I don't know if you've heard of Black Jesus or seen a Black Jesus. But for all of you who haven't: Black Jesus is normal Jew Jesus depicted as an African. Basically Blacks couldn't relate to Jew Jesus so they made themselves a Black Jesus. Makes sense I guess. Maybe us Whites should make ourselves a White Martin Luther King to make him more relatable?

But here's the problem with Black Jesus. If Jesus is Black then is Mary Black? What about the apostles? Even Judas? Are all the Jews Black in Black Jesus world? How about the Romans? When do the Jews of Black Jesus world switch from being Black Jews to normal jewy Jews. I have a lot of questions about the whole arrangement, questions that have never been answered before in Black Church.

Why? Because it's impossible to ask philosophical questions when everybody be singing and dancing. Lordy Lordy! But isn't examining the relationships of people in the Bible and learning valuable lessons the whole point of Christianity? So really the problem with the Blackification of Jesus is that it destroys the essence of Christianity just as the Caucasianification of Martin Luther King destroys the Civil Rights narrative.

Black Jesus provides a Simulacra of authentic African spirituality, while protecting Blacks from having to undergo the Real of African Spirituality: sacrificing animals, sex magic and dangerous trials. In today's busy world who has time for that? The whole endeavor is shielded from scrutiny because everyone is too busy singing and dancing.

Now Black Jesus isn't the only proverbial Black Jesus. Planet Fitness provides a fitness product without the obligation of serious physical exertion. Modern Universities provide a diploma without teaching anything of substance. American Women offer a symbolic marriage but refuse the material obligations of being a wife. No Fap allegedly helps chronic masterbators but is actually a place where masterbators masterbate about masturbation.

Black Jesus can also take the form of an individual process. It's inevitable that a fedora gaytheist interprets this article as an endorsement of religion. It's obviously not. But the fact that a bottom feeder prole is going to shit himself, miss the point and virtue signal for atheist points, means Black Jesus is alive and well. Perhaps someone will politically correct virtue signal Das Rayciss. I look forward to it. Commenters proving my thesis elevates my posts into a postmodern collaborative performance.

Whenever the essential is abandoned for the symbolic that's a Black Jesus aka a Simulacrum aka a Blue Pill. This expansive definition of the Blue Pill is difficult and unpleasant for our newcomers. That's okay. My job here is to force difficult and unpleasant realizations onto boys who think they figured it out.

The Red Pill is more than antifeminism. The Red Pill is much bigger than that, it's a rejection of the Symbolic in favor of the Real. The Blue Pill is the inverse. Thus diddling your phone in the gym instead of lifting is Blue Pill. Shooting validation texts at women instead of shooting semen is Blue Pill. SJWs are Blue Pill as their existence in material reality is an imitation of a symbolic tumblr avatar. Likewise churning out masculinity guides while being unmasculine is Blue Pill. The most paradoxical aspect of the Red Pill is that the majority of people here never took the Red Pill and never will. They're here to act out masculinity symbolically so they don't have to live it in the Real.

As the world falls deeper and deeper into the Postmodern Era more and more people will willfully spread their assholes for Symbolic Black Jesus. Reality is hard and pretending is easy. We're descending into the aeon of the eternal child. Narcissism, self esteem and feels are much more important than Reals.

The thing to remember is this. Sell feels. Get Realz. Give women emotion take pussy. Make your beta boss feel important take his money. The more people become children the more valuable being a rational male will be. Everyone is getting fucked in the ass by Symbolic Black Jesus. Don't be like everyone.

This one is gonna go right over everyone's heads, because they are stupid.

Black Jesus, like White Jesus before him, constitutes an admission that Jesus isn't real.

Because if you have Black Jesus and White Jesus, Short Jesus and Tall Jesus, Thin Jesus and Fat Jesus and Bodybuilder Jesus, Gay Jesus and Female Jesus and Tranny Jesus, then you're changing Jesus to suit the audience.

Facts which can be changed to suit the audience are called "lies".

If Jesus was real, then he had a height and a weight, a hair colour and an eye colour and a skin colour, and, more importantly, some shit he said and other shit he didn't say. If you believe in Jesus, then you might not know exactly what he said, you might have to take your best guess about him, but if you just make up shit to suit you, then you've just admitted you're lying and you don't really believe.

