

Post from the front page of Reddit where a poor confused married guy has no idea what is happening

I just want to say, if this place hadn't existed, I would probably want to kill myself as much as this guy does right now. He has no idea what the fuck is going on, and can't snap all the pieces together.

Don't ever forget or take for granted just how lucky you are to have been handed the map. All you have to do with that map is put it into action, you have zero excuses.

You're not some 30 something year old confused bastard like most men out there, so NEVER, and I mean never feel sorry for yourself or play the victim. You have the game by the balls just by having found this place. All it takes is action from that point.

I didn't link it because TRP usually removes the post whenever I try. But, here is the post copied line by line from relationship advice:

The post is titled: "Wife got drunk and had a meltdown in an Uber. She's been silent for 48 hours. Should I blink first?"

Here is the content:

On Saturday night my (37M) wife (33F), sister (32F) and my mother (59F) joined me for a Veterans Day-related event at a local hotel.

There my wife randomly ran into a former co-worker named John (30-something male), and they spent a good chunk of the evening catching up. He basically kept coming over to our table and kept saying how thrilled he was to see her. At one point she went to the ladies room with my sister, but ended up staying with him at another table. She was never really far from me, and I didn't think much of it, but I did notice she was drinking a lot more than usual, considering we rarely drink.

The event ended around midnight and most people had cleared out already, but her and John were still talking, at which point I came over and said "honey we have to go, our Uber is waiting".

We got in the car and I sat in the front, while my wife, sister, and mother sat in the back seat. As the driver started heading home, my wife rudely asked him where he was going. The driver said he was following the GPS, and she shouted at him saying "nooooo....I'm going to Norms. I'm hungry". Norms is a 24-hour Dennys-type restaurant that we've been to only once in recent years.

I apologized to the driver and asked him to keep following the GPS home, but she kept saying she was going to Norms. This behavior was completely out of character for my wife, who is a well-educated and very respectful woman. She had never caused a scene in public, and is always very friendly to our Uber drivers. My sister and mother sat there quietly, until my sister texted me "she wants to go to Norms because that's where John is going. I can see her phone and he's texting her right now".

After that I told my wife, who was getting louder and more obnoxious, that we could go to Norms for Sunday brunch in the morning, but that we needed to get home. From there things took a turn for the worse.

She started screaming something like "what am I going to do at home? Play around with your little dick? Your little dick does nothing for me. I should've fucked John when I had the chance. It's time I start fucking real men...".

Boom. My world fell apart right there in that stranger's car, with the three people I love the most in this world.

My sister and mother intervened by telling her to shut up, but she kept going, telling me how bad I was in bed and how I couldn't get her pregnant, along with a bunch of other outrageous things I can't even repeat because it hurts so much.

When we finally got home my sister and mother (who was crying) went inside the house, and I tried to negotiate my wife's exit from the vehicle.

After a few minutes I gave up and told the driver to take her wherever she wanted to go. At that point I was more concerned about my mother. About 30 minutes later I got the notification that the ride had ended. She wound up going to her parent's house.

That was over 48 hours ago and I haven't heard a peep from her. I haven't tried to contact her either. Her dad came over tonight to get her car and some clothes because she has to work tomorrow.

I told him exactly what happened. He said she's not talking at all. She just told them (her parents) that she would be at their house for a few days, so they thought that I was to blame for whatever happened.

I really don't know what to do. I'm still shaking of anger for what she did, and fear that my marriage might be over just like that, with no warning whatsoever.

For the record, it's not that I can't get her pregnant. She's the one who can't have children, but that has never been an issue in our relationship. We knew that when we got married.

And I do have a smaller than average penis, but she's known that since before we started dating. We met in 2007 and became best friends, started dating in 2012, and married in 2016. We communicate our sexual desires very clearly, and I thought our sex life was great. Now I'm not so sure.

I have always had an unfounded fear of losing her, because she is so smart and beautiful and outgoing, that men are constantly salivating all around her. Even though she has never given me a reason to doubt, I have always feared that some man will eventually come along and convince her that I'm not good enough for her.

But she is by far the most ethical person I have ever met, so I don't think she has ever cheated on me, and I don't think she really meant everything she said that night. But I'm having a difficult time getting my thoughts in order, especially because she hasn't contacted me at all.

But then again, this is new territory for both of us. We have never had a significant argument, much less a fight that would lead us to sleep apart one night. Last week was a normal week. Saturday was a fun day. She was very happy all day and we were both very much looking forward to this event.

The only variable was her running into "John", whom I had met maybe 5 years ago when they worked together, but they had never dated or been particularly close. So I really don't know what triggered her. She also has a very good relationship with my sister and my mother. My sister is one of her best friends and has been for years, so I'm sure she's embarrassed for them as well.

But her silence now is what's killing me. I don't know what to make of it. Should I be the one to go see her and try to fix things, or should I let her come back on her own terms?

Is it normal for most guys to get a pitting feeling in their stomach when reading this type of stuff right? Because I do. This shit hurts still for my fellow man vulgar_display_ • 149 points • 13 November, 2019 02:49 AM

Yeah for real. He might be BP'd but we all were at one point to some extent. I don't even think at my worst I was that bad. The girl probably cheated on him multiple times before this. I feel bad that he put so much value on such a thot. I've tricked myself into romantically desiring people like that in the past. So in that sense, I really do feel for him.

Hjalmbere • 81 points • 13 November, 2019 06:59 AM*

She cheated on him with other guys, not John. Hence the hissy fit when BP hubbie forced her to pass up on some alpha cock.

Truedemocracy5 • 25 points • 13 November, 2019 01:32 PM

Yep. AWALT in that all women are capable of cheating but this guy likely missed some seismic red flags for that kind of behavior yomo86 • 6 points • 27 November, 2019 09:27 AM

She hasn't cheated. Otherwise she wouldn't have such a problem with not fucking John and having a meltdown. A RP guy would call it quits and with three witnesses in a car, a public humiliation and no children, alimony can be reduced to the bare minimum.

throwaway1010985 • 452 points • 12 November, 2019 11:55 PM

YES. Reading this made me so mad I broke my deadlift record by a few pounds.

you got a chuckle out of me.

I hit two plates on DL for the first time today. Unrelated to the story though.

hiroshimatruthbombs • 69 points • 13 November, 2019 03:06 AM

Gotta pump those numbers my man.

But well done. It's progress

VaN__Darkholme • 13 points • 13 November, 2019 06:39 AM

I hit 1 plate and a quarter last session. I am just a newbie tho.

novalentineforyou • 32 points • 13 November, 2019 12:16 PM

You're outlifting all the soyboys who never go to the gym. that's good.

gixxerthouguy • 6 points • 13 November, 2019 02:14 PM

What weight is "a plate"? (UK based)

OrpheusV • 13 points • 13 November, 2019 02:57 PM*

Generally it's 45lb/20.4kg unless specified otherwise. "X plates" would be X plates on each side of the bar.

Two plates would be the bar (45) plus two plates on each side (45x4), or 225lb/102kg.

gixxerthouguy • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:11 PM

Thanks buddy, thats good to know. Our standard big plates tend to be 20kg, but my gym just got new equipment with the big plates now being 25kg. Our bars weigh 20kg also, so sounds pretty similar.

empatheticapathetic • 9 points • 13 November, 2019 03:10 PM

I used to get motivated by TRP stuff a while back. This is a good reminder.

skxch • 84 points • 13 November, 2019 01:14 AM

Dude my eyes got wide and my stomach dropped when I read that “boom” sentence. Fuuuuuck

Pouderpuff • 24 points • 13 November, 2019 05:57 AM

I actually laughed. Not in a mocking way mind you. Just from reading his story I knew what was on her mind that entire time and when I read the boom I chuckled because it was all bit confirmed right then and there.

If this guy would have known about this place he would have acted accordingly. Imagine being blind sided like this though? Oof.

skxch • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 02:46 PM

Yeah I mean I knew what he was feeling at that moment, but as others have said, he didn't do enough preparation beforehand so it hit him like a bomb.

Dane50 • 1 point • 26 November, 2019 02:54 AM

Yeah I thought she wants to go to Norms because John was there and then the sister confirmed it.

DITTO. Exactly this sir. My eyes widened and I verbally went OHHHH outloud even though I was alone.

Does it hurt because of her or him? Hint, it's not her...

Incidentally, my wife and sister would have cut that bitch. Don't fuck with Italian women...

PhantomRedditor5 • 46 points • 13 November, 2019 09:10 AM

I find it interesting that she would show out in front of his family. That shows you how disrespectful she is.

Lol and he called her a smart woman. That was a dumb ass move on her part. Drunk or not.

Ill_mumble_that • 275 points • 13 November, 2019 02:09 AM*

The part that hurts is this guy is such a pussy.

Here is what OP should have done. Aside from all the other things hes already doing wrong that drove her to this point.

