

Rant: my boyfriend says he forgot how to cook.

So as an essential worker (nurse) I've been working a bit more. I am still stocking my pantry, fridge and freezer with fresh foods and anything we might need to have survival foods and day to day nutritious fruits and veggies.

My man is doing some construction and improvements to our walk in pantry so he has personally inventoried and moved all of our dried goods into the garage, so he knows everything we have on hand. I left him with only leftovers for dinner for 2 days!! I make him lunch every day too. He doesn't usually eat the leftovers, I monitor them closely and freeze them as my own meal prep.

When I came home from work he says he "thinks he forgot how to cook!" I could list 4 gourmet meals that we have all fresh and frozen and dried ingredients for!! He says he never cooks anymore so he lost his touch.

I've never been more complimented in my life.

So as you can see, it's not really a rant, but rather, a sweet story. I promise you I won't leave him hungry again!!

I have no idea what I just read. But if you're happy, great.

Upon further reading, it appears that boyfriend knows what to say to keep OP dancing. I hope she doesn't end up disappointed.
