

Today was the day that Reddit almost swallowed the pill. On the front page today: Guy finds out soon-to-be fiancée is cheating and sets up an elaborate proposal to dump her.

November 27, 2015 | 1317 upvotes | by NiceTryDisaster

TL;DR from the top comment itself: Guy discovers his soon-to-be fiancée is cheating. Discovers texts and photos. Sets up elaborate proposal including candles, glitter, and rose petals. Has her read a rhyming poem that ends with him asking who the other guy is. She looks up shocked, he bails without a word, and gets into his car and drives off holding a pink dildo.

Second top comment with 2209 upvotes:

Gotta love living in a culture where a man would deem it necessary to document that he didn't trash her house or beat her before he confronts her for being a cheating whore. Why do you suppose he felt the need to do that?

With a reply of 1154 upvotes.

Because a crying woman is better than actual evidence in western society. Go ahead, just google what happens when a woman gets violent and the cops show up. Edit: I wonder how much downvotes I can lose by mentioning theredpill(Linked here) is about acknowledging this sort of shit for self-preservation.

1k+ upvotes despite the mention of the red pill sub-reddit?! What has the world even come to now! :(

Backstory: Decent guy. Goodlooking, fit, well groomed, smart, not a total beta finds out that his soon to be wife is actually a whore through her facebook account and stuff. She's been pretending to be in love and all the jazz but she's been fucking a guy called Thomas Roo behind his back.

She sends Thomas the same nude pics that she sends to her fiancé. Fucks him. But hides it from the guy in the video. This guy even had requested her to just tell him to walk away if she wants to be with someone else. But no, she wants to keep the beta husband as well as the boy toy on the side. Guy feels devastated cuz of the sham she tried to pull off and plans to dump her shamefully and record that he has not done any physical harm to her or her house to protect himself from the police.

A sixteen minute video but well worth the watch and something everyone will be able to relate to on here. This setup is a few weeks after he realizes she's a whore. You will see the feeling of pure freedom and liberty when you see him escape out in the end and play the music in his car as he drives away.

Video in question: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-KGfp2aTnHs> (Needs login)

Summary: Don't get married. Enjoy the watch! Cheers

The excitement she showed during his proposal, despite knowing she's a cheating whore, should really say everything.

I'm also getting some "men are the real romantics" vibes from this.

The grandiose display of roses and candles and poems and shit is straight out of the blue pill handbook. That's what men want to believe women are attracted to. Be the Thomas Thunderoo.

CrimsonTideCosby • 178 points • 27 November, 2015 09:53 PM

despite knowing she's a cheating whore,

I'm willing to bet it never even crossed her mind until the big reveal.

Men are romantics pretending to be pragmatics. Women are pragmatics pretending to be romantics.

Men are romantics pretending to be pragmatics. Women are pragmatics pretending to be romantics.

♂ Whoa. That's right up there with Warren Farrel's quote about "Men's greatest weakness is their facade of strength, and women's greatest strength is their facade of weakness."

She didn't cheat. It didn't really count. She doesn't love him, it was just sex, and they aren't married yet anyways. Also, it's not like she doesn't have feelings for him

I'm surprised you can't see what an asshole he is for putting her through that trama

GrandWizardofGrammar • 80 points • 28 November, 2015 07:19 AM trama = drama + trauma?

I'll allow it.

vengefully_yours • 12 points • 28 November, 2015 05:33 PM

It's like a tragedy, like when a moron driver crashes into a beautiful car you lovingly restored, or when that own to earth hot chick lets herself go over the summer and becomes a fat gelatinous troll with pink hair.

It's a tragedy, but because it's due to the incompetence or neglect of another, it's a travesty. When combined it's a tragedy.

stupid people take it literally

And be safe and put the /s

Be safe and wear a condom and vette properly.. fuck people looking to get offended..

You can vette then properly, she can pass all of it flawlessly, and as soon as you commit she will do the same thing they all do. It's only a matter of time and opportunity.

Vetting is only the first step.. owning your life is the second..

/s spoils every sarcasm, it's a stupid practice.

Just throw a whole bunch of them...

Enough sarcasm for you all?

Also a lot of fuckin faggots are seeing TRP now its the people following the trp link in the comments of the video post

My bad, I guess I wasn't in the right mind set when I commented. Sorry man.

Ewing_Sarcoma • 10 points • 28 November, 2015 12:37 AM

HeadingRed • 6 points • 1 December, 2015 11:08 PM

I'm also getting some "men are the real romantics" vibes from this.

That's because most of the time it's the truth. One of my biggest TRP awakings was coming to the realization that men are the true romantics in most cases. She wants to marry him because he will make her look good - it's got nothing to do with what she will or can do for him.

And in most cases a guy getting married knows he has to provide for her and their children.

In most cases a husband is a fashion accessory they can show off to the rest of the world "see what I have"

Feeling more and more like giving up women

TheSchnozzberry • 21 points • 28 November, 2015 07:05 AM

I'd rather have conniving pussy than honorable dick.

[deleted] • 62 points • 27 November, 2015 09:26 PM

Men are pretty shameless pathological liars when they want to get some pussy. We will fake the entire relationship, say any bold faced lie to even a long time friend just to tap that shit once. #notallmen of course, but to me it's more of a general weakness in people that forces lying and cheating. Men lie about feelings to get some pussy or to maintain a relationship; women want to maintain the beta relationship and get the good dick on the side, like this chick was doing. Both are pure weakness. No guy who's worth a shit will need to lie about having feelings or even his income.

pms777 • 35 points • 28 November, 2015 01:54 PM

Dude, you got it all wrong. Faking feelings is the least effective method of getting pussy. You can fake confidence, arrogance, superiority, you name it and it will always be more effective than faking cuddly emotions. If "i love you" got people laid there wouldnt be so many thirsty betas out there.

[deleted] • 0 points • 28 November, 2015 02:23 PM

How do I have it wrong? I wasn't advocating lying in any way. I'm just describing what guys do.

circlhat • 18 points • 27 November, 2015 11:45 PM

It's not that black and white, I seen alpha lie to get pussy, and beta tell the entire truth and the girl still chooses the alpha. Sure it is weakness, but I think a better would be "Using"

joh2141 • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 05:07 PM

Technically alpha lying. Now I'm not saying you can't make yourself look better than you are with exaggeration but straight up lying doesn't really make you alpha. Part of being alpha is to also be able to back up your talk. If you can't, you're just another beta isn't it? So a beta who lied and a beta who told the truth to the girl. The girl chose the liar because he "appeared" more alpha because she believed the lies. Now if it's alpha lying about commitment and shit. Good job is all I can say

Women fantasize about the blue pill idea of rose pedals, and candles and shit like that. I think some even like it in real life, but only so they can go brag to their friends about how they were romanced or some shit.

Women bragging to other women about romance would be like a man bragging to another man about how powerful he is in his life. Romancing a women is like bending your knee to their authority over you. Once you have romanced them they have conquered you, and then they get bored.

screamingATtrees • 4 points • 29 November, 2015 05:44 PM

[deleted] • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 06:03 PM

This is what immediately came to mind for me. She didn't even seem phased by the candles, the note, and everything involved in this romantic gesture. Fuck, if there was that level of lack-of-enthusiasm for something as small as going out to a nice restaurant for an anniversary or something it would probably make me think twice about the relationship.

SmirkAddict • 91 points • 28 November, 2015 02:35 AM

I felt for the guy until I saw the chick.

A full tattoo sleeve and tattoos on her feet... He handled it like a boss but everything about that chick says impulsive behavior.

TRPShill • 20 points • 28 November, 2015 06:55 PM*

the second I saw the tats I no longer had as much sympathy for him. The flags were there.

SmirkAddict • 32 points • 28 November, 2015 07:34 PM*

Exactly.

Generally, I find tattoos to be masculine. That's why women like them on men because they show a sense of defiance... Well until they became so mainstream.. Tattoos represent a state of mind or a view that you may not always hold as you go through life. For many women, tattoos show their "hardships" and allow them to celebrate their poor decisions by rewriting them as significant milestones. They don't have enough confidence in who they are as people to have someone find them unique on personality alone. So they need things permanently placed on them so that they are always getting some type of attention. The more noticeable the tats the more you should be cautious. And let's be honest, some people are kind of excited in some morbid way when they are close to a tragedy. Because then they have a reason to broadcast their tragedy and express to others that they are tough or hardened. They now have their reason to get that cool meaningful tattoo.

