

So I M19 asked a girl out for the first time...

I am at work and me and this girl F22 ish are clicking pretty well, she spends her break shooting the shit with me, joking around. We vibe pretty well, and I don't think about it at the time, but she seems pretty cool. Later on I decide I'm gonna ask her out, and it takes a minute to grow some balls but I do, the interaction goes something like this -

A friend of hers who I know - I asked the friend if the girl was single, I believe the other girl was cockblocking me - wouldn't stop fucking talking, when I try to approach, nonstop and she knows I'm gonna ask this girl out. I give it a few minutes before my patience wears out and I'm a hair away from shoving a stapler down her throat, I get the main girls attention and I ask her:

Me: "I'm gonna be blunt, do you wanna go out sometime?"

Her: "I'm afraid of commitment."

Me: "That's alright. We can go out get food and talk about how marvel is better than dc." (That is one thing she's interested in)

Her: "okay"

Me: "great, can I get your number?"

Her: writes down her number on a piece of paper, I ask her what she wants me to save her name as in my contacts and we joke a bit.

Almost immediately after I left I felt my level of fucks drop to zero and I don't know why.

I still have her number but I'm probably not going to text her for at least a week, partially because I'm busy on my purpose and partially because I can't make myself care enough to do it right now.

Anyway it boosted my self esteem, Saturday I asked two other girls out and went 0/2 so at least getting on base is a good feeling.

Tldr; asked a girl out, immediately afterward I stopped caring, probably won't text her for a week, is this normal? Also was my interaction okay?

Pretty key part of the story. I guess he wants to learn it the hard way.

If the job is a short term part time job (cashier, starbucks, etc), this rule doesn't really apply. It's advice only for those who's working a real job.

Meloxian[S] • 7 points • 15 October, 2019 03:38 PM

Edit: it's a part time job working at a grocery store, I've already put in my two weeks notice.

If she's attractive, the longer you wait the more dudes did the same as you or better. Strike while the iron's hot.

trp369 • 13 points • 15 October, 2019 05:30 AM

This. But not straight away though. You only ever text hot girls past 8pm.

Meloxian[S] • 3 points • 15 October, 2019 03:43 PM

Alright, so I've already kerplacked the fuck asleep last night, how long you'll think I should wait? What later on tonight?

PartyCanceller • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 05:02 PM

Yup text her tonight

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 16 October, 2019 02:24 AM

Bout to do that, you got any texting tips?

PartyCanceller • 1 point • 16 October, 2019 01:00 PM

Keep it light and keep it brief. Remember the 2/3 rule (if she texts you 3 messages, you text back 2 etc.). Set up a time and date to meet and then end the conversation. Leave it at something like "Ok looking forward to it, see you then!" Good luck champ

So funny story I tried to be smooth with this opener, sounds a lot better in my head than how it turned out;

Me: Hey, I checked the number and it looks like I pulled damn near a dime yesterday...

How did your studying go?

Her: She sent me this gif she doesn't understand

Me: That's alright, I can help you understand in person. You free tomorrow?

PartyCanceller • 1 point • 16 October, 2019 02:41 PM

Short and sweet, very nice. Hope all goes well for you!

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 17 October, 2019 12:51 PM

Hey a quick question: It seems like a lot of girls at work were throwing me ioi's yesterday, is this unusual?

PartyCanceller • 1 point • 17 October, 2019 01:45 PM

No it's pretty common actually. Enjoy being a handsome motherfucker and welcome to the redpill

QawL • 9 points • 15 October, 2019 06:37 AM

Because you got the validation you needed, make a date work out. For your mind it's happened already so you stopped caring. If the goal was sleeping with her you still would've stocked about her.

You could just text her "Hey, I'm what's up?" and leave it like this for when you really wanna hang out. The date you don't care would be boring for her as well. Just try to have a good time.

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 03:47 PM

Can you define stocked about her?

QawL • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 04:39 PM

Basically you already got the validation so your desire to move ahead is finished. Try to have a good time with the date

IXseed • 4 points • 15 October, 2019 11:49 AM

Interaction proolly could of went a lot better. Avoid the "blunt" statements and just let the close come out naturally. Less pressure.

DON'T TALK TO FRIENDS ABOUT GIRLS YOU'RE TRYING TO ASK OUT

Real G move in silence.

Also don't ask her or her friends if she's single. Gives off to much of a bf vibe (which is why you got the whole "afraid of commitment" excuse)

You got that boost since this is the first time you've got a number. But remember, eyes on the prize. You're not here to get a bunch of numbers. You're here to fuck.