1. When John was hitting up your wife, go talk to them and take over the conversation and get him to keep talking about himself. The more he talks about himself the less attractive she will think he is. This is AMOGing and somewhat mate guarding. You shouldn't have to mate guard, but look it shes already flirting with this dude, you fucked up and this is damage control. Also, the fact you couldn't tell she was flirting means you are a fucking moron.
2. During the uber ride. Instruct the uber to go to her parents house. Knock on the parents door, explain that she has broken her marital vows, and then leave her there. Immediately call the cell phone company and cancel her line. Also report all credit cards stolen and change your bank passwords as well as anything else. Transfer any money from joint accounts into 1 that only has your name on it.
3. For the next few days. Move anything valuable you have out of the residence. Pay for temporary storage if needed. Take it down to bare bones. If the house is in only your name, change the locks. If the house is in both your names you shouldn't lock her out. Just don't be home. Record every interaction with her from here on. Dont fucking call her you idiot. Make her come to you.
4. If you want to reconcile, she will pretty much need to become your slave to redeem herself at this point. I'm talking your name permanently tattooed on her stomach and ass and shit. Anything short of that, no, cut your losses, you can't fix this. She has severely disrespected you in front of your mother and sister, over John's dick, and there is no return except for her to completely forsake herself to you.
5. Move your assets..if you own a home or anything together, initiate the sale of it. Begin divorce proceedings. If you manage to reconcile, still divorce her, you can love her without being legally tied to her.

-----□-----

What OP did wrong before the dinner night

1. Holy shit.
2. She isnt your best friend. Shes your sexual partner. You wouldn't have become friends with her if you didn't want to fuck her. I can prove it too. How? You eventually fucked her, that's how. You wouldn't fuck your best friend, you fuck your sexual partner. The moment you fucked her the whole "best friend" this was over.
3. If you treat your sexual partner like a best friend instead of a sexual partner, she will stop being your sexual partner.
4. Your dick size really doesn't matter. That was just said to hurt you. She was honest though in that she wants to fuck a real man.

A real man wants to flirt with her in front of her husband and rip off clothes and bend her over and fuck her. That is what John wants to do to your wife. And he'd do it in front of you, because to him shes just a fuckhole and you're the bitch putting up with her. Hes gonna tell her where to go and what to do and she is going to listen and obey because she is a submissive woman who craves leadership. Leadership you lack. She wants to be dominated and desired. You don't fulfill that. She wants to be pounded like a fuckhole, because that is exactly what she is and all women are. Men are fuck sticks, women are fuckholes.

1. Why the fuck are you hanging out with your sister and mom. Those are 2 women who would never ever fuck you, nor would you want them to. It makes you look like a bitch and gives you negative preselection.

Ok I'm gonna stop here for now and edit in more later.

There needs to be a new category on Reddit of platinum, because this is a platinum comment, especially the first bit about getting the guy to talk about himself, which is actually some pretty good trade-craft.

Truedemocracy5 • 19 points • 13 November, 2019 01:39 PM

Can you imagine the balls John has to hit on this guys wife in front of his husband and invite her out to get food later knowing damn well they'd be together?

monsieurhire2 • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 10:58 PM

Eh, shit just happens. I was actually John a few years ago. I went to a bar for someone's birthday. Instant social proof. Also, I don't really drink, and I was confident, and happy with myself. So I attracted the attention of one attractive woman, and we chatted for awhile. Then this guy's fiancee started talking to me. At first it was just a friendly conversation, but then it kept going and going, and it seemed like she was interested in me, and I was more attractive than the guy. He tried to play it cool, but I could see it was rattling him. He periodically came over to mark his turf with hugs and kisses, but it didn't matter, because there was chemistry. She was probably bored with him. We wound up talking for the better part of the evening, and even dancing together. Then I didn't see her for months. Later on, she broke up with the fiance. It turned out that she had a lot of issues with mental health and alcohol. I had just broken up with an LTR for similar issues, but I figured it would be a "practice" date. It became clear to me that I had unwittingly done a Tao of Steve. I showed up, was excellent, and was gone. The seed was planted.

I wish I could tell you that I fucked the shit out of her, but I didn't, because I was going through a break-up and didn't want to involve myself with anyway, and also, she seemed really messed up, and I was turned off by it. Even though she was very pretty, she was also crazy. Ultimately, she got back with the fiance, but not before a whole guys hanging around on the sidelines had their way with her. That was also a turnoff. Her telling me how she fucked X and Y guys, one who was a neighbor. Now she is back wit him. The guy was willing to endure it because she's above him in SMV. I didn't set out to do anything. There was natural attraction, and it snowballed. There was no agenda, or strategy, or lines, or anything. All I had was natural chemistry, and I was better than the fiance in some respects, or was perceived as better, or different.

monsieurhire2 • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 09:45 PM

Not necessarily. People social dance all the time with other people's girlfriends, fiancées, and wives. I social dance. She was the one who asked me if I would dance with her. I also asked the fiance and he said he was fine with it, and seemed fine with it. So, there were extenuating circumstances. I was actually the most concerned about the appropriateness of the dancing out of the three of them.

Also, I think I was just out of an LTR, and was poorly socialized for the type of situation I was in, meaning, I didn't have a sense of what was or wasn't inappropriate. I would say that the most inappropriate aspect of what I did was the length of time I spent giving her attention and talking to her. But that was only clear in retrospect.

On the other hand, she presented extremely well. She looked immaculate, came across as intelligent, and most seductively, she seemed very interested in me, and kept asking me questions about myself, with no shit-testing BS. So comparatively speaking, I WAS thirsty for that kind of validation from a beautiful woman.

Also, until you are actually married to someone, it's all kind of up in the air, and these days, people don't even respect marriages, meaning their own. Another thing is, I assumed it was someone who was in an LTR, and who was gaming their fiance, meaning, she wasn't really interested in me romantically, she was just being social to get some space from him and vice versa.

Finally, I wasn't trying to game her. I didn't have a "plan." I friended her on social media, but I didn't send her endless messages, and I didn't try to rendezvous with her. Also, I didn't act seductive with her when I talked to her. I just talked to her like a regular person. There just happened to be mutual chemistry.

In any case, she had a lot of problems that were hidden to me at the time. If she was being a good fiancée, she would have limited the amount of attention she paid me. That's usually what happens in strong relationships: the woman is the one who bows out after a reasonable interval. Also, I didn't know the guy, and he wasn't a friend, so I didn't have that acting as deterrent.

dgillz • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 09:18 AM

There already is reddit platinum, along with silver and gold naturally.

nayvote • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 07:35 AM

See that was the only part I really disagreed with. It funnels all the focus and attention on him, and you're giving him an EXCUSE to talk about himself so now it DOESN'T seem pretentious and overbearing. I don't like the idea.

monsieurhire2 • 25 points • 13 November, 2019 08:55 AM

Well, there's no such thing as a risk-free life.

If you leave her alone with the dude, who knows what he's going to say, and how she's going to react towards him.

If you go over, you don't have to get all aggressive, but you can engage the guy, and divert his attention away from the girl, and also signal to him that she is with you, and that he's wasting his time, without play the role of jealous boyfriend. Also, you can subtly make fun of him, or deflate him in conversation, or prove that however accomplished he is, you're not impressed, or that you're a big enough person to not display the scarcity mentality of jealousy, while at the time same time acting like his "greatness" is no big deal, in fact it's common place.

Personally, the OP story seemed a little bit contrived. That part about OP's wife suddenly blurt out about him having a small dick seemed straight out of a porno plotline, or a mansophere rageporn. I wouldn't be surprised if someone on here or another sub wrote it with a throwaway just to get our issues on the front-page. Also, the OP was WAY too beta soyboy cuck, going on about how great his wife is, when she literally just shat all over him for a random dude she worked with. It read a bit like fanfic.

But in the story, he leaves his wife alone to be hit on by a guy, which while not mate-guarding, is passive as fuck, because it shows fear of a possible confrontation.

I was at an event recently, and this girl was flirting with me, and I was then, wondering if she was attached, when lo and behold, her boyfriend walked up with a somewhat hostile demeanor. I calmly chatted with him, and he relaxed once he realized I wasn't trying to move in on his turf. Had he not done that, I might not have known her status, because she didn't volunteer the information, and then I might have hit on her, which could have made things more awkward. So, he did the proper thing, IMO. For her, it was probably about validation-seeking, as well as foreplay, meaning, she'll probably got an extra hard pounding from him, just to prove he is worth it to her. Just imagine, though, if he had seen us flirting, and then acted like a hurt beta, gamma, or omega, and slunk off to go sulk somewhere. It could have led to sex between me and the girl. I think this is what OP did. He let things go to the point that his girlfriend forgot he existed. Of course, they were already having problems. And she was drinking, and probably got horny. But again, it read a bit like fanfic.

DancesWithPugs • 10 points • 13 November, 2019 01:43 PM

Like it or not, you have to enforce LTR boundaries to stay in the LTR. Women be testin'. I had to jettison potential new friends several times for trying to step in. Good riddance though, if they won't respect your relationship they will not be a good friend.

Ill_mumble_that • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 06:03 PM

Mate Guarding is part of being in a LTR. But it should be minimal otherwise you're going to be an emotional wreck.

I keep it simple. No male friends for her. If she's talking to a guy, I don't have to do any guess work.

