

Plate withholds sex, I soft-next her. Now she asks me why did I go radio silence out of sudden. Should I explain it to her?

June 2, 2016 | 90 upvotes | by Venenarium

My favourite plate has started to shit-test me by withholding sex. I kept it cool (in order to not appear butthurt), but deep down I wasn't really amused by the situation. She has thanked me for being so understanding and we spent the rest of the day together like nothing happened.

I do the standard diffuse and soft-next her. I do the strict no-contact and radio silence. Now she's texting me, wondering why I don't text her anymore.

What do? Should I explain the situation, or just keep my distance for a few more days, take the time to respond to her texts and then meet up with her after a week or two and let her make things right?

EDIT: CONCLUSION: I've proceeded with distancing myself, taking a lot of time to respond to her texts and keeping the conversations short when she called me. She went home to see her parents for the weekend, so I covertly let her know that I'm planning on spending the weekend with my other prospects. Before her train home arrives, she begs me to walk her to the station as she's "desperate to see me". I comply. I end up getting a BJ in a public stall.

She knows why, you can be damn sure.

Just say you have been busy. Next time you meet her, escalate sexually, and if you get shot down, soft next.

Archwinger • 92 points • 2 June, 2016 04:35 PM*

Never explain shit to a woman. Never defend yourself. Never rationalize. Never justify. Never argue.

Just ignore the question. Your next communication should be to set up a meeting, where you will escalate and fuck. If she's not responsive to your escalation, make your soft next a harder next.

After that, if she's been a really good plate, you can give her another shot in a few weeks. If she's only been so-so, just ghost and only bother with her if she comes to you first.

Whether you contact her 3 weeks from now or she comes to you, same rules as above. Set up the meeting, escalate, fuck.

If you want to hang out and be friends and do fun shit, give your bros a call. Women are for fucking.

It's also worth noting that there are various reasons a plate may withhold sex besides just pushing for a deeper level of commitment. She could be fucking someone else, caught something, and is holding you at bay until she's done with her course of antibiotics. She could be testing the waters with someone else and is getting ready to jump ship. Or she could just be done with you and is now trying to milk you for dinners or something.

You've got to be kidding man. Women make terrible friends. That's why women seek men as friends because they can't stand each other.

Soarinc • 9 points • 3 June, 2016 12:42 AM

Dude, there's 1 thing they're good at. I just randomly texted a girl who was never a plate just an acquaintance that I'm sick and asked if she could come over and cook for me, lol.

I was kinda trolling but sure enough she agreed (she's a nursing student) and she watched tv with me and cooked spaghetti for me. All I've ever done for her was be a facebook friend (she and I were in same pre-health student club)

mordanus • 9 points • 3 June, 2016 12:55 AM

Escalate then. It sounds like she might want to be more than just friends. If shes good looking enough anyways.

Ricardo_Machista • 3 points • 2 June, 2016 11:34 PM

Uh... what is pre-selection?

mordanus • 8 points • 2 June, 2016 11:58 PM

Preselection is when your attraction goes up because more women are attracted to you. Being their buddy has shit to do with that. If all you had to do was be friends then the friend zoned losers would be rolling in women. Preselection works if the women are sexually attracted to you.

[deleted] • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 01:02 AM

Lol at guys are befriend women just for preselection.

[deleted] • 10 points • 3 June, 2016 12:06 PM

"We're just friends" preselection works if you're the one friend-zoning her.

If she's pining for you and her friends know it - but you won't give her the time of day - every girl in her social group will want to fuck you.

mordanus • 7 points • 3 June, 2016 01:11 AM

It's the male hamster at work spinning rationalizations for why they keep them in their lives. Female acquaintances are great or having your male friend's females around is fine. Believing that a woman is going to give you friendship that is equal to what you are giving in return is lying to themselves.

CrodudeClassic • 1 point • 3 June, 2016 01:35 AM

Though I realize it's incredibly rare, I do have a very good female friend I've known since high school. She buys me drinks on occasion and cooks for me, and occasionally (but not as often) I return the favor. However, she does her own thing/often has boyfriends but still makes an excellent wingman when going out. And she loves doing it.

