I. Never say ‘I Love You’ first

Women want to feel like they have to overcome obstacles to win a man’s heart. They crave the challenge of capturing the interest of a man who has other women competing for his attention, and eventually prevailing over his grudging reluctance to award his committed exclusivity. The man who gives his emotional world away too easily robs women of the satisfaction of earning his love. Though you may be in love with her, don’t say it before she has said it. Show compassionate restraint for her need to struggle toward yin fulfillment. Inspire her to take the leap for you, and she’ll return the favor a thousandfold.

II. Make her jealous

Flirt with other women in front of her. Do not dissuade other women from flirting with you. Women will never admit this but jealousy excites them. The thought of you turning on another woman will arouse her sexually. No girl wants a man that no other woman wants. The partner who harnesses the gale storm of jealousy controls the direction of the relationship.

III. You shall make your mission, not your woman, your priority

Forget all those romantic cliches of the leading man proclaiming his undying love for the woman who completes him. Despite whatever protestations to the contrary, women do not want to be “The One” or the center of a man’s existence. They in fact want to subordinate themselves to a worthy man’s life purpose, to help him achieve that purpose with their feminine support, and to follow the path he lays out. You must respect a woman’s integrity and not lie to her that she is “your everything”. She is not your everything, and if she is, she will soon not be anymore.

IV. Don’t play by her rules

If you allow a woman to make the rules she will resent you with a seething contempt even a rapist cannot inspire. The strongest woman and the most strident feminist wants to be led by, and to submit to, a more powerful man. Polarity is the core of a healthy loving relationship. She does not want the prerogative to walk all over you with her capricious demands and mercurial moods. Her emotions are a hurricane, her soul a saboteur. Think of yourself as a bulwark against her tempest. When she grasps for a pillar to steady herself against the whipping winds or yearns for an authority figure to foil her worst instincts, it is you who has to be there... strong, solid, unshakeable and immovable.

V. Adhere to the golden ratio

Give your woman 2/3 of everything she gives you. For every three calls or texts, give her two back. Three declarations of love earn two in return. Three gifts; two nights out. Give her two displays of affection and stop until she has answered with three more. When she speaks, you reply with fewer words. When she emotes, you emote less. The idea behind the golden ratio is twofold — it establishes your greater value by making her chase you, and it demonstrates that you have the self-restraint to avoid getting swept up in her personal dramas. Refraining from reciprocating everything she does for you in equal measure instills in her the proper attitude of belief in your higher status. In her deepest loins it is what she truly wants.

VI. Keep her guessing

True to their inscrutable natures, women ask questions they don’t really want direct answers to. Woe be the man who plays it straight — his fate is the suffering of the beta. Evade, tease, obfuscate. She thrives when she has to imagine what you’re thinking about her, and withers when she knows exactly how you feel. A woman may want financial and family security, but she does not want passion security. In the same manner, when she has displeased you, punish swiftly, but when she has done you right, reward slowly. Reward her good behavior intermittently and unpredictably and she will never tire of working hard to please you.

VII. Always keep two in the kitty

Never allow yourself to be a “kept man”. A man with options is a man without need. It builds confidence and encourages boldness with women if there is another woman, a safety net, to catch you in case you slip and risk a breakup, divorce, or a lost prospect, leading to loneliness and a grinding dry spell. A woman knows once she has slept with a man she has abdicated a measure of her power; when she has fallen in love with him she has surrendered nearly all of it. But love is ephemeral and with time she may rediscover her power and threaten to leave you. It is her final trump card. Withdrawing all her love and all her body in an instant will rend your soul if you are faced with contemplating the empty abyss alone. Knowing there is another you can turn to for affection will fortify your will and satisfy your manhood.

VIII. Say you’re sorry only when absolutely necessary

Do not say you’re sorry for every wrong thing you do. It is a posture of submission that no man should reflexively adopt, no matter how alpha he is. Apologizing increases the demand for more apologies. She will come to expect your contrition, like a cat expects its meal at a set time each day. And then your value will lower in her eyes. Instead, if you have done something wrong, you should acknowledge your guilt in a glancing way without resorting to the actual words “I’m sorry.” Pull the Bill Clinton maneuver and say “Mistakes were made” or tell her you “feel bad” about what you did. You are granted two freebie “I’m sorry”s for the life of your relationship; use them wisely.

