

And I'd rather shit in my hands and then clap than be in the same room as a dude like this.

I don't want to take a shit. I just want one turd to show up, dance a jig, play a magic flute song out of my anus, wipe my ass to the soundtrack to boys2men, and sexily donate to my makeashit foundation while wearing a thong. ☐ ☐

Partner in grime. ☐ ☐

veruscka • 323 points • 24 September, 2020 01:17 AM

Why are they so allergic to the word “relationship”?

Right, cuz everyone loves community dick. This same pos guy will shame you for being sexually confident.

Love me some community STD

Rough-Tree • 222 points • 24 September, 2020 01:42 AM

They don't want responsibility for a woman's feelings.

2340000 • 148 points • 24 September, 2020 03:33 AM

They'll never take responsibility. Men like him abuse early. So when his abuse goes from 2 to 20, he'll be able to gaslight her easier with "it was never a relationship".

SorryChef • 73 points • 24 September, 2020 05:42 AM ah yes, schroedinger's relationship. simultaneously "you're crazy if you think this is what a relationship is!" and "this relationship..."/"my girl[friend]"/"i love[d] you!", depending on the needs of his argument for that day.

fetchingmorbid • 22 points • 24 September, 2020 08:33 AM*

Which works in tandem with schrodinger's dick.

Granted, I stuck my dick inside you multiple times, but there's a burger king down the road.. and you're too clingy to be my sperm receptical but not savy enough to understand the nuances of condiments I smother on my onion ring order.

Then he'll throw some shit in air quotes and pontificate on why bitches just don't "get it".

Luecleste • 8 points • 24 September, 2020 12:50 PM

He may as well stick his dick in the burger and save everyone a lot of time.

ayhtdws1989 • 4 points • 24 September, 2020 06:15 PM

lololol poor burger

Luecleste • 2 points • 25 September, 2020 03:03 PM

It means responsibility ☐

FDSxMuffinVSrat • 263 points • 24 September, 2020 02:26 AM

It's puzzled me until right this second why men want relationships without calling them relationships.

They don't want to have to be loyal.

It puts them in a no-lose situation - if they can't find anyone else and they eventually settle for a relationship with you, then they get points for being loyal all along. But if they do find someone else, they have plausible deniability that it wasn't a relationship so they're not a bad guy for sleeping with or entering a relationship with someone else.

I've never had an issue with a guy not wanting to commit but I see it's a trend especially online.

This is why FDS is great. I didn't have to make this mistake myself and waste months or years learning the hard way. When a guy says he doesn't want a relationship and acts like he does, it means he's not a loyal person.

smaller_ang • 53 points • 24 September, 2020 07:11 AM

YEP. But they want to know the girl is always there for them ☐

galian84 • 13 points • 24 September, 2020 12:47 PM

I wish I had read this before my last ex...he was happy to date and sleep with me for a good 5 months before finally calling me his girlfriend. Seemed reluctant to even say we were exclusive.. And it still never actually felt like a relationship.

He was definitely talking to other women while we were dating. My guess is it didn't work out with them, so he settled for me.

hail_galaxar • 6 points • 24 September, 2020 01:40 PM

I don't know if he "settled" for you if he liked you the most. He just has some weird excuse to not date one person at a time.

galian84 • 5 points • 24 September, 2020 08:35 PM

Quite possibly, I'm sure I was the woman he liked most at the time. I did catch him talking to other women even after I was his girlfriend, and when he described the ideal woman he wanted to marry, it most definitely did not describe me. Plus, he seemed like he was determined to keep me at arms length for the year we were together :/

hail_galaxar • 3 points • 24 September, 2020 09:51 PM

Oh. So he wanted a friend with benefits but knew you wouldn't put up with that shit, so he gave you a girlfriend title.

InayahDaneen • 13 points • 24 September, 2020 06:36 AM

This ☐

AnniaT • 13 points • 24 September, 2020 02:27 PM

Which is why words and actions need to come together. Some people might think that it's just the actions that count. Others that it's the word. But we need the 2 of them. A man might act like he's our boyfriend and do all the boyfriend things but if he hasn't explicitly stated that it's a committed relationship, sadly we can never assume.

Some people still think that casual relationships/fwb are just the guy hitting and quitting, just having sex and nothing more. But some men will take you on dates, hold your hand in public, make plans with you, be jealous of other men, have sex and all that and then be shook when you thought you were in a relationship or be all "I don't know yet, I'm not ready for a relationship" when you want to confirm what you two have. It's ridiculous.

BasieSkanks • 3 points • 24 September, 2020 01:46 PM

You've nailed it.

chateauduchat • 525 points • 23 September, 2020 11:36 PM

InayahDaneen • 51 points • 24 September, 2020 06:35 AM

jenneschguet • 35 points • 24 September, 2020 10:53 AM

More likely, the woman will think she's in a relationship (shocker, because it is one) and then he'll drop the "I'm not ready" line and break her heart...

MiaNaim • 36 points • 24 September, 2020 11:24 AM

There's a post on r/blackpeopletwitter where a girl posted she'd been dating a guy for seven months and he asked her why she doesn't have a boyfriend.

It's this right here for me. Ladies, they often tell you. And when they do, it's in plain language.

He wants a desperate pickme who'll never leave him so he can feel free to cheat on her, lie to her, and use her.

What woman would agree to be someone in a relationship who he's not afraid to lose? He's just advertising that he won't respect you.

