See my previous posts, in particular yesterdays 'Main Event Cont....' where I was seeking some advice at a time when I was almost punch drunk from a week of shit. The advice you guys provided helped me to pull my shit together and I headed home from work ready for her.

When I got home, again the kids were in bed like the previous night but something had changed. I could see it in her eyes, the expression on her face, her body language. I walked up and grabbed a hold of her, pulling her in to my new, hard earned physique. Previous attempts to do such a thing would have been met with contempt. However this time she fully embraced it. This loving hug lasted for about a minute as I gave her a kiss on the forehead and held her close. She then began to run her hands all over my body - she started escalating. It has been many, many years since she has done this. In fact, its been so long I can't even remember her ever doing it so it felt alien to me. What followed was some incredible sex, where she seemed to turn into a fucking beast. Seriously, she was fucking like her life depended on it and was clearly loving every minute of it.

I haven't been here for long. I feel like this is just the beginning. I have a bachelors degree but studying for that was easy compared to the MRP course I now find myself on. I will continue to read the material, own my shit, become a better captain and of course, fucking LIFT.

Congrats.

Be prepared for the upcoming shit tests. You have bought a 12-18 hour window.

She likes your earned physique. She'll be testing your mind and frame next. Steady as she goes, mate.

She's ovulating - that's a good sign she wants to fuck you at home and not go out with the girls. Don't backslide. Don't get lazy. Soldier on with your MAP.

Be careful that you aren't hysterical bonding here.
