Not only are women hypergamous; something inside of them really loves and needs to brag about how hypergamous they are, in order to get non-alphas' respect, admiration and bux.

btw, when you are 16, your alphaness is gene-based, not gym-based.

After the threesome, the boy is a bit more confident.

Let's also not forget the important thing that we're all missing here, these teachers are hot, and somewhere out there is a sweet sweet shitty sex tape that we're not looking for.

ResidentHollow • 13 points • 3 October, 2014 08:57 PM

<http://nypost.com/2014/10/02/teachers-arrested-for-alleged-threesome-with-student/>

Get this one of the teachers is married and has three children.

Kyfhomyoba • 18 points • 3 October, 2014 11:37 PM

How much would it suck to be that whore's husband? How do you live that shit down? HuffPo had a slideshow on this subject. 45 teachers sexing students. 3 teachers were male. Friend and I rated the female's pics. Majority were top third, i.e., 6.5 or better. About half were married.

And, of course, the incarceration rate and the time served by the females was waaaaaay less than what the male teachers received.

kulrajiskulraj • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 09:39 AM

Well if she's in jail I'm hopeful that the usual male divorce rape wouldn't be as bad.

VegasHostTre • 7 points • 3 October, 2014 09:04 PM

No matter how young or how old, no matter homeless or billionaire, no matter the ethnicity one addage always holds true and if i could teach all men one thing TRP it's this.

Alpha fux, Beta bux.

cooltrip[S] • -7 points • 3 October, 2014 10:59 PM

Alpha fux, beta plays confidence.

[deleted] • 6 points • 3 October, 2014 08:01 PM

Are these women outliers or did this 16 year high school student really the best choice to fuck rather than men in their twenties that are probably fitter/more money/etc?

How does this example prove hypergamy?

I_Wear_Jorts5 • 18 points • 3 October, 2014 08:13 PM

How does this example prove hypergamy?

Well, at least IMO, it proves that being "most" alpha isn't important. Simply being alpha, available, and having a little game are the most important things. That's how we have 16 year olds banging teachers and homeless guys banging different girls every night. Money and status are extremely important in becoming a top tier alpha who is capable of pulling 10s, but it isn't the end all, be all. Being ripped is important but being the "most" ripped isn't as important.

I think a lot of people on TRP put so much stress on being the best possible man you can be, that they psych themselves out of good, easy pussy. I mean, just the awareness of TRP probably puts you into the top 50% of men. If you are fit and dress decently, you're already qualified to bang the majority of girls out there, assuming you have some game of course. That's not to say you shouldn't keep pushing yourself, of course

markasstrick123 • 6 points • 3 October, 2014 10:08 PM

This sparks so much jealousy seeing as I could have banged my teachers if I wasn't a beta phaggot

I_Wear_Jorts5 • 7 points • 3 October, 2014 10:25 PM

Can't tell if this is sarcasm or not.

I knew a few football players who were rumored to have fucked teachers at my high school. These dudes were the gang member type, who were pretty badass and willing to go the extra mile to try and fuck a teacher.

When I was a senior, I distinctly remember flirting with younger teachers and they actually seemed to enjoy it. I'll never know what would have happened if I actually tried to go further. Kinda makes me wonder, especially with all these student-teacher scandals in the news lately.

markasstrick123 • 5 points • 3 October, 2014 10:28 PM

markasstrick123 • 3 points • 4 October, 2014 01:16 AM

What would you recommend for extreme anger? I often find myself wanting to assert dominance and beat the hell out of guys that think they are hot shit. I was bullied and girls ignored me and went for the popular dudes. I'm not the kinds guy that accepts defeat. I want it all, or death.

rickster673 points 4 October, 2014 02:38 AM [recovered]

I'm no therapist, but I'd recommend doing exactly what you're brain is telling you to do. Take up boxing or some MMA. (I took up ice hockey and got back into football)

You need to replace your uncontrolled, violent, omega mindset with some real confidence. Don't go hurting anyone, but channel the impotent rage into a potent body.