She hasn't initiated conversation with a guy since I told her my policy on that. If she doesn't like any of my stipulations she is always free to leave. If she violates my policy, that's fine, I'll just leave and find another girl.

ex_addict_bro • 2 points • 16 November, 2019 07:58 AM

nayvote • 2 points • 19 November, 2019 01:32 AM

How to verify? Keep tabs on her shit (phone, social media, email, etc)?? I've been in relationships where I feel like I have to keep tabs on the bitch. Frankly, I'd rather be alone than do that again. Always wondering, when she's not in your presence, "what might she be doing right now?"....fuck that

Goldenbeardyman • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 04:51 PM

What do you think is the best way to respond if a guy is flirting with girl?

I usually just go flirt with some other girls and in the blink of an eye, she's back at my side. If she is flirting back with the guy and ignoring me, I'll usually ask the girl I'm flirting with if she wants to go outside for a smoke, that usually gets their attention.

Back in blue pill days, I used to do the mate guard. Keep touching her and have my arm around her to make it obvious and getting angry/aggressive if the guy keeps going (seemed to work at the time, but in hindsight probably made me look insecure).

Advice would be appreciated.

monsieurhire2 • 5 points • 13 November, 2019 10:52 PM

It depends on the situation, and the person. There is no one-size fits all solution, unfortunately.

Dread, and flirting with other girls worked great with one LTR, like clockwork in fact. She was super into me, though, and we are still friends. That relationship was based on something solid.

With another LTR, it was like throwing gasoline on a fire. When she was super-into me, initially, it worked. But when she became disenchanted, because I had expectations she refused to meet, it then became a justification for her to indicate that she was going to "cheat," because she just assumed I was going to dump her anyway, and rather than repent and reform her behavior, she preferred to hold onto her toxic behavior, and then try to hurt me by using her artificially high SMV as a woman to attract the usual pond scum of orbiting guys of dubious SMV for revenge lays.

The second case was a toxic person, and a toxic situation, but from it, I gleaned that it is easy to misinterpret signals and consequences. I certainly don't enjoy listening to a woman drone on about the virtues of some guy, even if it's just to make me jealous so I fuck her harder or whatever, but I certainly pretend like I'm ambivalent, because that's good tradecraft, so it would stand to reason that she wouldn't want to hear me talk about the virtues of X or Y girl, or brag about past conquests, or present interest, even if it signals that I have high SMV, it also makes her question whether I will disappear in a few months leaving her older and with less prospects, so this could cause her to look elsewhere.

Also, with the dreaded mate-guarding, not coming over to interact when a guy approaches can signal a lack of interest and investment on your part, which can make her insecure. It also signals abundance mentality, but just means she could think she is nothing to you. So it depends on how much you value her and the relationship, whatever it is. If she is just a plate, you are probably ambivalent. But if you are considering her for an LTR, then suddenly you are risking it just to put on a false front. Ultimately, for a relationship to exist and work, people have to stop playing one kind of game, and start playing to win-win. They have to take off their armor, and show a few cards, even if it appears risky.

nayvote • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 11:07 AM

I pretty much entirely agree with you. I would never let my wife/gf go be drunk & chatty/flirty with some guy...I'd be stepping in and asserting my position. And I'd sure as shit be laying down the law with her in private afterward.

That said, I agree, this reads like some cuck fanfic bullshit.

It sounds to me like you have decent SMV and a decent wife (ZOMG) who is a willing partner that shares your values, and also values you as a person, to the point, that she wouldn't easily try to trade up just for an increase in material wealth. At a certain point, material wealth can become a liability anyway. People trying to rob you, kidnap and ransom you, kill you. Constant solicitations for business proposals, etc.

I actually saw a clip of this pop up on my phone, from Mad Men, where Roger is trying to flex for Betty, and Don just quietly and subtly deflates him. Of course, that's a TV show.

Also, another thing to consider, the guys that talk to your wife may just be trying to build up some social proof before they go after a woman they know or think is single. I don't have an issue with people being respectful. I think the main problem in these situations are weak relationships, or people who were passing themselves off as virtuous suddenly revealing themselves to be mercenary, and then a person is faced with the quandary of how to react. The smart guys probably initiate dread, or soft next, depending on what they see. We are all human and subject to human frailty. A woman may be flattered, or even a bit attracted, but that doesn't mean she'll cross a boundary she has set for herself.

Tutskts • 34 points • 13 November, 2019 08:16 AM

You are saying that cause you are ignorant.

Most people, are very boring. and one of the things that kills attraction, is removing mystery.

Also, you guide the convo. This is not: "Tell me cool stories about yourself" hour. This is: "We are talking about boring shit from work, boring shit with your family, illnesses, whatever".

Essentially, mundane stuff that kills attraction.

JD42305 • 3 points • 14 November, 2019 01:27 AM

That could go either way. Have you ever heard the number one rule of journalism is to never give away your microphone to another person? This is giving him the floor for no reason, and if he's any good he'll turn this into a great opportunity to show off his charm to the group. And by also showing great interest in him you risk revealing that you show great importance in him and see him as a threat.

Tutsks • 4 points • 14 November, 2019 01:35 AM

True, but... its a no win situation to begin with.

See, the problem is, if you try to keep them apart, its gonna be a forbidden fruit situation, and that doesn't work.

The sad truth is that, if the guy is charming enough to style all over you, and she is cool with it... well, you are not winning either way.

A lot of these things require for you to be... either more charming, more cunning, or at least have a plan while the other guy doesn't, take him off balance, and crash things.

But, its like a street fight. If one of the guys is a lanky 80 lb soyboy and the other is 200 lbs of muscle.. well, barring a miracle, the soyboy aint gonna win.

Not saying you are wrong, I'm saying, it was the only thing he had left.

But, in the long run, if she wants to go off and fuck that guy... she will.

Its not something he can do something about.

That's why dude finishes with "and you next her". Because at that point, its done. If you stay, the only question is how often shes gonna be cucking you, not if.

nayvote • 2 points • 14 November, 2019 01:44 AM

See you're overloaded with "theory" here man, and not field-tested. The shit your spouting is not optimal in the field.

But bottom line if your wife/girlfriend is showing preference to another man in a social setting, you done fucked up already and must either get that bitch in line or dump her. (Pro-tip: don't get married)

Tutsks • 2 points • 14 November, 2019 01:47 AM

Hahahaha! Maybe!

I gotta say, I thankfully have never been in this situation. But, the AMOG thing does work, when I've done it. Nothing kills attraction like making people talk about things they don't want to talk about.

So, who knows! You might be right. I have not been in the situation where a girl leaves me to go hang out with someone else. Not a girl I was banging, anyway.

So, if you have more experience with that, you are probably correct.

nayvote • 3 points • 14 November, 2019 02:07 AM

LOL! Not so subtle dig at the end, nice. I've never had a girl I was in a relationship with do this to me that I can recall, so perhaps we're both speaking from a position of "theory"....but I've had girls i'm 'talking to' direct their attention to other men over the course of the night, and I've had other men swoop in on girls I'm talking to. In either case the proper response is to outwit them with your own charm and charisma, or move on without a care in the world.

Tutsks • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 04:09 AM

Haha!

But, yeah. Reading the thread made my heart sink. Honestly, I hope it was creative writing cause... poor dude.

jrterry1969 • 5 points • 13 November, 2019 10:50 AM

Items two and three might make you feel good in the short term but are a very high risk legal strategy. Shit like that could easily backfire in divorce proceedings. Her attorney would have a field day making you look like a butt hurt pussy asshole.

Also, you can't lock your wife out of the house no matter whose name is on the deed.

Calm down and call a lawyer instead.

Truedemocracy5 • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 01:37 PM

Picked that kind of behavior up on the post. He's probably a very nice husband and but but that's not what women want. You can tell by how he didn't raise any internal alarms by this John character, and later on by saying they always talk about sexual desires and what not.

His wife probably has plenty of whore tells me missed as well

8380atgmaildotcom • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 03:08 AM

No shit sherlock. If he had this knowledge then this wouldn't have happened, duh.

Relevant though.

PhantomRedditor5 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 09:15 AM

This was a great answer and opened my eyes to a lot of things in my life that I'm doing wrong. I'm already married, happily so, but I do have a lot of female friends. I guess if I'm not fucking them, I should stop hanging out with them.

Ill_mumble_that • 6 points • 13 November, 2019 12:33 PM

Nothing wrong with female friends. But every single time a guy says he has female friends, after a few questions usually discover they aren't really his friends and the relationship is massively 1 sided in the female's favor.

What value are they providing you?

PhantomRedditor5 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 12:35 PM

this is a great question to ask.

Gawernator • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 05:22 PM

At least in California changing the locks or locking someone out of their residence is extremely illegal. FYI

Ill_mumble_that • 0 points • 14 November, 2019 06:16 PM

Depends. No tenant agreement, no bills in her name there? No evidence.

Gawernator • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 06:36 PM

Nope. Only have to have resided there for 30 days to establish residency in California. You're 100% wrong. Please do basic research before posting here.

Ill_mumble_that • 0 points • 14 November, 2019 08:42 PM

What proof of residency does she have other than her testimony? If that's the case I shouldnt be locked out of a few houses in Malibu where I "live."

Gawernator • 1 point • 15 November, 2019 03:38 AM

All her things there. You would get absolutely destroyed in court. Lmao. Try a basic google search next time bud

It's obvious you've never been to court. A judge would think you're an idiot, and enjoy the contempt charge for lying under oath.

