I'm open she gets defensive.

When I met her, I was a quiet chubby kid who had been physically and mentally abused for years and desperate to hang on to anything

ImTryingToHelp001 • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 12:17 PM

Sounds like she may have insecurities surrounding her more exploratory time. Has she mentioned any super negative experiences? Are you finding yourself not interested in her now, presumably that you're feeling more capable?

What's a CC?

[deleted] • 33 points • 16 September, 2015 08:31 PM

CC stands for "Cock Carousel" aka she spent some time riding from dick to dick.

Short and sweet, you fucked up man. You should probably ditch her. As they say, lawyer up and hit the gym. Welcome to the Red Pill.

JP_Whoregan • 16 points • 16 September, 2015 10:31 PM

You need to spend a whole lotta time reading the /r/theredpill sidebar.

She doesn't see you in the same sexual way that she saw those men in college. You don't "do it for her" the same way those other guys did, and that's precisely why she married you. You are the safe option to protect her from her inner desires to have strong, brooding men shove their cocks down her throat and blow loads in her ass.

"I'm not like that anymore" is a mantra parroted here so often it should be trademarked. Fact of the matter is, she is still "like that", she's just not "like that" with you. What usually happens with these women is that after about 10 years of safe, boring sex with a safe, boring guy that doesn't make her tingle, is that they try to get back out on the carousel.

Not saying she's cheating, just saying the potential is there. Stay vigilant. A woman who spends her college years having meaningless sex with randoms doesn't automatically flip a "meaningful sex" switch, if you know what I mean.

And just an FYI, /r/marriedredpill is not a sanctioned subreddit in TRP network of subs. Take that for what its worth.

Welcome, and read and digest as much as you can. You aren't alone, and women like your wife are the precise reason TRP exists.

Gawernator • 5 points • 17 September, 2015 02:08 AM

Still don't know why it isn't sanctioned ....

JP_Whoregan • 3 points • 17 September, 2015 01:15 PM

There's some politics behind it, but it basically boils down to 2 core reasons:

they willfully discard vital parts of RP theory and ideas

they have banned prominent moderators and ECs from TRP for calling them out on those distortions

Banning is not a way to make friends or inroads.

Even the biggest chumps won't consider an older girl for a LTR let alone marriage. Statistically, relationships where the guy is younger are the most likely to break down, for a multitude of reasons cheeky_throwaway101 • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 06:42 PM

That is interesting, it does strike me strange that a woman would go out with a man younger than him. My last LTR(F28) branch swung to a M24, and I always thought it was a bit of a strange thing to do. He was fucking loaded though. Ha ha.

Do you have any kids? If not, divorce her now.

If you do, then it's more... complicated.

EDIT: Perhaps you need a more fulsome response.

Read those below. Explains it pretty well.

She's not attracted to you; or at least is not as attracted to you as the men she had sex with before you.

She's probably said things to you like "I want to do it the right way this time" and "I'm not like that anymore" and "I wanted it to be special with you".

You, sir, are her Beta Bux, the man who will finance the things she wants, the man who will pay for it all; the man who will give her the "respectability" of being a wife.

I'll be gentle here.

It's really not about you. I'm sorry, but you got used. She married you because she wanted to be a wife. She was getting older, time was running out, and she needed to consolidate your relationship into a marriage, so she could be "respectable" and have the honored position of "wife".

If you have no children, divorce her now.

Dacorrector3 • 7 points • 16 September, 2015 07:21 PM [recovered]

Yeah. No kids at the moment :)

[deleted] • 16 points • 16 September, 2015 07:25 PM*

I'd seriously consider ending it. I've been where you are, with kids in the mix. It will take YEARS to work through this. The only way to do it is hard Dread, which you're nowhere near ready for. The best you get from it is a Cold War détente sort of relationship, where both parties get what they want and are cordial; but there is a deep, deep well of distrust. The basis of the relationship becomes "trust but verify". There is no repose; no relaxation. Everything must be checked, rechecked, second-guessed, and evaluated.

EDIT: And for the love of Mike, DO NOT GET HER PREGNANT until you make a decision either way. You absolutely MUST avoid getting her pregnant.

--What's she doing at home while I'm at work all day?

--What's on her phone?

--Where is she going on her girls' night out?