Which means even the Pastafarians are more serious than you, because at least they acknowledge that the Flying Spaghetti Monster is a metaphor.

Quite frankly, I still prefer that an awful lot to the Muslim way of handling things where they basically insits every single thing they believe from 622 until today is pure unadulterated truth and that God is basically Arab no discussion allowed period.

Bambam22bam • 1 points • 31 May, 2018 03:14 PM [recovered]

Black Jesus is not different from white Jesus. Jesus wasn't white, but white people had a really hard time worshipping a brown middle eastern dude, so they made him white.

The underlying point you're trying to get across is a good one and important, but the jesus / race example is probably not the best vehicle to do so, since anyone with half a brain knows jesus isn't white or black and that most people are just fragile little children that want to identify with something that looks, walks, talks and acts like them. If anything, white jesus fucks harder than black jesus.

Rian_Stone • 3 points • 31 May, 2018 09:05 PM

What metaphor better eases your delicate sensibilities?

[deleted] • 17 points • 31 May, 2018 09:34 PM

I don't have delicate sensibilities. I just thought this was a stupid thing to say, since Jesus was likely a brown middle-eastern Jew. By OP's standard, the adoption of white Jesus is far more widespread than black Jesus, and therefore white Jesus is probably fucking people harder than black Jesus ever could.

If you want to know how stupid of an argument this is, OP has included a "picture" of white Jewish Jesus as reference to what Jesus presumably looks like. Nobody actually knows this. It's impossible to know what he looked like, if he even existed at all. But if we are to assume Jesus existed, he most certainly would not have been white, given the region and time period in which he was born. Therefore, there is an inherent level of irony involved in a black Jesus metaphor, and I could just not resist pointing that out.

Nice attempt to paint me as "delicate," for arguing OP's nonsensical metaphor. You really questioned my manhood there. If anything, I have a hard time letting stupid arguments exist on anonymous internet forums without offering my 2 pennies.

Rian_Stone • -1 points • 31 May, 2018 09:39 PM

So you took it literally eh? Literal, literate. Funny how they have the same root word, but someone can only have one at a time when reading this post.

Interesting isn't it?

You're staring at the finger pointing at the moon. You're missing the point

[deleted] • 11 points • 31 May, 2018 09:46 PM*

No, I got the point when I read it. My reasoning and reading comprehension skills are well above average, although my grammar can be lacking at times (seems to fade as the years pass, but oh well). I just thought the black Jesus metaphor was stupid as fuck. Still do.

So far you have questioned my masculinity and now my intelligence. Keep going. Do you want question my earning potential or how much I can dead lift?

Rian_Stone • 2 points • 31 May, 2018 09:57 PM*

K then, so why not talk to the main point? Why digress on this insignificant detail to the point? Why the need to derail what should be a talk about LARPING masculinity? Why does your opinion of a. Metaphor trump all else?

[deleted] • 4 points • 31 May, 2018 10:39 PM

I did speak to the main point in my original comment and in my response to OP. I agree with what he is saying, that people hide from real and ultimately just want to live their lives doing enough to feel comfortable in that they're doing enough not to be considered a loser (i.e., my metaphor of people running the life race not to win, but just to avoid finishing in last place < this is the BP mindset in our society writ large and it's contagious and encouraged throughout).

dapowa • 0 points • 1 June, 2018 04:51 AM you're eating a bag of dicks for your presentation. Add value, and then state a disagreement. All you did was state a disagreement and then say 'math on everything else checks out though.'

smirk_addict • 3 points • 31 May, 2018 09:32 PM

I guess he's saying though that White Jesus is the most obvious example. Although it would've maybe had less shock value.

Rian_Stone • 5 points • 31 May, 2018 09:41 PM

I'm saying the point of this post isn't the ethnic makeup of Jesus. He's either insufficiently literate, or has to find a reason to dismiss the post.

Hint: it's about LARPING masculinity

My post says that Jesus was ethnically a Jew and even links a picture. Yes most people want to identify with an unreal Symbolic that's the point

[deleted] • 10 points • 31 May, 2018 07:20 PM

My Jesus was born and raised in the western Delaware Valley. He spent most of his days playing. Chilling out, maxin, relaxin. Near the halls of education.

Several nogooders intruded one day. Mary was concerned. She sent Jesus to safety.