If this dude thought this woman was marriage material I can only imagine his track record with women. He probably met her at a club or rave, had sex with her the first night and felt they had something special.

berryfarmer • 127 points • 27 November, 2015 11:45 PM notice the disgusting tats on chicks arm. They like to mark themselves as damaged goods, pay attention.

JimRim • 44 points • 28 November, 2015 02:56 AM

I think it's safe to assume that each tattoo a female has is at least equal to one premarital dick.

Can confirm: Ex got a tat after we broke up

[deleted] • 12 points • 28 November, 2015 08:10 PM

You can't link to other subs here. It's to prevent this sub from being banned for "brigading". That's been a rule here for well over a year now. That's why all links to other reddit posts are archive links.

Pantek51 • 40 points • 27 November, 2015 08:49 PM

Their purpose is to maintain control of "the narrative". By downvoting non-conforming opinions they promote reddit's political agenda. They're a lot like the violent elements of Islamic societies: the non-violent elements are able to legitimately deny involvement while still benefiting from their actions.

you are allowed to link if you don't brigade, problem is brigading is impossible to prevent even with archiving so you need a policy that you can hide behind.

MentORPHEUS • 1 point • 27 November, 2015 09:15 PM

Correct, it has happened to me and the autobot explains what got your post deleted but not why.

I use archive.is, but isn't there a method that looks something like

np.reddit.com/

I've seen that but not figured it out bsutansalt • 1 point • 29 November, 2015 08:36 PM

We tried, but that still got whiners bitching and moaning about brigading so we just nipped it all in the bud with zero linking via the bot.

PotentFapstronaut • 14 points • 27 November, 2015 09:55 PM

That was me, and the comment I explicitly mentioned TRP in was downvoted to oblivion, as it was x-posted to TBP. It now sits on -20 and burried at the bottom, despite my best attempts to provide insight (which I knew from the beginning would be futile).

Pantek51 • 1 point • 27 November, 2015 10:15 PM

I was talking about some guy who only put a link to trp in his comment but your is older than his and much more documented. As always as long as it's not us brigading it doesn't seem to be a problem

vengefully_yours • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 06:14 PM

Why would we give a fuck about them to the point of brigading? We're her for self improvement, learning how to get laid (or helping others to that end) and the Phyrrie victory we'd get is nothing useful to us.

Those people think they are somebody because they can ruin imaginary Internet points. They're the epitome of small minds.

Pantek51 • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 07:04 PM

I didn't mean we should be brigading lol I don't give a fuck about karma. I mean if ever some rper were brigading the sub would be instantly banned when those fucktards can brigade all they want without fearing consequence.

IVlaskerade • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 09:01 PM

If you're going to mention TRP, say it and have done. Never defend it, even when the replies are all heavily upvoted for attacking it. They can downvote you, but they can never force you to apologise, and unapologetic bluntness is anathema to the sleeping world.

[deleted] • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 12:47 PM

Mos likely that they're open to new things and ideas, and being heavy drug users or interested in drugs, they're used to having society hate them at large.

Darkwoodz • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 08:39 AM

Not surprised people who are open minded enough to experiment with drugs aren't opposed to viewing the world from a different perspective than mainstream blue pill. Most people have it hammered into them from a young age that drugs all drugs are bad and will have detrimental effects. Same as blue pill mentality.

Pantek51 • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 11:08 AM

Personally I agree but I saw a lot of redpillers not being really keen about drugs

IVlaskerade • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 09:06 PM

Drugs are a double-edged sword.

Drugs like alcohol and marijuana I don't care for because they dope your mind and slow you down.

Drugs like coke and speed can be useful if you have to get something done, but they're addictive and expensive.

I limit my drug use to only when it's necessary, but by that same token, I won't hesitate if it is necessary.

Oh yeah, and never fuck with heroin, no matter what.

Pantek51 • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 09:27 PM

I don't really like "pure hedonistic drugs" like opiates. I prefer weed and psychedelics before they make me think. Each to their own anyway.

cocaine_face • 1 point • 29 November, 2015 11:49 PM

Eh, if you can fake an ADHD condition you can get a cheaper, weaker (and much safer) version of those drugs like Adderall and Ritalin.

[deleted] • 344 points • 27 November, 2015 08:57 PM

See, the thing is, with this particularly brand of skank, she probably HATES the fact that he went through all this dopey romantic shit. I know the guy's intent was to show her all the "emotional investment" she was going to be missing out on. On some girls that "slipped up" that might work. But, you can see from the look on her face when she first sits down, she is thinking "I actually have to read through all this shit and put up with this nonsense just to get the ring?; ughh, whatevs" All she cares about is the money and status. She seems precisely like the kind of demented ho bag that is going to retaliate and try and ruin this guy's life now, all the while enjoying tom rue.

She will be more pissed about cleaning the glitter and having to find a new BB than anything else. She certainly won't be SHAMED over this.

If the guy really needed to "get back at her" for his own emotional/personal closure/development, he would have been better off doing something in front of her friends/family--i.e. doing something that would affect her social status.

MyLittleAtomBomb • 379 points • 27 November, 2015 09:23 PM

yea, but he couldnt have counted on that happening when making that whole 15 minute video.

to me, this just seems like blue pill revenge porn that shows exactly how ignorant the blue pill mind is regarding the nature of women.

PS: not all porn is "fake". What I mean is this is entertainment especially catering to blue pillers who have ever had a bad relationship with a typical basic bitch.

MyLittleAtomBomb • 141 points • 27 November, 2015 10:34 PM*

It's not revenge porn. Porn is fake. This is real.

What you're witnessing is a man still stuck in the bluepill social conditioning finding his testicles and, instead of pleading with her and negotiating for her affection at his own expense, sticking it to the bitch exactly where women are most vulnerable: societal approval.

I feel like several members of this sub have this tendency to forget where we all came from. Within the BP mind, this is a massive first step.

cynicalprick01 • 29 points • 27 November, 2015 10:59 PM

I dont disagree that this is a big first step for him, but he seemed to completely misunderstand women to the point where you wonder if it was his first step into TRP or his first step into another bad relationship.

I say this because he tries to hurt her with things he thinks women care about. ie the romance, glitter, romantic music, poems

He is still a romantic at heart and I bet he will be a BB for another girl within the year.

cynicalprick01 • 15 points • 27 November, 2015 11:46 PM

there are gradients.

western women are the worst when it comes to whorishness while those from collectivist cultures tend to not be as much.

others wouldn't cheat on their boyfriends if their lives depended on it (one girl I know even has a bf across the Atlantic. Somehow he trusts her. But I've pried very hard, have seen her in action socially, and she's dedicated to him.).

I sincerely doubt your perceptions match reality. women are social animals, they know how to act socially. look at the video on the front page about the guy who broke up with his cheating gf. without knowing she cheated, you would never have guessed she did based on how she acted around him. in my opinion, your friend's relationship is a ticking timebomb waiting to go off.

women simply differ on how much they suppress that side of themselves and in how honest they are with society about their whorishness (you would be surprised how wild many "proper" girls can be)

Nobody who knew my second ex could have imagined she would cheat, lie, and fabricate things to get me in trouble. Two years later they all realize what she fucked up and that she was incredibly stupid about who she picked to branch swing to. His pic should be used as the definition of desperate omega loser.

They'd also never guess that she loves to be tied up, flogged, whipped, pissed on, tag teamed by guys, has had orgasms given by girls, is comfortable being naked among 20+ people, and absolutely loves anal with a vibe in her snatch. She doesn't look at all like a freaky kinkster, but she sure as fuck is.

They won't show the world who they really are, but they'll show you in private if you appear high status enough.

[deleted] • 10 points • 27 November, 2015 11:46 PM

Seems like it was purposely taken to the extreme bp type shit to build it up more, and make it seem genuine or whatever. I can't really describe it but the somewhat elaborate setup seems like the best way to do such a thing, and lol glitter never goes away.

but he could have just broken all contact like a real redpiller doing all this shit just showed that he ultimately cared. based on her reaction to the whole thing, I think he cared more about it than her even as he was driving away.

this wasn't some Machiavellian mind game bs, it was a dude that was hurting enough to seek revenge in such a ridiculous manner. seriously, if he were this mastermind, he would have gotten her to put on the nose.