IX. Connect with her emotions

Set yourself apart from other men and connect with a woman’s emotional landscape. Her mind is an alien world that requires deft navigation to reach your rendezvous. Frolic in the surf of emotions rather than the arid desert of logic. Be playful. Employ all your senses. Describe in lush detail scenarios to set her heart afire. Give your feelings freedom to roam. ROAM. Yes, that is a good word. You’re not on a linear path with her. You are ROAMING all over, taking her on an adventure. In this world, there is no need to finish thoughts or draw conclusions. There is only need to EXPERIENCE. You’re grabbing her hand and running with her down an infinite, labyrinthine alleyway with no end, laughing and letting your fingers glide on the cobblestone walls along the way.

X. Ignore her beauty

The man who trains his mind to subdue the reward centers of his brain when reflecting upon a beautiful female face will magically transform his interactions with women. His apprehension and self-consciousness will melt away, paving the path for more honest and self-possessed interactions with the objects of his desire. This is one reason why the greatest lotharios drown in more love than they can handle — through positive experiences with so many beautiful women they lose their awe of beauty and, in turn, their powerlessness under its spell. It will help you acquire the right frame of mind to stop using the words hot, cute, gorgeous, or beautiful to describe girls who turn you on. Instead, say to yourself “she’s interesting” or “she might be worth getting to know”. Never compliment a girl on her looks, especially not a girl you aren’t fucking. Turn off that part of your brain that wants to put them on pedestals. Further advanced training to reach this state of unawed Zen transcendence is to sleep with many MANY attractive women (try to avoid sleeping with a lot of ugly women if you don’t want to regress). Soon, a Jedi lover you will be.

XI. Be irrationally self-confident

No matter what your station in life, stride through the world without apology or excuse. It does not matter if objectively you are not the best man a woman can get; what matters is that you think and act like you are. Women have a dog's instinct for uncovering weakness in men; don't make it easy for them. Self-confidence, warranted or not, triggers submissive emotional responses in women. Irrational self-confidence will get you more pussy than rational defeatism.

XII. Maximize your strengths, minimize your weaknesses

In the betterment of ourselves as men we attract women into our orbit. To accomplish this gravitational pull as painlessly and efficiently as possible, you must identify your natural talents and shortcomings and parcel your efforts accordingly. If you are a gifted jokester, don't waste time and energy trying to raise your status in philosophical debate. If you write well but dance poorly, don't kill yourself trying to expand your manly influence on the dancefloor. Your goal should be to attract women effortlessly, so play to your strengths no matter what they are; there is a groupie for every male endeavor. Except World of Warcraft.

XIII. Err on the side of too much boldness, rather than too little

Touching a woman inappropriately on the first date will get you further with her than not touching her at all. Don't let a woman's faux indignation at your boldness sway you; they secretly love it when a man aggressively pursues what he wants and makes his sexual intentions known. You don't have to be an asshole, but if you have no choice, being an inconsiderate asshole beats being a polite beta, every time.

XIV. Fuck her good

Fuck her like it's your last fuck. And hers. Fuck her so good, so hard, so wantonly, so profligately that she is left a quivering, sparking mass of shaking flesh and sex fluids. Drain her of everything, then drain her some more. Kiss her all over, make love to her all night, and hold her close in the morning. Own her body, own her gratitude, own her love. If you don't know how, learn to give her squirting orgasms.

XV. Maintain your state control

You are an oak tree. You will not be manipulated by crying, yelling, lying, head games, sexual withdrawal, jealousy ploys, pity plays, shit tests, hot/cold/hot/cold, disappearing acts, or guilt trips. She will rain and thunder all around you and you will shelter her until her storm passes. She will not drag you into her chaos or uproot you. When you have mastery over yourself, you will have mastery over her.

XVI. Never be afraid to lose her

You must not fear. Fear is the love-killer. Fear is the ego-triumph that brings abject loneliness. You will face your fear. You will permit it to pass over and through you. And when your ego-fear is gone you will turn and face your lover, and only your heart will remain. You will walk away from her when she has violated your integrity, and you will let her walk when her heart is closed to you. She who can destroy you, controls you. Don't give her that power over yourself. Love yourself before you love her.

The closer you follow the letter of these commandments, the easier you will find and keep real, true unconditional love and happiness in your life.

Ruh roh. Teh snowflakes are triggered. They are calling our moms on us.