Black Unicorn?

mordanus • 4 points • 3 June, 2016 02:36 AM

Black Unicorn

I don't know about that. Almost every single time I mention it a couple guys will say that one woman in their life was worth being friends with. To me that only proves the point that men shouldn't spend the effort to try to have a female friend. Chances are really against it going well. I think the chances are way lower to get a worthwhile female friend than it is to marry well it just doesn't carry as terrible of a consequence for failure.

CrodudeClassic • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 07:35 PM

To me that only proves the point that men shouldn't spend the effort to try to have a female friend

Suppose I didn't really think of it like that, since a lot of men DO spend time searching for platonic female companions (this one just sort of stumbled into my life), but I can agree with that one - spending time and energy searching for platonic female friends is ultimately a waste of time with little chances of any positive returns.

DarkCotton • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 03:50 PM

I believe that was a reference to jeopardy, and not an actual question. Although that was a concise explanation of what preselection is.

There is legitimately one good female friend out of 100 applicants. 99 terrible friends to find 1 good one. I did find 1 good one tho, she lives 3 hours away now but its great to save money crashing at her place when I go to see my NFL team in action.

mordanus • 3 points • 3 June, 2016 12:00 AM

I think you just got lucky because the number is more like 1 out of 10,000. Even at 1 in 100 it's still too low to make the gamble.

Cunt_Robber • 11 points • 2 June, 2016 09:03 PM

I second this. The best female friends, I've found, are the ones you've fucked and then have both gone your separate ways sexually but still share a positive, platonic bond. It's rare, but be sure to recognize it when it happens and put some effort into maintaining it to see what course it takes. Play your cards right and you will both benefit from the other's perspective on different matters such as relationships, sex, and even things like fashion and cooking. Women are more sensitive/intuitive to topics like fashion and home decor, to name a few from personal observation.

However, basically it comes down to being mindful of certain personal weaknesses and using the symbiotic friendship to help cover more bases. Other than the obvious date set-ups, she could in her classic role as a female have access to certain resources she might grant you access to as well that you would normally find challenging to obtain (a great example is drugs: she befriended a bunch of drug dealers and had access to quality shit).

Soarinc • 6 points • 3 June, 2016 12:44 AM

Also their body releases dopamine when they care/nurture for you like if you have an excuse and ask them to come over and cook for you.

Cunt_Robber • 2 points • 5 June, 2016 02:52 AM

Somehow I didn't know that. Shit, it freaks me out when one of my plates starts doing shit like straightening out my collar or offering me food at their place. I psych myself out thinking I'll eat over there one time and bitch'll think it's ok to invite herself over and I'll never fucking get rid of her.

Soarinc • 1 point • 5 June, 2016 03:32 AM

I spent tons of "relationship capital" that I got from a few girls just literally dissecting their brains and getting their attempt at truthful feedback, lol. The ultimate lesson I learned is that there are very few "innate" things that make them different from guys at a pure engineering standpoint but holy shit they are super easily influenced by what they perceive!

If men and women saw a commercial for drinking cat urine and they all were high value people and looked like it's the greatest activity on earth, the women would struggle to not go along with this idea (hamstering but this time the hamster would lose as no amount of brad pitts on tv drinking cat urine could convince them to try it!)

Zaorish9 • 7 points • 2 June, 2016 08:45 PM*

I've tried very hard in my BP days and having a legitimately fun female friend is extremely rare to impossible. The closest I've got is a pen-pal housewife in another country who is into the same physically impossible "adult interests" that I am and we talk about it--in a flirty way, sending dirty stories etc--about once a month, and even then she will have random dramatic freak-outs once a year for no reason at all--at which times I simply do not respond. That's the only reason I am sure she's female lol

Most guys who have "female friends" are enjoying the "m'lady" sort of feeling either consciously or unconsciously.

third-eye-brown • 3 points • 2 June, 2016 09:39 PM

Most awesome guys have a few awesome female friends, in my experience. I certainly do. I would wager that the guys who only have male friends don't have a huge social circle anyway.

NotUpToAnythingGood • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 01:51 AM

I've got a female friend that would set me up with one of her female friends if I showed interest in her friend. She likes to help her friends who help her. Hell, she even offered to get one of her hot friends for a threesome for her husband. He turned it down.