ShockMonsta • 22 points • 28 November, 2015 07:20 AM

He did care, he said in the video he loved her, but that he's not a fucking chump and standing for it. "Broken all contact like a "real redpiller"?! I'd argue responding however the fuck he wants would make him more of a "red piller".

vengefully_yours • 11 points • 28 November, 2015 05:59 PM

I broke contact with my ex when she cheated, ended or 9 year relationship by text. Know what she did? She and her idiot boyfriend set me up for felony vandalism, because he worked for the sheriff as an Emt. It was an effort to extort money from me and to drive me out of state while making them look like the victim so everyone would forget she was a cheating whore.

No, doing it this way is better, video documentation that you did nothing wrong.

I learned never to trust girls, especially when you break up with them. I thought she wouldn't do that, but she surprised me. Now I go full beta, beg for pussy, be super nice, and the bitches leave without a problem after no more than two weeks. Once she is no longer attracted, then I go radio silent and vanish from her life. Sometimes I kill the attraction and then demand sex after asking for it, or make it so she owes me. Mostly though, just being nice is enough.

cynicalprick01 • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 06:08 PM

then, he could have recorded the apartment and then himself exiting and dropping the key through the mail box and driving away.

he didnt need to go through his elaborate scheme and he definitely didnt need to sing into a dildo.

vengefully_yours • 3 points • 29 November, 2015 05:51 PM

Sometimes the fun is in the little things. I would find it hilarious to do all of that, and I often do this for my own amusement even if there's no point to it, no tangible benefit, and it has some expense to it. I build drag cars for fun, if that isn't a pointless and expensive endeavor exercised only for fun, then nothing is. Doing all of that crap he did was for his own amusement, then he shared it with all of us.

It falls under the why the hell not category.

[deleted] • 5 points • 28 November, 2015 12:04 AM

Yeah, I get it. Just saying what he was probably thinking when he came up with it.

As you said, the best thing is just to separate completely. Dude cared enough and was still hurt enough to set this whole thing up. Glad he did it, it's great stuff, but ultimately cutting off immediately is the best way to go about it.

ShockMonsta • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 07:15 AM

Congratulations.

That's what this subreddit is for.

I see a lot of guys engaging in a cock-measuring contest on here nowadays, much like college frat guys trying to out-alpha each other.

We must never forget that one of this subreddit's primary purposes for existing is to save beta males from the venus fly trap they're heading into.

el_beso_negro • -6 points • 28 November, 2015 04:12 AM

*Watches cool Brit dude creatively break up with his ho and filming it for thousands to see

*eats a handful of doritos *chugs it down with Mtndew *scratches neckbeard

(BTW what language was this filmed in? Can anybody add some English subtitles pleeeez?)

whydoievenreply • 51 points • 28 November, 2015 12:05 AM

I think what he did was fashionable. Straight up dope shit, who cares about how the bitch feels. This doesn't read like vengeance to me, it is more like a bad ass dump for his sake and I enjoyed it.

[deleted] • 17 points • 28 November, 2015 12:23 AM

With age comes perspective. My 25-year old self would agree, as I did something very similar with an ex-fiance, although not as elaborate, at that age. I had a great need for vengeance.

Today me would just be like, fuck it, get out, bye.

Rathadin • 13 points • 28 November, 2015 03:19 AM

I wish I could say I would do something like this, but I just don't give a fuck anymore either. I guess as you hit your mid-30s, you just lose tolerance for bullshit and elaborate fuckery.

[deleted] • 7 points • 28 November, 2015 03:25 AM

Women care about shame. But I see what you're saying, if he didn't record it, she wouldn't have given 2 fucks. But this is gonna go viral, and she doesn't want to be a cheating cunt on viral.

Overkillengine • 75 points • 27 November, 2015 11:02 PM

Really puts a wrench in the works for her if her tactics are made public knowledge.

It's why so many hate TRP; it shines light on the cockroaches that thrive in the darkness of ignorance at others expense.

forsciencyeah • 16 points • 28 November, 2015 02:47 AM

The other thing that people are missing is that this viral video shows women what could happen if you cheat on your boyfriend/soon to be fiancée. It also shows men that your partner could be cheating and not to take it laying down.

Allst4rme • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 10:53 AM icecow • 23 points • 27 November, 2015 11:42 PM

She certainly won't be SHAMED over this. If the guy really needed to "get back at her" for his own emotional/personal closure/development, he would have been better off doing something in front of her friends/family--i.e. doing something that would affect her social status.

It is on Youtube... Even her mother will likely see this video.

[deleted] • 8 points • 27 November, 2015 11:48 PM

Ok, may be generational difference then. Being an old geezer, I, perhaps underestimated the exposure the video would get.

I don't ever watch people's private channels on youtube except when linked on reddit.

So, if this is the modern equivalent of dropping pictures of your finance in bed with someone else during the engagement dinner party with family and friends, I stand corrected.

TattedGuyser • 9 points • 28 November, 2015 05:00 AM

It's much worse. A lot of tabloid sites grab popular stories from Reddits front page and report them. This is exactly the kind of story that's viral enough to gain a lot of clicks, so it'll be reposted by these sites a lot. Especially British ones. Her whole family will very likely see it.

[deleted] • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 07:42 AM

Well one thing is for sure, everybody on their social circle will see it. That's enough to do her some social damage.

[deleted] • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 08:07 PM

Everyone will likely see the video since it went viral, but most youtube videos have something like 5 views. This will definitely be seen by everyone because people will want to know why the wedding is off. I'm confused as to why the proposal was after the wedding planning, but he clearly said she was cheating on him while planning the wedding, so family and friends will want to know what happened, and this video will be front and center.

downvotethellogic • 10 points • 28 November, 2015 12:28 AM

With the amount of views this video has, I'm positive all her family and friends already know about this video.

Agu001 • 17 points • 27 November, 2015 11:31 PM

You get it.

She really gave zero fucks about the whole thing.

[deleted] • 8 points • 28 November, 2015 01:12 AM

"I actually have to read through all this shit and put up with this nonsense just to get the ring?; ughh, whatevs"

What do you expect from a sloot de la sloot?

[deleted] • 5 points • 28 November, 2015 08:02 PM

That was my thought exactly as I was watching. She's not crying, she never said, "I love you," "this is so sweet," "I'm so excited," etc... The only thing she had a real reaction to was seeing the setup initially and then seeing the trip. Reading the letter she looked straight up bored, if not annoyed that she had to read such a long letter. She looks like a slutty soccer mom before the kids came along.

She will be inconvenienced by this. Her friends and family will find out she was cheating and she'll be upset that she was the one who ended up with a viral youtube video. She'll even feel sorry for herself.

NightwingTRP • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 02:27 PM

I agree. Her reaction to the "who the fuck is Thomas Roo" bit looked more like her face was saying "and? What does that matter?" rather than the face of heartbreak or shock.

[deleted] • 64 points • 27 November, 2015 11:45 PM

Also note the fact that he says at the beginning that he has had this happen to him before with "Becky"

The real sad part is that this guy is probably going to have it happen again if he thinks candles, music, rose petals, and love poems is what makes women swoon.

tompanz • 34 points • 28 November, 2015 10:42 AM

It'll make her swoon... if other women are jealous of it.

pancake_friday • 11 points • 28 November, 2015 02:49 PM

"Never cheat on me; just tell me to walk away, like Becky did, and I won't cause you any hassle. And I haven't done with Becky. I haven't spoke to her for two year - bless her - still love her to bits."

This guy's love life is way too complicated.

I know I'm drunk and talking shit at this point

Ah, the drunken rant. A reddit classic.

TRP is a philosophy without flexibility because it's much better for these guys to hold themselves in high regard to the point of fault than their previous inclinations. To go from niceguy to healthy, first you must pass through the eye of the needle; you must address your lack of self-worth and your pedestalisation of women. TRP does that well. Once guys start getting laid off TRP they mellow out to a nice medium. That's the transition from the anger phase to the acceptance phase.

[deleted] • 7 points • 27 November, 2015 10:50 PM*

paraxology. not philosophy

And you're thinking too much. It's just men swapping notes, comparing problems, and more importantly solutions, with none of the hamster involved (ideally)

rp_valiant • 2 points • 27 November, 2015 10:56 PM

yes it is, but for a man to accept that he's been told a lie about women by society, and that his dream will never be fulfilled, he's going to be filled with grief/anger and must go through the stages. The understanding is written down here, the journey of the individual mindset is the hard part.

And my use of "philosophy" as a wording was based off of the previous poster's. I would generally suggest TRP is a community around a mindset, or personal philosophy, rather than a general philosophy.

