And we have an update.

It appears the lawyer for the plaintiff is an idiot and the judge just greased and pegged them.

I'm sure there is lots of REEEEing all over reddit right now.

Your DNA will tell me.

End of story.

Chemical castration, and prescription puberty blockers. This is no transition into becoming a woman. This is being forced to be a sterile little boy for your whole life. This is beyond disgusting and inhumane.

HereComeTheIrish13 • 177 points • 22 October, 2019 04:52 PM*

Unless transition surgery has progressed a whole lot these kids won't even be able to have a gaping wound in their crotch that loosely approximates female genitals because their male genitals will be too small and underdeveloped to work with adequately...and that's assuming the kid is 100% committed to transitioning. if as his father claims this is a looney mother forcing this on a kid then he's going to be a man stuck in a child's body. Either way, completely fucked.

JihadNinjaCowboy • 52 points • 22 October, 2019 05:22 PM

Yup, that was pointed out in "How the Sausage is Made".

GroundhogLiberator • 173 points • 22 October, 2019 06:30 PM

How the sausage is unmade, more like

Poor kid. He'll probably commit suicide by 25, then his mom will cry and say it's because daddy didn't accept having a trans child.

Plan_o-f_Will • 112 points • 22 October, 2019 08:46 PM

Women are children. Make a mess, be dead wrong but committed and delusional, keep fucking up until everything falls apart. Cry and blame others for your failure. Have someone pick you up and learn nothing at all.

RileysRevenge • 25 points • 23 October, 2019 12:08 AM

Yikes. This is far too accurate.

papunigga031 • 16 points • 23 October, 2019 02:29 AM

This may sound like bitching anger phase shit but it's actually important for men to know. Recognize these patterns and don't let yourself fall victim to them.

Plan_o-f_Will • 5 points • 23 October, 2019 05:19 AM

Oh yeah man. It's actually the distillation of a ton of experience lovingly laid out in a state of calm acceptance. Anger phase was back in 2012ish. I went through the whole deal multiple times when it didn't quite stick and I only recently came back again after a long journey to drop a nugget of truth here and there. Paying back into the well of wisdom, if you will.

What helped it finally stick was experiencing the worst that a couple of women could offer so I had to face the pain and fear and adapt, building an ideological framework on top of TRP that fully integrated it into my daily perception, and a little bit of old fashioned tarnish and weary acceptance that comes with experience and age.

nickcato • 13 points • 23 October, 2019 12:52 AM

Wow this is the most true shit I've read in a long while.

Plan_o-f_Will • 25 points • 23 October, 2019 05:40 AM

Yeah. It's basically every rough breakup, shitty female comedy act or failed petty female group project that I've seen go awry. Basically the state of mind you were in at 12-15 is where most women stay, and the hotter they are the more coddled and delusional they're allowed to be by their army of enablers.

Objectivity is the rare result of a substantial amount of grey matter ramming at 100mph directly into the fuck you brick wall that is life. Some men are broken by it, some men pretend it isn't happening or lean their backs to it, others artfully dodge it with the help of good genes and training, others still are forced to smack into it headfirst, shake off the dust and humiliation and start climbing.

Men do hit the wall. They hit a lot of walls. There is a wall at 15, a wall at 18, 20, 23, 25, 30, 40, 50 etc. Life can break you at any moment, but it's your ability to climb, dodge, mindfuck or with determined action plough the fuck through these walls that makes you a man that's worth even a single shit to anyone but your mother.

Women prefer dangerous, daring 'assholes' over nice guys 7 days of the week not because girls are mean, but because life is mean and you have to be willing and able to be meaner, more ruthless and savage than the competition. She needs a strong man so that when she approaches difficulties in life she can count on you to make them look like child's play, and what you find so appealing about her is that impish innocence that comes with never finding out just how bad it fucking hurts to smash through those brick walls.

SJWs are busy bees. It starts with Vermont:

<https://www.burlingtonfreepress.com/story/news/2019/06/12/vermont-opens-door-gender-affirming-surgery-youth-transgender-trans-kids/1381261001/>

Dr. Rachel Inker, who works for the Transgender Health Clinic at the Community Health Centers of Burlington: "The choice to have surgery is a personal one that should be explored in every age group."

<https://humanservices.vermont.gov/on-line-rules/health-care-administrative-rules-hcar/hcar-4.238-gender-affirmation-surgery-final-proposed-rule-clean.pdf/view>

Proposed coverage rules - 4.238.2 Covered Services - Genital surgeries:

1 - Orchiectomy 2 - Penectomy

Yes, surgical removal of the testes and the penis. AT ANY AGE.

collegueguy115 • 48 points • 23 October, 2019 12:10 AM*

Identity politics is a slippery slope. It went from "I guess we can let gay people marry" to "it's completely acceptable to surgically remove prepubescent boys' genitals" in what, like 4 years?

George_Rockwell • 35 points • 23 October, 2019 01:25 AM

And we were shamed at the time for predicting this outcome as a slippery slope "fallacy."

LaFayette4031 • 16 points • 23 October, 2019 01:36 AM

And we didn't even see this coming. We were worried about furies and pedophiles, but instead they're out there mutilating kids bodies for life.

verumvelfalsum • 7 points • 23 October, 2019 08:04 PM

And we didn't even see this coming.

