

Asian Male in US

Have some time and thinking of doing a month-long travel to somewhere in the US. I enjoy the challenge of being Asian and gaming, but would like to hear where being Asian could be more advantageous.

Currently hearing conflicting theories: 1) going to more diverse and liberal areas - naturally more Asians, girls are more open to interracial. (I.e. east/west coast) 2) going to more homogenous and conservative areas - rarity and exoticness.

Thoughts? Thank you for your time.

Edit - Also curious about European countries for asian men.

Asian male is one of the most persistent male in the planet due to their nomadic and non-conformist genes. So its better to roam in areas with high circulation like stations and well trodden routes.

non-conformist genes

Lol, are you kidding me?