[deleted] • 4 points • 27 November, 2015 11:33 PM*

and that his dream will never be fulfilled

This is the only part I disagree with. That's the 100% reason anyone should be here. Only a dream based on womens imperative is ruined, but that wasn't really a mans dream anyways.

A mans goal is easily obtainable, when it's his own true one IMO.

Hell, since starting my journey, I've gotten the CL-S acting right. Left a toxic career, have up to 2 years to rest if I need (but am persuing my goal) traveling the world again...

Goals are easily obtainable, if you disregard that bullshit you've been fed about what 'everyone else wants'

I think thats why I never had the same anger phase as many in here, it was like a weight, lifted off my shoulders. It's not longer a relationship of equals, its a captain and first mate (much easier for a sailor to adapt to) it's no longer a race to money, it's opportunity costs. It's feminism running rampant, but most of those problems involve some kind of opt-in from me. Without a marriage, marriage and kids, or the need to fuck college gender studies majors. removing value leeching people from my life, even though you are 'supposed to ... whatever' It was freeing. Hell, I'm drinking the bubbly right now. Half celebrating my dogs successful surgery, but I'll tip a glass for a pragmatic view of the world and it's people.

Everyone knows the rules now, theres no reason to be angry

rp_valiant • 2 points • 27 November, 2015 11:54 PM

Agreed - replacing society's pre-made dream with your own, constructed from self-understanding, is part of the journey. The dream that goes unfulfilled is the fairytale "and they lived happily ever after" dream, which was really only meant for the girl all along. But the number of guys holding out for their perfect princess who'll complete them is staggering.

cynicalprick01 • 47 points • 27 November, 2015 10:14 PM* did you hear his voice quivering while reading the poem?

doing this shit was tearing him up inside.

edit: how can you guys agree that he didn't let his pain show after I gave an example of him showing his pain and especially after the entire video which could only be orchestrated by someone hurt enough to do it. anyone who gets revenge is showing their pain.

JP_Whoregan • 139 points • 28 November, 2015 12:57 AM*

The guy is still human. A quivering voice doesn't mean he didn't handle his shit. It means he handled the breakup in a stoic and civil manner. Being RP doesn't mean u don't get hurt; it means that u do ur best to never let them (women) see you hurt, never let women see you vulnerable.

Throwing away a multi year LTR because your woman is a whore hurts; it hurts all of us, no matter how much you wanna fling your dick around, puff out your chest and pretend it doesn't. The difference is that a BP man seeks solace and sympathy from his mother and other women who say "it's ok the right woman is out there". The RP man seeks advice from his brothers on how not to get ass-raped again.

EDIT to /u/cynicalprick01's edit: Did his voice quiver? Sure it did, though I don't think it was that bad. But did he do what most men do when they find out their woman is a cheating whore? Did he go into a whipped up frenzy of:

"WHHHHAAAAA OMG WHY?!?!?!?"

"Why did you do this?!?!?!?"

"How could you sleep with another guy when we are getting married?!?!?!?"

"We can work this out, just promise never to cheat again ok!!!!!"

He didn't throw a temper tantrum, he didn't emasculate himself by "promising to be a better boyfriend" so he doesn't "chase his woman into the arms of another man", which is the typical justification other women use to excuse a woman cheating. He handled it as best he knew how without a full understanding of TRP and the true nature of women that we preach here.

tl/dr, if a quivering voice was the full extent of his frame fissure, he could have done a whole lot worse.

IllimitableMan • 35 points • 28 November, 2015 02:55 AM

Hopefully someone puts this dude onto TRP.

[deleted] • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 08:08 PM

He sounds like he is pretty RP already, except for LTR'ing a skank.

IllimitableMan • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 08:24 PM

The arm sleeve tattoo gave it away immediately that she was a skank.

cynicalprick01 • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 03:34 PM

if a quivering voice was the full extent of his frame fissure, he could have done a whole lot worse. and no one is arguing this point.

the person I responded to said that he "handled it well", which I disagreed with. based on your post, I don't think you would agree that he "handled it well".

Newdist2 • 1 point • 29 November, 2015 01:21 AM

Throwing away a multi year LTR because your woman is a whore hurts;

Like this came as a surprise to him? Just look at her face. She's obviously a whore. Thousand cock stare.

[deleted] • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 08:25 PM

Seriously, so many guys, especially when we're young, go into the "how could you do this?" rant. I was guilty of it when my first college girlfriend cheated on me, but a good bro of mine (who slept with a lot of women) smacked me back into shape. I went back to end things and did so with a solid frame. She was begging me to take her back by the end of it.

This guy held solid frame, but honestly I think he would've been better off without the stunt. No matter how you slice it, he went to considerable effort to cause her pain. Regardless of whether or not it's justified, the act itself is a break of frame since it acknowledges that he was hurt enough to shame her and then share it with the world. He's still miles ahead of most guys, and the video was entertaining as fuck, but she would've been more hurt if he discarded her and moved on quickly.

[deleted] • 0 points • 29 November, 2015 09:05 PM

lol no. she would've forgotten about him in 2 days. you think this skank can have feelings? the only thing women can't handle is consequence and this video is consequence.

GunsGermsAndSteel • 17 points • 27 November, 2015 11:04 PM

But he stuck it out anyway. At any time prior to her coming home, he could have called the whole thing off. I know he had to have a stomach ache, shaking fingers, the whole thing.

He chose to follow through.

You don't have to LIKE what you're doing; you just have to do it.

cynicalprick01 • -8 points • 27 November, 2015 11:11 PM

but he didnt have to do any of that.

the fact that he went through the trouble of doing that whole thing is nothing to be proud of.

in this subreddit, we dont praise men for doing petty bs in order to appear alpha or whatever. we favor stoicism. so, why are we praising this guy for doing this petty bs then playing with dildos afterwards when he could have just moved out without saying a word?

[deleted] • 9 points • 27 November, 2015 11:53 PM

I think it's about style. He did what he wanted to do and didn't get walked all over by a whore. He wanted to fuck with her and he did then he left. I wouldn't have done it and I can certainly see how you could call it childish. I guess what I'm trying to say is I don't really have a problem with revenge even if it's petty. That woman will never suffer any consequences for her shitty behavior so it feels nice to manufacture your own karma sometimes.

cynicalprick01 • -3 points • 27 November, 2015 11:57 PM

I guess what I'm trying to say is I don't really have a problem with revenge even if it's petty.

look, all I am saying is getting petty revenge is in no way "alpha" and has nothing to do with TRP philosophy.

I expect this behavior to be praised in the videos subreddit, but that is not TRP. In TRP, we dont hold up blue pill behavior as praiseworthy.

Mustaka • 4 points • 28 November, 2015 03:54 AM

petty revenge

Dude did you see how much glitter was in that carpet. That shit is hever ever coming out. Totally pro revenge.

I have read some of your posts on the video and I think you are taking TRP philosophy as black and white. Its not. It is situationally dependant. One of the things I picked up on was what he wanted his frame to be during the event and after. Hence filming the property is in good nick before to returning the key and driving off at the end. He was controlling the narrative of the situation throughout whilst at the same time shutting down any possible social recourse she may attempt in the future. She had already shamed him, he knew it, so controlled the ending of the relationship as he saw fit to his situation. Might nit be my cup of tea ir yours but certainly he has more facts on the situation than you or I. He had a goal and achieved it. Nothing wrong with that.

On breakups TRP advises in a nutshell to get your shit in order, protect yourself going forward then gtfo. He did that. The semantics of how are moot.

GunsGermsAndSteel • 0 points • 28 November, 2015 12:20 AM

I dunno man. Maybe I'm just not as alpha as you. I'd probably do the same shit he did, petty or not. It'd feel good.

Incubus130 • 25 points • 27 November, 2015 10:25 PM

Yet he didn't let it show. Trust me I've seen guys find out the girl was a slut and then go batshit. Scream, break shit, and even hit her. It doesn't end well. Even when it does end well she somehow reverse shames him and hes the one apologizing or she ruins his reputation.

Many men would have handled it in a childish non stoic manner. Not stating that this was completely stoic or even the best way to handle it but still better than a lot of men.

52576078 • 1 point • 1 December, 2015 03:13 PM

Even hit her. In lots of Latino countries, the guys have murdered their women once they found her cheating. This guy handled it like a boss, and decided to make it entertaining. Most of all for himself, I suppose.

cynicalprick01 • -17 points • 27 November, 2015 10:31 PM*

better than a lot of men.

eh, that's not saying much

I honestly dont think his behavior is anything to be proud of.

very childish for a man his age.