She's the closest thing I've met to a unicorn.

third-eye-brown • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 04:41 AM

I know some pretty incredible women. In my opinion the point of the unicorn concept isn't that there aren't "one of a kind" women out there. There absolutely are.

But they still obey the laws and ideas of red pill, no matter how great of a person they may be. Which is great because once you understand it, it's like a psychological button you can press to influence a person's actions. I've gotten access to things and been in situations I couldn't have achieved myself without a woman with whom I had pull introducing me.

NotUpToAnythingGood • 2 points • 3 June, 2016 09:14 PM

EvolvedVirus • 3 points • 2 June, 2016 11:22 PM

It's fine to spend money sometimes, mainly if they are like a college student or unemployed. If she offers to pay too, then yes let her.

You just don't spend time and commitment with her.

"i just spent the whole day with her, despite no sex" ... that's the big fatal mistake here. You shoulda just left.

Though, if it was already pre-planned or something, then you can still spend a bit of time, so as to not look butthurt.

--Never argue with a woman you're not banging

This is true.

Wheyman92 • 3 points • 3 June, 2016 12:43 AM

Yeah exactly. I'm doing pretty well for myself as a young engineer at 23 years old. I spent a weekend with a girl who is 20 and is a college student, and 100% self reliant. SHE get s no help from her parents and she lost any scholarships she had because she's not the brightest girl.

I paid for her during the weekend notb ecause i wanted to get laid, but because 20 dollars at 3 differeent venues, or splitting the hotel we stayed in, would mean a lot more to her than it would to my bank account.

I then, hwoever, find out she makes about 500 a week as a hooters waitress and did feel a little cheated because she could have at least bought a few drinks for herself... But hey, that's women right?

Bitcoin-FTW • 13 points • 2 June, 2016 04:38 PM

Dread is really simple. Whenever she asks why you aren't texting or spending time, say you have just been very busy.

The other mistake you made was spending the whole day with her after she withdrew. Again, say you need to get some work done or run errands or some shit.

Venenarium[S] • 2 points • 2 June, 2016 05:03 PM spending the whole day with her after she withdrew. Again, say you need to get some work done or run errands

It wasn't ideal, but we had the whole day planned already. I feared that disappearing mysteriously after having been denied the sex would make me look affected by the whole thing.

Bitcoin-FTW • 4 points • 2 June, 2016 05:11 PM

Definitely not the worst thing ever if only done once or twice, just don't make a habit out of it and make sure she knows your time is valuable.

FrameWalker • 18 points • 2 June, 2016 04:35 PM

I think you did a good job however you should have cut the day off an hour in with a plausible excuse. Just say you were busy and continue as if nothing happened. Rinse and repeat.

When a girl witholds sex pull back commitment. Avoid sleepovers and cuddling for the next month

detachedbymarriage • 3 points • 2 June, 2016 09:43 PM

I think he played it right. The day was already planned to spend the day together, so by suddenly having something else to do would show butt hurt.

Smile, go about your day, then ghost her would be of my opinion too.

It shows he doesn't need her sex to have fun but at the same time, that if they arent having sex, he doesn't need her in his life.

baube19 • 6 points • 2 June, 2016 05:01 PM

RPShitlord • 5 points • 2 June, 2016 03:57 PM

She already knows why. Tell her or don't tell her, but no nookie = no you.

fnordsnord • 6 points • 2 June, 2016 06:33 PM

Never apologize, never explain.

Respond to her stream of text with "Hey. Been busy. You?"

Then go radio silent for a couple more days.

Then set up a meet and escalate. If you get the stiff arm, respond as before and hold your radio silence longer.

In the meantime, game other women. In particular, contact her hottest friends that you know. Be friendly and positive, but not particularly sexual. She'll hear about it, and fast. All those hamsters will spin, and she'll get that she may be being replaced.

What she decides to do about it is up to her. If she's not willing to just be a plate, well, we call 'em that because they eventually fall.

bsutansalt • 9 points • 2 June, 2016 06:25 PM

NEVER explain--it's a shit test. Just pretend like nothing happened. IF she continues to press, agree and amplify or otherwise use one of the techniques from the sidebar for dealing with shit tests.