Speak for yourself. Many people clearly saw this coming from decades away, but were silenced and ostracized by the Church of Progressivism.

LaFayette4031 • 2 points • 24 October, 2019 01:45 AM

Like I said, it's worse than I expected. Surely you couldn't have seen this specific situation coming.

The chaotic evilness of progressivists is astounding.

verumvelfalsum • 2 points • 25 October, 2019 04:33 AM

you couldn't have seen this specific situation

If by specific you mean that it was in Texas, the female isn't the biological mother, and it happened in October, you would be right. If by specific you mean that the Powers propagandizing our civilization would, through its proxies of the controlled judiciary and medicine, play cut and paste with kids' bodies under a fancy brand of Transgenderism, you would be wrong.

Just FYI, rarely do I post from a personal perspective on this forum because the topics I comment on are better served from a third-person, rational perspective, but I thought my message here might not be lost on someone like you.

Personally, I knew this was coming over a decade ago, when I was still a hormone-charged teenager in high school, just before the Obama years as the LGBT hype was entering overdrive and really pervading the public consciousness. The overtness of all types of degenerate propaganda was essentially nonexistent relative to today, but all of the underpinnings were solidly entrenched, most notably that of political correctness (read: objective incorrectness), all of this in a very good high school in a non-leftist area.

My point is if you actually find many of the happenings of our society in the recent few years to be surprising, then I'd highly urge you to explore more "red pills" on various contemporary and historical topics. Keep an honest, open mind toward literally everything you think you might know, and hold the pursuit of objective knowledge as the highest virtue, always wary of the human tendency in all of us to rationalize ego-validation.

This was way longer than I wanted it to be, so thanks for reading if you made it this far.

The chaotic evilness of progressivists is astounding.

I think you overestimate the intelligence and more importantly, mental agency, of all types of normies, including right-leaning ones, and yet still underestimate the chaotic evilness of our Rulers. Thus ends my personal spiel.

HereComeTheIrish13 • 14 points • 22 October, 2019 08:59 PM*

Yes, but what do you think blocking puberty does to the penis. The kid is gonna have a prepubescent sized penis as an adult which will impact transition surgery if actually trans, and will destroy sex life if not.

verumvelfalsum • 5 points • 22 October, 2019 09:40 PM

You didn't chug the Koolaid but someone spiked your drink with it and you haven't noticed if you think there is such a thing as being "actually trans" that isn't simply a mix of various mental illnesses. Certainly, the solution to being "actually trans" does not involve removal and mutilation of genitals and using them to LARP as Play-doh.

HereComeTheIrish13 • 6 points • 22 October, 2019 09:55 PM

you're right, using that phrase was granting them too much. The point I was getting at was even if the kid does decide that he actually wants to surgically mutilate his genitals into a twisted mockery of a vagina, and it isn't all his mother's sick delusions, the surgeon won't have much to work with due to the effects of the puberty blockers.

I understood your point, which is why I didn't challenge it. I called out your use of newspeak because it is a critical vector through which neoliberal degeneracy is spread, and people who are ostensibly opposed to the agenda are still unknowingly helping to propagate it whenever they use newspeak.

TL;DR: The use of newspeak, even with limited sincerity, in any manner other than total mockery, implicitly validates its truthfulness.

HereComeTheIrish13 • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 10:28 PM

I'll accept that, can't argue your point especially when I aggressively call out aliens being called immigrants. Newspeak should only be used with dripping irony, like how woke and sjw have become terms of mockery.

RanaMahal • 1 point • 19 November, 2019 12:50 PM

i know i'm late to the party but what's wrong with legal immigration? this is the shit sometimes that makes me scratch my head with TRP as a brown guy born in canada. if you mean illegal immigration than ya fuck those people cuz it took a lot for my grandfather to get here and they just wanna do it without any of the work or effort

HereComeTheIrish13 • 1 point • 19 November, 2019 02:01 PM*

That's the whole point I'm making, "Illegal Immigrants" aren't immigrants at all, because they are actively avoiding following immigration law. They are aliens (subjects of a another government) illegally in the country, once you go through a legal immigration process you are subject of your new country, and thus not an alien. The term illegal immigrant, which then pivoted to undocumented immigrant, which then pivoted to just calling them immigrants as if they were here lawfully is an attempt to conflate illegally entering the country with lawfully entering, as shown by the continual further watering down of the term. My point is I reject any watered down terms on this language, if you follow immigration law, you are an immigrant, if you sneak across the border you are an illegal alien, not a refugee or an undocumented immigrant or whatever else the term du jour is.

boywonder200 • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 12:09 AM

Not supporting transition surgery whatsoever, but I think its important to be informed on the issue.

Surgeons really don't need much tissue to do gender transition surgery. On top of this, once you block puberty, the body is arrested in that state. Upon cessation of the GnRH agonist, you can give the teenager the hormones of their desired gender. If testosterone, the dude will develop a normal pork and beans. If estrogen/progesterone/spironolactone, the child will develop a gynecoid structure with a female voice. But like you said, the penis will remain small. Many trans women prefer to keep their penis, some don't. Either way, I'm sure some topical DHT cream can be applied to the penis to make it large enough for surgery.

gprime312 • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 01:39 AM

Surgeons really don't need much tissue to do gender transition surgery.