Max-Powers3 • 1 point • 16 November, 2019 05:49 PM

she will pretty much need to become your slave to redeem herself at this point.

Does this work? I caught an LTR texting her ex with a different name in her phone. Instead of ending it like I should have, she did anything and everything to stay with me, I made her do anything I wanted from sex to chores, etc. She ended up resenting me and just bailed one day.

1. She wasn't sorry she texted him, she was sorry she got caught.
2. She already proved she'd go behind my back.
3. I knew forcing her to do stuff she didn't want the relationship would end.

Ill_mumble_that • 1 point • 16 November, 2019 11:19 PM

Yes. But she will only resent it if you display low SMV or poor frame. So Beta Billy from the OP would probably have a bad time either way.

Max-Powers3 • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 12:07 AM*

I did, even after understanding RP years later I'm still trying to figure out the puzzle. If he was in the position she cheated on him, no matter who he is they are going to do it again.

Ill_mumble_that • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 01:56 AM

Literally got your name tattooed on her and made her drink your urine out of a bowl on the floor?

I mean she doesn't have to. But you just leave her if she doesn't.

Max-Powers3 • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 02:11 AM

Is this a thing? No I didn't do that. I'd feel sick if I forced another human to do that. I'd rather just leave the cunt.

Ill_mumble_that • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 02:14 AM

Yeah quite a few porn videos of it.

Max-Powers3 • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 02:38 AM

Why would forcing degrading behavior solve anyone's problem, I'm not being a smart ass here, why would I want to date a girl that would drink my piss and have my name tattooed on her. The latter isn't a huge deal but damn, idk if I could keep dating a girl that drank my piss out of a bowl

Ill_mumble_that • 1 point • 17 November, 2019 11:19 AM

It's about complete and total submission. She gives you everything. That was just an example.

testable313 • 1 point • 19 November, 2019 06:00 AM

I have always had an unfounded fear of losing her, because she is so smart and beautiful and outgoing, that men are constantly salivating all around her. Even though she has never given me a reason to doubt, I have always feared that some man will eventually come along and convince her that I'm not good enough for her.

Boom. Just was I was thinking. I hate all these idiots here being sad for the dude.

Zech4riah • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 02:02 PM

And then in real life you would doubt to do any of those things based on a hunch and/or TRP knowledge. It's a real world there.

Right step would be to gather some proof while planning your exit strategy to execute those actions.

spicy_fries • 13 points • 13 November, 2019 04:39 PM*

After a few hundred of these stories you'll feel nothing but amusement. The only thing I was thinking was that this chick must've been signaling red flags for a while now and it took a meltdown for him to notice.

He should have hard nexted her long ago and the only thing he is thinking of is kissing and making up.

The dude is a clueless chump and if he refuses the redpill then he deserves everything coming to him.

Strike48 • 32 points • 13 November, 2019 02:07 AM

Exactly, I saw this coming a mile away with how consistently the dude would let his wife's actions slide and even justify it. He just let her down her drinks and chat up a dude that she wants to fuck for the entirety of the night haha. Then he goes and fetches her with a "honey, it's time to go". What do you expect? That's how you earn yourself a disrespectful woman.

Truedemocracy5 • 6 points • 13 November, 2019 02:06 PM

Any woman will turn disrespectful and into a bitch when given that much weakness. It's their nature

Vipe777 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 10:44 AM

It used to, now not so much

Any tips on how to stop this? I get so riled up and borderline angry when reading something like this. Sure, he's a BP cuck, but the audacity of the woman always gets me so bad.

the_green_grundle • 5 points • 13 November, 2019 01:10 PM*

the audacity of women

Women are wired differently than we are. It makes as much sense to get mad at a tree for having leaves as it does to get mad at a woman for being 'selectively audacious', lets say.

In other words, you decided to find TRP, reject years of programming, and find a better way. That's his responsibility too, not yours. So on that same vein, why would you expend your energy and stress over a situation you can't change? Redirect it towards people who are receptive to TRP or whatever goals you're pursuing in life.

Vipe777 • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 02:26 PM

Thanks, I will try that. I can apply that strategy to other, similar problems. But this just seems out of control at the moment.

HumanSockPuppet • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 03:27 PM

A little tragic appreciation for his misfortune is also appropriate.

Even though this kind of experience hurts, it's precisely the catalyst he needs to wake up and take his life back.

donkeykangz • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 04:45 PM

[deleted] • 1 point • 18 November, 2019 11:37 PM

Honestly don't. Most men bring it on themselves due to how much of a pussy beta they are. They are always scared of losing their precious wife or girlfriend which they don't realise is a massive turnoff for women as women enjoy the uncertainty and excitement of alphas who treat them like crap because deep down they know they are crap and they know any man who treats her like a princess is a low value worthless loser.

askmrcia • 2 points • 20 November, 2019 03:53 PM

I would have felt sorry for him if he were in his early 20s. He's 30 freaking years old. No, no sympathy from me. Bullshit his wife was out of character, outburst like that don't happen out of nowhere after being in a relationship for nearly a decade.

The signs were always there and he chose to ignore them.

And I do have a smaller than average penis, but she's known that since before we started dating. We met in 2007 and became best friends, started dating in 2012, and married in 2016. We communicate our sexual desires very clearly, and I thought our sex life was great. Now I'm not so sure.

yeah every time i read this im praying that it has some kind of happy ending. it never does.

Also "by far, she is the most ethical person I've ever met".

Man I'm glad I found the redpill before I fucked my life up super hard like this guy here.

lastdumra • 97 points • 13 November, 2019 01:02 AM

He is emotionally dependent on her. That is why her silence is killing him.

Notice how he says she is the most ethical person he knows, when she is clearly not. He idolizes her. He lives with her. She is his emotional world.

ellendegenorate • 25 points • 13 November, 2019 02:40 AM

It's amazing how braincels got banned, I suspect because they were even more blackpilled on women than this place and these situations were semi common.

showing the studies that when a woman is rejected by a more attractive man, she takes her anger out on a lesser beta male.

She started screaming something like "what am I going to do at home? Play around with your little dick? Your little dick does nothing for me. I should've fucked John when I had the chance. It's time I start fucking real men...".

obv, there's a lot more at play he's doing everything wrong in the relationship, but the husband cock blocking access to chad dick that night was a kind of rejection. And we know girls don't get told no ever by their husband they settled for.

Truedemocracy5 • 8 points • 13 November, 2019 02:32 PM

To do that in front of the husbands sister and mother is also a complete lack of respect she has for him, and her drunken state was only an excuse to flirt more with chad John majani • 6 points • 13 November, 2019 10:59 AM

The black pill here is more hurtful than the red pill. There's no way around a micropenis. The only way to get reliable pussy for this man is to beta bux.

Counselling's a good idea. Not couple's counselling though. Also I agree that he should not need to listen to her after the hurtful things she said.

He needs to kick her to the curb, get a divorce, get some counselling or therapy to work through the feelings of betrayal and low self esteem he must be dealing with, hit the gym and lift, gain his confidence and live well.

cutt88 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 12:45 PM

Counseling is garbage, it's useless. It's literally someone you met for the first time in your life convincing you you're not that bad of a guy. This shit would have never worked for me. You can build your confidence back only by yourself. Most important of all - learn to love yourself. You yourself is the most important part of your life.

BlueCommieSpehsFish • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 01:45 PM

It works for a lot of people bro. You seem to not quite understand what therapy is meant to do. I have had depression for a long time (shortly after someone close to me died) and honestly fighting it entirely on my own wasn't working. I'd say that my psychologist has helped me to change my frame of mind about many different things in my life.

Counselling isn't someone telling you you're not that bad of a guy or that you shouldn't try to change the way you think. Any psychologist worth his salt helps you with figuring out why you think the way you do about things, or why you have negative emotional reactions to things, and trying to get you to change your mindset about those things. Often mine just guides me to my own revelations. Helps that he's pretty red-pilled about things too.

Depends on when you looked through the comments.

Over time different people come in to the thread and vote accordingly, which changes the prominence and order of comments.

Perhaps the feminists came in early (when I was there) and the rest of us joined in when other subs highlighted the thread (and when you were there).

Or, you know, maybe I added a strong bias to the comments I summarised here (knowingly or unconsciously).

We may never know.

Good dad would tell her she's a disgraceful daughter and to go somewhere else like John's house.

My daughter is 13 and I want her to eventually be with a strong man she respects. I would warn her about the man she's marrying if I saw he was like this guy-- it's bound to blow up-- and tell her that if she ever has to come back because of something that's her fault she has another thing coming.

This woman is about to cash in her one way ticket for the cock carousel.

tryintofly • 13 points • 13 November, 2019 08:47 AM

Why didn't she go to John's house?

Let me guess, he wasn't interested and their casual flirting meant less than nothing to him.

The uber took 30 min to get to her parents house. Guessing they live closer than that - she probably went back to good place and John saw her as a drunk mess and told her to fuck off psychoduckly • 1 point • 27 November, 2019 09:51 PM

She went to John's house. After he ATM'd her, he told her that she couldn't stay, because his gf was coming over. Then, she went to Dad's house.

If my daughter was this age and did this i'd be like what the fuck are you doing? lol.