A manly body can change your entire outlook on the rest of the world. I found that the bit of confidence lead to a naturally dominant attitude in everything. The rage mostly just dissipated for me with real confidence.

I hope any of this applies to you. I really do wish you success.

markasstrick123 • 2 points • 4 October, 2014 02:46 AM

True, maybe I should just realize that this is the way the game is played. Realize I made mistakes in the past and apply the new knowledge to secure a better future.

whystopnow • 2 points • 4 October, 2014 12:00 AM

I wish I was that kid. My life would have taken a much more positive track with the confidence boost of a three-way with two hot teachers. When I was sixteen I played sports too. Didn't stop me from crying and blaring Fall Out Boy and My Chemical Romance.

oldredder • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 03:15 AM*

meh. But 2 would I ever have considered it, the rest were hags or men.

Last year physics stand-in teacher, age 26, and me then age 18. Definitely doable and of all things, she was emotionally fragile & made the mistake of showing that. If I had known then what I know now I could have feigned being not too bright about this or that question and used the entire time to push/pull her emotions and make a play.

Other was far, far too early on but the taste would have been mint. She was 28 but a fine age 28 and sadly for me... age 13. That's just too far to expect a shot. Except apparently for these reported outliers.

*edit: well damn. Out of curiosity, did the math, she should be age 44 now. Out of further curiosity did an image search for her. Actually found her on twitter. Dammmmm that wall.

busior • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 03:32 AM

In the end it's all about confidence. The first company to develop confidence pills will make millions busior • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 02:30 PM

Lol and I get a downvote ? Confidence is like beauty and young age for women. It is a marker of health and fertility. It does not mean she's 100% healthy & fertile though - it's just a marker. It works on a subconscious level and despite explicit knowledge (for example if you're using a condom your brain shouldn't care if she's attractive or not - she's not getting pregnant anyway, but there were no contraceptives when we as a species formed). You might know you'd have better luck to spread your genes with an ugly girl who's not using contraceptives, than an attractive one that's using them - for your brain it doesn't matter though.

It's similar for confidence. A confident guy is attractive to women. Doesn't matter if you're dumb, and have a dead end job plus average looks. Rock hard confidence gives them tingles and they can't help it. Thus I am fcking right in my post above. A drug that boosts your confidence will be a bigger thing than ED pills.

So just cocaine without the comedown or addictive side effects.

FREEPIG • 5 points • 4 October, 2014 12:18 AM

I don't know where it fits into the alpha/beta paradigm but some women will cheat with younger men with no status or even mentally handicapped men. I think it's more about control for some of these women than hypergamy.

Also, women (mature teenagers), are in their natural habitat within a high school's walls. The social hierarchy of the students becomes their own.

should_ • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 05:18 AM

You're right on about it being strange on a hotness level re: fitness, but regarding money, that doesn't make pussy juice run. It's a huge convenience and means the lady gets free dinner, and with a ring, a free life. But it doesn't make her horny. Alpha fucks, beta bucks.

Source: I'm into men.

FREEPIG • 8 points • 3 October, 2014 11:58 PM

I know a girl who cheated on her bf with retarded guys she was paid to watch. Does that mean they were alpha retards or will some broads just fuck men they can control?

kulrajiskulraj • 2 points • 4 October, 2014 09:40 AM

You can't trust most women's thought process

Glenbert • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 04:44 AM

This is not a bad point. Just because one may accept that women seek alpha doesn't mean you have to believe that they are capable of actually getting, or even identifying alpha. I wonder if many women are just hardwired to go against the grain. I mean, how was the least hairy, least strong of the apes -- our ancestor -- the most alpha of the troop.

Position5hero • 22 points • 3 October, 2014 05:03 PM

btw, when you are 16, your alphaness is gene-based, not gym-based.

Wrong? He's on the football team. That means lifting not only as a mandatory minimum for varisty, but lifting in practices.