Jazz's surgeons would disagree. If you don't know who that is, google it.

Not as young as 7 but didn't that trans girl who has her own reality show get one? Pretty sure she's like 15.

Captainpenispants • 1 point • 30 December, 2019 10:18 AM

With parental consent and after she had been living 15 years as female yes

JayCraeful0351 • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 03:26 AM i think theres studies out there, if you give your kid HGH, human growth hormone at an early age, He will grow up to have a well above average penis. Also i think HGH cures early signs of micro penis in children.

but atleast theres hope, maybe by the time the kid is 10, the mother will be in jail for child abuse, and the father can start the kid on HGH.

TFWnoLTR • 30 points • 22 October, 2019 09:30 PM

Unfortunately there is no real way to channel that level of commitment into a solution. The state would kill the dad and then there would likely be nobody left for the boy to rely on when he inevitably spirals into depression and regret in about ten years.

no_its_a_subaru • 25 points • 22 October, 2019 09:50 PM

At least they did it for science and to try and win an actual war. These people are imo even worse because they don't have a reason to do this besides "my kid picked up a Barbie once so he must be a girl."

For any lost reddior that might stumble upon this post I'm not endorsing or approving of anything unit 731 did and either is this subreddit.

laserdicks • 13 points • 23 October, 2019 01:24 AM

It's worse than that. Normal people don't force their kids to transition just for picking up a barbie. They do it as a weapon against the father, and the authority he represents.

That a child gets hurt in the process is entirely irrelevant to her own reality.

RanaMahal • 1 point • 19 November, 2019 12:54 PM

ya jesus fuck like i used to play with my older cousin's barbies when i was a kid and purple is my favourite colour but somehow i can like purple and be a fucking man at the same time it's not a hard concept. i don't understand these new mothers obsessed with making sure their stupid ass child who doesn't even know what a girl or boy really is, can "transition" into one verumvelfalsum 3 points 22 October, 2019 09:58 PM [recovered]

Holding such a myopic and binary view of what makes a "good" or "bad" person, as dictated by a cucked society, is a big reason why the West is at this stage today. If this father were an actual "good" man, he would not have married a depraved monster, would not have used said trashcan as an incubator for his child with someone else's genes, and certainly would not have allowed his son to be dragged into mortal danger over the course of several years.

Being a weak, deferential man in no way makes him "too good of a person."

The election of Trump seems to have misled a lot of people into thinking "we're saved", which couldn't be further from the truth. The reality is until (and only if) a majority of useful humans understands and accepts just how far we have fallen, there will be no chance of a potential reversal.

I agree brotha, this whole thing has sorta, kinda put me in shock. I am worried for the future. What sort of person does this to any kid much less their own kid? Much money and effort has been expended to ensure that this innocent child will have a short and terrible life. How does this mother sleep at night? She might as well throw the kid into a bonfire.

electricspresident • 27 points • 22 October, 2019 07:50 PM

He was fucked from the start. Reading the end of the article it seems they used an egg donor. He didn't even impregnate this woman. Not only that he was essentially a sperm donor and the eggs were from some another female donor.

The kids were made in a fucking lab.

TricksterOfFate • 22 points • 22 October, 2019 08:55 PM

Technically, he is the biological parent of the kid. The mother is not related to the kid by dna.

FlenZepla • 15 points • 23 October, 2019 01:48 AM

Yea, it's not her genetic legacy on the line, what fucks does she give? Courts ruling in favor of what amounts to a step-mom over a child's biological father. If the boy is "trans-gender" (which is a mental illness, not an actual thing) he can start snipping shit off when he's an adult and then decide to kill himself. That way all his high school classmates don't have to endure the ole moment of silence heralded by the principle over the PA, having to hold back their snickering for a whole minute during what should have been a minute of education/indoctrination.

nine-acorn • 1 point • 29 October, 2019 07:09 PM

You think 11 random Texans (I'm guessing 12th abstained?) are that crazy?

Of course not.

The article is sensationalism sadly.

I don't think a "Jury" rules on matters like what pills to dope up your kids with. That's more of law than a preponderance of evidence or guilt.

So what were they deciding? Custody.

Daddy wanted sole custody of the kids, and the jury ruled against it unanimously, NOTHING MORE.

I'm pretty sure from other articles, the pills and puberty blockers wouldn't start until Age 15 --- the kid is 7 --- so 8 more years of hemming and hawing and bullshit. The kid will probably outgrow his "Princess Fantasy" by then.

So yeah --- this whole article is just sensationalist bullshit about two parents who want to call their kids Jim vs. Luna. It's embarrassing that it's even a news story.

Yeah the Mom is crazy but calling your son "Kimberly" isn't strong enough abuse to warrant CPS, so no custody changed. Wow, shocking.