PhaedrusHunt • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:49 PM

Until you have fucked a married woman, or a woman who is in a "loving relationship" it is hard to imagine how truly magnetic you can be to woman. I have ran through a number of married woman and the story is pretty much always the same. In about half the cases they keep their mouth shut and keep fucking me... in the other half, they go back and tell the guy. The guy then contacts me and says, "We need to talk."

I kid you not, it has been the same script on many many occasions. It always ends with either deceit and cunning, or her coming clean about the infidelities and him taking her back.

That is not to say I have not struck out when desire is at play... she was probably just somewhere else in her menstrual cycle at the point we were in contact, but the amount of times that it has happened have shown me how easy and possible it is... and how magnetic you can be to woman.

[deleted] • 35 points • 13 November, 2019 03:01 AM truth.

i genuinely believe it's because when there are no checks and balances on hypergamy, no shaming mechanisms, no consequences, no morality, no religion, no one to answer to.

then women (and men aswell frankly) will just act on their base desires. we're all animals. and we currently live in a consumer culture that encourages laziness, lust, greed, gluttony and paints it all as "naughty fun".

in the west we're conditioned to be hedonists. so frankly it doesn't surprise me one bit that people cheat so much. for most people cheating is just another "naughty" thing they did.

western society makes people value their instant gratification over higher values.

so when that alpha guy gives the girl tingles she says fuck it, he gave me tingles YOLOOOO. who cares if it destroys my family and fucks my kids lives up, YOLO.

so when you see that pizza and it looks delicious, you say FUCK IT YOLOOOO. even though you know you're a fat fuck.

so when you think i should probably go to the gym but then some good shit is on TV you say YOLOOOOO, lets relax and enjoy life right woohoooo.

and the reason i said people cheat, not just women is because men cheat plenty as well from what i've seen, who cheats more... who knows, probably women just cos of the pure access they have to dick. but the key is that I think the reason cheating is so rampant today is that it's just another symptom of a society that is based on consumerism and hedonism. cheating is just another form of that muffin you shouldn't of eaten cos you're a fat fuck.

the reason people cheat is because they have no principle or values. it's just what i want when i want it.

NarrowBath7 • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 07:56 AM we're in the midst of a pendulum swing. something something good times weak men hard times strong men etc. We're in the midst of a pendulum swing yet aware of it. Most people aren't aware, or at least not willing to admit to themselves we're in it. What I'm saying is, we're do for an overhaul, probably within our lifetimes. We'll see. The main message remains the same as it always though, which is comforting. Improve. Socialize. Lift. Get hobbies. Be stoic. Do these things and you'll come out the other side.

lala_xyzz • 0 points • 13 November, 2019 03:00 PM

| just another form of that muffin you shouldn't of eaten cos you're a fat fuck.

men have cheated since time immemorial. the important thing to understand is that they didn't ruin their own families for it. they just fucked a random hoe or had a lover that wasn't intent on ruining his marriage. when women cheat it's completely different - they have already crossed their husband/partner out of their mind for eternity, and are just finding an excuse to leave them. women can't cheat without emotional attachment, and that's why it's so ruinous for them and the society when they do it.

[deleted] • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:22 PM

cheating ruins relationships both ways. i mean ask girls who have been cheated on, sure they might take him back, but the relationship is tainted forever now.

sure you can argue that it's worse when a woman does it and i agree but it's shitty both ways frankly.

it's like saying it's worse to get shot in the stomach than in the arm. both suck so why don't we just do neither.

ZachMeadows • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 03:43 PM

I think it's because they project their thought process of cheating onto the man.

Like said, when a woman cheats it's over. Or she settled for a lesser man (to her) and it never was a relationship to begin with. When a man cheats, it's just an itch to scratch. Sure it can be controlled, but no harm intended.

And with solipsism in the equation, women think it's all over or it never was.

That's why they are hurt.

Once you know that, you basically cannot be hurt in a relationship, you just move on to the next.

[deleted] • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 03:45 PM

i feel what you're saying and i agree with you but my point im making is that when the rubber meets the road, cheating is bad for the relationship and for the family, whoever does it, however it manifests. maybe varying degrees of bad and bad in different ways but it's still bad, so i don't think the details are that relevant in practical terms.

obviously for red pill theory and understanding women it's important to understand the how and why and the differences.

Her friend hit me up one Saturday evening, saying she was crying cause she wanted me but she was also in a loving relationship to a guy who'd proposed and they were getting married august. Even as a redpilled guy, I was absolutely stunned that someone who had been that slutty with me, had been engaged all that time.

Got an invite to the wedding because she wanted to set me up with her best friend(the one who called, and who still randomly calls me on weekends). I never went, that's playing with hot fire.

D3athN0te101 • 26 points • 13 November, 2019 03:39 AM you need to be rock bottom (eg. a loser who's tired of getting stepped on) to find this place

Bruh just wrote my life story.

Yeah, I swallowed the whole "I don't need to improve myself. Women will love me for who I am" pill.

This lack of desire for self improvement, caused by the "Meh, I'm good enough" mentality, took me on a long hard trip to rock bottom when I turned 18.

I was a man-child. No self control, in any sense of the word. Money, sex/porn, my emotions, I was a slave to them all.

I was a doormat. Couldn't say "no", actually feeling guilty for refusing to help people.

I was a Nice Guy. Always trying to play therapist for women, genuinely wanting to make them feel better. Genuinely nice. Of course I wanted sex, but it wasn't the primary motivation. I'd have been genuinely happy if all I'd gotten out of being an emotional tampon was seeing her feel better. It wasn't until I took The Red Pill that I realized I was the exception, not the rule. And that every woman assumed I was the rule by default. Not that it mattered either way though, as we know, the road to hell is paved with good intentions.

It took 5 years (I'm 23 now). The first 2 living life extremely confused about nearly every facet of life (women/dating, employment, various social norms which just seemed/seem retarded, etc), and the last 3 having been Red Pill Aware.

Thanks to The Red Pill, I've got my balls back.

I no longer feel guilty for saying "No".

I no longer feel the need to be a therapist for every walking sob story.

I understand women (Well, better anyway. Some of the shit they do still makes me scratch my head).

I ended my 4 year dry spell.

totallymanlytears • 13 points • 13 November, 2019 04:22 AM

What you've said is very relatable (probably for a lot of people) and I'm glad that a place like this exists to share such realizations, it's powerful for sure.

One thing I would say, if you want my take, is be careful saying/thinking things like "I am no longer blue pill" or the like. I think this unconsciously causes us to resist new information as we think we're "cured". The truth is, we never are, no one is, before internet or not - there is surely a long way to go and new challenges that will test us and break us, no matter how old we are. Just my thoughts, have a good one

MasterJeaf • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 05:46 AM

Your latter point is very important. I made that same mistake and found myself wound up in shit city before long, problem was I'd gotten comfortable and complacent in my redpilled mind naively thinking I'd learned all there is to learn. I was wrong. You kill the beta and you don't stop until you yourself keel over die from old age.

PhantomRedditor5 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 09:23 AM

This is my story too. At least you swallowed the red pill and the capsule released in your stomach and are enjoying the benefits. For me, I've swallowed it, but it's hard to keep down because I'm in the beginning stages.

D3athN0te101 • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 02:08 PM

Yeah, the beginning stages are a bitch.

If it makes ya feel better, I spend 2.5 of the 3 years stuck in the Red Pill Rage phase.

It's a mental shift. There will be a moment where everything just snaps into place in your mind, when you stop being pissed off, and just accept reality for what it is.

On the other side is a sort of twisted paradise, where BP men will call you a cuck/incel while you fuck their wives.

People embrace feminism for fear of offending, wanting to protect and please women, and not be rejected by the crowd. They have good slogans and PR, and elite support including the school curriculum. Feminists fear losing support and an open fair debate based on reason and facts is not their strong suit.

RP encourages bravery and honest self reflection. The oligarchs do not want brave, honest, self disciplined people that could become rivals or disrupt their plans. They like fear, crowd psychology and people easily manipulated.

SoakMyBigCork • 98 points • 13 November, 2019 02:47 AM

As other users have pointed out, a lot of the comments are advising him not to throw away the marriage and talk to her, consider counseling, etc. At least one woke fellow had the balls to post what would happen if the genders were reversed. Here's his comment in response to the block quote on the first line:

if you'd said all those things or equivalent about her - you'd be expected to crawl your way back with major apologies.

Let's at least be honest here:

A man gets shitfaced at a party. He sees an old coworker that he clearly wants to have sex with that night. His wife blocks him from having sex with the coworker at the hotel and in response he calls his wife a fucking asshole. They all get into the uber, and on the way back home he attempts to meet up with the coworker at another location so he can try to have sex with her again. Once more, the wife blocks his attempt to cheat, and in response he has a complete meltdown in the uber in which he screams at his wife that her vagina is disgusting, their sex life sucks because of her disgusting vagina, and that she is worthless because she can't even bear his children. And on top of everything, he does ALL of this in front of her father and brother.

Yeah, every single person on reddit would be telling the wife to leave her husband immediately, people would be offering to set her up with shelters and other resources for abused women, and the man would probably be lying on the ground with a broken jaw and a concussion courtesy of the father and brother.

