

Kinda aimless at the moment

Hey yall.

I just wanna cut to the chase. I'm definitely above average: looks are no problem at all; im 6 plus, jacked, really nice hair, jawline with high cheekbones. At this point, I don't give a fuck at all about women. Zero interest. I graduated college debt free and managed to get an average job, worth 17k roughly atm.

So my last point combined with the fact that I'm 24 still living at home is why I'm making this post. I'm becoming super complacent and really dissatisfied with my life. I've been suffering from health issues that drop my energy levels too. I'm not doing shit that I really wanna do and basically just eat work lift and smoke all day. Get high about 5 times a day. I've also been running side hustle flipping vintage product ranging from clothes, to tcgs etc. Had an opportunity to work for this baller making alot of Money but I let it fall they because I'd make excuses as to why it wouldnt work with me.

People ask me everyday, what's your next move and I can't answer them. I may know what I what, but if I did why wouldn't I ever go for it? I'm honestly lost and dont have a gameplan. I still have some mental barriers that stop me from pursuing a life worthy living for me. Any advice?

If I were in your shoes I would just work hard and make/save as much money as I can now until I find a goal later.

Like moving out.

And keep hitting the gym obvi.

I catch guys looking at me with googly eyes...asking for gym advice. No one is going to disrespect me.

Not what I meant, also a semi gay response.

Achieve things with your time on earth and meet other men who do.

Gym gains are pretty low level.

Was paying the equivalent of a mortgage for 2 years, pay for my shit, etc etc. Maybe you mean move out but were feeling lazy

Your life is more than 25% over.

You still live with mommy, get high all the time, and your net worth is what I spend on a clubbing weekend.

Got any goals? Any dreams? Where are you going to be in ten years?

clickherebaby[S] • 1 point • 29 October, 2019 10:06 PM

I do. I'm just curious about your reply. What's revealing what you spend in a club night suppose to do? Spur me into action? If I'm going to be looking up to someone with money or develop a respect for that person due to their wealth, why would I choose you? Do you think you're cool because you spend 17k in a night? Are you rich or fiscally irresponsible? And what does either have to do with my post?

There is tendency with members of this reddit to just give shit advice. Actually read my post or dont bother. Did you pay off 25k in 2 years going to school full time dealing with debilitating health issues?plus a car? Find a job? Invest and watch it double? If so that's awesome. Why not some practical advice?

You're right man. I think too small and act too small. I've gotta shake off this conditioning