RightHandWolf • 43 points • 22 October, 2019 07:07 PM*

What the fuck are they putting in the Dallas water supply for a jury to come to this kind of decision? Just over 7 years ago, a 23 year-old father caught a 47 year-old man in the act of sexually assaulting his 5 year-old daughter. The father literally beat the pedophile to death with his bare hands, and called 911 for an ambulance, since the rapist was still alive at that point, but died before any first responders arrived. The Sheriff of Lavaca County declined to press charges. The matter did go before a grand jury, and the grand jury also decided not proceed with an indictment.

linky-thingy:

<https://www.nytimes.com/2012/06/20/us/father-not-charged-in-killing-of-man-molesting-his-daughter-5.html>

A few years prior to that, there was another case in Dallas, where a man who had fled Texas to avoid charges of indecency with a child was extradited back to Texas. Somebody must have tipped the father off as far as when and where, because the father was waiting in the unsecured area of the airport. When the US Marshalls deplaned with the prisoner and were escorting the prisoner out of the airport, the father of the victim stepped forward and shot the pedophile dead. The father immediately dropped the weapon and cooperated completely while being taken into custody.

Yes, the case was sent to the District Attorney's Office, but the grand jury refused to hand down an indictment.

Again, I ask: Is somebody drugging the water supply in Dallas, or is Texas being overrun by bed-wetting libtards migrating here from New York, Illinois and California? What the fuck is going on in Dallas?

verumvelfalsum • 18 points • 22 October, 2019 10:49 PM

All of the five largest cities in Texas are overrun with leftists of all flavors, and it will only get worse. The next one or two elections are likely to be the last ever won by a Republican (leftist-lite) in Texas.

throwlaca • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 02:14 AM

The Sheriff of Lavaca County declined to press charges.

haha awesome.

Quite dangerous tough. At that point he might not have any proof that a crime actually happened.

RightHandWolf • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 05:42 PM

The linked story detailed the reasoning of the Sheriff, which included the father's 911 call; his frantic demeanor on the phone line where he offered to transport the rapist himself since the ambulance was taking so long to arrive, and the subsequent physical exam of the daughter which showed injuries consistent with the family's version of events.

KarmicPrism • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 03:42 AM

I don't think it's that crazy not to charge a man who defended his daughter and beat to death a pedophile, who broke and entered his home and raped his little girl, in the grand scheme of things, it's kinda a justice although that's not how the justice system should work, I'd imagine many of us would get carried away in the heat of the moment when you catch an unknown man sexually assaulting your daughter in your home.

RightHandWolf • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 05:48 PM

I never said it was unreasonable at all. Personally, I would have castrated the pedophile with a rusty knife, washed the area with salt and rubbing alcohol, and then cauterized the wound with a Bic lighter. If he was still alive a week later, I might consider dumping him off anonymously at the Emergency Room. . . Not!

KarmicPrism • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 10:59 PM

Wait then why did you put forth these examples? I understood that it was because they were all equally outrageous.

RightHandWolf • 1 point • 24 October, 2019 01:41 AM

I put these examples out there because until just recently, society and the judicial system talked a really good game about the best interests of the children, even going so far as to give parents quite a bit a leeway when it came to protecting their offspring from sexual predators.

The first case happened on the family ranch, when the girl's brother saw the predator grab his sister and head off towards an outbuilding on the property. He went and got his father, who ran to start checking the sheds and whatnot. The rapist had dropped his pants and was forcibly attempting to rape a 5 year old girl. I imagine there isn't a jury in Texas that would convict a parent under those circumstances. More to the point, under Texas law, deadly force is allowed to prevent a forcibly felony, such as rape. The father in this case was not only morally in the right, but was legally justified in legitimate defense of an innocent third party.

The other case, where a father gunned down a pedophile months after the episode could qualify as murder, in that:

- 1) Months later, it is a little difficult to claim "heat of the moment";
- 2) Someone must have provided the father with a bit of intel, since he knew which flight, which terminal and what time to intercept the man accused of indecency with a child (the father's child).
- and 3) His actions were methodical enough, and planned enough to be evidence of someone who knew exactly what he was doing. Premeditation, months of planning, and carrying it out in a very rational, methodical manner would make it first degree murder.

The point is that although the legal system used to make a pretense of looking after the children, that is no longer the case. Parents have a legal right and moral duty to protect their children. Every once in a while, there will be a case where the parents get in trouble because of not preventing, or even actively allowing their offspring to do something illegal. The charge is usually "contributing to the delinquency of a minor." An example would be having a party at the house and allowing underage drinking to take place. Parents these days are getting nailed on that one all the time here in this former Land of the Free.

30 years ago, it was no big thing. One of my co-workers threw a high school graduation party for her daughter. Alcohol was present; underage drinking was taking place, but this was in a controlled environment with parental supervision. No problems occurred, even when some of the cops showed up - they had handled an accident down the street and noticed all the cars parked in front of the house. A small, suburban town about an hour west of Chicago with about 6,000 people. Sounds crazy, but this was 1988; you could still cut loose a little bit, so long as things were being watched over by the parental units.

