Although I was familiar with Rollo's and some other guys' work, I discovered this community just few weeks ago. I wish I did just few months ago, as I have been through a lot of shit recently (I still am, but since I have been reading a lot and improving myself, I am not that affected and I am getting my shit together). The fact that they are tryng to ban this community is a signal that we are doing good.

Thank you guys