[deleted] • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 03:23 PM

Agree. Like I said, it's a really great point. People are needy, uncertain and weak and look to others to feel like they are "doing okay." Ultimately most people are just running a race to not be in last place. If you're winning you don't need to look around you or behind you to know it. That's true confidence and frame.

GLO, this is why we love you. Never change.

[deleted] • 17 points • 31 May, 2018 05:54 PM

I understand your message about the expanding blue pill narrative to make everything about equality and "feeling good", but the Black Jesus analogy is very weak and mostly inaccurate, considering most people now know Jesus would've been a darker Middle Eastern that was white washed to fit the Christian narrative (where even God, who is supposed to not even really have a form, is still an old white guy). So even the classic depiction of Jesus would've been Blue Pill, according to your definition.

I feel this hurts your point quite a bit, though it is still a valid point about Feelz vs. Reals.

PS: That picture of white MLK is hilarious. I wonder if he would've had so many mistresses looking like that.

Auvergnat • 22 points • 1 June, 2018 05:00 AM*

I feel generous today so I'll let you and other new readers in on the joke instead of laughing at the answers as usual:

GLO is TRP's philosopher-troll. What he does in every post is that he bakes a incredibly delicious multi-layered cake full of sweet and tasty ingredients, and then he sugar-coats it in a thin layer of dog shit.

The point is to enjoy watching from the outside how people react to the cake that is offered to them.

There are those who realize how good that cake is in the inside but won't touch it.

There are those who get to the cake and enjoy its inside taste, but had to get their fingers dirty to be able to do so.

There's the great majority of those who get so absolutely sick at seeing the outside coating that they will never even consider the thought of the delicious inside that they are missing. Many of them will be extremely vocal in expressing their disgust and demand that the chef be fired.

And there are those who stand on the side to laugh. Some of them will even fake to eat it all and tell others it's delicious, just to add to the joke.

(you're somewhere in the two first categories)

The meta-point is to get people to reflect about the idea that real life does not care about political correctness, and that accessing that wisdom may require you to entertain (what you would yourself consider) evil thoughts even if only for a short time.

It's intellectually sadistic. It's disgusting and brilliant at the same time. It's absolutely unique as a philosophical method.

Lib3rtarianSocialist • 1 point • 30 August, 2018 10:45 AM

Your explanation makes sense but I remain partly skeptical. Anyway, now I see why he'd make a post about women being shit. Regardless, GLO understands political philosophy unlike the majority so that's refreshing.

Framefame • 36 points • 31 May, 2018 05:04 PM

The Red Pill: Discussion of sexual strategy in a culture increasingly lacking a positive identity for men. What do we actually talk about? The ethnicity of Jesus and wonky Lacanian philosophy. Back to reality boys.

GayLubeOil[S] • 11 points • 31 May, 2018 08:03 PM

The Red Pill metaphor is derivative of Lacan that's how it ended up in the Wakowski Brothers matrix movie. But to your point at 100 IQ a lot of things are confusing.

Framefame • 5 points • 31 May, 2018 08:57 PM

I see how Lacan can be applied to TRP with the whole rejecting symbolism for reality thing, but to claim TRP is based on it is an enormous stretch. This place provides a toolbox of practical techniques and principles that will improve your skills when it comes to dating women, not a platform to engage in loosely related pseudophilosophy. I can assure you my intelligence is not bad at all. Got a bit wound up because someone disagrees with daddy Lacan?

GayLubeOil[S] • 13 points • 31 May, 2018 09:46 PM

The Red Pill I built on the Matrix Film which is built on the book Simulacra and Simulation which is built on Lacan. That's where the whole plugged in metaphor comes from. This community is built on that metaphor and that's how and why we reject mainstream advice.

Now obviously you're a 100 IQ Normie and anything not immediately obvious and practical scares you. I get it.

How about you get yourself a beer and watch footgame

Framefame • 4 points • 31 May, 2018 10:32 PM

We use the Matrix metaphor because the blue/red pill situation is a good analogy to how women are portrayed vs. how women actually are. Do you continue to believe they're all angels (blue pill) or do you see them for what they actually are and get to work (red pill). The key word here is analogy, our ideology and techniques regarding dating are not at all based on The Matrix or Lacan, but those two can be seen as metaphors for how we view the dating climate. Loosely related, hardly "built on". I avoid very abstract topics in RP context because they are usually mental masturbation, unless they actually positively affect practical results, ie. stoicism. My IQ is over 100, but nothing extreme. Regardless, calling someone a "100 IQ normie" is a very autistic-like insult, not what I'm used to seeing from you. I don't like beer nor football, still avenging daddy Lacan?