My parents allowed my sister and I to have a glass of wine with dinner at Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas at the age of 12. We were also allowed a glass of champagne as we watched the ball drop in Times Square on TV on New Year's Eve. In 30 years, the roles of parents and government have swapped places. Parents had a great deal of latitude, so long as things were under their supervision and control - government involvement only came about if there was evidence of neglect, abuse, or ongoing criminal activity. Now, parents have limited authority, and basically have to look over their shoulder for Uncle Sam's approval. You watch. Soon, little chores such as mowing the lawn, washing the car, or walking the dog to earn an allowance will be subject to regulation. Think I'm joking? In Austin, Texas, it is a violation of City Ordinance to wash your car by hand. The garden hose and 3-gallon bucket of soapy water can't be used for washing your own car on your own property. These neo-fascists require you to wear a helmet for riding your bicycle. A little itty-bitty bike that weighs less than 50 pounds and can maybe go 40 miles an hour if you're really cranking it, and you are required to wear a helmet under City Ordinance. Meanwhile, a motorcycle rider does NOT have to wear a helmet.

This kind of thing used to be common. Back in the day, if someone fucked your wife and you murdered them, no DA would press charges because they knew a conviction was impossible.

You are quite right.

Only the elites and their jackboot thugs should be allowed to DO violence (to us, of course).

If the elites decided to round us up and exterminate us, we should still not talk of resisting. In fact, we should jump up and down and say how great it is we are being exterminated.

Maybe even put on some music to celebrate like "Vengabus" and dance, while we are put on trains.

Self-defense as a response to violence is a human right, and mutilating children IS violence. In fact, I don't know things much more violent than state-sanctioned mutilation.

Oh, and here's a big heads up. Steve Huffman, CEO of this censoring (violence-phobic) shit-show called Reddit, knows this degenerate system is collapsing - it is why he has a bunker in New Zealand. Don't take MY word for it:

JihadNinjaCowboy • 6 points • 22 October, 2019 07:56 PM

There is no solution.

The only solution is realizing that you are on a sinking ship, and preparing accordingly. If you don't have a 5-year supply of food, and the ability to grow you own food before that supply runs out, then you are going to die when everything plays out.

Interesting how consensus has a new meaning in these wild times.

Kinda how 'boy' doesn't mean 'boy' anymore.

Rollo_Mayhem3 • 9 points • 22 October, 2019 04:59 PM

The jury ruled to give the "mother" custody and because there are no laws stopping her behavior, the kid will be ruined. Nevertheless, the suit wasn't about what the mother planned to do but more about custody.

HighPiracy • 11 points • 22 October, 2019 04:46 PM

Consensus means a general agreement. It does not mean everyone voting the same way.

Bleu_Cheese_Pursuits 1 points 22 October, 2019 05:04 PM* [recovered]

The first definition of "consensus" on Merriam-Webster says "general agreement: unanimity". "Unanimity" means "all". So I guess it depends how you define "general agreement". Personally, I always have and always will use consensus to indicate unanimity. Otherwise I would just say "majority" where they use "consensus". Less vague, considering that "general agreement" also accounts for the possibility of there being "unanimity".

HighPiracy • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 05:48 PM

Also depends on where you find the definition, as the Cambridge dictionary never uses the word unanimity.

All criminal cases require a unanimous vote, while civil cases do not.

Think it was high school law class - when the word got its definition. Which would make sense.

Greaterbird • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 08:22 PM

Consensus in civil cases has different requirements than criminal cases.

toalysium • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 01:57 AM

To find by the preponderance in Texas a civil district court jury only needs 10 of 12 jurors.

To find someone guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a criminal case requires all 12.

Different burdens of proof.

That kid will look at himself when he was 7 when he was normal and a boy and remember what his mother did to him and will more likely than not lead to depression and suicide. And this already broke the family, I dont see the father staying married to a mother like that and his own child mutilated basically.

Tell me again how the Radical Muslims hate us for our "freedoms"?

ROTFLMAO.

They hate us for our degeneracy.

Its the Leftists that hate freedom, and want to censor speech, ban your right to self-defense, and give more power to the State, while at the same time contributing to the kind of degeneracy that makes other cultures recoil from us in disgust and want to lash out at us.

Flesh_Pillow5 • 17 points • 22 October, 2019 04:10 PM*

Mohammed would fuck trannie if he was alive today. Cumon he was found having sex with body of his dead wife. Mohammed is the biggest degenerate in history. Look at your hadiths. He had sex slaves. SEX SLAVES. He was also attracted to little boys hence why he would kiss them and stick his tongue down their throat. Saying it'll bless and save the child's tongue from the hellfire Is just BS. Look at your hadiths.

Crap. Suddenly occurred to me my name could be interpreted as me being Muslim or something.

No, it was a reference to my 3 main FPS-game modes: Jihad, Ninja, and Cowboy.

Jihad is like when I go after some shitty hacker repeatedly. Ninja is when I'm lying in wait in the corner and take out the entire room. Cowboy is when I jump out of a helicopter while tossing grenades and gun blazing.

Nah man. I'm an atheist who has nonetheless recognized that secularism has failed.