Arnoux • 14 points • 13 November, 2019 08:34 AM

It is not only the problem with the reddit itself but the relationships subreddit. You see only filtered responses. I got banned from there or maybe comment removed couple of times because of some very mild tough love advices. Also after you get some downvotes you can't comment there just every 10 mins. After like 100 downvotes, couple of post removals, maybe ban and not even being able to reply to the stupid comment because of 10mins limit people get tired and just unsub from that subreddit.

bootyannihilator • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 10:50 AM holllllly shit this the real shit right here I legit laughed reading this. Accurate. Just imaging a guy acting that way is hilarious. It's actually unbelievable for a guy to act that way. Reading it with the genders revered really highlighted how inane the wifes actions were. Ah man, I think this is a helpful exercise in determining if your gf/wife is in the wrong or not. Switch the genders, how would things turn out if the guy acted the way she did.

IM_MAKIN_GRAVY • 2 points • 18 November, 2019 04:15 PM

I lost it at disgusting vagina. I mean it was clear from reading the original that he should leave her with whatever repercussions his heart desires. But this pretty clearly illustrates the biases we have towards women. I didn't even realize how appalled I should be until I read this.

askmrcia • 2 points • 20 November, 2019 04:10 PM*

Here's another example of the biases towards women. When the Redpill got quarantined was it ever because this sub criticized men?

MGTOW/RedPill subs get a lot of shit for calling women out on their bullshit. But when you see posts like "don't be a beta, this guy is a beta, Do XYZ to avoid being bluepilled, this guy is a cuck, ect..." You hear nothing but crickets from those who call out the RedPill sub.

People will accept it when you call guys creeps, betas, simps, pussy worshipers, ect... But when you criticize women its a no no. They call this sub sexist and they say MGTOWs hate women, but they never ever criticize these subs when they talk poorly about men. If this sub left out any topic revolving around men and simply bashed men then there would be no problem. Proof?

Niceguys, TwoX, Relationships, AskReddit and AskMen are all subs that bash men, but will damn near ban you if talk about women in a negative light. The moment you do they call you an incel.

So its fair game to shit on men, but its a sin to bash women. That's reddit, the internet and real life for you. Its the reason subs like this exist. Its one of the few places you are free to critique women without getting banned.

IM_MAKIN_GRAVY • 2 points • 20 November, 2019 10:28 PM

Start playing video games, order up an escort and pizza that night, and go to sleep a happy man. His happiness is paramount. Then, when the father arrives a few days later, tell him to fuck off and keep his used up daughter and give her away to another man, while joyfully stating that he's now a free man.

Same. Also sexual harassment day is approaching. Time to find that lucky lady and ask if she'll suck your dick in the broom closet.

SeasonedRP • 115 points • 12 November, 2019 08:44 PM

I imagine the advice people gave this poor sap amounted to telling him to grovel and apologize and be thankful he has such a spirited woman, when the only things he should be doing is changing the locks and meeting with a lawyer. After doing that, he should check out the sidebar on this sub.

Some think this sounds made up. I don't. I had something kind of like this happen during the miserable days I was married, and I wasn't BP. My experiences are why I'm skeptical of MRP and don't believe the notion that doing RP on "hard mode" will enable one to be happily married. Things change dramatically once you're locked down. Don't get married or cohabit.

PhantomRedditor5 • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 09:26 AM

Can you elaborate more. I'm interested. Married guy here, needing to be more RP after being a purple pill beta bitch boy.

pejnourt • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 05:35 PM

In my experience, he's right. Marriage is a zero sum game and women have all the leverage. They can divorce, get half of your money, kids, alimony. You can play dread but they have the better cards and they know it.

Your best option is to minimise the damage. If you have no kids, you should separate asap.

DareToZamora • 20 points • 13 November, 2019 09:46 AM

I think the post got removed. If you scrolled through the comments, there were one or two people saying 'dude, she's your wife, forgive her', but they were mostly downvoted. The prevailing consensus was leave that bitch.

CainPrice • 202 points • 12 November, 2019 05:52 PM

When a man sucks ass, all it takes is bumping into a better guy she used to know and a few drinks and she'll yell and scream like a crazy bitch when her shitty man gets in her way and cock-blocks her.

CainPrice • 132 points • 12 November, 2019 07:21 PM

While her behavior is definitely disrespectful, it's not surprising.

This guy sucks. He has no self-respect, a tiny dick, and lets his wife run roughshod over him while he clings to his mother's skirt and hides behind his sister.

I'm sure he's good to his wife and he works hard and gives her a decent life and all that jazz, but that's not doing anything right. It's just failing to do anything wrong.

Just being non-wrong isn't good enough. That's enough to make a woman sit around until something better comes along, but the second something better is there and she actually feels excitement - someone actually makes her feel something instead of just being non-wrong. She can't help herself.

It's like she's waking up for the first time in a long time. She'll do anything to hold on to that feeling. She's been so unhappy and in a fog for so long that she didn't even realize it.

Logically, sure, she owes her husband some respect and should logically and rationally recognize everything he's done for her and love him and be grateful.

But women aren't logical creatures. They're creatures of feeling. Facts and the scoresheet of goodwill he thinks he should have built up over the years don't buy attraction.

In fact, she feels -trapped- and -oppressed- by all of his points and goodwill. She wants to feel something, and instead she's stuck with this non-wrong guy that logically, she owes her love, and as soon as she meets a guy who makes her feel something and she can't act on it, she gets furious. Her subconscious feels trapped. Tricked. This worthless loser of a man that she feels like she owes wants to put her back in the fog where she doesn't feel anything.

Can you blame her?

Thinkingard • 111 points • 12 November, 2019 09:45 PM

It's important to blame her. At the end of the day women need to be held responsible for their choices and discivilizational behavior.

Short-changedChad • 59 points • 12 November, 2019 10:39 PM

The word you are looking for is "degenerate"

CainPrice • 36 points • 12 November, 2019 10:04 PM

Think about what you're asking.

Should a woman really be required to be faithful, loyal, and respectful to a man, forever, simply because he hasn't done anything wrong and there's nothing technically wrong with their relationship, just because he happened to come along first?

All a man should need to do is come along first, then not screw anything up?

Women are children. You can't hold them responsible for not acting like adults. Society already tried that, women went ape shit, so we gave women freedom and eliminated consequences for them to shut them up. What did they do with that freedom and lack of consequences? They started drinking too much and having lots of casual sex, then complaining more. Live and learn.

Htowngetdown • 22 points • 13 November, 2019 01:15 AM

If they decide to marry, then yes they should be required, lol.

ExoticPanther • 9 points • 12 November, 2019 11:49 PM

A lot of men still deep in the blue pill actually do share that ideology in the first paragraph.

To be honest, it's sad a lot of people are okay with "good enough" anyway, without spouting too much inspirational drivel; why not be the best you can be?

Thinkingard • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 02:37 PM

I get what you are saying for unmarried women but for married women they definitely should be held to a higher standard and to account for their actions. Civilization depends on strong families and women who decide to take on the burden of marriage need to know the gravity of what they are doing. If they end up settling with some Schmoie then that's not my problem she has to figure that out and be responsible for who she decides to date and marry.

[deleted] • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:06 AM and what are you saying we learned?

that we shouldn't listen to women cos they'll complain no matter what?

cos if that's what you're saying we learned, i agree.

CainPrice • 16 points • 13 November, 2019 03:13 AM

If you listen to a child's complaints and take them seriously and give the child what it wants, you end up feeding your child nothing but pizza and candy and then the stupid kid complains to you about her stomachache, then grows up an unhealthy fatass, then blames her parents for raising her badly and making her fat.

People used to be smart enough to not listen to women and not take them seriously, then women got louder and some idiot thought "Hey, they're equal humans! We need to give them the same shit we have because it's the right thing to do!"

Sobinia • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:11 PM

If women want equality, they should be given equal shit, but only if they earn it like men currently do. No gender (neither men, nor women) should be treated better just because they have a penis/vagina between their legs.

adam-1 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 11:36 AM

This comment is gold. I'd award you but all I have is cash.

Arnoux • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 08:20 AM

Actually I got her side from the beginning. Anything this guy did for her is worthless because they don't have kids and she did not have the real need of someone taking care of her. Also she blames the husband for not having a kid. The husband might be right the she can't have kid but natural way for this woman to have kid is try different people when her husband can't make her pregnant. She already has low (or zero chance) to get pregnant and she is already 33 so her chance of getting pregnant will never be better than now.

I remember I read somewhere that love lasts for 1-2 years because after that period if the woman is not pregnant then she will assume subconsciously that her man might be infertile and she need to find someone fertile quickly before she will get infertile as well.

These things are fine. If couples like this in the past would have lasted forever then the human race would be way less successful. This woman needs to get pregnant by someone else quickly.

Sobinia • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:17 PM

I heard that love lasts for 4-5 years, because after that period of time, the child is capable of survival on its own. Of course, its life won't be particularly pleasant, but it can at least, say, pick some scraps out of a rubbish bin and not starve to death. In third world countries, there are almost no homeless orphans under the age of four, because until the child hits that age, it's entirely dependant on its parents and will die without their care.

CainPrice • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 03:37 PM

People call this the "7 year itch". A marriage typically lasts from 4-10 years, with 7 being a good average.

