And upset you just to satisfy her hunger for drama and arguing.

[deleted] • 36 points • 20 April, 2019 12:50 PM

And if you don't accept this just for "who she is" she will be upset with you and "hate" that she needs to get this attention somewhere else inserted in her butt while you are away at work.

What do you respond with if she plays the "I will give you sons" card?

asura227[S] • 2 points • 25 April, 2019 12:07 AM

In case you missed it(since you asked twice):

Translated: I will play your instinct to procreate and then use the spawn that results as the false virtue to force you to pay me for the next 18-26 years.

That's a gift that keeps on taking.

My response: In the absence of a written, notarized, and legally binding agreement giving me complete custody over those sons in the event that "my turn comes to an end"; I'm going to decline with extreme prejudice.

I have a love-hate relationship with Amazon, but I kinda feel bad for Jeff Bezos. (Still kinda hate him, but he got shafted.)

usa_foot_print • 56 points • 20 April, 2019 01:35 PM

I wouldn't. If he married less of a woman who didn't work her ass off to help his dream come true he would have never been as rich as he is. Hate it or not, she deserves a lot of credit for encouraging him, and enabling him to pursue his idea of Amazon. Most women are not so encouraging. Plus he is the one who was cheating, not her

>36 billion dollars

usa_foot_print • 6 points • 21 April, 2019 07:07 PM

Does anyone who invested in his company early deserve their money? If yes then she deserves the most. She did everything so he could pursue it. She invested more than anyone (outside of Bezos) into getting Amazon going. It's not like she marries rich.

BluepillProfessor • 3 points • 20 April, 2019 02:57 PM

She never wrote a single line of code. She never filled single order. Gtfo.

How dare you miso-genie pig for suggesting all she has to offer in return is a pre-owned pussy.

Here, let me educate you shitlords on what a post-wall slut slash single mother can offer for her husband:

Pre-owned pussy.

STDs.

Mental illness.

Drama.

Her ex-boyfriends pumping her again behind your back.

Stepchildren.

Children you think are yours but are really stepchildren by her ex-boyfriends pumping her.

Constant threats to cheat and fornicate to go with her older age.

Debt.

Divorce rape.

False rape accusations.

Domestic abuse.

asura227[S] • 10 points • 20 April, 2019 02:16 PM

In my honest opinion:

Marriage is a long con. First you get the smoke and mirrors. Then you might get the best sex you're gonna get for the duration, hopefully. Then some yadda, yadda, yadda. Then you figure out the little piece of paper that you spent two minutes signing between the acts of the magic show; was the signature page of a contract. A contract, the terms of which you don't have a clue about, until she enacts that insurance policy.

"Happily ever after." "Till death do us part."

I don't understand how people can tell such lies with clear conscience.

deeselector • 10 points • 20 April, 2019 02:39 PM

He who has ears let them listen I ain't that Christian but the bible was right.

Cade_Connelly_13 • 3 points • 13 May, 2019 10:10 PM*

I see more ex-Christians and atheists saying this every day, gives me the tiniest ray of hope.

Get over your parents making you go to church on Sunday instead of play Mario Kart. Tell me if you dare that the Biblical model of marriage is not better for men and women than the dumpster fire of what our society has decided is 'fair'.

Rick_OShay1 • 2 points • 21 April, 2019 11:34 AM

The Bible already has the contract spelled out, in Corinthians, and tragically, even "Christian" women ignore what is CLEARLY spelled out.

XavierMalory • 4 points • 20 April, 2019 06:03 PM

If women were required to uphold their end of the contract, it would be a slightly fairer deal.

In Indian weddings the ring is like 10k, wedding is like 70-140k if you do it at a banquet hall. But the girls family pays for it, most of it.

AncientMGTOWWISDOM • 4 points • 20 April, 2019 05:51 PM

most women wouldnt be happy with a 6k ring

MGTOWtoday • 5 points • 20 April, 2019 08:54 PM

Let's say that's $600,000. Assuming you get married at the age of 25 or so and get about 25 years of once a week sex out of the deal then that works out to pussy costing you about $460 per lay. Math is fun.

asura227[S] • 2 points • 20 April, 2019 09:34 PM*

Sooooooo, let's recap: It's important to do math. Math helps you define the value of something in numerical terms. Being "in love" changes the chemicals in a man's brain in such a way that it actually lowers IQ points! Brain no want think math, lower head throbbing! Always do the math.

And she wants you to sign a grossly unfair contract that she can break without penalty at any time. Ask her to have a private ceremony and not invite the state into your relationship.

Because if she really loves you, she won't mind not putting you in a situation where she can legally treat you like a walking lootbox.

Having sex with two people is the most pathetic thing in the world. It's unreal how people have made themselves so braindead that they act ok with this. That's YOUR WIFE, and you can't even manage to be the only guy who puts his dick in her. Literally wtf.

Rick_OShay1 • 1 point • 21 April, 2019 11:37 AM

History has shown that an F/M/F relationship can work. Perhaps because the two females cancel each other out.

Cade_Connelly_13 • 1 point • 13 May, 2019 10:42 PM

I speak from experience when i say that IF if the two women are absolute BFF's...and IF all three people have clearly defined boundaries in the relationship which are respected at all times...then it can possibly work. It is not something that everyone should have as a goal. Nor should a man in that relationship expect a hot threesome every night.

Rick_OShay1 • 1 point • 17 May, 2019 05:30 AM

True, very true.

But I speak from studies & observations that when given a choice between being the one-and-only wife of a working man, and being part of a billionaire's harem, women generally seem to choose the latter.

JackJoestar 1 points 24 April, 2019 11:27 AM [recovered]

I mean, do niceguys forget that women are capable of working too? My mom works alongside my dad to rake in cash and she's an Honors Bio teacher at a HS so if anything she sometimes works harder than even my dad.