Beastly_Squirrel • 6 points • 3 October, 2014 05:08 PM

Yes lifting is mandatory, but lifting only goes so far when determining an alpha.

I would argue Nature vs. Nurture that instead of gene-based "alphaness" it could be that that he was raised to be an alpha.

Obviously I'm only speculating.

Position5hero • 10 points • 3 October, 2014 05:32 PM

Yeah it helps when you're born tall and handsome but time spent at the gym can compensate for bad genetics so can learning game, and i assure you a 16 year old that banged 2 teachers (lamo what a legend) has it down pat itsarusko • 5 points • 4 October, 2014 09:29 AM

I was born tall and handsome and played varsity in a very competitive sport (morning lift every other day) and still didn't get pussy until I learned how to not be a pussy. Genetics aren't everything. If my dad would have been an alpha player so would i. Instead he was a married middle aged religious man so no talks about woman ever. Its all about up bringing

Hugeman33 • 1 point • 4 October, 2014 10:03 AM

My college roommate was like this. 6'3' shredded. Varsity everything. And virgin.

You should have seen how this guy did with women.

Kind of like this <http://youtu.be/mzfcoGdPkTc>

markasstrick123 • 10 points • 3 October, 2014 09:59 PM

True. Alpha is mostly a consequence of your lifestyle. Alpha's have high testosterone. You earn high testosterone, you don't just have it. Football players have high testosterone because they sprint, lift heavy weights, yell a lot, and don't take shit from anyone. Football players aren't mythical alpha pussy slayers.

[deleted] • 4 points • 4 October, 2014 02:43 AM

It's football as in soccer. It's a UK link. They're built like normal men, if not often slimmer due to running so much.

[deleted] • 1 point • 6 October, 2014 04:51 PM

Yeah you're right. Good shout.

cooltrip[S] • 6 points • 3 October, 2014 05:07 PM

when you're 16 and you're still developing, it's not football that makes you fit, it's your natural fitness that enables you for football. Once you play football, of course, it also helps you stay even fitter.

[deleted] • 5 points • 3 October, 2014 05:52 PM

No you're right. In a sport like wrestling or track an athlete's success can be based on work put in. But for football 75% of the athletes were born with great genetics or size or both. Especially at a young age like 16. Not to say that a 16 year old with average genetics reading this wouldn't see a benefit from putting in work.

Position5hero • -1 points • 3 October, 2014 05:34 PM

wrong.

If you don't lift and exercise you won't be able to play even at a high school level.

natural fitness

Excuses for the lazy. No one's genetics are so bad that serious time in the gym won't be able to push them way way ahead of 16 year olds that don't lift

Plus when you're 16 gains are so fucking easy, try being in your late 30s and staying buff it's a constant struggle

[deleted] • 6 points • 3 October, 2014 05:56 PM

"Excuses for the lazy."

True.

"No one's genetics are so bad that serious time in the gym won't be able to push them way way ahead of 16 year olds that don't lift"

Actually i knew guys with average genetics who worked their asses off in the offseason but still were benched over guys who didn't do much in the offseason but had good athletic or size genes. In addition to that if you don't allow your offseason work to translate to the field it won't matter. Meaning if you give 100% in the gym but only 75% on the field your offseason work won't matter much.

Position5hero • 1 point • 3 October, 2014 06:04 PM

Well man it depends.

If you're a linebacker then it's not gonna fly if you don't lift and lift hard no matter how good your genetics are

If you're a wide out you basically just have to be fast and tallish and have good fingers and you're golden

I played tight end because I just didn't have the body to be a wide out I was too bulky/too much lifting/skipped leg day a lot so I just wasn't as fast as the thinner guys even though I wanted to be a wide receiver

But regardless of your position you should be lifting, the field goal kicker doesn't have to lift as much as the linebacker

[deleted] • 7 points • 3 October, 2014 08:29 PM

This guy may have peaked at 16. How does he top this? A foursome??? Surely no non-porn star has ever pulled this off. :-P

Okay...