Flesh_Pillow5 • 2 points • 22 October, 2019 04:50 PM

Lol. Coolest thing he did was fly on a winged donkey to negotiate prayer schedules in Jannah(heaven). brought him down from like 90 to like 4 times a day. How kind of Allah. Allah and Christian God are actually different. Allah is of pagan origin. Keep in mind mohammed is from the 7th century at a time when paganism was common. Allah has a wife Allut and they have divine daughters. The average Muslim knows nothing of Islam. You can see remnants of paganism by the fact that mohammed prayed to pagan Gods at one point. Also think about the worship of the black stone at Kabal. Worshipping a stone?!? Sounds like shirk which is punishable by death. Also research the Satanic verses, mohammed was even bewitched at one point. Also Allah is a deceitful God according to Islamic texts. Totally different from God in Christianity. Also what was they first thing he attempted to when he first heard the message of God via the angel. He tried to commit suicide because he thought he was demon possessed. Everyone should read the Quran. Even just for a laugh. It's a cult essentially.

JihadNinjaCowboy • 1 point • 22 October, 2019 04:56 PM*

A moon god I believe, is where they got the crescent moon symbol.

Christianity appropriated a lot of pagan stuff (Yule-Dec 21, St. Brigit's Day-Feb 1/2, Spring solstice-March 21, All Saint's Day-Oct 31, etc) Muslims did the same.

Its a matter of historical record.

Also, I believe specifically, Mohammed copied a lot from the Jewish tribes in Arabia, as well as from the Gnostic Christians. He had a bit of exposure to both.

Flesh_Pillow5 • 4 points • 22 October, 2019 05:02 PM

Except Islam borrowed from Christianity and Judaism aswell and then the average Muslim resides on a high horse believing their religion is authentic out sheer willful and embarrassingly aggressive ignorance. There's Jewish kid's fables, bed time stories that appear in the Quran as fact lol. It's all very questionable when you research the archaeological evidence that shows the modern day Quran Is nothing like the original.

Part of it details why gender "reassignment" done too young is particularly onerous.

IRunYourRiver • 7 points • 22 October, 2019 06:42 PM

It is the job of adults to guide children and their development. This means saying no and taking things away from children. Even if the boy is identifying as Luna at school, the job of the parent is to place guiderails on this behavior or, even better, play it cool until it inevitably passes. It isn't uncommon for young children to go through periods of gender confusion. It also isn't uncommon for parents to have the desire to indulge their kids. The problem arises when the parents themselves have no idea what is right or wrong and so have no incentive to impart moral or social guidance on their own children. The world then becomes the provenance of children, both young and old, and the results are predictable.

Everyone in favor of forcing kids to transition should fully understand what the implications are. This video helps. (this one is just a talk by someone who transitioned and de-transitioned about the reality of it/how much it fucks with your head).

Transitioning is not a fucking game. It's torture.

Didiathon • 6 points • 22 October, 2019 08:51 PM

I gave it a NSFL label. That usually means someone dies. I apologize if that wasn't adequate warning.

I posted it and people are upvoting it to raise awareness. I'm 1000% aware that video is fucking horrible and scaring. But it's what happens to 41% of people who go forward with transgender transitions.

People need to know that that's the reality of the situation here. It's not just some internet culture game. Everyone who truly feels compassionate towards trans people should take a good fucking hard look at what happens when you encourage people to go through and transition if they think it's a good idea to push on kids.

If we got the full story of what that mother is doing to her kid (the truth of custody cases are notoriously hard to suss out, as both sides tend to lie and paint the other as a monster), she shouldn't be allowed anywhere near him.

The one suffering the most from all of this is the child. Regardless of whether it sticks and the boy is mutilated or not he will have irreversible trauma and live a life filled with antidepressants and therapy, that is if he doesn't commit suicide. A divorce is hard on children. A divorce and a spiteful mother is another thing. And being forced to be a girl in one home and naturally being a boy as he should in another will cause a vast schism in his psyche.

I work with various textiles. Its often advised that you measure again, and again, because you cant put material back together once its been cut. The issue that we have here is that the people placed in the charge of these materials are absolutely oblivious to, not only the value of the materials themselves, but any means through which they may endeavour to schematize those materials as valuable. Just a reminder that ~51% of newborns are males and women are hypergamous. This means there will always be a non-negligible number of males that will not have statistical chance of giving offsprings/pairing up. In the past it was wars, in the present is castration and MGTOW.

Proto_Sigma • 1 point • 24 October, 2019 05:51 PM

Men also die at a higher rate at all stages of life so that slight numeric advantage at birth narrows over time.
We don't typically all pair up anyway because of hypergamy but it's hypothetically possible.

WarezMyDinrBitc • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 05:16 AM

They aren't even her biological children. She had an egg donor and simply carried them. What a true tragedy for the father and for our country.

SouloftheVoid 1 points 23 October, 2019 02:38 PM [recovered]

Dude should "kidnap" (it's not really kidnapping if it's your own kid) his son and move to Belize. The family courts in this country are so far gone that they are condoning child abuse and mutilation so their ruling should not be respected. The mother should be shot.

ZachMeadows • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 07:00 PM

In Europe (in France at least), taking your child from the other parent is kidnapping and you can loose your legal authority over him/her.