Get off of /r/all you alt right losers

Alt right? Are you an idiot? TRP is politically agnostic. I'm sure there are some posters here that are full on bring back the Fuhrer. I guarantee you there are posters that lost family members in the Holocaust. I would agree that as an average (lets' play made-up statistics like everyone else!) there is probably an American political right lean to higher percentage of posters. Going full retard and bucketing the sub into a political camp because of this is moronic. Our mission is not political. Take your partisan horseshit, ball it up and shove it up your ass. Some of us just want to talk about other stuff.

Time to fumigate the place.

iamanalterror_ • 35 points • 2 July, 2018 09:59 AM

Referring to us as alt-right, incels, MGTOW, misogynists, neckbeards or any other label is their way of attempting to pull us into their frame. By explaining yourself, you've already lost. They're not looking for explanations or discourse; they want snippets which will confirm their biases.

TheRedPike • 21 points • 2 July, 2018 02:39 PM

But ultimately I have to ban them and keep the herd calm. They can wear their little moment of attention as a badge of honor next to their pussy hat that they never wash. That and a quarter won't even buy them a cup of coffee. You see, I don't give a shit how they feel, even if they crow their satisfaction with themselves, because I know what's real.

dr_warlock • 24 points • 2 July, 2018 12:28 PM

Too many words. "Suck muh cack" will suffice.

TheRedPike • 15 points • 2 July, 2018 07:30 PM

They might actually try to...

Vox-Triarii252 points 1 July, 2018 01:37 PM* [recovered]

I got married decades before I ever heard about RP, but we're still married to this day with 6 children in a C/FO marriage. A lot of the material I've found simply sounds like advice my father gave me when I was young either by example, or directly. I grew up in a very rural environment with two traditionally-minded parents who had a strong and healthy dynamic.

This stuff especially sounds like things my father either told my brothers and I directly or told us indirectly through his example. My father was a very Stoic man, extremely intelligent, but even more practical and disciplined. Commandment VIII especially resonates with me. My father always told us that he didn't want to ever hear apologies from us, he wanted to hear what we were going to do about it.

If he messed up, which itself was rare for him, you never saw him mess up in that way ever again. That's what I've aspired to as well. One of the best lessons I learned from my old man is that discipline and dignity are two of the most valuable things in this world to a man, more valuable than anything else because they are effectively the pathways to everything else. They're priceless, so you should cultivate and protect them.

Apologies are what he calls, "emotional tokens" that don't mean anything except in the realm of emotions, where women are more involved in. Men are more involved in outward action. When we messed up, he told us to say sorry to mom, but to say what they were going to change to dad. My father himself almost never apologized, the closest he came to an apology was telling you what he did wrong and how he was going to fix it.

[deleted] • 86 points • 1 July, 2018 06:29 PM

Sounds like he was a great mentor. This is what most men have lacked in their lives.

123InigoMontoya123 • 27 points • 1 July, 2018 04:05 PM

I was raised very similarly by a rough father and a fiery mother. I have three brothers and no sisters. I am personally adept at leading men (I was the oldest brother) and forming male bonds, but have never been able to keep a female relationship without plating/fucking her. I've been called an asshole many times over due to my unyielding boundaries and I often wonder how different I would be if there was a girl sibling to learn from while growing up.

My questions to you are: did you grow up with any sisters, or was it only brothers? How have/haven't your lessons from your siblings affected your skills/interactions with women?

thepesterman • 7 points • 1 July, 2018 08:54 PM

One thing I learnt from my older sister is that women don't learn from their mistakes, I learnt a lot from her mistakes which meant that in the eyes of our parents I was the good child never getting in trouble or doing bad things whereas in fact I was the one doing drugs and getting drunk at 14 but I had learnt to manage my parents image of me.

TheMoreYouKnowRight • 9 points • 1 July, 2018 04:04 PM

Emotional tokens - i like that.

You just described my pops to a T. Lucky for us we had good role models

bakachelera • 188 points • 1 July, 2018 12:37 PM

I have been wrong almost all of my life. Thank you, but somehow now I cringe when I look into my past.

Vox-Triarii94 points 1 July, 2018 01:59 PM [recovered]

I'd call that a good omen. People who look into their past and see that they've always been perfect probably haven't changed much, and probably won't change anytime soon. Even worse are people who are cringing right now, but fetishize their dysfunction and never change. The essence of masculinity itself is outward action and transformation, burning away the dross for purity.