Get her on a date, escalate and drop your dick off.

Godspeed.

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 03:57 PM

Thanks, actually as unpopular as this is I was hoping for a LTR of some kind because I've never had one I wanna try it out, it's not gonna be this girl though it seems like, but I've never fucked either so I guess I can knock this one off my checklist.

A dumb questions:

1. Where should I drop my dick off? I guess I can get creative, because I'm still living with my moms, and the girl is living with her grandma.

IXseed • 1 point • 16 October, 2019 07:06 AM

Yea you're gonna have to get creative. Bushes. Dayrooms. Cars. I'm sure there's some abandon places or nooks around your city where you guys can get some alone time for 15 mins

MattyAnon • 5 points • 15 October, 2019 02:21 PM

Her: "I'm afraid of commitment."

Implication: fucking is fine.

Me: "great, can I get your number?"

Next time phrase as an order rather than question.

Almost immediately after I left I felt my level of fucks drop to zero and I don't know why.

Confidence and satisfaction she's interested.

Follow up on this with some low key texting so she doesn't feel hurt, then proceed to NOT SHITTING WHERE YOU EAT

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 03:58 PM

Edit: it's a local grocery store, and I've already put in my two weeks.

Jesusfeminist • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 07:25 AM

It's okay, but sounds like u didn't make it obvious you want to fuck her, be careful not to become one of her girlfriends talking about marvel all day

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 04:03 PM

Dumb question: how exactly should I make it obvious, I'm up for anything and I've never exactly gone blunt and said "hey, I wanna fuck You" before.

ConspiracyPill • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 05:59 PM

Marvel is better than DC

That's where you lost me mate.

Meloxian[S] • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 06:13 PM

Haha, were gonna have to fight this out; setup a boxing ring, lets fucking go!!!

ArnoldT1000 • 1 point • 15 October, 2019 08:05 AM

You care more about validation than actual sex, which is beta.

Do not seek validation. Seek goals. If you want sex, have sex. If you want validation, realign your priorities.

Meloxian[S] • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 04:15 PM

All people care about validation, and this is especially nice because this girl is hot and I've never had this before in my life.

But overall The frame of mind I had going into it was just honesty, “hey I like this girl, she’s attractive and has a bomb personality, I’ve only got this one life and I wanna make some things happen”

I was looking for an LTR and still am, because I’ve never had one and want to try it out. I don’t mind just fucking her and knocking it out of my system, but I think I’m outcome independent, Even if I like something I don’t need shit and will be okay with whatever.

ArnoldT1000 • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 04:29 PM

This is where you’re wrong. If all you care about is validation, prepare for a life of constant neuroticism and depression.

Meloxian[S] • 3 points • 15 October, 2019 05:07 PM

And that’s where you’re wrong, you seem to have this all or nothing mindset where people either care all about validation or they don’t care about it at all, there are differing levels. I personally enjoy it whenever I get it, and I’d enjoy getting it, but I don’t need it and don’t actively search for it, and I try and validate myself more than getting external validation.

ArnoldT1000 • 0 points • 15 October, 2019 06:15 PM

“All people care about is validation”

That is in your own words. Quit projecting.

Meloxian[S] • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 06:27 PM

No, my words are “all people (everyone) care(s) about validation” as in our brains are literally hardwired to produce dopamine and oxytocin when we get it - it’s to increase social bonding, and it’s because we like this feeling that we enjoy the validation and try to get more of it.

It seems like you’re intentionally misquoting and straw manning me - changing the context - to mean “the only thing people care about is validation” which isn’t my opinion. Misquoting me here is dumb, because my opinion is literally a few threads up for everyone to see where you did it.

I don’t know if this is an internal issue with you that you’re projecting onto me but I’m not qualified nor paid well enough to deal with it, nor do I have the time; the only piece of advice I’ll give you is in order to change anything about yourself you have to accept the reality of the situation.

Good luck.

ArnoldT1000 • 2 points • 15 October, 2019 06:35 PM*

Wow, I actually misread what you said. I thought you said all people care about IS validation, not all people care about validation. Lol.

I can agree that most people care about validation, but it isn’t something you should actively pursue and you shouldn’t try to be like most people. You shouldn’t need a woman’s validation for your sense of self-esteem. Sure, it can increase your confidence with women when you’re starting out, but it still shouldn’t impact your sense of self.

Your self esteem should be based on your purpose.

You’ll find that after a while, you’ll no longer get those dopamine/oxytocin spikes when someone validates you, because that shit won’t matter to you anymore.

If you feel validated by someone, you are putting them above you. Remember that.