GayLubeOil[S] • 11 points • 31 May, 2018 10:41 PM

We use the Matrix which is derivative of Lacan because Blue Pills are stuck in a virtual world and we are here to move them toward the Real. The metaphor comes from Lacan so all of this is based on Lacan.

In fact all of these maladaptive behaviors we treat come from Hollywood aka the Virtual.

It's an abstract concept that is simple to understand and apply. Unless you're a 100 IQ Normie. Normies hate abstraction which is how I know you're a Normie.

Framefame • 2 points • 31 May, 2018 11:04 PM

I agree that The Matrix is based on Lacan, but claiming that those two are somehow the basis of TRP's sexual strategy and principles is a huge stretch, making an analogy does not constitute them as the ideological basis of TRP. Lacan doesn't have anything to do with frame, plate theory, self improvement etc. His thinking can, on a rudimentary level, be interpreted as kind of similar to TRP's, that's about it. No, I tend to avoid over-abstraction because I used to be a nerd who thought too much and acted too little. I have since learned that pondering abstract concepts is only useful when it actually has a positive impact on you, otherwise it's just mental masturbation and you're better off spending your time more wisely. Call me a 100 IQ Normie, call me a 50 IQ Normie, call daddy Lacan and say I'm a meanie, my point stands.

GayLubeOil[S] • 6 points • 31 May, 2018 11:34 PM

What you fail to understand is that the difference between the Seduction community and the Red Pill is the Lacanian discourse of rejection. Without that all of TRPs sexual strategy would be subsumed into a castrated ideology of political correctness.

Since there can never be a Red Pill Feminist but there are plenty of Seduction Feminists were dealing with something very important.

This fact that this has to be spoon fed is proof of your Normie hood.

Framefame • 3 points • 1 June, 2018 12:38 AM

The difference between TRP and the seduction community is that TRP noticed there was a huge missing link in the seduction community, which was exactly their political correctness and that they would not be able to game women long term or get much respect from them, because it was all an act. TRP came up with different techniques and principles to cut past the bs and focus on womens real nature. Just because some fellow named Lacan once said something about cutting past the bs does not mean that TRP's ideas about women and dating are now "Property of Lacan", but you can kind of draw parallels between them on a high level. This is the fourth time I've explained this, yet you haven't grasped it yet. Are you a Normie now? Or does pseudophilosophy automatically make you cooler than the Normies?

GayLubeOil[S] • 5 points • 1 June, 2018 01:11 AM

Your the Normie because you don't understand that the Red Pill Metaphor is derivative of Lacan.

yallapapi • 2 points • 3 June, 2018 09:50 AM

[deleted] • 4 points • 12 June, 2018 11:40 PM

Can confirm. There's a whole Igbo (Nigerian) spiritual lore that I still can't get heads or tails of even though it's the basis of our language. It's just been replaced by Christianity for the sake of ease and probably conformity.

Ferocious245 • 7 points • 31 May, 2018 09:03 PM

While the real is very important for attaining things we have already developed a recipe for, the symbolic is also important for our brains trying to figure out things that, mostly, we consciously cannot grasp. Smart people invent the symbolic so that the 90% of people who don't understand it can actually grasp an easy and actionable concept.

Since youre probably still here lurking, Here's why you were banned : You have the attention span of a fignewton, and immediately jump to conclusions and make ignorant statements based off a post title. You're the equivalent of the person who reads the title of a news article and already formulates an opinion. You don't actually want to, or perhaps are incapable of understanding the content. You just see a word you don't like and react by derailing the entire conversation, then acting like what you're saying matters when you misunderstand the context and don't talk about the main topic. That's what snowflakes do.

It was a pavlovian response to the word Jesus. Similar to how morons get triggered by someone even mentioning Trump. Being so brainwashed that one word sets you off and you can't even read the rest is a clear indication of still being strapped into a blue pill suppository machine. To sum it up, you're a plugged-in idiot, or a troll - there's no room for you around here.