If you can look back into your past and cringe at who you used to be that means that you've likely taken actions to change that inferior thing that lies in the past. We've all been wrong before, what matters is that we're less wrong now, and we will continue to grow less and less wrong in the future. Nobody's perfect, but that doesn't mean you shouldn't strive to always be better than before.

bakachelera • 21 points • 1 July, 2018 02:11 PM

Lmao my dude, that was another revelation, thank you too I should hang over here more often, Im sure this is gonna be good for my development as a healthier man. And Im also sure the red pill is not for everyone. Some of my friends are incels and whenever they learn something new about life they tend to just repeat the bad words and not completely learn the message. I get where you are going, people who realize their past mistakes are people who are willing to get now in the right path.

Killing__Time_ • 7 points • 1 July, 2018 02:46 PM

I'm excited about the future, because I will definitely find things that I do now that will make me cringe in the future. Thank you, my brother.

[deleted] • 3 points • 1 July, 2018 10:13 PM

We were all noobs once

BurnoutRS • 18 points • 1 July, 2018 03:43 PM

eventually you'll hardly cringe at all when you look back. You'll come to understand cringe as a necessary part of the process. We are sensory machines, reliant on feedback to determine our course of action. There are secondary means of learning things. You might see a tv show where a kid gives his crush a bunch of gifts and looks like a loser. That can lead you in the right direction. Until you have that primary learning experience though, you cant really know.

Cringe has a biological function. A higher social standing is better access to mates, food, etc. So its good that your brain/body will punish you for being a social fuckwit to ensure you dont do it again. "Oh god I was so cringey" becomes "thank god I was so cringey, recognized it eventually and stopped that shit"

MattyAnon • 7 points • 1 July, 2018 11:59 PM

It was good learning. Men who have never been BP often aspire to it.... Chad fucks his way through college then settles down and "does the right thing" with a girl at 25.

A lot of very alpha men with great prospects in life settle down early and then get anally fucked with a bargepole over the course of the rest of their relationship.

If you discover TRP and can look back at the impact the BP lies had on your life you will never be tempted to go back to them.

Vincent541 • 22 points • 1 July, 2018 01:57 PM

The fact that you acknowledge your mistakes in the past shows that you've made progress.

DaBrokenMeta • 6 points • 1 July, 2018 02:14 PM

Without those things, you wouldn't have learned what you know now. Be grateful, mistakes and all

RedRogue26 • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 04:01 PM

I could copy and paste the same comment. I cringe looking back at my old ways, a painful trip it's been. But certainly worth it.

littleblacktruck • 89 points • 1 July, 2018 06:45 PM

So now we're just posting Sidebar materials for upvotes? That's what we're doing?

LiveAFTSOV • 47 points • 1 July, 2018 06:54 PM

Was thinking the same thing.

On the bright side, this post has exposed a lot of betas or other bloopers who haven't swallowed the pill.

itiswr1tten • 3 points • 2 July, 2018 11:42 PM

The reality is in a 200k+ nearing 300k community most people don't touch the sidebar. They're here for the People Magazine content and ADD of checking it every day. Posting this kind of stuff and having it explode to the top is GREAT. It is proof the underlying fundamentals are still the resonant and important material that created the philosophy.

I'd rather roll my eyes at seeing this once a month than the 17th iteration of some newb idiot's FR on his buffer Monk Mode.

littleblacktruck • 7 points • 2 July, 2018 12:15 AM

I guess I'll just cypasta Solomon II blog and rake in the karma.

iamriviera12 points 1 July, 2018 08:43 PM [recovered]

I'm curious too. I already reported this, this is just a cypaste of sidebar material, with two lines of original commentary by the OP. I'm not sure if plagiarism is allowed.

The user below commented that at least this helps newbies who haven't read the sidebar, but this begs the question: should we just excuse newbies from reading the sidebar?

Diarrhea_Van_Frank • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 09:48 PM

If you're not willing to study the material, I have no compassion when you fail the test.

TheRedPike[M] • 7 points • 2 July, 2018 12:33 AM

In general, that's not a good idea and I recommend against doing it unless you have something new to add. However when the post AND comments further the overall tone of the sub, we will let it go.

So, as an example, your comment is a Concern Troll and this a bannable offense. However what you actually did was get important information out there about what we usually think about these posts. So we definitely appreciate this comment.

Yes, I'm being a bit overly dramatic for the sake of illustration. You're good.

littleblacktruck • 10 points • 2 July, 2018 04:25 AM

No trolling in any sense, but certainly concern. TRP isn't a karma farm and we need to guard content with utmost vigilance to serve these young men who need guidance. If we can corral them to the sidebar, we should do so at every opportunity. Do what you see fit.

