60% of women cheat but 85% of the time it is the man's fault. Women tend to cheat because they are not being loved properly or they have been feeling lonely for a long period of time in a relationship & so might lean on another male for support & accidentally have sex with them.

"60% of women." And then they wonder why they are the majority in the hellfire. "Accidentally have sex with them" And then they wonder why we say they are deficient in intellect. How can you have sex on accident? Lol. And yet it's always the man's fault.

Amen to that, sister! Got some other statistics to add to your post:

40% of men cheat but 100% of the time it's the woman's fault because the man doesn't feel appreciated or loved or isn't having his needs met or is squeezed out of his own life or isn't being loved properly or they have been lonely for a long time inside a relationship. So they lean on another female for support and accidentally have sex with them.

See? Women's fault. I'm glad we agree on this and I'm so glad I could help! ☐ You're welcome!