Your title fucking sent me ☐

Bordersz • 78 points • 24 September, 2020 02:08 AM*

I know not many people follow Bow-wow because he's washed up and a has been. But recently there was a leak of audio of him indirectly admitting to physically abusing his ex-gf (he punched her in the stomach while she was pregnant) and he cheated on her. He is scum

CarmelPeach • 38 points • 24 September, 2020 04:15 AM

Are you serious? That's awful

Bordersz • 48 points • 24 September, 2020 05:05 AM

Yup. The audio leak was a conversation he had with his ex-girlfriend, Kiyomi Leslie. and the convo was hard to listen to. Here is a YT video of an abridged version (4 min) of the leak. He is holding her hostage, told her she has to fist fight him to leave and threatens to burn her. She also said, "you promised you wouldn't hit me again".

And the way he talks to her is like he is trying to fight a grown man on a street. Just despicable. I never paid attention to him but I was honestly stunned when all of this surfaced 2 weeks ago. The guy is a psychopath esp. writing a post like that making himself a victim when he is a full blown abuser.

CloacaDiddler • 87 points • 24 September, 2020 03:32 AM

Why does it always swing between this or "I'm searching for a serious relationship so I can ask about kids on the first date, propose on the second, and then trap you in a house with unequal labor so that when I start cheating and withholding money you can't do anything about it"

Edit to your edit: They always come crawling back. Usually dustier w even worse baggage . Like bitch, we already bought that ticket and took that ride. Now you out here looking like lost claims cause noone in their right mind about to claim your bags. Lolll

Going through a divorce too from the same exact type. The physical didn't start until after our third kid. I swear they wait until they have you trapped. Glad you are doing better.

AnniaT • 4 points • 24 September, 2020 02:32 PM

" I swear they wait until they have you trapped"

That's exactly what they do. They want you to have their kids and have no means of getting your own money so that they can start the more hardcore abuse without fear of you leaving. It's disgusting.

SpaceC4se • 59 points • 24 September, 2020 03:34 AM

Men are so dramatic ☐ Meanwhile, trying to leave a relationship with the wrong guy does indeed turn out to be a death sentence for women all too often.

SpaceC4se • 30 points • 24 September, 2020 03:28 AM

"I don't want a relationship!"

That's a lot of words to say that you want every last bit of time, effort, and emotional expenditure from a woman you're not willing to be sexually exclusive with. Nah is right

Lavender_flow • 12 points • 24 September, 2020 08:02 AM

He really thought he did something there... These low IQ scrotes are the freaking worst. It is like, oh so original a man who doesn't want to commit, but wants all the benefits of a relationship. ☐ These kind of guys have pickme's trying to over-commit to get picked and will make him a plate every evening and all that shit, but in the end he is just going to keep cheating. What a treat.

Charlo4 • 7 points • 24 September, 2020 03:57 AM

The "I don't want a relationship" means "yeah I will treat you like a gf but since we are not official I will ditch like trash anytime"

Oityouthere • 7 points • 24 September, 2020 08:51 AM

"I don't want a salad..but I'll take a shredded vegetable medley"

OMG- this so perfectly fits so many of my LVM out there! I'm gonna use that line now in loads of things sunbathingpug • 7 points • 24 September, 2020 10:12 AM

Imagine doing all this for him, thinking you're the one for him but he just has to realise it, hoping for that ring daily, and he ends up cheating on you. When you get upset with him, he tells you "we weren't in a relationship anyway".

I honestly feel for women who go through this to prove themselves to be worthy. I hope they'll see the light one day and realise that they're the prize and not these men.

bitch_not_it • 4 points • 24 September, 2020 01:13 PM

This is the same greedy low effort stupidly slimy mentality of companies trying to act like "the experience" of an internship is just as valuable, "if not MORE," as getting paid for all the work they're planning to squeeze out of you

BasieSkanks • 6 points • 24 September, 2020 01:45 PM

This guy's sentiments is very common, though. And it's why FDS is needed so badly.

localgirlcult • 5 points • 24 September, 2020 11:04 AM

He wants to "build" with her□ What? A sandcastle? Cause that's all you're gonna get if you don't wanna seriously commit to a real relationship. He wants to "build" lmao. Get your Lego out, that's all you're good for.

Also, I can't believe I used to be attracted to this guy. Really hiding some shit under that face. The epitome of no value man.

smarterthanhou • 5 points • 24 September, 2020 12:50 PM

I'm a small business owner! I want to own my own business and go to conventions and make lots of money. I don't want to file LLC paperwork or make a business plan or take out a loan for capital. I don't have any contacts or a network or skills. It's a partnership based on trust and growth, huge growth potential!

You show up in the morning, pay the taxes, rent and furnish our offices, bring your own computer and lunch, pay for benefits and unemployment insurance, build a network, design a prototype, create a supply line, market our services, handle the boring stuff like infrastructure and customer service and make the coffee.

I am a entrepreneur!

MRgoudaonionspickles • 6 points • 24 September, 2020 01:24 PM

corago513 • 3 points • 24 September, 2020 11:42 AM

I thought lil bow wow was already canceled when he pretended to be flying on a private jet. Too bad all the rappers and music moguls that bright him up didn't teach him HVM qualities or even set him up for financial success.

mymindmybrain • 2 points • 24 September, 2020 12:54 PM