[deleted] • 2 points • 2 July, 2018 12:41 AM

Any exposure to CH is a very good thing

itiswrltten • 1 point • 2 July, 2018 11:45 PM

At almost 300k users this repost of the fundamentals is way better than 95% of the daily ephemeral content. The fact it was massively upvoted actually is a positive response, IMO. The sidebar feels like "work". Clicking the top post is just browsing and "discovering" gold. Great outcome for everyone even if you and I get it.

[deleted] • -1 points • 2 July, 2018 08:17 AM

Most of the time the comment section, as well as posts, are cancer anyways. The only thing I can really trust is the sidebar material.

TrenGod37 • 6 points • 1 July, 2018 11:51 PM

I see 618 people and counting haven't even opened the sidebar

[deleted] • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 10:55 PM

Was wondering how long it would take for this to get posted.

My thoughts exactly.

Salted_Pretzel • 1 point • 2 July, 2018 08:24 PM

It's a nice refresher. Being reminded of the basics always help.

[deleted] • 23 points • 1 July, 2018 05:45 PM

Yeah. This has been around for years, why tf is the post 5 hrs old and getting upvotes like it's new groundbreaking theory that was written yesterday?

LiveAFTSOV • 27 points • 1 July, 2018 06:17 PM

Because the sub is expanding and many new comers are guys looking for a quick fix and they completely ignore the side bar and the classics.

But hell yeah youre right, this is old. Glad I'm not the only one who thinks that.

TheRedPike[M] • 9 points • 2 July, 2018 12:35 AM

^ what he said. But in general be careful about just reposting old stuff.

[deleted] • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 08:18 PM

Probably because the OG who posted this noticed how many BPers are infiltrating the subreddit. I think this comment section is proof of that.

[deleted] • 37 points • 1 July, 2018 03:00 PM

Be an independent Man who has the discipline and focus to follow their own goals. A Man who has no need to compare themselves to others as they have a deep enough emotional/intellectual well to draw upon, and large enough fields of spirituality to sustain them through the harshest of Winters with enough left over to feed an entire village. A Man who understands his integrity is for his own benefit, and not for others around him. A Man who is sure and true to himself, can never be fooled, or led astray. A Man who knows that the best way to win is to play his own games with his own rules and get others to play his game rather than to engage in others games and their rules. A Man who knows he cannot deny his emotions any more than a sailor can deny the wind is both a foe and a friend, instead he learns to navigate around his emotions and to bend their strength to propel him forward towards his own destination rather than floundering without any. A Man who accepts the only thing in life he truly has control of in life is how he reacts to it is a smart Man, a truly Wise Man understands that even that is sometimes out of his control.

AlfalfaMail • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 04:58 PM

Very well worded.

MrTrizzles • -2 points • 2 July, 2018 02:53 AM

The words you're looking for are "self-possessed."

mleko69 • 53 points • 1 July, 2018 03:49 PM*

Speaking of pt. 14. Good foreplay beats everything. Your dick has only one muscle, but your hands, mouth and tongue have a fuckload of them - what means more control over what you do to her sexually sensitive spots, what means more control over her pleasure.

I highly recommend to watch "How To Eat Pussy Like A Champ". In this almost 2 hour movie tutors, that is porn stars, share their tips and tricks on how to find a G spot, how to uncover clitoris, what works best when you stimulate her breasts, etc.

As soon as I tried these tricks on my plate she told me, that if other girls knew how good I am I would be drowning in pussy, lol. Sex is an amazing tool. You may make some mistakes throughout the day, but when you give her unimaginably good fucking she'll forget everything.

(edit: grammar, and spelling)

Auvergnat • 25 points • 1 July, 2018 10:10 PM

As soon as I tried these tricks on my plate she told me, that if other girls knew how good I am I would be drowning in pussy, lol.

She could tell you the same about your cute dad bod, how great you defer to women, and how well you treat her with poems and expensive dinners.

mleko69 • 0 points • 1 July, 2018 11:10 PM

You seem to underestimate the benefits of being a skilled lover. I don't understand why though.

MattyAnon • 16 points • 2 July, 2018 12:02 AM

You seem to underestimate the subtle betafication that's at play here

Auvergnat • 0 points • 2 July, 2018 02:33 AM*

I'm not debating the importance of being a skilled lover, I'm only trying to uproot from your mind the nefarious blue-pill habit of listening to what women say they want and taking this as evidence of what they actually want.