And P.S. you don't deserve to be here or have your voice heard, for the sake of it being heard. You demonstrate a sense of childish entitlement - "Hey I'm just wanna know why I was banned - it's just a prank bro chill!! I'm so gonna call you out!!" You act like you deserve to be here.

And finally, you victimize yourself. Weak. "OH look I was banned by the Mods for using free speech I didn't break any rules you're not allowed to do that!!"

Most people simply aren't capable of operating at that level. Most people have to work with symbols, simplify and pare things down so that compact symbols can, with reasonable accuracy, define their reality and let them act in the world. In my admittedly under-read and misinformed opinion, that's probably why the phenomenon that Jung noted, that of symbols aging into irrelevancy and people needing new symbols, even exists.

But IIRC, we do have a certain above average IQ we expect around here.

2. Jews these days are a lot whiter than they were in Jesus' day ... in fact there is a line of black african jews with the same DNA as the Cohens; a famously long lineaged Jewish family allowed to write the tora <https://www.nytimes.com/1999/05/09/us/dna-backs-a-tribe-s-tradition-of-early-descent-from-the-jews.html>

The deepest Red Pill one will ever take, is the one where you realize that all truth is subjective. To paraphrase Animal Farm, "All truths are true, but some are more true than others." Reality is, by its very nature, a completely subjective experience. Nobody knows what is actual, just what is subjectively real (even if that subjection is shared). It is this way because survival is predicated on the subjective real. Actuality is completely unimportant.

You are, and always will be, a meat machine designed for the sole purpose of making more meat machines. Self-improvement makes you a better meat machine.

Black Jesus, Jew Jesus, Hispanic Jesus, Asian Jesus, Trump Jesus, Progressive Jesus, Fat Jesus, Slut Jesus, TRP Jesus- each is a subjective reality- each is a path of the meat machine. Which one makes you a better meat machine?

trele_morele • 7 points • 31 May, 2018 04:11 PM

A far deeper red pill truth is the fact that you need some kind of bare minimum of food, particularly protein, and water to survive. Please explain how that is a subjective concept.

dr_warlock • 10 points • 31 May, 2018 04:31 PM

Dont argue with these people. When they think something is uncomfortable, they derail the conversation with technicalities that are tangent to the point and you're stuck lost in a mess. Ignore him.

red_philosopher • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 04:28 PM

The actuality is survival is unimportant to the universe. There is nothing in the universe that gives a shit if you survive or not. Our brains create the subjectivity of the importance of survival. While it is necessary to survive, it is a subjective reality that encourages that behavior. The actuality doesn't support that endeavor.

Survival is based upon the illusion that reality is actuality. Without subjective reality, you don't survive.

justtenofusinhere • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 04:19 PM

Because you won't die the moment you stop taking food, protien, and/or water. But taking those items will not stop death and ensuring eternal life.

So what is the truth you were trying to assert? Eat them and you will live? Not necessarily. Don't eat them and you will die because you didn't eat them? Again, not necessarily.

There is no objective truth (except one). Correct. I will now go and pat myself on the back that I've already understood the basic mechanism of everything human. But even this is mental masturbation.

Have you considered the idea of climbing the social hierarchy discreetly, then jumping in and owning the political system along with similar-minded individuals, and becoming the modern version of patriarchs?

red_philosopher • 2 points • 30 August, 2018 02:34 PM

I've never put any serious consideration into that subject. As amusing as it is, we're talking about nationwide cultural change. Generations of effort by millions of people.

In addition, the political system is working just fine. Women think they are getting everything they ever wanted and are getting unhappier and unhappier every day- making it easier for me to fuck them behind their husbands' backs contributing to their own mental miasma. Men are being told that they are worthless scumbags of the Earth and are getting softer and softer every day- making it easier for me to gain access to resources and women like never before.

What's to change?

(Yes I am aware of my MRA mindset, but if we are being brutally honest with ourselves, MRA isn't going anywhere for at least 20-40 years. We have, at minimum, one more generation of men being told their cocks are extruded vaginas.)

StonecrusherCarnifex • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 05:42 PM

reality is subjective

Yeah, okay, when you put someone on the Moon after years of testing, failing, checking the math and fixing the errors, then you'll be qualified to talk about reality.

red_philosopher • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 07:42 PM

The appeal to authority you are using in a vain attempt to discredit my statement is denial of this ultimate truth. Like it or not, your reality is constructed by your brain's interpretation of your perceptive experiences.