You have to first make a legal case in which you fear for his/her safety, and then kidnap. Event with that, it'll only lessen the sanction during a court trial.

SouloftheVoid • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 07:32 PM

France doesn't even allow paternity testing so if you are dumb enough to start a family there you have already lost. As for the rest of what you said, there's literally nothing worse that the courts could do to this man and his kid than what they have already done so tell them to go fuck themselves and raise your son in South America.

ZachMeadows • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 07:43 PM

It doesn't allow it unless mandated by a judge.

BUT you can refuse to be the legal father of a newborn if you have doubt (in which case, yes you are dumb).

Only a paternity test can then make you pay child support.

On the other hand, both parents have equal rights if you wish so, and more fathers get their rights towards the child(ren).

Women's world...

kindaprettyugly 1 points 22 October, 2019 04:35 PM [recovered]

You should be aware of the gendercritical sub, where thousands of women lambast this practice daily. There are hundreds of thousands of women who find the notion that you can simply "feel" that you're a woman and "'poof,' you are one!" to be reprehensible. This isn't a woman's notion that's being pushed, as these men who claim to be women come into women's prisons and rape them, and come into women's shelters and torture them into submission.

This is the pharmaceutical companies that stand to make a glittering profit off beginning children on a lifetime addiction to hormones, and medical treatments for the permanent ailments that they cause.

TheImpossible1 • 6 points • 22 October, 2019 05:00 PM*

I'm very aware of that sub. It's a shithole where they advocate for gender based abortion.

You might be able to trick others, but I know what you stand for.

Edit : Reported you.

TheRedPike • 1 point • 22 October, 2019 08:37 PM

Edit : Reported you.

Am I missing something here? Why?

TheImpossible1 • 2 points • 22 October, 2019 08:47 PM

They were shilling on behalf of a feminist shithole sub.

I reported it because they have a habit of infiltrating subs by pretending to be our friends on transgender issues and then it's a complete bitch to get them out again.

I'd link their more questionable opinions, but reddit has their worst threads shadowbanned from comments.

TheRedPike • 2 points • 22 October, 2019 08:54 PM

I'd link their more questionable opinions, but reddit has their worst threads shadowbanned from comments.

Yeah, I suppose it's pretty bad when the admins do that to a feminist board. I thought gender critical is where bull dykes bitch about trannys constantly. Or is that somewhere else?

TheImpossible1 • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 08:57 PM

You've misunderstood.

Their worst threads are shadowbanned from being linked by others, to protect them from being found out. Admin is fully on their side, employing measures to defend them that are not employed for any other sub.

And mostly, yes. But they have a few threads where they admit their desire to harm and kill men - some of which I had saved, but Reddit made them disappear from my saved posts.

TheRedPike • 2 points • 22 October, 2019 09:02 PM

Ah, got it.

MatSapientia • 5 points • 22 October, 2019 04:39 PM

A child gets to mess up his body using hormones and operations.

A child may not get married even if he hits puberty until 18. may fornicate with another child.

Feminism should be treated like nazism. This is just a first step to slow down the epic fall of Rome.

Logic flushed down the toilet. That's how humans rule when they fully reject religions. Human morals are decided according to human feelings.

It's why we Muslims never compromise our religion even if it means death. Because the alternatives are always worse.

<https://sunnah.com/ibnmajah/36/94>

Redpill77 • 5 points • 22 October, 2019 06:30 PM

Muslims come with their own set of deficiencies, so it's not like they are a better choice.

Regarding the fall of Rome analogy, this could probably benefit humanity as a whole. If the west really falls down in the future, after that historians might be able to see why this is all wrong. So maybe all of this has a point. To fuck up and learn.

endertheend • 1 point • 24 October, 2019 05:18 PM

Maybe THIS is why women wear burkas over there.

MatSapientia • -5 points • 22 October, 2019 06:55 PM

True. Everything you said.

I'd point out that Islam is perfect. Muslims aren't.

NoFaithInThisSub 2 points 22 October, 2019 10:24 PM* [recovered]

Islam is beyond flawed. You should be rejoicing, because your warlord was a known pedophile (if he even existed), and muslims already do child marriage, because he said it was supposedly fine.

Sove131 • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 06:00 AM

Important to note at the end of the article it says that kids are not genetically related to mother as they used the EGG Donor, thus one more of the reasons why she shouldn't have so much say in this matter.

arun25mblr31 • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 07:57 AM

I really don't understand where this world is going. Why should jury decide that way?

trplurker • 2 points • 23 October, 2019 02:07 PM

Not for not doing all he could to try and prevent it. But for allowing himself to breed with a woman like this. He chose not only to fuck this crazy bitch but also decided to have a child with her. Guys this is another example of why you don't get involved in crazy. Women like this don't deserve any mans attention. You're 100 times better off ignoring women like this your entire life.

Probably because the dad didn't have a very good lawyer or any at all and got bull dozed by someone who had professional help.

It's a case in life where some things are more important than the personal consequences. If you can sacrifice your life figuratively or literally for your kid you don't deserve them.

He needs to design a plan that save his son's life. Whatever laws need to be broken are collateral damage.

Surely there's a country (Russia) that's not going to allow this bullshit. Time for a couple plane tickets.