In your position it's not worth it. End it NOW.

trancedj • 12 points • 16 September, 2015 08:25 PM

End it dude. Seriously. No kids means you got off easy bro. Trust me. Research divorce laws for your area/state and start making moves. Say nothing. Trust no one. Look out for you. Hell, you could even give her ALL your shit and still walk away in a better position than most dudes who find this out way too late. You can rebuild. The first stage is the "anger phase" and its talked about a lot here. It will pass. Channel that negative energy to lift heavy weights and improve your SMV. Good luck man. I know exactly how you feel. Run while you can.

[deleted] • 2 points • 17 September, 2015 02:33 PM

Bottom line is, the older the marriage, the more to lose in the split, because of a gradual increase in "marital assets" and a gradual decrease of "premarital assets".

[deleted] • 1 point • 16 September, 2015 11:25 PM

There is a serious chance she will end up pregnant soon regardless. Better to bail ASAP.

trancedj • 2 points • 17 September, 2015 12:20 PM

Exactly! That's why I was sure to add that OP should keep his intentions a secret. Don't trust her. She will use whatever means necessary to secure her BB. Pregnancy is a tried and true method. And women have no problem using it for that purpose. Women will also use sex as a way to try and keep their BB on lock.

jsalathe • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 07:03 PM

I am in a similar circumstance, but with two kids. Trying to make it work, but it is hard. I went with this girl because she was very strong and I was a psychological and emotional disaster. Now that I am doing better I find myself in a very difficult situation. Always thinking about compliant exes that I passed up for this ungrateful harpy I bred with.

Leave before breeding!

Edit:autocorrect errors

Ronin11A • 16 points • 16 September, 2015 06:18 PM

She says she is not the same girl who did those things in college.

Huge, HUGE red flag. Like, run the other way flag.

If there are no kids involved, I would honestly consider divorce. If she truly respected and adored you, she'd leap at the opportunity to be a part of something that made you happy. Instead, she acts like a defensive slut and pretends she's prude now, and it'll only get worse once kids are involved because now she's a "mother."

Read the Rational Male essay, "Saving the Best." Then get out.

bicepsblastingstud • 17 points • 16 September, 2015 06:50 PM

It's not a change, and it is you. I'm sorry.

This is going to be hard for you to hear, but if she were to come across a man that she was very attracted to, you can bet that she would get freaky again. She doesn't do that with you because she doesn't want to.

I think that you know this, deep down, else you wouldn't be so hurt.

Dacorrector3 • 14 points • 16 September, 2015 07:23 PM [recovered]

Yeah. It's a hard truth to swallow.

[deleted] • 8 points • 16 September, 2015 09:05 PM

As Rollo said, and I repeat, you can't negotiate attraction. But you can become more attractive. That's the only way. Now you know it.

Ronin11A • 7 points • 16 September, 2015 06:54 PM

No, it is you. That's the point.

I'm sure you're a genuine, upstanding guy. But you don't make her wet. If you made her wet and tingly, she'd go down on another woman every Friday night to keep you happy. When women want sex, they will raise hell or cross burning water to get it. It's why women will tolerate supposedly "awful" treatment from "bad boys."

For you, honestly, your best bet is to step back and try again. To this one, you're nothing more than a provider.

slurmfactory • 2 points • 16 September, 2015 08:41 PM

[deleted] • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 06:10 AM

It's you. She isn't attracted to you anymore. Simple as that.

Imagine marrying a girl thin and in shape and then gradually becoming fat through your marriage. Your original passion would just go down the drain until it becomes a chore to have sex with her.

Same thing happened here except that a woman's attraction for a man is more subtle than simply physique. It involves adventure, social dominance, status, options etc. by reading trp you'll figure out how to build those and get your wife to be attracted again (or get others it's simpler to start from a scratch than recover from a dead bedroom)

eccentricrealist • 9 points • 16 September, 2015 06:12 PM

19 year old you must have been truly fucking happy. I would say either man up, let your balls grow and take control again, things which /r/theredpill can help you do, but only as guidance, or just dump her and start anew, which is difficult because you married.

Welcome to the real world.

noobforlife • 8 points • 16 September, 2015 06:56 PM [recovered]

The following quote is apt for your situation, forgive me as I am paraphrasing:

I am so lucky to have married a slut that fucks like a prude.