Next time, I want to read from you:

As soon as I tried these tricks on my girl, she started sending me more nudes / she's been wanting to catch up more often / she's been giving me more unexpected BJs...

About eating pussy itself, I am in two minds about it. On one side, I realize the important to make her enjoy sex with you. On the other side, the symbolism of it is terribly beta/subservient (aka, sexually unattractive) and so possibly bad on the long-term.

[deleted] • 3 points • 2 July, 2018 08:22 AM

Did you just imply that eating pussy may be beta? I mean, you have the EC tag and I'm not supposed to question you, but my dude.... One of the great pleasures in life is when a girl gives you her "good pussy" instead of the starfish sex she gives other guys. Eating pussy is one of my main (not the only) methods of getting her to give that to me.

Auvergnat • 5 points • 2 July, 2018 10:34 AM

The EC tag doesn't imply you can't question what I say, only that you should pay attention to my comments because I've been deemed to understand TRP theory well. In other words, if you disagree with me, just ask yourself why would I say what I say.

My girls enthusiastically get down on me without my having to ask them, several times during a session, and without my having to eat them out first. I do it occasionally, if I feel like it on the moment. It's not a problem for them. What they want is to please me, and to get the D as soon as possible despite my teasing them. None of this is starfish sex.

greenricegod • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 11:33 PM

I never thought I'd be so interested watch a movie like that.. going to check it out later

MattyAnon • 3 points • 2 July, 2018 12:01 AM

Speaking of pt. 14. Good foreplay beats everything. Your dick has only one muscle, but your hands, mouth and tongue have a fuckload of them - what means more control over what you do to her sexually sensitive spots, what means more control over her pleasure.

You are focused wayyyyyyyyyyyy too much on her.

The best foreplay is being with a hot man - that's all that's needed to turn her on, she doesn't need much foreplay with Chad. Don't forget this when you're spending 30 minutes doing little more than giving her attention.

As soon as I tried these tricks on my plate she told me, that if other girls knew how good I am I would be drowning in pussy.

She's not your "plate" if she's the only girl you're seeing.

Women say these sort of things to encourage your behaviour. It's manipulation. Don't let her massage your ego like this.

You may make some mistakes throughout the day, but when you give her unimaginably good fucking she'll forget everything.

True that.

mleko69 • 21 points • 2 July, 2018 12:23 AM

So now even giving orgasms to girls is beta? This is a bit too much for me. I guess I'll have to sleep with it to refresh my mind.

itsdir0 • 1 point • 3 July, 2018 08:27 PM

No dude. You didn't get anything. It is not beta. You have to fuck her good. What they mean is that you shouldn't give their pleasure more priority than yours. You are the man. You are the dominant. Do what you want with her whenever you want or feel.

[deleted] • 23 points • 1 July, 2018 02:15 PM

Too much gaming hurt relationships. I have lost contact with many girls cause i gave the impression that i am a womaniser. Unfortunately, hook up is not so popular where i live.

[deleted] • 22 points • 1 July, 2018 03:13 PM

Why punish yourself for the actions of others. It is no fault of yours. If hook ups are frowned upon, that is the culture you live in aka the collective opinion of others.

You've lost contact with these Women because they wanted you to change, they were not happy with you and they wanted to bend you to their will. Do you realistically believe this would gain you their respect if you did submit yourself? Personal experience has taught me otherwise.

Perhaps they decided to lost contact as they could sense your indecision, that you lacked the self belief, and thus the confidence to believe in yourself, and they sense that you blame yourself for the actions of others outside of any single Mans control. Women have supranational instincts and the ability to weed out Men with self doubts are almost magical.

If hook ups are frowned up, why not consider taking many lovers then. Think differently

ThePantsThief • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 06:28 PM

This post isn't saying you should come off as a womanizer. It's vague enough that you can see it either way, and choose what works best for you.

The way I read it is that it simply tells me to be confident in my ability to keep my woman around, or at least confident in my ability to find a new one, should she leave me. Having options doesn't have to mean having a girl on the side at the ready.

I honestly find hard to grasp the IX commandment. Like, what I'm supposed to do?

LiveAFTSOV • 32 points • 1 July, 2018 06:26 PM

Connecting to her emotions - Women are emotional creatures and crave emotional stimulation.

