First time for everything, never had a comment I posted shared.

Brutal story. Reminds me of something I saw firsthand myself. If I was in your shoes I don't know if I would have been as pleasant about the entire situation. The /r/mgtow sub has a lot of stories that are sadly similar. It is amazing this isn't uncommon. Either way, after that story, here is wishing you the best, no one deserves to be treated like that.
