

The Wall is undefeated

A little story about a girl I used to know. I will make it short and to the point. When we were both 18 we would always go to hookah lounge with mutual friends and have fun. She loved to sleep around and had multiple partners and she raved about this. She was very attractive at that age so men flocked her all the time. Flash forward. We are both 24 years old and I visited her after a few years. She is now living alone with her parents money subsidizing her rent. She has hit the wall like theres no tomorrow and all the beauty has vanished. THE GOOD PART OF THIS STORY. While I was there she was ranting to me how its impossible to find a nice guy and all guys just want to fuck her and she cant find someone to marry her. She was pathetically depressed. THE WALL IS UNDEFEATED.

Women have been shown to be very shitty at predicting the future.

Oh well. Post-wall some of them are desperate enough to go back to the perverted well.

If these women could go back in time and start all over, they'd fuck way more men, spend way more money, drink/smoke way more, and have an even healthier diet. That's how shitty women are at predicting the future.

Planning ahead is not their strongest asset ^^

This is what happens to these girls when they get on the carousel in their early teens. They hit the wall hard at the age of 24. The earlier these girls are getting on the carousel, the earlier they're hitting the wall.

Why pay for the cow when you and everyone else gets the milk for free?

Knew a girl that was stunningly beautiful at 18 years old, She monetized it in strip clubs, She's 21 now and looks 30. Turns out being a whore isn't the fountain of youth.

□□□having sex before marriage loads of times = sex material (a.k.a hoe) not a marriage material.

Therefore good men are all away from you.

At only 24 and she has already hit THE WALL.....damn. Life comes at you fast, especially when you choose to live it in the fast lane.

PirateWave • 2 points • 1 December, 2019 11:29 AM

24 is early. She fucked up.