[deleted] • 4 points • 3 June, 2016 12:57 PM

Laying down the law is only done in LTRs. By stating your conditions you are implying a quid pro quo - and what she'll want in return is your commitment.

Remember it's her job to prove to you that she is worthy of such a thing. She should be hot to give you the good pussy to show you she's worth keeping around - or even possibly that commitment she's looking for. It shouldn't be something you give quickly or easily. When women start playing head games to get what they want from you instead of trying to show their worth, that's a red flag revealing that she is less concerned with your happiness than she needs to be.

Depending on how it went down and what words were said at the time of the freeze out is important. In the moment, you should def ask "Hey what going on? Are you not into this?" and that is her opportunity to give you her reason for rejecting your advance. It could be a legitimate reason she's not up for it that day. If you get all huffy and diss her off when she has a legit reason - then you become the asshole. You can't be a raging dick all the time. If she has a legit reason you let it slide and be like alright, that's cool. You still totally try to slip her the dick the next day sometime - I mean really how often do these issues linger for multiple days? If she shoots you down the next day then Houston we got a problem.

Chances are she is shit testing some kind of head game (probably attempting to follow some really dumb advice her stupid friend gave her) and that will be apparent. That's when you have license to be a dick and be like Oh shit... You know those plans we had...? Yeah something came up I gotta jet out <smirk> sorry (don't do this immediately wait a little after you suffer the bullshit rejection).

When a chick plays a head game and it blows up in her face - they panic and start sucking the dick. The return can be immediate. Then you can be like You know what let me try to hold off that other thing so we can have our fun day. Miraculously your schedule clears.

Every shit test is a house of cards - you just have to know which card to pull and the whole thing crumbles. You shouldn't have to deploy multiple day freeze outs and radio silence to teach a girl a lesson. You should be able to handle it in the moment. If it's me and I'm dreading a girl by not calling her - then its because I'm sick of her shit and looking to stick my dick in something else. All dread must be authentically motivated by a desire to move on. You're weighing your options because the present situation is untenable.

Usually when a chick you're banging all of a sudden stops wanting to bang - but still wants the hang out benefits - she's trying to push you into her orbit. You're just another dude fueling her ego - like she gave you enough sex already and now she's got you locked into puppy dog status. A girl like that is fucking other dudes 100%. If she's not fucking you then she is worthless to you. HARD NEXT.

Remember TRUDATNESS LAW: IF A GIRL LIKES YOU SHE WILL FUCK YOU. EVERYTHING ELSE IS A BULLSHIT GAME

When you come to a shit test (head game in oldfag speak) - be assertive and direct - ask the right probing question - find out the story - decide if you can deal with it or not - deal with it - move on.

[deleted] • 10 points • 2 June, 2016 04:09 PM*

Sounds like a plate thats gonna start probing for commitment.

Shes withholding sex because she wants to test and see if you care about her other than just for sex.(comfort test). What you should of done that day is not even push for sex at all after she said that,buy her an ice cream cone or something small like that (just enough to show her your not using her just for sex even though you are). Her hamster would of said "ah he actually does care about me and not only about sex" and she would of fucked anyways.

Dont explain the situation, do not mention why you went distant, she knows why. set up a next meet. Beware that within the next few days or weeks she will start asking the classic"what are we" "are you seeing anyone else" its etc. its up to you what you want at this point, but if you dont give her hope that one day something more might happen she will leave.

I'm not sure you could conclude that from OP's description. Does she know she's a plate OP? i.e. were you upfront about what you wanted from the beginning? Did you two have that "talk?" Or does she have certain expectations and now you've found yourself having to string her along just to poke her?

I'm pretty straightforward with my plates--they know I'm not at a point in life where I'm able to commit. Well, the point is to make it seem that way anyway. When this is brought up I've had quite a few express similar sentiments and thus it is implicitly agreed that we are just fwb's without being explicit in discussing "what we are." The ones who want relationships are immediately weeded out--abundance mentality--I cordially wish them good luck and next. The ones who start out good but get hit by the feels... the only way is to back out and let them down as gently as you can as a man (still challenging for me as my empathy for them in that position often softens me and guilt creeps in to cloud my mind). The ones I get the feels for... time to back out and find more abundance.