That means you need to make her feel.

Doesn't have to be good. You just have to make her FEEL.

Give her some drama, give her some love, give her some hate. Take her on an emotional roller coaster ride - without making yourself to look like a bitch.

Prank her. Tease her. Randomly dance with her in your house. Surprise her with doggystyle sex in a public bathroom.

Spike her emotions.

I stand against being "stoic" with women. You should be stoic in regards to women.

To clarify, be stoic and calm/okay with her leaving or cheating. It may happen. Accept it and be okay with it.

But when you're with her, don't be some super serious rock who has no fun. Take her out, push her into the pool. Like I said, spike her emotions.

Have fun with the bitch. Make her feel ANYTHING other than boredom.

It's better to have your girl angry than bored. Remember that.

Avesatanie • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 06:33 PM

wow, thanks, that makes sense

redhawkes • 3 points • 2 July, 2018 07:54 AM

This is the correct answer. I've seen too many guys misinterpret this as being an emotional tampon or playing her shrink.

Give her the emotional rollercoaster ride, but don't ride it yourself.

telytuby • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 10:56 PM

[deleted] • 1 point • 3 July, 2018 11:29 AM give her some drama etc etc isnt that the opposite of what you want, though? why would you want drama in your relationships/ with your plates? and isn't this against stoicism principles or even just "be her rock" ?

conflicting advice regarding these 2, would like this explained.

LiveAFTSOV • 1 point • 3 July, 2018 02:58 PM

Your girl is gonna start drama with you. I take preprmtive action and start random drama with her. Literally she will tell me she wants to eat candy. I say no candy. She says YES CANDY. And we yell, wrestle, then cuddle and fuck.

Then she says "why do u have to be like that"

Like I said he stoic in regards to women. Not with women

Be her rock as in do not show weakness.

I've been thinking about #4 a lot lately. This is so glaringly obvious. I have a friend who has to ask his wife when he can do anything. Recently a poker night got cancelled because the wife wants to be home so "She can watch the cat" in other words so she can watch my friends every move. Needless to say, his marriage is in shambles.

crespo_modesto • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 08:58 PM

How do you ignore beauty. Is it a deliberate lie to yourself or can you actually train yourself to ignore beauty(how?).

I guess when you have more important things going on in your life than trying to chase down women then it'll happen naturally.

Diarrhea_Van_Frank • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 10:00 PM

After I was in the game a while, pretty girls just became pretty girls. They weren't anything special, they weren't really different from any other girl, it's just that you could add "pretty" to the list of descriptors. You stop being intimidated by her beauty, or blinded to her toxicity because of it. Lately I've realized that I don't even think in terms of numbers any more as far as rating a woman's physical attractiveness. There's no "She was a 7 but her friend was a 9." Or whatever. There's just "pretty," "average," and "not pretty." All the girls that fall under one of those groups are interchangeable with every other girl in that group, looks-wise. So a pretty girl is just another pretty girl.

crespo_modesto • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 10:45 PM

I've got this bad segregation problem where I just can't seem to operate with women other than bare minimum like acknowledge their existence/courtesy and what not. But it's not like "she's one of the guys" sort of thing. Which I'm not saying that's what should happen but yeah. It's like "If I don't have business with them, I don't interact with them."

Yes I am quite single.

Lib3rtarianSocialist • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 10:02 PM

Yes, that last line too, and when you're complimenting a girl on her beauty she hears things similar to that all the time. A comment above said that it puts you in the same beta category. You should have other things to talk about or think about.

I really don't understand why this sub isn't private

FeralRed • 3 points • 2 July, 2018 09:11 AM*

Wheat and chaff...

The reason this sub exists and is growing is that increasing numbers of men are realizing that their lives are not ideal...

"We've all been raised on television to believe that one day we'd all be millionaires, and movie gods, and rock stars. But we won't. And we're slowly learning that fact. And we're very, very pissed off."

So that's what we get here.

Pissed off confused motherfuckers that have played by "the rules" but stiiil got fucked because the rules are there for control of the masses, not individual success, the blooptards that rail against this "rejection of the rules" because they're rules, and to reject society's rules is bad, and the curious.

This infusion creates both an unending stream of bullshit and a precious few who will "get it".

We are here for the wheat. Good fresh food is required for a village to survive.

Winnowing out the chaff is a necessary part of removing the useless parts from the useful. Also known as threshing. Where you beat the mass until the lightweight useless shit gets blown away.