A woman's best genetic bet is to have kids with multiple men to ensure genetic diversity in her progeny. That increases the chances that her genes go on for many generations. So women are literally hard-wired to get bored after being with the same man for awhile and start noticing other men.

The timing is, as you've noted, based around children. After about 7-ish years of marriage, the kids are probably 4 or 5. They can walk around and don't need to be carried everywhere. They don't require the intensive care that a baby requires. At that point, her husband's paternal investment and help with the kids isn't as necessary. She still needs his money, but she can get that via child support.

So at the 4-10 year mark, typically averaging 7 years, women get the itch to cheat or divorce. They suddenly aren't happy any more.

This timing also usually coincides with a woman's version of a midlife crisis. Around the time a woman is in her mid 30s (really, this ranges from early 30s to mid 40s depending on the woman), she suddenly has this shocking realization that this is her last chance. She will never be pretty and desirable once she's older. If she doesn't make a change and find a new man, right now, this is going to be the rest of her life. This man, this house, these kids, this life. She gives her life a hard look and asks herself "Am I settling? Is this really it? Am I really okay with this being the rest of my life?" Because if she doesn't move on, right now, she's choosing this for the rest of her life. She won't be able to get another man if she gets much older.

Elegantly said.

Nothing else to say, really. He's been a good boy just like everyone said he should. I'm sure mommy and sissy agree: he's such a stand-up guy; always so thoughtful and caring. To prove it, he got pet on the head some times, but those slowly diminished. He still got some treats dropped on the ground now and then. But good boys get predictable; good boys get boring.

His world is about to get turned the fuck upside down. Good luck to him; we've all been there.

Novatonavila • 39 points • 12 November, 2019 11:27 PM

Looks like a cuckold fantasy for me. I saw many of them here. They all have the same details that make the husband feel inferior to the other guy. The husband always has a small dick. The wife secretly prefers the other guy. The other guy has a big dick. The wife shows to the husband how much she prefers the other guy. Its always like that.

Cristoff13 • 16 points • 13 November, 2019 03:16 AM

Good point. It could be a troll post designed to elicit a response from places like this. It could be cuckold fantasy. If it is a real story, I think the poor guy needs to see a lawyer and get the divorce ball rolling.

Capital_Recognition[S] • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 12:11 AM Looking at certain details he puts out there that are unrelated to the story, it's very unlikely. It's very specific and so probably true.

smilodoner • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 12:37 AM

Adding details doesn't make the story more believable. He might just be a good writer. I've seen a few like this that read very similarly and 95% fell for it.

I agree tho about your 'no-excuse' if you're one of the lucky male human finding TRP. It's no coincidental that most (good) TRPERS are smart enough to read, think, absorb, and retrospect; not an imbecile, denial, skepticist white-knight beta-boy feminist.

bjcm5891 • 16 points • 13 November, 2019 06:52 AM

What I gather from this:

- They met when she was 21, and he was 25. He evidently liked her straight away ("smart, beautiful and outgoing") while she was busy chasing the "Johns" of the world who she could have
- They start dating when she's on the other side of 25 and realises her clock is ticking. Alpha rides, beta provides. Check.
- RIGHT on her 30th birthday, they get married. Ding ding ding.

He's worried about losing her, but he'd lost her a long time ago. She just needed the opportunity. I pity this guy. How can you not? His best option would have been to tell her to go to Norm's and fuck John's brains out- but don't come home. I would go home, throw her shit onto the porch and left $50 for a bottle of wine and a cab fare to Johns. Would fucking hurt but he needs to put his foot down and let the garbage take itself out.

Yeah I feel bad for this guy but also feel this strange, creeping relief when I read a story like this because once upon a time, that could have been me. I feel like Neo dodging a bullet.

DubbleFUPAwitCheez • 27 points • 12 November, 2019 10:18 PM

Discount, "sober man's thoughts, drunk man's words" at your own peril, especially when it comes to women because those "thoughts" are actually feelings. In my experience I have never had a drunk girl I was dating talk shit on me, ever. Not bragging but what they do instead is tell me how awesome they think I am.

The closest I ever got to the opposite side was when a girl that has liked me for a long time got drunk on her birthday and in front of her boyfriend went on and on about how much she liked me. The guy just sat there. Nothing happened but it was clear what she was saying.

Suffice to say, she isn't haaaaaaappy but I don't think it's over. She might fuck dudes behind his back but I bet they both stick around. To avoid the ol' divorce rape, this guy needs to learn some game and hit the gym hard. Maybe he grows a spine during it but I'd bet he wants to stay married over anything else.

Rakosnik • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 07:06 PM

Arnoux • 0 points • 13 November, 2019 08:28 AM

it's not even his fault. He didn't know better.

Sorry to offend you and upvoters but why this comment have 20 upvotes? He is 37 years old grown up man.

If it is not his fault then the actions of his woman is not her fault either. I thought people here like to take responsibility and want woman to face consequences etc.

This guy had 37 years to figure out life. It would be different if he was 16 years old. You can't blame others (always) for your wasted life.

bestsparkyalive • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:26 PM

Lol no one is offended mr Reddit overlord. Sometimes here we have sympathy towards another's struggle because we are aware of how deep BP conditioning can run in a man's life. If I didn't find the Red Pill I doubt my ways would have changed, I would have stuck to them and been clueless as to why the nice guy keeps getting screwed.

Also we don't "want women to face consequences." That's some toxic little boy shit. Red pilling seems to allow us to let situations naturally be created where we can see the true side of females in relationships. Now if a woman faces consequences because of her actions naturally that's fine, but remember there's a lot of dudes who aren't even close to being on their game, and probably come to this forum and get pissed at women for being shitty when they're sad excuses of a man.

We say it's not his fault cause his eyes aren't opened. When you're eyes get opened and you still create the same traps for yourself then it becomes your fault.

PhantomRedditor5 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 09:40 AM

I'm not going to even lie to you bro, self-awareness does come to different people at different ages. I'm turning 33 in about a week and a half, and I am finally at the stage of my life where self awareness is a thing. Figuring myself out and who and what I am. It took a long fucking time because I was living in survival mode, but because of life's circumstances, it has forced me to sit down and to figure this stuff out.

Myself, I am an outlier. But you are right, 37 is a little old in figuring this stuff out.

kokoke • 9 points • 13 November, 2019 04:53 PM

The saddest part about this story is that this guy is almost definitely going to take her back. In fact its about 90% certain that his trash wife will manipulate the situation and make the guy actually apologize to her instead of the other way round. She's already playing mind games with him by not communicating. Based on what this guy says, he believes that she has a higher SMV than him and he's desperate not to lost his "prize catch". He's already trying to hamster away her behavior by calling her an "ethical person", reiterating that she was drunk and all that other bullshit.

Also he was most definitely her Orbiter for 5 years before they started dating.

I really hope this guy has some solid friends who can help him and force him to not take that whore back.

I feel sorry for they guy, cause he's blue as fuck and if I never learned about the Red, I would probably have reacted similar to him in the same situation.

The_Bacon_Reader • 6 points • 13 November, 2019 01:31 AM

Not really anything you can do. It's tragic because the guy has already lost.

Capital_Recognition[S] • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 01:59 AM

Firstly, you never get married... secondly, you don't become unattractive.

If a bitch still acts up with core TRP principles at work and the two things I listed above, you do NOT react with her in mind. You go talk to another chick, and next this hoe. The end.

However, the guy who wrote this fucked himself on 1 and 2 from jump street... almost definitely does not exercise TRP core principles, and she holds the cards since he gift wrapped his balls when he proposed to her.

bjcm5891 • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 07:19 AM

TruthSeekingPerson • 7 points • 13 November, 2019 01:08 AM

If you're a beta male you can't get married to an alpha widow post-wall woman (wall being 25 years old). If you can't dictate the terms of the marriage you're going to get fucked.

This guy should hire a divorce attorney and head to court.

If I were him the basis for the divorce should be the fact that his wife is infertile. I wouldn't mention her blow up.

30DaystoSolstice • 8 points • 13 November, 2019 03:29 AM Glad to see someone moving the wall to 25 as well. To me, W peak at about 23, 24. By 25 they have already had that one ex. The whore phase follows very shortly. That phase often coincides with a job, more independance, city living etc) At 27/28 they are already banged up, tired, full of issues and opinions ( if educated). At 29/30 they haven't much left in the tank. So they perceive the wall to be at 30, but it really happens at about 25.

I started to think about it when I realized that I was only swiping right on tinder to women under 25 without even looking at their age.

PolukranosWordEater • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 05:24 AM

Yeah. I live in a rural area and the wall hits a touch earlier even by a few years. Sedentary lifeatyles, greasy fried foods, rampant drug use, and women hook up/marry/divorce earlier right out of high school if they don't leave for the city or university. I'd say they aren't LTR worthy after 22/23 maybe?

TruthSeekingPerson • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 03:54 AM

The odds of finding a non-damaged woman older than 25 are low enough that it's not worth the trouble.

nayvote • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 10:16 AM

I mean it depends on what you're trying to find them for.

"I'm still shaking of anger for what she did, and fear that my marriage might be over just like that, with no warning whatsoever." - No shit.

That guy needs to talk to a lawyer and start securing his assets and prepare for a divorce. Of course without telling his soon to be ex-wife.

