

Had my first job interview

January 29, 2017 | 14 upvotes | by SgtBrutalisk

One of you fuckers posted a CV template in TRP a few years back.

I saved it for just in case. Come October 2016, I apply to a job and remember I have it.

I fill it in and send. I got two calls and had a job interview. It seems the job won't pan out, but that was an immense success nonetheless.

You know who you are. Thank you.

Maintain abundance mentality when looking for jobs. Apply and interview for as many jobs as you can, select the one you want the most

I will also scrutinize any employment contracts and ponder on them before signing anything.

Got a copy of the template?

Found it. I tested the link and it works, but I had to do captcha twice.