Unfortunately for you, negotiating your desire for these sexual acts with your wife will get you nowhere. TRP does a great job of ramming it into your skull that you should never explicate what can be demonstrated. Instead what is most productive is to work on increasing your sexual value (game, muscles, hobbies, social status, finances, etc.) to the point where it won't matter if your wife will try to please you as there will be plenty of hotter and younger women who would be absolutely ecstatic to even get some of your time.

As for those fools in relationships that said your wife is not obligated to do anything with you even things that you both did before, they are wrong. In a marriage a wife is breaking her vows if she does not fuck you, simple as that. I don't think you are in a deadbedroom but the quote above is definitely applicable to your situation.

Good luck and realize that this is a long process that is never ending. You can inform your wife that you are not happy with the sex life but beyond that never beg or try to negotiate sex with her.

fnordsnord • 23 points • 16 September, 2015 05:41 PM [recovered]

It's worth considering leaving her.

What's she's saying is that she's not attracted enough to you to want to please you in this way. Those other guys, sure. But not. You. If she was attracted to you enough, she'd do those things for/with you.

Dacorrector3 • 9 points • 16 September, 2015 05:43 PM [recovered]

That's exactly what it feels like and it drives me crazy.

fnordsnord • 22 points • 16 September, 2015 05:57 PM [recovered]

To make it worse: if you persist and she caves, she will RESENT being "forced" to do those things with a less attractive man, just to hang onto him, and the resentment will grow.

Dacorrector3 • 12 points • 16 September, 2015 06:02 PM [recovered]

Yeah. God forbid she try to treat her husband as well as a random hookup.

shurk127 • 6 points • 16 September, 2015 08:44 PM*

You, my friend, are in the perfect position to have your eyes opened to the realities of TRP.

Hit the sidebar of the main TRP sub HARD, absorb some of the information, try not to stay in what we call "The Anger Phase" for too long while you digest it. TRP is all about learning to care for and improve yourself.

You'll likely decide you want to leave your wife. You CAN turn things around within the relationship, MMSL and the married TRP sub can help you here – but it is NOT easy, and once you start seeing the results here, you'll wonder if you truly want to.

Godspeed, my man. We're on your side.

pdtrading • 2 points • 16 September, 2015 08:43 PM

Here you go Friend! I feel bad for you, simply because I (like others and yourself) have gone through this shit. They get anal, you dont. Fuck em. Leave. Shes older, she'll deteriorate quicker then you. Plus your a man. I got this from a article yesterday. Read it! I wish you luck on your TRP journey man.

https://www.reddit.com/r/TheRedPill/comments/3kw43o/female\_duties\_vs\_male\_duties\_in\_committed/
Leadership, dominance, security (economic, physical, emotional), entertainment, commitment. Of course there are qualities both men and women find attractive, such as health (i.e. don't be fat, don't have obvious genetic flaws, etc.). But all in all, this is about it. But beware, these qualities are to be provided constantly, and if you take a break, hypergamy kicks in and she's out. Very, very often adventurous sex is used to lock down a man, and women will withhold it once their goal is achieved.

Archwinger • 5 points • 16 September, 2015 09:05 PM

Here's option 1: You were deceived into marriage by a woman who concealed her sexual history from you, fully knowing that had you known her sexual history, you may not have married her and you certainly wouldn't have settled for a subpar sex life.

While honestly, a lot of people try things out and decide they don't like them, in your wife's case, there are things she doesn't like with you that she liked just fine with others. Because in her mind, you are a certain kind of guy and she is a certain kind of girl, and you and she have a certain kind of relationship.

If your wife is not eagerly and enthusiastically fucking your brains out, and getting off at the idea of pleasing you, then there are respect and attraction issues in play. She likes what you do for her and probably feels affection for you as a companion, but she doesn't lust for you the way she lusted for others. She'll do her duty with you to keep the wheels greased and the paychecks coming, but that's it.

If you don't have any kids, you should seriously consider getting out.

If you do have kids, or if for some stupid reason, you love this woman that you don't actually know, or if there's some kind of personal or financial reason you can't cut her loose, here's option 2:

Stop harassing her about her past. Pretend you don't care. Stop talking about sex, stop asking about sex, shut your damn mouth. Sex isn't something you talk about or ask for or discuss. Sex is something that just happens.

As a by-product of being awesome.