OP you know what you want, go after it. We know what it's like when you have a favorite plate that you may have to next. Think about your alternative: you waste your time playing pussy carpet and stroking her attention ego while she gets more leverage. This is her trying to play you man. She knows what she's doing, as others have said. Sex is her currency, and she's using it to try to tip the scales and get more. Awalt. Surprised? What you do is put a stop to it early on before she's got you by the balls. It might be rough on your mentality (until you get used to doing it regularly), but next her if it ultimately becomes a power struggle: if tensions rise because sex comes at a higher and higher resource cost (time, energy, money), jump ship and let her play her games with the next chad till he does the same... let her ride the cc man, let her ride...

idgaf- • 6 points • 2 June, 2016 03:53 PM

Don't explain. Be vague, you got busy. That implies you're seeing other girls. Offer a meet up and escalate aggressively.

balalasaurus • 7 points • 2 June, 2016 05:28 PM

Fuck explaining. Tell her to come over on a certain day at a certain time. Carry on as if nothing has happened. Women feed off of emotional turmoil. Telling her what the deal is removes the mystery and denies her the chance to hamster. Your job is simple: make her wonder.

Okool74 • 2 points • 2 June, 2016 04:45 PM

This isn't baseball where you get 3 strikes and go back to warming the bench. This is plate and what is appropriate behavior. There's only one strike for that.

She knows the game, but is getting butthurt because you're not supposed to play the game like that. I'd leave it at soft next for now on the off chance that she gets it together.....since you mentioned she's your favorite plate. But, in the event she still tries show you down, make it a hard next!

SoRedSuchAlpha • 1 point • 3 June, 2016 01:04 AM

I'm having a super hard time constructing the timeline here. She withheld once, or more than once? What is "diffuse" (defuse)? Did you soft-next, talk to her again, and then go radio silent, or is "diffuse and soft next" = "no contact and radio silence."?

ecosci • 1 point • 3 June, 2016 02:54 AM

Should I ask her why she is withholding it? I she says she doesn't want it, I think there has to be a reason and she could explain it.

This is why. You're trying to communicate with a woman on a rational level - you're trying to reason with her. Women are creatures of the emotion, reasoning is a male approach to things. By trying to rationalize with her, you're forcing her into a masculine role, which is a huge turn off.

Of course, you would eventually get a reason from her, but it would be some bullshit (I'm not comfortable enough, too much stress, I don't feel loved by you, etc) that's far from the actual truth (I'm not attracted to you any more). You would then proceed to fix all of the things she tells you are the cause for your sexless state, which would only make her see how desperate you really are. You can not negotiate desire.

I've edited the conclusion to my story in the original post, see how that went.

Nothing you'll ever read on this subreddit will ever be as helpful as reading this book - do it!

My favourite plate has started to shit-test me by withholding sex. I kept it cool (in order to not appear butthurt), but deep down I wasn't really amused by the situation. She has thanked me for being so understanding and we spent the rest of the day together like nothing happened.

Something is missing - you didn't specify why she didn't want to fuck. Maybe she has a legitimately good reason that's not losing attraction to you or wanting to probe for an LTR. And if it turns out that she has, why make it a dealbreaker that you didn't get candy once?

This is an awful approach. You are not engaging her hamster. You are trying to reason with a woman. Too many words. You will activate her ASD. You also acknowledge that sex is a tool for her to use to get your time straight up.

It's so much better to simply apply dread and let her figure out that sex is how she earns your time.

I can see the guy's point though. What if she DOESN'T realize that sex with fix the issue and she simply gives up(But would be willing to spread otherwise)?

All girls know that sex will get them what they want deep down

Yep, plausible deniability always needs to be maintained. I mean in her own mind

I would not give her the satisfaction of opening up or letting her know you have been affected. Girls always see these displays as male insecurity and whining. The best move is to show her she is being replaced covertly.

It's the difference between you negotiating for sex and her performing to earn your attention.

Good response. You know things are bad when a fuck buddy decides out of nowhere to withhold sex.

Convey that you've been too busy with more worthwhile endeavors, indirectly.

I'm also in the 'keep it 100' boat. Explain that sex is important to you. You have friends already, you don't need more. Tell her that unless she can quote football stats, name every player on the Warriors and/or develops a sense of humor, then sex is what this is about. Her choice.