Drug the cunt until you and child are gone.

P.S. This is all theoretical in nature. Not instructing anyone to take these actions or indicating intent.

[deleted] • 1 point • 25 October, 2019 01:18 PM

I almost threw up, last family grouping I tried talking about the growing trend of people believing their world will be better if they changed genders. And a fucking 7-year old?! WHAT THE FUCK IS GOING ON, THIS ISNT EVEN ABNORMAL ANYMORE...

mather01 • 1 point • 31 October, 2019 01:02 PM*

Personally, I think James/Luna should be allowed to be transgender, but chemical castration is taking it too far. I feel like it might add more confusion to her life than just saying she's a girl and dressings and speaking like one.

Unless she the hormones from being male to go away and wants to feel and be as much of a girl as she can. Edit: actually no If he/she's 7 it's probably a bad idea to change the gender when he/she might not be able to make that decision and might regret it if he/she doesn't actually have gender. Also, gender is social and sex is physical, so chemical castration changes nothing about your sex/gender.

averythakid • 1 point • 19 November, 2019 07:55 AM

Honestly, us as men need to take charge and control ou women. I feel so bad for that child because of the horrible life his mother is creating for him but I think it's also us men's responsibility to have the women we choose submit to us and not vice versa. Set boundaries and a parameter of respect that must be met before choosing to put life into one of these females because as you all can see...BITCHES BE BUGGIN

EdmondDaunts • 1 point • 23 October, 2019 01:58 PM

There's an aspect of appeal to authority here seeing as she's a doctor. People often assume medical qualifications means superiority. It becomes a technical decision to do no harm.

Problem is gender transitioning is not a medical thing alone. We had the same thing happen in the Uk but in a different situation. It was with the Charlie Gard kid and his parents.

Medical people had reached their limit in what they could do but used the courts to prevent returning responsibility to the parents. They saw it as doing no harm. Trouble was the harm was caused socially and ethically with regards to a parent's rights.

JihadNinjaCowboy • 32 points • 22 October, 2019 04:11 PM

No, they are not; especially if you bring them to a Western country. They will go NATIVE.

The "culture" is vile and destructive, like radiation.

crew45 • 7 points • 22 October, 2019 04:12 PM

I've honestly become more open to considering Islam.

Seems like the future belongs to the culture that can control its women.

JihadNinjaCowboy • 20 points • 22 October, 2019 04:16 PM

Civilization began its decline, when people started trying to do what seems "fair" instead of what works.

JBrody • 1 point • 22 October, 2019 08:04 PM

I'd never consider that, but I totally get how others would after reading the article. This can't be fixed with dialogue.

Redpill77 • 4 points • 22 October, 2019 06:32 PM

There is no man or woman immune to culture. If she had been born here, or stays for too long, she will start to think how the west thinks. It's just how humans work.

Gustatory_Rhinitis • -16 points • 22 October, 2019 06:00 PM

This entire story is misleading. I'm from Texas and I've been following the story for quite a while. It looks like the seven-year-old has been identifying as "Luna" and as a girl while she is at school.

I think the reason the jury sided with the mother in this case is because the seven-year-old identifies as a girl. This article makes it seem like the kid is still on the fence about being a boy or a girl.

Come on. It's Texas. If there was even some gray area where the jury might have concluded that the seven-year-old was confused regarding her gender, then the case would've gone the other way.

ucfgavin • 15 points • 22 October, 2019 06:12 PM

While I get your point, its not completely misleading in the sense that there is absolutely no reason that a seven year old should be allowed to "transition". If an adult is doing it voluntarily, then that is their business...but this kid is seven years old. Thats crazy.

max_peenor • 8 points • 22 October, 2019 08:40 PM

Seven year old kids are on the fence about everything. He isn't identifying as shit. He's just trying to please mommy.

the_green_grundle • 5 points • 22 October, 2019 09:37 PM

The kid is 7, of course he's "on the fence". When I was 7 I was sure I wanted to be a firefighter. Part of what's wrong with society is idiotic parents allowing literal children to run with whatever current fantasy they have.

Redpill77 • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 06:28 PM

Playing devil's advocate, I like it. Thing is that parents affect who their kids are, we really don't know if he thinks this way because the mom made him like that. There's a big chance that she wanted a girl, is pro-lgtb, saw him playing with a doll or some shit and started treating him as a girl. This could also not be what happen, but in every case of kids transitioning either their parents are LGBT themselves or reeaally support the movement. It doesn't come from a kid with heterosexual parents. Also he is just seven, he probably thinks that eating candy all day is a good idea, do you really believe that he should be chemically castrated? How do we know that he will feel this way all his life? What if ten years when he has a better idea of who he is he decides that this was a mistake, but can't go back because he already transitioned?

This choice is too complex for him and he can't undertand how everything will affect his life forever.

Grimsterr • 3 points • 22 October, 2019 09:45 PM

You don't let a 7 year old decide what's for dinner, much less something like this.

If the kid wants to "be a girl" clothes and pronouns is as far as it should go, not irreversible body modification and harsh medicines (chemical castration? puberty blockers? da fuck). Once they're an adult, well, whatever.