[deleted] • 133 points • 27 November, 2015 08:01 PM

The red pill isn't news to anybody. It's such common knowledge that the world has to try HARD to act like it doesn't already know it. The only shock is that we're actually saying what we are, instead of arguing that rape should be legal.

MattyAnon • 110 points • 27 November, 2015 08:39 PM

I think it is news.

Everyone I know is acting like they're in blue pill la la land. Every time a guy gets screwed over, everyone (including the guy himself) just says "I haven't met the right one yet". Guys believe that money is attractive to women rather than useful. The merit of being in shape is not even acknowledged ("grown up women see beyond the superficial"). It's all about "finding my soul mate" and crap like that. The nature of female attraction, manipulation, opportunism is not addressed. The destructive-to-attraction nature of commitment isn't even on their radar.

It's possible that they're all pretending (in order to fit in) while in reality think otherwise... but the guys actions are all blue pill as fuck as well as their words. My friends are either looking for a unicorn or married or being loyal to crazy disloyal ho's.

Everyone seems to be playing this BP game, and women are creaming off the profits of course. Obviously women know the full depths of all the TRP truths, which is why they fight so hard to present their disney dreams so damned hard.

[deleted] • 40 points • 27 November, 2015 08:46 PM

Blue pill men know what's wrong. They're just afraid to say it and afraid to think it. They're not as nuanced in their ideas as red pillers are, but they know that they're not having as much sex as the women, not getting the free respect they were promised, and they're jealous of the women for the lives women get to live.

MattyAnon • 41 points • 28 November, 2015 12:56 AM

I think men know something is wrong... they're unhappy, not getting what they want. But what makes me think they don't have a clue is that they just double down with the blue pill nonsense and start treating women even better, to their own detriment.

I talked to a guy last night, bemoaning Tinder because it removed the friendship element from dating. The rest of the room agreed, and most of the men thought friendship was an excellent start to a relationship ("why wouldn't you want to date your best friend?"). After I scoffed (noone else dared speak up), the women eventually agreed that friendship should be a big part of a relationship, even though the relationship can't be based on that (none of them are going to say the friendzone isn't a thing). Blue pill faggotry examples were proffered to support their viewpoints, including "They were friends for 5 years and then they got together" (yeah yeah, I bet they did... step up Mr Beta, it's your turn now!)

Personally I always felt something was deeply deeply wrong - mostly because women acted nothing like the disney fantasies they professed to want so badly. They never kept up their end of things, and I never knew why. I always questionned this, and I was always shouted down by men and women alike. Total emperor's new clothes stuff.

Most other men don't seem to even have the guts to bemoan women in private, never mind stand up to them in public. They've no fucking hope of ever knowing what's really going on, even those that are relatively successful with women. Maybe those guys even less likely, because they don't see the long term picture until its too late.

pilledwillingly • 1 point • 29 November, 2015 02:57 AM

Friends for 5 years before dating? I'd put my net worth on her having more sexual partners during those 5 years than him. I'd also stake it on him looking/earning better at the 5 year mark than at day 0.

Why is the concept of a marketplace so alien to these people?

MattyAnon • 2 points • 29 November, 2015 03:06 AM

Why is the concept of a marketplace so alien to these people?

Because people are suckered into the Disney fairytale of "get a whole load of stuff they don't deserve". For women this means not having to do much to get security / commitment / support / alimony. For men this means believing they'll find their special virgin nympho who will always appreciate him for who he is deep down inside.

Everyone reinforces this for their own benefit. But the real game is always the marketplace. But that seems harsh. A market has no affection. A market doesn't fulfil people's needs to feel wanted, loved, supported, needed. It seems brutal and harsh, so they hide from it.

Also... it's MUCH easier to persuade yourself that there is a special someone out there, than it is to build yourself into something worthy of that person, so that's what people do. Delusion is easier than reality.

And in the case of men especially, they are utterly deluded about the nature of female attraction (mostly because women consistently lie about it, in order to secure their beta bucks).

Morpheus: I know exactly what you mean. Let me tell you why you're here. You're here because you know something. What you know you can't explain, but you feel it. You've felt it your entire life, that there's something wrong with the world. You don't know what it is, but it's there, like a splinter in your mind, driving you mad. It is this feeling that has brought you to me.

It is the world that has been pulled over your eyes to blind you from the truth.

Neo: What truth?

Morpheus: That you are a slave, Neo. Like everyone else you were born into bondage. Into a prison that you cannot taste or see or touch.

A prison for your mind.

Finucho • 11 points • 27 November, 2015 11:17 PM

I agree, it's the "splinter in your mind". You know something is wrong, you know the promises you swallowed aren't real, but you can't put it exactly into words, or act with a clear purpose. That's the magic of the red pill, everything becomes clear and you are given the choice to act or not, but in a very defined way. That thing is completely missing in the blue pill mentality.

cynicalprick01 • 7 points • 27 November, 2015 11:22 PM

exactly.

I thought it was a personality flaw that I could never identify and therefore could never correct.

I mean, it was a personality flaw, but luckily one that could be corrected over time when properly identified after swallowing TRP.

Overkillengine • 5 points • 27 November, 2015 11:07 PM*

Blue pill men know what's wrong. They're just afraid to say it and afraid to think it.

They face social censure (gee guess which gender tends to wield social power more ruthlessly as a whole?) every time they voice even an inkling of having perceived part of the truth.

It happens often enough they stop trying to see and just try to get through the day pretending their shins don't hurt.

boredepression • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 05:56 AM*

Well I disagree... Some BP may know what is wrong but many of us are indeed clueless. I had no idea about any of this before finding TRP.

I didn't think something was wrong, I simply thought most of them were not interested in me.

[deleted] • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 08:33 PM

Blue pill men know what's wrong.

They don't always. That's the thing. I was truly clueless in high school, became more aware my first year in college after a tough break up (I was shocked she would cheat on me), and then things started to click when I joined a fraternity. RP has taken me from a point where I know what's wrong and rarely act on it to a point where actually direct my life in a meaningful direction.

However, had I stayed in that relationship and continued to hang around blue pill guys, I probably would still think that "I love you" got girls wet.

52576078 • 1 point • 1 December, 2015 03:20 PM

I think it depends on how naturally alpha they are. There's a difference between alpha blue pill and beta blue pill. Alpha BP are still alpha and still having it easy with chicks despite their BP programming (quite a few friends of mine fit into this category, call themselves feminists, treat their GFs very well, and pretty much just accept things for what they are). It's the Beta and Omega BP guys who really suffer - they're getting a hard time, and no one gives a fuck about them.

kingoftheheap • 7 points • 28 November, 2015 03:59 PM

This reminds me of the time my exgirlfriend told she wanted a boyfriend AND a husband: someone to take care of her and someone to have fun with.

What a terrible thing to say. But so predictable now.

veganhitler • 21 points • 28 November, 2015 08:24 AM

Heard the best story from a customer yesterday. When his wife told him she wanted a divorce he went to his father's place later.

His father saw his face and asked what was wrong.

Customer said nothing was wrong.

His father kept asking until his son finally told him that his wife wanted a divorce.

His father is 75 years old and from Italy, tells him some old Italian saying about not being able to climb a ladder with dead weight on your feet.

The son is like wtf?

'Dump the bitch' his father said.

Then proceeded with, 'son, I had to slap your mother around when you were younger. Women don't change, they were the same then as they are now. The difference today is that men are a bunch of poofers. There were times I told her to pack her bags and leave if she didn't like her life.'

I miss the good old days.

putin_vor • -11 points • 28 November, 2015 11:46 AM

Why would you want to slap a woman? Violence is beta behavior. And it exposes you to all kinds of legal trouble.

[deleted] • 8 points • 28 November, 2015 09:15 PM

Really? I thought submission was beta behavior.

putin_vor • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 09:47 PM

You can't think of anything else? There are just two options? Slap or submit? Really?

[deleted] • 6 points • 28 November, 2015 09:55 PM

Well in nature we have fight or flight, so yes, two options is rather fitting.

Sir_Distic • 11 points • 28 November, 2015 02:31 PM

It didn't used to be beta behavior. Men used to slap women around to get them back in line.

Go watch Sean Connery's famous Barbara Walters interview. He admits he'd hit a woman. But has never needed to hit his wife.

nia_kills • 3 points • 4 December, 2015 02:38 AM

See it like a 'tsst' cesar milan uses. Its to snap them out of their fit.

putin_vor • -9 points • 28 November, 2015 02:50 PM

Violence has always been beta behavior, except for maybe at war (and even that is questionable).