StonecrusherCarnifex • 3 points • 31 May, 2018 09:17 PM

That's why peer review and proper methodology are so important to the scientific process - we see patterns where there aren't any, we make a conclusion and then cherry pick evidence to support it (while ignoring all evidence to the contrary).

Humans, in general, really fucking suck at objectivity.

That's why the scientific process is so rigorous in the first place.

To argue that "nothing is real because real is just electrical signals interpreted by your brain" is literally just regurgitating the Brain in a Vat theory, in other words hey I'm glad you made it to middle school little buddy! Go watch The Matrix a few more times and then once you've got the "whoa" out of your system maybe we can have an adult discussion about the nature of reality.

red_philosopher • 2 points • 31 May, 2018 09:39 PM

I concur entirely. We suck at objectivity because our entire existence is basically a subjective interpretation. It doesn't, however, mean that subjective reality is unimportant. Things can be subjective and important.

A speeding train is, objectively, 99%+ empty space. However, subjectively, it appears as solid and actual as our brains tell us it is. We don't step in front of that train because subjective reality tells us that if we do, we will die.

Reality has very little to do with actuality. It is a fine distinction that takes time to fully grasp and understand.

KeffirLime • 8 points • 31 May, 2018 03:35 PM*

Black Jesus is a symptom of a broken, bored society.

We have no black plague, World war 2. We are living in the most peaceful time in our history, our lifespans are longer than they've ever been, cue the introduction of fake issues like feminism, multi racial emojis, Black Motherfuckin Jesus. Add in the daily horror stories spammed down your throat by modern media and suddenly we've created "problems " worth fighting for.

When in reality all we've created is a proverbial black cock penetrating us deep in the prostate.

MCA_T • 4 points • 1 June, 2018 10:35 AM

We're the middle children of history, man. No purpose or place. We have no Great War. No Great Depression. Our Great War's a spiritual war... our Great Depression is our lives. We've all been raised on television to believe that one day we'd all be millionaires, and movie gods, and rock stars. But we won't. And we're slowly learning that fact. And we're very, very pissed off.

Your_Coke_Dealer • 2 points • 2 June, 2018 11:12 PM

What are you smoking, and can I have some?

BlackCraneStoic • 2 points • 4 June, 2018 09:40 AM

For simplicity's sake since alot of youngings have never watched the Matrix the underlying post GLO is looking to get across is to detach from delusive states of being and become reattuned to reality.

For all intents and purposes most people live in a virtual reality fog or a whistful fantasy to escape from real life. This aspect of TRP means coming to terms with reality and living it from your own vantage point rather than being "plugged in" or attuned to artificial systems that'll make you little more than a slave. Be it to religion, to money, to sex, etc. See things for what they are and act accordingly.

poisonherbs • 2 points • 18 June, 2018 04:33 PM

Jesus is the Puerto Rican guy that lives in apt. 4B what ya talking about?

Thx for making my day with this and the pictures that came along ☐

HYPESM_OR_BUST • 1 points • 1 June, 2018 07:18 PM [recovered]

Yikes, this post was a mess.

There is much we can learn from the shortcomings of /u/GayLubeOil and that is the concept of empathy.

All around TRP people will scream hold frame however that does not imply living inside a bubble. It is critical to any successes in any social situation to understand the perspective aka empathy.

The reason why this post fails so hard is that it is built on a notion that is heavily debated and imminently takes a side. This effectively alienates most of the audience as it makes it extremely difficult to understand the message.

Had GLO used a different metaphor this would have been a far better post.

The Red Pill is more than antifeminism. The Red Pill is much bigger than that, it's a rejection of the Symbolic in favor of the Real.

Statements like this make it impossible for half the users to agree with you.

It's not about being anti-political correct or not controversial, it's about being inclusive so the message reaches everyone, this isn't /pol2.0/ it's TRP. I don't come here to be lectured on your religious beliefs or political views because frankly, I don't give a dam

Try and have some empathy and think about who is reading this your words.

Moving forward let's try and hold ourselves to a higher standard of posting

Lots of love, HYPISM

GayLubeOil[S] • 4 points • 1 June, 2018 07:21 PM*

If this isn't a banvan straight to Banshwitz I have no idea what is. Empathy is for faggots. It's a femanine trait.