Look, I have dug deeply within the red pill for about 3-4 years now. It has helped me in ways I would of never imagined. The philosophy has even inspired me to write a blog. I am sure you have seen me link my shit a bunch of times already

<http://associationofchronos.com/>

With that said though, this shit is still shocking to me a bit. This shit is going from comedy to down right scary.

These broads weren't THIS bad back then. I mean, yeah, women cheated and did their dirt but, c'mon now.

EVERY month a new story about a teacher fucking a student is dropping.

The fuck?

And know what's crazy if you say something?

"Well, MEN can do this and, MEN can do this, etc"

Yeah, no shit sweetheart. But we can NEVER match the body count like you can. Its why as a society it was best to keep the female desire to a limited amount or else shit like this would occur.

There is a reason the word "Slut" exists. It keeps females in check. Or, better yet DID keep females in check.

What the fuck is going to happen when more men start to find "The Red Pill". Too much freedom for women will leave men out in the cold and erased from memory as if they never existed from this world once they realize that Disney has been lying to them all this time.

Yes, but I doubt the real conclusion is that it's actually going up.

There's just more public interest in treating it with hysteria now than their was then. There's more interest in shaming someone for doing it now than their was then.

Modern__Day__Pricus • 3 points • 4 October, 2014 12:58 AM

True.

I just can't believe there is a new story everyday on the Hypergamy aspect of women.

I wonder what I would say if I never found the Pill

"Oh man! That kid is lucky. I wish I had those teachers in my school"

Or

"Wow. God must of some weird plan in mind. I just can't figure it out. He works in crazy ways man"

Or my favorite...

"They were emotional and got caught up. They are women man. That's all"

Kyfh0Myoba • 2 points • 3 October, 2014 11:40 PM

No. It IS going up. Whatever-wave-of-feminism we're on right now has encouraged women to slut it up to previously unimaginable levels. This did not happen, at this rate, at least, even 15 years ago.

RedPill115 • 4 points • 3 October, 2014 11:46 PM

I didn't argue that women used to not be encouraged to slut it up.

I said a few female teachers were sleeping with their male students 15 years ago. I remember rumors about it then - it's just that no one took it as a serious crime then. No one was real motivated to track it down, and no one was real motivated to make it front page news.

Ganjgirlsandsteelies • 1 point • 6 October, 2014 06:42 AM

And as for the opposite? Were male teachers sleeping with female students at the same frequency?

RedPill115 • 1 point • 6 October, 2014 04:14 PM

I'm not sure what you were getting at, but I imagine male teachers were sleeping with their female students more than the female teachers sleeping with male students.

In my grandparents generation it was fairly common for younger women and older men to get married. My grandparents age difference is like 20 years or something - and I've asked other people, it seemed to be fairly common at the time.

I suspect at the time it was a "bad, unless you get married, then it's ok" situation.

[deleted] • 3 points • 3 October, 2014 10:09 PM

You drew a few nice conclusions toward the end of that article, however the 75% buildup was excessive. As someone who writes 3 blogs fairly regularly, I know that to generate readership & followings it pays to keep things concise. The best things I've written haven't been read by anyone without me asking someone to directly, but other shorter posts get linked from all over because they are bite-sized.

Just a thought. Your writing is good, just maybe consider less diversions from your message. Also nice website.

Modern__Day__Pricus • 1 point • 3 October, 2014 10:16 PM

Appreciate that man thank you. I have thought about the same thing when it comes to writing.

I just have a lot to say but end up overdoing it. I need to start thinking if it were me being a brand new viewer reading the blog. Would I want to read ALL of that?

Its like doing too much foreplay and talking to get the pussy. I have always liked Rollo's style and Roosh. They are somewhat long but keep a flow going in a much shorter style.

Thank you again for comment. I am definitely putting this advice into action.