People used to do all kinds of stupid shit in the past, we got smarter since then. If you have to resort to violence, you've already lost your frame, you ran out of arguments, and you don't have the balls to just walk away from the stupid situation.

foldpak111 • 9 points • 28 November, 2015 03:06 PM

I see a lot of simplistic responses to this question. It entirely depends on the context and to be honest, violence has always been a trait of the alpha male. It's just that it isn't sporadic, it's controlled chaos. You gotta be the guy that can get down if he has to.

putin_vor • -3 points • 28 November, 2015 03:09 PM*

There's a big difference between self defense and attacking someone much weaker than yourself. One is fine. Another one isn't. Both legally and morally.

I also think you're confusing "alpha" with "aggressive". While they can overlap, they aren't the same thing.

nia_kills • 1 point • 4 December, 2015 02:47 AM

Assuming women are much weaker is a pedestal, no? We dont do this here.

putin_vor • 1 point • 4 December, 2015 12:18 PM

Women are weaker on average. Doesn't mean they can't hurt or injure or kill you.

veganhitler • 1 point • 1 December, 2015 09:01 AM

Wow. You really got down voted.

Funny thing is i sort of agree with you.

Hitting a woman is wrong but i don't think it's beta.

Some men are just too alpha though. Like bikers and those gangbangers and such. Im sure they've got their hands dirty a few times. Try calling those guys beta.

I have an older cousin i looked up to as a kid, and this guy is alpha as fuck. The only time he has hit women is when they hit him first. But that's his philosophy with anyone. You could scream at him and call him anything all day and he won't touch you. But as soon as you lay a hand on him, all bets are off.

It's much better to react to a woman with logic and rationality. Like the late patrice o'neil used to say.
I was just illustrating the difference between then and now.
So yeah, you're right about not hitting women, but i don't think you are beta if you do.

The goal was to publicly shame her and prevent her from saying he beat her or some shit.

NiceTryDisaster[S] • 111 points • 27 November, 2015 08:16 PM*

I know. Agree 100%.

Hence I call him "not a total beta". He's somewhere in between his transformation from blue to red now. If he was red, he wouldn't have gotten married in the first place, second he wouldn't commit, third he wouldn't waste his energy on a 'revenge dump video', wouldn't bother 'making her feel guilty' about her behaviour etc.

Edit: Oh wait, a comment on the main thread says the same thing, just slightly better.

I think the only negative I can see in this approach is the assumption that she cares. Like....at all. In my experience, someone that cheats in the way she cheats doesn't give a shit about the other person at this point. This is the type of person who has a boo, a secret man, AND bangs rando guys at the bar/club. Will she be embarrassed that her face and the video are pasted all over the internet? Sure. Are there going to be inconveniences as a result of the break? Maybe. Will she be ashamed? Fuck no. And in the end, she'll be sucking this other dude's dick by 8pm tonight without a care in the world.

Still - It's entertaining.

I was dating a girl for about six months who cheated on me. I found out and wasn't profoundly affected until I confronted her and she denied it for six hours. For six hours she lied to my face and at the end of those six hours I had devised a plan. I spent the next six months romancing her like nobody has ever been romanced. She was head over heels in love with me. And in those six months I plowed about six other women. Then one night I told her and watched her crumble. That was ten years ago. She still calls and texts me randomly. Cunt fucked with the wrong sociopath.

LuvBeer • 27 points • 27 November, 2015 10:58 PM

This is a revenge fantasy

I see this term getting thrown around a lot... is it supposed to mean anything? I'm starting to think it's becoming a way for SJWs to infiltrate. It's not a fantasy, I could care less, it's just how they end up.

she'll have to find a new provider. Which she probably will find.

Of course she will 3nuc. Guaranteed. But like IllimitableMan said, she is going to fuck it up. That's how these women are. Toxic. They never change. And whatever provider they have, they will never be satisfied. So even though she may not care right now, her life will be ruled by unhappiness, dissatisfaction, etc.

Have a look at the RedPillWomen - these are actually good women, and some of them are having trouble finding the man they want. You think a low quality bitch like the woman in the video stands a chance? Never gonna happen.

you just know there will be tons of men jumping to white knight this chick the moment anyone tries to criticize her.

[deleted] • 24 points • 27 November, 2015 08:46 PM*

Yeah, that's what struck me, the wasted effort, especially since the things he wants, eg: her to feel what he feels or to get some kind of justice, just will never happen. This probably seemed much cooler in this guy's head while he was thinking it up. When he's telling her about the trip and all you can clearly hear him holding back tears, I assume he's trying to mask them as tears of joy but....nahhhhhh, not to mention she gives a suspicious look at his phone when he leaves her in the room to read the letter. I imagine she knew something was up from the get go, she probably read it on his face.

The best revenge you can get on a person like that is make them think you don't care in the slightest and carry on like it's no big deal.

You have to be as nonchalant as possible, if you break down or crack, you lost. You've gotta make sure you can maintain composure before you try something like this. "Hey I saw some texts that you've been cheating on me. Wow that's new, I was gonna marry you. Good thing I found out now, I mean can you imagine how stupid I would look if I had actually gone through with it? I mean woowooooow I would feel like SUCH an idiot. Whew, thank god for small miracles though huh? High five! Hey what are you thinking for dinner?"

She'd have a meltdown and probably try to kill you, it would be hilarious. You'd probably definitely need the video if you went that route though.

Edit: This example is a better strategy. A man discovers cheating, goes immediate no contact but drops some of ex's things by her mom's house. The man makes nice with her mom but doesn't say why they broke up and just runs off the porch in tears, so that mom continually guilts the cheater years and years later. This example is better because he doesn't show weakness to the cheater and she never gets closure, he then intentionally ruins the cheater's relationship with her mother. You have to be targeted and ruthless if you want revenge on a cheating woman.

Edit2: Comment from above thread worth repeating, "The power of the high road must never be relinquished. People who make poor, scummy, idiotic, vicious, and mean decisions will forever reap the rewards of their behavior when confronted with kindness and sadness for their actions."

NotUpToAnythingGood • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 04:25 PM

When I got married (yeah yeah), my new mother-in-law made it clear, in no uncertain terms that I will not come between her and her daughter; that I more or less married her too.

In a stellar moment for myself, I told her that should circumstances ever come to a point where my wife had to choose between her mother and me, I would choose for her and she would get her mother.

The MIL smiled, but that is when I told her it would be a cold, pyrrhic victory because forever after, every time she looked at her mother, she would see the woman that drove away the guy she adored.

I also made a point of reminding the MIL the marriage license said I married one woman and one woman only and it wasn't her.

It took over five years before the MIL decided to make peace with me. I was surprised to see my wife take my side and tell her mother to play nice & be nice or else she could go pound sand. Much later after the fact, I found out that my FIL was also trying to get my MIL to make nice as well.

Definitely unexpected.

[deleted] • 4 points • 28 November, 2015 09:52 AM

It's not wasted energy if it gave him closure.

It was a serious enough relationship for him to propose to her in the first place and enough for his voice to break when reading the poem.

Taking a few weeks to plan out and execute an elaborate finale probably helped him cope with the revelation that his fiancée was a whore. Something like that doesn't just sink in a few minutes after reading the text messages.

I'd wager it also helped by setting a specific finish line for him. Setup the finale, go through with the execution, reveal your knowledge and the consequences to her in no uncertain terms, do it all civilly, have some fun in the process and by the end of it on this specific date it's all over and he moves on with his life.

Once it goes viral he also has the record set straight before she has a chance to go batshit crazy. Even if the police were not going to get involved, it doesn't take much to turn the social tide for a woman when she can just mention "abuse" vaguely and from that moment on, he is the bad guy.

He knew she was volatile. What better way to ensure his and her friends/family see how it really went down rather than the he-said she-said that inevitably ensues.

I thought he did well. Really well.

TheBloodEagleX • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 07:27 AM

He wasn't doing this to make her feel bad. Her feelings are irrelevant to him at this point. He was doing it because seeing her reaction brought him pleasure.

Woman gets dumped, then she trashes the house, beats herself up then goes to the police saying she got raped. Everyone sides with the woman.

He specifically counters that by videoing his escape with no rage. Then posts it online first. This makes the public side with him. Legality isn't the point, the fact that he reversed the direction of the point is the great bit.

Nobody can help caring. The trick is always choosing women that you cannot care about. But if you have to go through this, why not wait until the wedding vows?