Furthermore my post doesn't express a political or religious stance.

HYPISM_OR_BUST • 1 points • 1 June, 2018 07:36 PM [recovered]

The only people who think empathy is for "faggots" are autistic people, that's because they don't have it.

<http://socialintelligence.labinthewild.org/mite/>

Take this social intelligence test, and tell me what you score, no cheating :)

If you can't see the power in understanding another person's thoughts, feelings, and condition from their point of view, rather than from your own then there is no point trying to help you.

Good luck in the real world buddy

GayLubeOil[S] • 8 points • 1 June, 2018 07:46 PM

If online personality quizzes isn't homosexuality I don't know is. Should probably stock up on Gay Lube Oil.

I have enough empathy to help people here but not enough to deal with lil Cucks who want me to be their mommy.

HYPISM_OR_BUST • 1 points • 1 June, 2018 07:49 PM [recovered]

Don't be scared, buddy :)

just take the test, trust me it's extremely accurate, like 99% accurate, I've never seen an autistic pass it, I wonder how you will do. Don't fake the screenshot.

GayLubeOil[S] • 7 points • 1 June, 2018 07:51 PM

This post was an internet test and you failed

HYPISM_OR_BUST • 1 points • 1 June, 2018 07:55 PM [recovered]

You're the one with 45% upvote, that's a fail in my book

Guess we will never know the extent of GLO's autism, I could only dream :(

GayLubeOil[S] • 7 points • 1 June, 2018 08:02 PM

Sounds like someone is a high agreeableness beta male who judges his actions by the opinions of others.

HYPESM_OR_BUST • 1 points • 1 June, 2018 08:21 PM [recovered]

Mother always said; if everyone tells you that your head is missing might as well check. (not an English proverb)

Your post didn't fail because people didn't agree with it, it failed because it was objectively shit, People didn't downvote you because they didn't agree with the glorified beta feeder, they downvoted because it was written poorly.

Isn't hard to understand.

GayLubeOil[S] • 6 points • 1 June, 2018 08:27 PM

Look at this wonderful maternal wisdom your providing. I'm going to file that under reasons why you are a beta male.

saskatoonduude • 1 point • 1 June, 2018 08:29 PM

despite you having no idea what the term "empathy" means this is a high IQ post

GayLubeOil[S] • 3 points • 1 June, 2018 08:34 PM

Masculine communities are supposed to lack empathy that's the fucking point.

saskatoonduude • 2 points • 1 June, 2018 08:39 PM

Empathy is an ace up the sleeve; the most powerful people I've ever met are frighteningly empathic. You can't get inside someone's head without understanding how they experience you. You've read Lacan. You should probably know the difference between sympathy and empathy.

GayLubeOil[S] • 2 points • 1 June, 2018 09:54 PM

I can't empathize with beta males

saskatoonduude • 2 points • 2 June, 2018 03:33 AM

Well thats a different story but lettuce be cereal your mental concept of a beta male is clearly informed by some ability to experience yourself and your own psyche as a "not this" in the dialecticzzZZzz of alpha / beta.

dapowa • 1 point • 3 June, 2018 11:08 PM

what the hell is the matter with you

I agree with every thing you are saying.

I wonder, though, could this be applied to those who self promote to obtain profitability by selling life coaching skills to people who are seeking knowledge? Could it be presented to the fringe and disenfranchised, in the form of paradigm shifting snippets of "truth" that encourage the reader to like they have been presented a glimps of the "truth" thus converting their fringe status as outsiders into a "the select few" who are positioned to receive?

No, probably not.

dr_warlock • 5 points • 31 May, 2018 04:36 PM

TheRedPike • 5 points • 31 May, 2018 10:55 PM

Welp, you got a sneaky bloop banned for asking a retarded question about race in a thread that has nothing to do with it. Room temperature IQs at work.

red_philosopher • 5 points • 31 May, 2018 05:04 PM

This is a pretty sarcastic piece of critical thinking on the OP actually, and it's based in the context that the OP was trying to describe. It is exactly that kind of thinking that TRP endorses. What is the context, what is the purpose, what are they trying to achieve by telling you these things? The irony is thick, and your response... who is shit testing whom?

smirk_addict • 1 point • 31 May, 2018 06:22 PM

I thought it was brilliant.