[deleted] • 1 point • 3 October, 2014 10:35 PM

Yeah for sure. On the other side of the coin is everything here in TRP, of which there are no buildups. Straight to the point to get people to read your particular post. Of course, a blog is a different setting than a subreddit forum, but you get what I mean.

How long have you been writing? It definitely improves over time, especially if you're writing something you enjoy. I started out particularly terrible and I'm still working on it. And I just read another - hiding in plain sight (will smith video), very good. I'll have to go through your work later.

Modern__Day__Pricus • 0 points • 4 October, 2014 12:55 AM

Yeah. You mean like "Click bait" type of blogs. I have a section for that somewhat called "#Nofliter". Its where I just let it all loose and talk shit for a couple of paragraphs on a subject without holding back and trying to be slick and class about it.

I admire the style of blogs like that but, its a reason I only have a section and not a whole blog dedicated to it. Maybe one day but, who knows. I wanted my blog to be taken serious and hopefully one day be up there with the greats like "The Rational Male", "No Ma'am", "Chateau Heartise", etc. Or shit, at least top 20 lol.

And honestly, since April of this year. I started my first post actually in October of 2013 and didn't come back to the blog until April 2014. Yeah, a lot of wasted time but, I made up for it in these past 7 months. I have 40 something followers now. Not a lot but very appreciated. The fact that some of the blogs that follow me (Including "Captain No Marriage") are establish and understand my work is a blessing it itself.

And thank you again. Sometimes a video online will inspire to write some stuff. I have to fall back on my video overload too. But yeah I believe "Hitch" should be watched by others on here. Sure, the ending is..... Eh but, the concepts Will Smith character displays made me see things in a new light. Especially that scene I broke down in that "Hiding in plain sight" post.

[deleted] • 3 points • 4 October, 2014 12:31 AM

I heard that he blackmailed one of the teachers into talking the other one into it. Not sure if that's true or not.

Be careful here. This was statutory rape, as no doubt legendary as this guy was, Women need to learn that rape is rape regardless of the genders involved. Don't trivialise that.

morph85 • 8 points • 4 October, 2014 02:42 AM*

In Europe and most sane countries the age of consent is 13 or 16 yrs old, not 16-18, like all states in the US. In some states, if a girl is 1 day shy of 18 and screws a guy he can get him sentenced, but pass a couple more days and she's allowed to take a sit on a facial abuse couch. So with all due respect, take the statutory rape BS and those fuckturd laws shove it up the governments ass.

PS- I would of banged the crap out of a couple of my teachers when I was 13, and even younger. To whomever implies some horse shit like I was too young, mentally or biologically, easily influenced or whatever else besides that I wanted to bang the crap out of them, he can follow the path recommended above.

Edit: To think these women can get up to 17 and a half years in jails for this is fucking ridiculous beyond belief.

-Tyler_Durden-3 points 4 October, 2014 04:29 AM [recovered]

Blame the people who push for these laws. Until they are changed, we must treat both genders equally. Just look at what the system is doing to these guys.

morph85 • 3 points • 4 October, 2014 11:03 AM

Absolutely agree with, but the solution is not to cry rape over shit like this, since you are enforcing the mentality that it is wrong and you should go to jail if you have sex with a willing 17 yr old that jumps on your dick in a public bathroom. If you want to change this mentality you should argue against it. It's good to say both genders should be treated equally, but don't say it was rape.

The story in the link is very fucked up.

cooltrip[S] • 5 points • 3 October, 2014 05:03 PM

Let's keep the rape part off and consider only the hypergamy component.

Of course, rape is a crime and has to be treated as the crime it is.

RedPill115 • 10 points • 3 October, 2014 11:20 PM

I think this is crap. Do we have to be as stupid as the feminists and insist that all non-socially-approved sex is now "rape"?

It's possible for it to be rape, but the article says he was only caught because he was bragging to his friends. Damn, there were several female teachers I wanted to sleep with in middle school, let alone high school.

