Darcosuchus 1 points 14 June, 2020 04:57 AM

Saying beta male unironically already tells me who the real beta male is.

leopardinstinct 1 points 14 June, 2020 05:24 AM

It took me two seconds to see your active participation in lgbtq. Can't make this shit up lol. A faggot coming here to define what a beta male is.

abwehrstelle 1 points 14 June, 2020 03:29 AM

leopardinstinct 1 points 14 June, 2020 04:42 AM

"You can do it girl!!!"

nietzschesoptimism 1 points 14 June, 2020 02:42 AM

It's okay to be a 30 year old woman doctor. Nothing wrong with that. And Marriage is Rizq from Allah so don't make us think we can not get married too as a slightly older woman who serves society with the knowledge and skills Allah blessed her with. In fact y'all should be proud of your successful wives serving our societies with what Allah gave us!

Women's job isn't just to pop our babies for a husband who wants an awesome tight virgin who's young and he plows her to pop out as many kids, then when she's loose and her boi s are saggy he moves onto another one. Stop fetishizing Muslim women. Treat us like goddamn people for Allah's sake.

I'm going to receive my PhD at 26 and my MD at 30 InshaAllah and the men are jealous cuz they can't get that sweet juicy pussy of mine because I wanna serve humanity with the blessing of knowledge and intelligence that Allah gave me so, suck it.

bedaking 1 points 14 June, 2020 05:33 AM

Not necessarily. Men has the right to be okay with their wife working in a segregated environment that satisfy his Gheerah. All men are not supposed to be okay with that. It's the husbands personal preference only as long as the working environment satisfies Gheerah requirements.

Ryanreynolds543 1 points 14 June, 2020 03:46 AM

TrynaBeTheBest 1 points 13 June, 2020 04:11 PM

typical woman

the truth is, a woman who doesn't dedicate her life to being a mother/wife is just an inferior man

Women and men are equal to Allah yes

other than that men are superior

nietzchesoptimism 1 points 14 June, 2020 02:38 AM

Men are superior my a**, dude. Men and women also aren't equal to Allah, just sayin. When the prophet PBUH said mother three times and then father? And what about the paradise being under the mother's feet? Also women mustn't dedicate their entire life to being a mother and wife: yes it's an important part but the father must not be absent from parenting. A woman is also entitled to have a career too. What if she gets divorced because her husband was abusive and can't get remarried, if she doesn't have a career is it fair to her to have thrown in years of her life to a husband who never empowered her? A husband must empower his life, a good Muslim husband is supportive of his wife's ambitions and equally contributes to the family too.

Grow the hell up, it's the 21st century.

unclehl 1 points 14 June, 2020 03:09 AM

What if she gets divorced because her husband was abusive

Yeah, because that's the only reason a woman would ever divorce a man...

to a husband who never empowered her?

A lot of reasons why marriage doesn't work, not just because "husband was an unfeeling meanie from Day 1".

A husband must empower his life, a good Muslim husband is supportive of his wife's ambitions

These things should be discussed beforehand anyway.

equally contributes to the family too.

Wtf does this even mean? "Equally". Why do women like using this word without applying any solid context to it? It's only "equal" when it leans towards you.

Grow the hell up, it's the 21st century.

That's the same type of thing that soy-laced kaffir dogs like to say as a form of argument. You know, the same ones who refer to your religion as "backwards", "barbaric", and "medieval". The same ones who call your Prophet (SAW) a pervert (audhubillah). You think the Prophet (SAW) cited "the current year" as a reason for anything? Take your own advice. Don't put the Prophet's (SAW) words alongside the words of leftist degenerates.

nietzchesoptimism 1 points 14 June, 2020 03:15 AM

Just saying: Islam isn't backwards or old. Islam works for all ages, at any time. I am not saying that, but I'm saying that also social norms progress and our religion stands, but that doesn't mean that we should throw our social norms out the window. We do that if they conflict with our religion. If they don't, we take both in stride.

By equality I mean men and women contributing both to family. Both splitting chores, and raising up the kids together. The father isn't just the moneymaker and the mom isn't just the homemaker. Psychology studies show that healthy children growing up in a home where both parents work on caring for them emotionally and help raise them become more mentally stable and are less likely to suffer from depression or anxiety disorders.

Also I was mentioning abuse as an example. There are many reasons for divorce: sexual incompatibility, infertility, life changes, falling out of love etc. I'm just saying.

Also I'm a 20-something year old Muslim woman who follows the deen (Alhamdulillah) and has extensively studied Quran and sunnah so, don't try to say I'm not knowledgeable about religion just because I'm a feminist and also a woman working to be a doctor so :)))

theweirdreplyguy 1 points 13 June, 2020 04:53 PM

I honestly think 21 at this day and age is still kinda too close that age Lol. The fact that she's a virgin makes it better but if she's a heavy social media user than chances are feminism has already infiltrated her mind.

TrynaBeTheBest 1 points 13 June, 2020 10:25 PM

bedaking 1 points 13 June, 2020 04:59 PM

2 hours into the vote - we can say that our sub has at least 6 very regular MuslimMarriage visitors.

leopardinstinct 1 points 13 June, 2020 09:13 PM

Wait till we get free advertisement in the other subreddits lol

burntcig 1 points 14 June, 2020 09:19 PM

30 year old doctor. I'll happily be house husband and raise the kids, do the cooking and cleaning.