He should pat himself on his back over the fact that they don't have kids. If she has no respect or physical desire for him there's no fucking point in staying married.

DistinctSense • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 02:21 PM

He should pat himself on his back over the fact that they don't have kids. I

This is a relief at least for the situation he is in.

If she has no respect or physical desire for him there's no fucking point in staying married.

Are you also saying if kids aren't involved then there's no point in getting married in the first place?

Hjalmbere • 1 point • 13 November, 2019 05:03 PM

Kids and there are other reasons to get married depending on in which country you live in. It's my understanding that in some states in the USA the risks by far outweigh the possible benefits due to lopsided marriage laws etc. Heck, if I lived in California I'd probably be scared to even talk to women. I live in a very "progressive" country but at least we don't have alimony.

8380atgmaildotcom • 5 points • 13 November, 2019 03:05 AM

The game is so over. It's so easy to DM some girl who has pictures with her and her boyfriend with paragraph captions about how she does not have any words to say and how he is amazing and then text me about how it is cold and how her nipples could cut through glass.

The fairy tale is over.

100% agree. I saw his post and tried to give him guidance as much as I could to someone that hasn't taken the redpill. Not sure if he got the message. Tried to find it but apparently the story got deleted several times. Most probably by him because he decided to kiss her ass and eliminate any evidence that he asked for help. Poor guy. Don't ever want to be that guy again ever.

[deleted] • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 12:44 AM

Yeah, I read that thread. That story is fucked. Guy is clearly totally oblivious to how his wife views him and hasn't seen this coming. He clearly still loves her and it blinds him to how she's a pretty awful person and that he needs to bail on that marriage because it's irredeemable at this point.

On the plus side, this sort of story is a good origins story for a RP guy. This could be the thing that pushes him to take the RP. A lot of RP guys used to be this BP and got woken up by a harsh punch in the gut like this.

SpinPlates • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 02:33 PM

I don't understand how a 37 year old man can walk through life and not realize that women do not love men the same way men love women. They don't give a fuck about you.

Just picture this: slut leaves soyboy for another man, gets pregnant, the chad dumps the bitch, she asks the cuck to come back, the cuck welcomes both the slut and the bastard baby with opens arms, crying of happiness. I've seen it happen several times where I live.

Capital_Recognition[S] • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 12:16 AM

It's very detailed and thus it's highly unlikely it's false. If you read each sentence and think about how it plays out, you can usually get a clue if it's fake or not. Especially if you look at details, whether they're relevant or not...

The reveal of his emotions while he goes through the story are also key to knowing that it probably isn't fake. Just my opinion, but the whole things reads like a true story, and I've honestly met some girls who have done much worse... so it really isn't a shocker either.

CaucasianPanther • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 01:39 AM

RPOpenUp • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 09:41 AM

I just took a look at the sub relationship advice, but holy shit the amount of white knighting is insane there!

The sub just shows how much power women currently have. For example a girl was complaining about something sexual that he did. She didn't like it. Since we are rational here it's not okay to do something against a lady's will.

However the advice that they give her on that sub is just destroying the entire life of that guy. She asked for advice before even talking to him about it... And the redditor in there respond with stuff like yea that's sexual assault. And instead of talking about it with her bf or maybe just leave him if she doesn't like it they immediately want to take it to court... I'm lost for words, this is on so many levels seriously fucked up. Turns out this dude didn't even realise she didn't like it.

UrbanBanger • 3 points • 13 November, 2019 01:01 PM

RivenHalf • 4 points • 13 November, 2019 04:34 AM

Being the guy who never commits who usually has his plates come back after dating some chump, been there and done that. It never fails. Girl is with an alpha. Starts thinking she wants commitment. Threatens alpha that she walks or he commits. Alpha of course says bye. She leaves and gets with some beta who commits with no fight at all. Usually is back texting within a month or so. Some never come back. Some take longer. Once you've been on the other side of this though it becomes so commonplace that it's just matter of fact. Women both craze and hate commitment. I remember back in my old days when I would scratch and claw trying to get some women to commit to me immediately after meeting her. Now I'm the one with the carrot on the string and I honestly pray everyday I wish I had learned to flip the script about a decade earlier than I did but then I see stories like this and I'm just glad that I even eventually did. It's eat or be eaten out here. Simple. John is about to eat. How dare a man even entertain the thought of taking a woman like that back after she acted that one in front of his fucking mother. Disgusting. He shoved have pushed her out the moving Uber for that behavior. Oh well, Rest in piece Beta bitch. Another one bites the dust. He wont learn from this either, he'll be back to cucking in no time. I am sure he already did.

Hjalmbere • 8 points • 13 November, 2019 07:50 AM

Don't. They started dating when she turned 25. They met when she was 21. He was a beta in waiting while she rode the cc. She failed to lock down an alpha so he suddenly couldn't believe his luck. "Suddenly she appreciates me for who I am.". Bet he made good money too.

KingOfAllWomen • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 02:13 PM

Yep. What would a red pill gentlemen pick out from this text?

At one point she went to the ladies room with my sister, but ended up staying with him at another table.

Interesting.

but I did notice she was drinking a lot more than usual, considering we rarely drink.

Setting up for "I don't know, It just happened™, and He took advantage of me!!!

As we walked to the car she made it clear she was not happy about me coming over and breaking up their conversation and called me a fucking asshole

Zero respect for the husband when she doesn't get her way, must be VERY accustomed to getting her way at all times. Not a partnership.

nooooo....I'm going to Norms. I'm hungry".

Until my sister texted me "she wants to go to Norms because that's where John is going. I can see her phone and he's texting her right now".

Real time trickle truth

She started screaming something like "what am I going to do at home? Play around with your little dick? Your little dick does nothing for me. I should've fucked John when I had the chance. It's time I start fucking real men...".

Right in front of the mom and sister. Jesus Christ... Notice how this guy keeps saying what a classy, well educated woman she is. How she's so good with the social graces over and over in the post. It's like he's trying to convince himself as much as the readers...

But she is by far the most ethical person I have ever met, so I don't think she has ever cheated on me, and I don't think she really meant everything she said that night. But I'm having a difficult time getting my thoughts in order, especially because she hasn't contacted me at all.

lol who else thinks she's never cheated on him?

justgotalpha • 2 points • 13 November, 2019 04:04 PM

Men need to grow a pair of balls and with the help of TRP we are getting there but until then seriously men need to know when things are getting out of order, if a woman disrespects me like that publicly we broke up in that very same moment, I'd take her to her parents house and start to proceed with divorce! Plain and simple but to avoid divorce you must first not fall for the trap called MARRIAGE

NarrowBath7 • 2 points • 14 November, 2019 08:06 AM

So is the only good option here to break up with her? I don't see how something like that is not indicative of future cheating (or maybe even past). It's certainly indicative of major problems, but the question is, is the only option here the nuclear one?

Rakosnik • 1 point • 14 November, 2019 09:03 AM there are other options but all of them not good

he should ditch that infertile unhappy woman

No change locks asap and if you go see her, bring along all her belongings because you know, it's over. And she certainly didn't stay at her parents. That's were John picked her up...

I'm still shaking of anger for what she did, and fear that my marriage might be over just like that, with no warning whatsoever.

Indeed it is over. But your probably the only one for which there was no warning.

For the record, it's not that I can't get her pregnant. She's the one who can't have children,

There is a sliver lining...should make the divorce fairly easy and not completely cripple the guy financially.

Why is nobody talking about her age and fact that she is barren? Dude is beta orbiter but she has clear issues. It sounds like she hit a wall and now fact that she cant have children of her own is bothering her. She is also acting very childish for her age, point where her dad is coming to get her stuff. Sounds like she isnt this perfect princess what guy thing she is and has been going issues for while. His crime is not seeing her as she is and how he is acting afterwards.

I, like several others who have commented here, am glad I found this sub so many years ago. In the beginning, I would recoil in shock and horror over stories like this, and it wasn't long after I found this sub that Rollo posted his Saving The Best article. However, after a time, you can become immune to things. As such, my reaction today is much different. Today I just laugh and chuckle. There is PLENTY of evidence out there today of how bad marriage is for men, and this story is but one of a piece of steak dropped off in a pond of pirahnas. I feel no shame in saying I do not feel sorry for this guy at all.

Dude, you are in the right place. Grade A advice would be to block and divorce but everyone knows that will be too extreme for you given you've just discovered TRP.

Go through the motions you feel you have to.

Some lessons/advice-

- 1) you aren't losing a wonderful relationship, you just didn't know how shitty your relationship was until now
- 2) this can't be salvaged. It's been nml to try but it's over. This incident was a reflection of bigger issues you probably haven't faced yet.
- 3) you are better than this useless, despicable cunt who behaved that way in front of your mom and sister when she couldn't pursue the dick she wanted.

You will come out on top. Of that I'm certain. The voyage will be choppy.

All the best.

I feel pity for OP since it's one of the classical beta stories. IMHO, now knowing how women act, i would:

1. Let her do everything she wants.
2. Follow her to the motel where she will fuck John.
3. Beat the fuck off the door and catch them in situ.
4. Tell her she's a whore and look John with a face of "you will see me again".
5. Leave, and fill divorce.
6. Secure all the assets.
7. Share all the lovely videos and photos of her with John on their social medias.