"I loved you since I first laid eyes on you. And today was my dream since our first kiss." Pour it on...

"I have a question I'd like to ask you before we continue... I'd like you to tell all these nice people who in the fuck is Tom..." then put on sun glasses and walk.... no dildos, no vibrators. Just some paid call girl in the audience to walk out with.

my_redpill_account • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 03:49 PM

Honestly I don't see a problem with how he decided to handle things. He is a man in control of his life after all.

Maybe I misunderstood TRP teachings but making your own choices instead of following what every other man does is leader like.

He got out, got revenge the way he wanted, he won. I will say a lot of dudes are getting off on this story because they're still in the angry phase which is quite funny. Nothing wrong with that, just pointing it out.

IVlaskerade • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 11:10 PM

I like the way he handled it. Proper black knighting, that.

YouDislikeMyOpinion • 42 points • 27 November, 2015 08:52 PM

I saw absolutely no chemistry between them. If anyone believes that's what chemistry looks like, I would be more than happy to let them live in their world of blissful ignorance.

He has way too much time on his hands.

What I saw is her walk into the house and just cringe until it all ended. He probably spared her the trouble of dumping him. He also tarnished his own reputation by posting this video.

I can't speak for her, but from what I've seen, a girl in this situation completely doesn't give a shit.

MyLittleAtomBomb • 96 points • 27 November, 2015 09:20 PM

What you saw was a man avoid the pussy trap. That alone should be celebrated.

YouDislikeMyOpinion • 10 points • 27 November, 2015 09:28 PM

What are you talking about. He was in deep. Hook, line, and sinker. He was graced with a miracle by finding the texts. He didn't even notice otherwise.

That's pretty sad.

MyLittleAtomBomb • 50 points • 27 November, 2015 09:37 PM

Yeah but much like a plummeting 747, he pulled up at the last second and survived.

Imagine if the ring had slid on before he found out.

YouDislikeMyOpinion • -3 points • 28 November, 2015 04:46 AM

I get it, but here's the problem that I have. Just like the women who keep getting into real physically abusive relationships, he continually gets into relationships with women who cheat on him (as he stated in the video). While those women he dates are a problem for him, he is a bigger problem to himself.

Him finding the texts changes nothing about him or what got him there. It's bound to happen again, unless he changes himself. Maybe next time there won't be any texts to find. Then what?

[deleted] • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 07:52 PM

The light bulb is realizing that it's not that she's the kind of girl who cheats--because they all do--but that you're the kind of guy girls cheat on.

MyLittleAtomBomb • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 05:04 AM

Only thing you can do is learn from the experience. Hopefully this is the straw that the camel notices.

You still believe in unicorns if you don't at least anticipate several gentlemen in her facebook chats trying to abolish your relationship.

doctorlw • 23 points • 27 November, 2015 10:45 PM

I don't agree at all. I agree that, at the beginning, she was anxious/uncomfortable... but anyone would be in that situation. And while initially when she sees the letter she is annoyed, as ANYONE would be (not many people enjoy reading that stuff), the fact that she tears up while reading the letter is proof that there was some sort of connection there at the very least.

Judging chemistry from a video with about 1 minute of interaction, in my opinion, is sillier than just giving the benefit of the doubt.

I 100% agree that he put way too much time and effort into it, but have to admit despite that it was all masterfully executed.

whydoievenreply • 10 points • 28 November, 2015 12:15 AM

I think what you are seeing is that the guy is acting in a very non stoic way, which is something to be looked down upon 'round these parts.

The thing is, if he enjoyed making that video as much as I enjoyed watching it. It say it was worthwhile. Props for driving away signing to a dildo microphone.

YouDislikeMyOpinion • 5 points • 28 November, 2015 05:15 AM

This is going to be a short response.

It's not him being non-stoic, it's everything about him as a whole. The same way girls can scream red flags for me, he screams a guy that will get cheated on.

I've been on his side before, and now I'm on the other side. There's no doubt in my mind that there's a pattern in the type of men women cheat on. The women really don't give a shit. They laugh about their guy, they know they are using the guy, I laugh with them.

doctorlw had some points, but I see it differently. The short version of what I see is that she's already given up with him, you can see how she carries herself around him. Obviously he's not trying to game her, but he has 0 charm. Girls tear up all the time, she forgets about chad while reading the letter, is touched by it, tears up (no one mentions the next step which is she can fuck chad the same day, I'm not kidding, try it yourself). So what if she teared up. I look at how both of them are and I can't remember the last time my interaction with a woman felt like that.

When I look at him I see what women are trying to run away from (while still extracting what value they can get). This is why they cheat, and don't give a shit. Because they lost nothing of value.

Personally, I recommend going out there and trying it. Fuck a girl who has a bf or fiance.

I3lizzard • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 02:37 AM

whydoievenreply • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 03:18 AM

MentORPHEUS • 40 points • 27 November, 2015 09:34 PM*

I saw absolutely no chemistry between them.

I agree. The look she gave him right before he bailed was a total Thousand-Cock Stare. If he had waited for her to speak, this probably would have been a humiliation video... for HIM.

Besides, nothing screams WIFE MATERIAL like sleeve tattoos. I'm really not impressed with this guy.

ETA: 90% of the video is useless. Skip ahead to the part where she arrives till she starts reading, then skip ahead to near the end just before she picks up the red heart, till he's walking toward the car.

obama_loves_nsa • 6 points • 28 November, 2015 03:01 AM

The main thing he screwed up on was not letting her say 'yes' and come and hug him.

I would have led her on to say yes and get her hopes up 'wow I can get my BB and my AF and life is going to work itself out!!'

Gotta let her get her hope higher. Not to trash the guy. He still did a great setup.

NiceTryDisaster[S] • 27 points • 27 November, 2015 09:31 PM

Whilst I'm glad he took action and it made me chuckle with the poem, it seems a little bit like too much investment.

Would of been a better story if he just said "Babe I've found out I'm actually gay, so I'm out, peace" and just leave without explaining shit.

Now he gets to live happily ever after, spinning plates and living life on his own terms as an independent man.

On a side note, Thomas Roo sounds like it could be coined to point out an Australian Chad.

Linoran • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 12:03 PM [recovered]

He's not Australian though. Working class England Chad?

CrimsonTideCosby • 8 points • 27 November, 2015 09:51 PM

I can almost guarantee the whole time she was reading the love notes and all that shit before she got to the "I know you're cheating" shit, she never once thought about how much of a scumbag she was for cheating on this guy. I bet the only time she thought of the Thomas Roo guy during this whole ordeal was when she read his name on the heart.

I personally would have been racked with guilt knowing that I was doing someone who would go all out for me like this guy did so wrong.

lycanthr0py • 9 points • 27 November, 2015 10:49 PM [recovered]

I gotta say, I think this is weak behavior. You know what would hurt much more? Just tell her that her looks have gone down and you're tired of her. Then just leave. That would be much worse. Probably, when you told her that, she would then say something like "well I've been fucking Thomas!" And then you say? "Really? I'm sorry for his loss". Then don shades and exit.

TheAloofCat • 9 points • 28 November, 2015 10:54 AM [recovered]

I disagree. No woman really cares about what the BB thinks, she would just think "what a douche, I'm better without him". Social shaming is huge in comparison, when a girl loses a relationship and KNOWS she's at fault as do the rest of people, her Hamster goes batshit crazy. She will eventually rationalize it as "his loss", but the mere fact that challenges that she's not a snowflake but ho drives them insane.

PantsonFire1234 • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 11:36 PM

Tattoos are a definite red flag. Out of my own experience I can tell that this girl fucked internally. The tied up knot and pink sweater probably hints at this girl not giving a fuck how she appears towards her boy.

Women love their hair and how it makes them look pretty, the worst hairstyle any woman can have is a knot. Why do they all do it? It's comfortable and prevents it from getting all twisted. It's the female equivalent of a man just wearing socks and a t shirt at home.

Remember that the tattoos can just pop up. I knew this girl who had a tiny one when I met her. Small and subtle, of course it was about her last break up. During our relationship she got another small one and a big one on her forearm.

Then after the break up she got another one about her breaking up with me and getting pumped and dumped by the next guy. Granted, I already had a big piece on my shoulder when we met so I could have influenced her. Girl was 20, she'll turn out like this down the line if she wasn't already.

I didn't even know humans had to do that, i thought reddit did it by itself. You learn everyday!

IVlaskerade • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 11:56 PM

, i thought reddit did it by itself.

There's a difference between Reddit's "archived" pages and the one I linked.

