

The Trigger Awards 2018 - Post Nominations

January 24, 2019 | 94 upvotes | by redpillschool

---

Over the next few weeks we're going to launch a few contests to recognize outstanding members of our community and the content they create.

Today we are taking nominations for best posts of 2018.

Top level comments must include only one nomination, and one category, but replies are open for discussion.

You may submit as many nominations as you would like.

Nominations will be open until Feb 1st. Because of the nature of how reddit works, older comments tend to get more votes than new comments. Because of this, we're going to take all nominations with at least 3 votes will be featured in our final vote next week.

Please nominate your choices for best posts 2018.

Categories for nominations:

Most Triggering / Controversial

Most Thought-Provoking

Best Advice

Best Prediction

Rules: Post must originate on /r/theredpill and must have been made in 2018. While not strictly against the rules, nominating yourself is a douche move.

Most Triggering / Controversial

<http://archive.fo/Zj5Fu> - GayLube Oil for "The Red Pill Has Too Much Respect For Women" - The post that broke the bloopers. They had no idea how to respond to it. There were quite a few Petercucks that tried to respond, but they got caught talking shit literally (pardon the run).

<http://archive.fo/ZIUPA> - Whisper for "Jordan Peterson is not your friend." - The Great Sparg-a-thon of 2018. Definitely not speechless like the bloopers in the post above. The sheer number of meltdowns over their cult master was absolutely disgusting.

Best Advice

<http://archive.fo/FIU5M> - TrenGod37 for "A Beginners Guide To Using Steroids Safely" - A classic data dump to use as you see fit. I personally don't, but I found it very informative. Too many people see "advice" as "thou shalt," but isn't how it works around here.

<http://archive.fo/Nonl5> - mallardcove for "How to really succeed at Tinder (not just another Tinder guide, this is a detailed Tinder roadmap)" - Ditto. I don't use Tinder, but I found this a very useful information to apply to other areas.

Most Thought-Provoking

Something from Heathcliff-- but I can't decide which yet.

Edit: to match redpillschool's format. It makes them easier to read.

Most Triggering:

Beginners Guide to Using Steroids Safely: <http://archive.is/FIU5M> - I am not a proponent or users of steroids, but if someone wishes to go down that route, good for them. The triggering in the post was hilarious.

Best Advice

There was a post in March about the value of lifting. I remember at some point he said "if you aren't lifting you're living your life in child mode. I've lifted consistently ever since the day I read that post. If anyone could find it that would be greatly appreciated.