Hit the gym. Get on a training program. Eat clean. Get buff and healthy. Get so hot that heads turn when you walk by if you're up to it.

Focus on your career. Make shittons of money and save it. Handle your family's finances -- don't let your wife handle them. Aim to retire early instead of buying stupid shit. Advance professionally and become successful. Maybe even start your own business if you're in a position to do so.

Up your social skills. Start talking to people everywhere you go, networking, making friends, even flirting (lightly) with women. Become confident and socially apt. Join groups and go out and do shit.

Spend your spare time learning useful skills and interesting hobbies. Something broken around the house? Read up on how to fix it and do so. Do it without your wife saying anything, and after it's done, don't mention it like you're seeking your wife's approval and a cookie. Just start taking care of shit like a man.

Plan spontaneous fun stuff. Women get off on essentially having other people plan their lives for them, like a cruise director.

Initiate sex, every night. She's going to reject you most of the time, but shrug, act like it's not a big deal, and go do something else, since you have so much shit to take care of. Keep doing your own thing and withdrawing emotionally from your wife. She's going to notice you getting hotter, dressing better, being gone more often, doing your own thing more often, and she'll get on board - or she won't and you'll be in a good position to find someone better.

While initiating all of that sex, be commanding. You want a blowjob? Pull her head down and tell her to suck it. If she doesn't follow your lead in bed and insists on something vanilla that's not very good for you, just pull out. Tell her it's not doing it for you, go shower, and head out for a few hours.

You can't talk your wife into being attracted to you, respecting you, and wanting to fuck you like a champion. The only way you get that is by actually being an attractive guy she wants to please. Keep your damn mouth shut. Act, don't talk.

[deleted] • 1 point • 16 September, 2015 09:41 PM

Hey, /u/Dacorrector3, this is the guy I told you about. This guy /u/Archwinger knows shit. Follow his advice. When I don't have time to read the all those posts on the main sub, I just click on his username and read whatever he writes, like I'm following some blogger.

He wrote something cool on the main sub on the lines of "the key is to communicate less". Read that.

As I said, it's a lot of hard work.

princenotsocharming • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 04:18 AM

This is what I love about you.

A lot of people on the internet claim that its simple and easy to do X but go on to write 100's of articles about how to do X bearing little semblance to one another.

But with you its the same old advice, the one which works: lift heavy things and put them down, make lots of dough, talk to strangers, learn interesting stuff and learn game.

Thank you so much and please don't leave this sub, ever.

dandar4600 • 4 points • 16 September, 2015 07:11 PM

Married Red Pill will tell you to improve yourself before you start making waves unless you just want to next her. So read the married red pill sidebar, start lifting religiously, improve your wardrobe and introduce dread.

She will then up her game to satisfy you or you will have no issues replacing her with a younger model. At your age you should have no problem banging 20 years olds.

[deleted] • 4 points • 16 September, 2015 10:32 PM

tempusers • 2 points • 16 September, 2015 08:11 PM*

Unfortunately, this is rather common.

It is important to be "equally yoked" sexually. Meaning you should have relatively the same amount of partners and types of experiences before setting down into LTR (or even further marriage).

What we see here however, a lot in Western society, is that many more women have more experiences than men. As there are just more good guys who actually are kinder, more tender about relationships, sensitive, or just plain traditional, whatever you want to call it.

Girls conversely are liberated and expected to have more sex in college, and most do.

Really the only way to fix it is to realign society with modesty in girls again, or start teaching boys to have as much sex as possible in college too.

There are too many young men growing up being asked to cherish it by their mother's, aunts, Churches, the powers that be et cetera, while girls are not.

Or somehow, in the very least, girls are finding an easier way not to feel any shame or guilt for just doing what they do easier.

ProspectiveQuant • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 10:38 AM

You think men aren't encouraged to have sex as much as possible in college?

tempusers • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 02:15 PM

Maybe not discouraged, but not encouraged either.

ProspectiveQuant • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 05:07 PM

It sure seemed to me like most every guy in college was trying to have as much sex as possible... just not a very viable thing to do.

Kyrile • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 05:22 AM*

I dont believe the problem is you. I believe the problem is feminism has decreased male value to the point many male are not attractive as anything other than BB. Women take the gold of mens lives and give back so little because feminism has biased the market to value females over males. This was not how it used to be. Women wee always hypergamous but male value was so high that even low value males were much more valuable than most females so much so that female infants would be killed at birth they were so worthless compared to the male.