Reddit's "archive" is for posts over 6 months old, and basically means you can't vote or comment on them.

Archives like Archive.is save a snapshot of the page at the time you input the URL, so even if it gets deleted/changed in future you can still see it as it was. These ones have to be performed manually. Some subreddits have bots that are designed to archive all submissions (especially if they link to content that is frequently deleted or changed), but TRP isn't one of them.

DancingC0w • 1 point • 29 November, 2015 05:02 AM

IVIaskerade • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 11:10 PM

Is the red pill about learning that girls cheat?

That's a small part of it.

The main point was that a large amount of redditors just had their eyes opened to what a woman is capable of.

Of course, 99% of those are going to go back home to their girlfriends, still firmly resolved to propose because she wouldn't do anything like that. This is for the 1% who aren't.

I understand that he feels hurt.

However, the whole thing comes off as spiteful and immature. There is no need to set up elaborate theatrics and makes a YouTube video. Dump the skank and work on moving on with your life.

To the general population (non redpiller) a man who seeks attention over being cheated on looks insecure. Yes, its not fair that women can do that and get no criticism... but part of being a man is adapting to your environment and that includes knowing how to utilize peoples perceptions to your advantage and not looking like a pouty child on YouTube.

JungleFly • -2 points • 28 November, 2015 12:10 AM

See, I don't think that's at all RP. Hindsight being 20/20 and all, if I were still attracted I'd say "look, it's clear you don't want to commit, no biggie me neither. Do you want to stay fuck buddies or call it quits?" If she loses her shit, fine. But there's a more than a decent chance she'll agree. No lame setup, no beta moaning that you were cheated on, no pathetic video for attention from 200k internet strangers who don't give a shit about you. If she throws a tantrum, delete her phone number and walk away. That's it. No muss, no fuss.

Word gets around, and while all her friends will sympathize with her face-to-face agreeing your a jerk, 'she can do better', blah blah... but deep down they know you were the alpha dog by walking away like a boss and beat a path to your door. They know she was banging that other guy and got caught, and they will wonder what the fuck you've got that you'll just walk away without giving a damn. It's fucking ambrosia to them. Easy lays just like that.

Watching that video is just cringe worthy and I had to stop. Lame, lame, lame.

amberoid • 1 point • 28 November, 2015 07:22 AM

Humans aren't meant to pair-bond, for life. Women can cheat any time they want to, all it takes is a bad week or a bad day and it's done. It's par for the course. Why get annoyed at women for just being human? Why even care anyway? What do you expect? A good woman will cook food and do the hoovering. Who gives a shit about loyalty? Women want loyalty.

GC0W30 • -7 points • 27 November, 2015 11:45 PM

Not Redpill.

Redpill would be hard nexting a cheating girlfriend/wife by going No Contact the moment you got your stuff from her apartment.

This guy could have been at the gym, or working on his small business, or fucking a new plate instead of bothering with a video.

Also, as a Black Dragon Blog fan, I'd like to remark that even granting a woman monogamy UNLESS you're planning on using her as a brood mare for your children is BP to begin with.

My plates can't cheat on me unless we're playing cards between rounds of hiding my sausage.

TueTurns • 0 points • 28 November, 2015 02:09 AM

I think we need a new pill. Red pill is the departure from social norms to pursue one's self interest. Blue pill is the subjugation of one's self interest, counting on the charity/compassion of third parties to fulfill needs. This is neither. Orange pill?

Ultimate proof that 99.999999% of LTR's don't work.

99.999999% chance of getting your heart broken and feeling like fucking shit for weeks if not months.

How can anyone get in a relationship with this 99.999999% chance of being cheat on just because she feels 'excited', 'wants to try something new', or 'bored'.

NEVER get into LTR.

no_horse_girls • 9 points • 28 November, 2015 01:19 AM

This is like saying you should never buy a car because it will always break down in the end. Let's ignore the utility it provided in the mean time.

Smoothtank • 2 points • 28 November, 2015 08:39 PM [recovered]

What utility does an LTR have?

Obligations, dependence, social burdens, meet the family, disagreements, maintenance/problem solving.
LTRs are nothing but a long sequence of issues. The same pussy every day.

The only point in a LTR is the understanding that it's there for life. If it doesn't last a lifetime, then there was no utility.

So, fuck your analogy.

He should have just given a salute to the sloop and just left instead of all that elaborate shit. As a matter of fact, we all should. Take some time off of your regular day to give a salute to the sluts around the world for their efforts of securing beta bux while getting that good alpha fucks on the side.

Red Pill = accepting reality.

MRA = complaining about it.

MGTOW = ignoring women because of it.

My life is fucking amazing. I make six figures and have a wonderful partner. I did all of this without demeaning women and being spiteful.

Edit: Every downvote is another one of you jelly boys. Maybe if you thought of women as people your life wouldn't suck?

Mysteriouspaul • 8 points • 28 November, 2015 02:35 AM

Here comes the troll brigade aha

[deleted] • 14 points • 28 November, 2015 01:08 AM

Nice I hope you don't walk into your wife riding on tommy roo's dick realister • 4 points • 28 November, 2015 10:34 AM a person who has to present his salary in every argument is at least depressed or completely narcissistic.

btw 6 figures in 2015 is as much as some subway engineers make. Nothing to boast about.

pallooloo • 0 points • 28 November, 2015 05:09 PM

Who says I'm boasting? I'm happy enough to not have to go on the internet and cry about women that were mean to me :(

IVlaskerade • 3 points • 28 November, 2015 11:04 PM

I'm happy enough to not have to go on the internet and cry about women that were mean to me :(

And yet here you are Too bad you have Cancer. Or are you just telling that to people on Reddit?

palloolloo • 1 point • 26 December, 2015 01:42 AM

Lols that took you a while to reply. Read the thread, it's about people like you that give me cancer.

Women are so fucking manipulative.. she fucking planned to keep that other guy on the side while marrying another guy ONLY FOR MONEY (which is why she kept fucking the other guy).

I wouldn't be surprised if she planned to divorce him and take half of his shit as well. Have you ever in your life seen a man doing something like this? Marrying a girl ONLY FOR MONEY while fucking another girl?

howyoudo • 6 points • 28 November, 2015 05:14 AM

Actually yes. I have quite a few friends that understand marriage is nothing but a business deal nowadays, so they decided to marry up.

Latest one got caught up and her father made him sign a prenuptial. Dad was keen to the plan, and wanted to protect his baby who was a doctor with several properties already. He knew to expect it. Of course she "was against it", but he didn't care cause it was part of the plan.

His words were too bad the prenuptial covers divorce. Doesn't limit what happens during. Well low and behold he was right.

She got him connected to a field he had zero knowledge in. This connection more than tripled his salary within a year. Still less than her so he's already ahead and knew that. She then bought him a new 35' Bluefin with trips. Already been repowered too on her dime since he blew them.

This then proceeded to the house they were in wasn't the best, so they needed to get a 4k sqft condo on the water, with a lift, to store the nice new expensive boat they have.

Latest venture is they now need to get a vacation home they can get to by water so they can relax every few months with zero distractions. So, yes some men do realize this, and capitalize upon it. This is all while he still sees others during his "trips".

I was just reading that thread and the second comment you showed doesn't mention the red pill. I guess he edited it.

GunsGermsAndSteel • -1 points • 27 November, 2015 11:00 PM

I'm so mad, I came here to post this... oh well... fucking loved the video.

[deleted] • -11 points • 27 November, 2015 09:24 PM

If he had monetized the video, I would have some respect for him. But this looks like a waste of time and energy. Yes it was smart of him to tape the fact he hadn't beat her or destroyed her house but there were other ways of doing this.

Maybe he feels good about this and sometimes one's own amusement is all that matters to one's self, but then why post it on Youtube.

Still, good for him, for catching her. Handling it with a bit of grace and humor and walking on to bigger and better things.

Vatigu • 1 point • 27 November, 2015 11:02 PM probably couldn't monetize it because of background audio infringement.

Svantearach • 0 points • 27 November, 2015 09:39 PM [recovered]

I can really tell you've never had a LTR from this comment alone.

Homosapiensized • -4 points • 28 November, 2015 01:40 AM

So now a bunch of women know he's a sappy pussy who couldn't keep a girlfriend. Not sure how's that supposed to work out for him.

[deleted] • -3 points • 27 November, 2015 10:49 PM

That comment which supposedly mentions TRP doesn't mention TRP in the real thread. The guy never posted in TRP either