It's one thing to say that teachers be fired for sleeping with students who desired to sleep with them, but to call it rape just because someone is uncomfortable about it is a bunch of crap.

KyfhoMyoba • -1 points • 3 October, 2014 11:33 PM

Even though the age of consent is/might be in that state 16 y.o., there are statutes that prohibit an adult in a supervisory/caregiver role from having sex with their charge, defining it as statutory rape.

RedPill115 • 5 points • 4 October, 2014 12:27 AM

That's not an actual response to what I wrote. I couldn't care less what the statutes say. The way those statutes actually work is to provide a legal charge if someone complains. Like half my high school was technically violating the law by sleeping with each other before they were legally allowed according to law.

When I was 5, I said I wanted to marry my mother. I was 5 - I hadn't hit the hormones yet, I didn't know what that meant, I just wanted to live with a person I loved who cared about me. I was 5.

When I was 8, the hormones had started and I was appalled I had ever thought that. My whole view of what that "meant" had shifted. No one had ever made fun of me or brought it up again, but it was still embarrassing just thinking about it to myself. I would still have babysitters, and if they were female and they were cute, I had some urge to do...something with them. I had an idea, but didn't know the whole thing.

In 5th and 6th grade I loved boobs and girls legs in those short shorts.

By middle school I wanted to sleep with girls or teachers. I'm not sure if I specifically wanted to have sex, or it was more other "clearly very sexual things where we get off", but it was basically the same thing.

By high school I mean - come on, it was high school. I would later find out that some of the girls I hung out with had actually started having sex at 14, and the majority of them by 16. Not with me, but with whoever they were dating.

Damn, if I had had the opportunity to have sex with 2 attractive teachers without getting someone pregnant - hell yes I would have. I won't even go into the cute young teacher who joined the school and taught our health class.

It's possible for guys to be raped by women. Watch the movie "Kids" if you want to see some sick disgusting stuff. But if I had been able to sleep with that girl who taught health class, the idea that that was "rape" is bullshit. Absolute bullshit. I sure as hell would have been happier and more confident, that's for sure.

School can't have their teachers sleeping with their students. And you are too young to handle say, getting someone pregnant. Not that that stop high school students from sleeping with each other though. But to call it "rape" is just fucked up stupid crap. If I had somehow been able to sleep with that health teacher, and someone found out and she got fired, I would have felt bad and thought it was stupid. But accusing her of rape is an atrocity.

sailorJery • 6 points • 4 October, 2014 02:33 AM the law is not the arbiter of morality, the only thing that's "wrong" about this is they abused their positions, but it's not morally unacceptable, most guys that age would stab someone for a chance at a 2 woman 3 way.

It may have been inappropriate, but it wasn't rape. All parties involved enjoyed it, right? No one was complaining. I don't think it's helpful to confuse this with rape, which is a heinous crime.

Bullshit this isnt rape. The dude was 16 and had two hot teachers trying to bang him. He even insisted in the article that it was consensual. almost any dude his age would do the same thing, willingly. not rape.

I think that a big part of RP and the world disregards female paedophilia. Most women will say they like masculine muscle men but these female teachers stories coming out are more than an exception. Women are attracted to beautiful youths even if they still have boyish feminine features. Maternal love + sex hormones = horny milf

No, these women are the exception. Being a naive pretty boy won't get you anywhere with women. Being an alpha football player will.

I'm pretty sure they're talking about Soccer, not American Football. Soccer players aren't usually built like refrigerators.

I'm pretty sure you could've glanced through the article in the time it took you to write this post.

And he was almost 17. On the fence if he should have waited for 17 so as not to get them both jail time, or, if being "off limits" only added to the attraction since these 2 women could have gone for a different 17 year old and together, NONE would have said no. Unless gay.

Wait? You can't wait under circumstances like that. It was entirely situational. He was riding a maximum value wave. He had to either bang, or say, "oops, no, this is wrong" and pass. That opportunity was NOT going to come again.