This high value of all males is how things are meant to be. In such a market wives would always be attracted to their husbands and you wouldn't be having the problems you're having.

CryptoManbeard • 2 points • 17 September, 2015 10:04 AM

My ex-wife "wasn't like that" with me. Till she ended up fucking half the town. Funny how that works.

Since then I've heard a variant of the story hundreds of times. Mine ended up being quite normal in comparison.

At first it's a difficult thing to accept. Eventually you will be happy to understand how it works. Good luck on your journey. Your fate is in your hands.

Freddy_Fedora • 2 points • 17 September, 2015 03:11 PM

Just read the original thread. Gross.

Notice how emotional they get? Like your thread was a personal attack on them?

Not a single one offered you any real advice.

R/relationships: "leave your wife she deserves better"

R/theredpill: "leave your wife you deserve better"

Red_Invictus • 4 points • 16 September, 2015 05:45 PM

You've got a ways to go man, but you're in the right place. The only real answers I have for you are it's going to take you a lot of time to work through this - the reading we have here, the harsh truths, and how it all pertains to you and your situation.

I glanced over at /r/relationships and had myself a very good laugh at how quick everyone was to blame you, and just in general, their toxicity.

If I have one big suggestion for you, it's the book No More Mr Nice Guy - it flies in the face of everything that thread you made is saying to you. Basically the whole thread and everything those holier than thou jerkoffs are saying to you is "how you feel (regarding sex/etc) is not important". Or they write you off as immature.

I'm here to tell you, yes it fucking is. You are the ultimate judge in your life that decides whether your needs are fulfilled or not. How you go about meeting those later on is up to you, but the first thing you need to tell yourself is that you come first, from here on out and forever.

I'd also advise you to head over to /r/marriedredpill - the advice is more focused on couples and LTR's and geared towards men in LTRs in general.

[deleted] • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 03:21 AM

The first thing you should do is read the sidebar.

Everyone should read it. NO EXCEPTIONS!

By the time you've done that most of your questions will have been answered and you will be on your way to fucking the snot out of your old lady on the reg.

At that point you can ask questions to fine tune things.

See you then.

Classic Beta husband story. Do what you can do to protect your assets.

JP_Whoregan • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 02:36 PM

One other sign to watch out for, now that I think about it; if she suddenly becomes fiercely sexual out of nowhere, she's cheated on you and gotten pregnant by another man. The rationale is that if she's fucking another dude behind your back, and gets preggs from it, she will want to give you plausible probability that the baby is yours. "OMG honey, we're pregnant, isn't this great?!?!"

[deleted] • 1 point • 17 September, 2015 03:36 PM

You're 25, try to secure your money and get a divorce, it's not a matter of who's right and who's wrong here, the mere fact that you're not satisfied with your partner is enough reason to get the fuck out, I much rather do that while I'm in my prime than when I'm old and cannot even fuck, specially if we're talking about unfulfilled sexual desires.

ManNoob • 1 point • 18 September, 2015 12:20 PM

You've gotten a lot of good advice here. Just make sure that you focus on fixing yourself. If you don't, you will repeat this pattern again with another woman.

I get the feeling that you may have Nice Guy syndrome. Read "No More Mr. Nice Guy". It's easy to blame her, but in the end you are responsible for this situation. If you don't fix yourself, this will happen to you again.

[deleted] • 1 point • 18 September, 2015 04:31 PM

I suggest you ignore her. Go lift, get hobbies that involve being active outside the house. Talk to more people.. men and women alike. Create some soft dread by just being around other women. I'm not saying sleep with them or any of that. Just have more female friends.

When she realizes that you have a social life outside being around her, and she sees that other girls are starting to notice you, almost institutionally she will wanna fend them off... including upping how often (and how kinky) sex is.

tautologicoxymoron • 1 point • 16 September, 2015 09:07 PM

If you're sexually unhappy and that's not about to change easily, I'd say divorce her; of course take your local divorce law into consideration! You can gain experience in the bedroom and make yourself a better man, so that you can marry (if you still wanna marry at that point that is ;) ) a 25 year old girl when you are, say, 35. This time on your terms with your newfound refined sexual preferences from having explored them instead of staying in your unwanted marriage.