[deleted] 1 July, 2018 06:22 PM

[permanently deleted]

LiveAFTSOV • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 06:31 PM

So you completely dodge the conversation.

The question is not "what happens in stable relationships?"

The question is, "How is not being afraid to lose a woman bad advice?"

because they respect and know the other person isn't going to cheat on them, and never will.

And never will

Kinda like how marriages start with respectful spouses, and end when death does them part like they both agreed upon?

Oh wait... but 50% of marriages end in divorce... 80% of those initiated by the woman...

I suppose you could spin that around and say "Death DID do them part... it was the death of their attraction!"

CryptidCodex • -7 points • 1 July, 2018 06:35 PM

Where did you get the assertion that all failed marriages start with a respectful couple? In fact, it's more likely that the couple didn't respect each other in a relationship based off of attraction and not respect.

This is some basic psychology, if they respect each other in a relationship based on that respect, it's most likely going to survive.

LiveAFTSOV • 11 points • 1 July, 2018 06:37 PM

How is not being afraid to lose a woman bad advice?

We're not interested in debate and blooper insults.

Stable relationship - no such thing

Worry about cheating - AWALT

Wake up or go away.... Don't care which.

TRP's mission is to discuss men's identity, sexual strategy, and options in the context of our current global culture for the benefit of men. Anyone who does not share that goal will be banned the instant we detect them. We are not interested in debating or defending our experiences to those who disagree with the red pill, nor do we want to clog up our threads defending the morality of our choices.

I see you don't believe in traditional gender roles.

CryptidCodex • 6 points • 1 July, 2018 06:25 PM

There's a difference between being a normal fucking person, and making every second an act where you play Mr.Macho. You and your relationship will fail the second the facade of whatever person you're pretending to be crumbles.

ThePantsThief • 8 points • 1 July, 2018 06:36 PM

You are taking the post too literally. You don't have to be "Mr. Macho" 24/7. You just need to avoid being indecisive and unsure of yourself at all times. Being sure of yourself all the time doesn't have to mean being over-confident all the time.

You and your relationship will fail the second the facade of whatever person you're pretending to be crumbles.

It's also about teaching yourself to be this confident person. You might have to pretend at first, but eventually it will become you. And if you can't learn to be confident, and your facade continues to crumble, you won't be able to hold onto any desirable woman anyway.

Learn to read between the lines, brother.

CryptidCodex • -1 points • 1 July, 2018 06:41 PM

The advice literally states "be irrationally self confident", "Don't say sorry unless you have to" and "maintain state control". That isn't normal confidence, that's false confidence.

ThePantsThief • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 06:45 PM

You're taking the post too literally

The advice literally states [literal advice]

I don't know what I can say without repeating myself. Don't take it literally. Read between the lines, and tailor the advice to your own needs. Some guys need to be told to be over-confident to help boost their ability to be confident. If you don't, and you're already somewhat confident, then you can ignore it.

You shouldn't apologize unless you really have to. And if you find yourself needing to apologize, if you're constantly doing things that warrant apologies or if you're saying sorry when you haven't really done anything wrong, you have some work to do on yourself. Wouldn't you agree?

CryptidCodex • -3 points • 1 July, 2018 06:48 PM

Kinda shitty advise if you need to read between the lines and not take it literally, that's not how advice is supposed to work

ThePantsThief • 6 points • 1 July, 2018 06:50 PM

That's how all of TRP works. That's even how the Bible works at times.

What is obvious to some may not be obvious to others; you can't write good life advice in a way that everyone will understand, short of writing an actual novel on the topic.

Are you new here? Genuinely curious, not trying to sound standoff-ish.

[deleted] • 2 points • 2 July, 2018 01:02 AM

Maybe if it's a relationship based off of mutual respect and, you know, actually enjoying her existence, you wouldn't have to worry about cheating.

iamtheswoop • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 04:36 PM

While mutual respect and enjoying her existence are important, if those are the main criteria on having a successful relationship you're about to swallow a very bitter pill. But you won't know you swallowed it until about 10 years later and the divorce papers come through.

Celieni • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 04:51 PM

Maybe it is based off me enjoying her existence. But prior experience taught me that while sweet in the moment, I'll get fucked very soon. Maintain control, and you get to "enjoy her existence". Become too "overjoyed" and you're dumped/cheated on.

Viramont • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 09:23 PM

Oh no no no no

ThePantsThief • 3 points • 1 July, 2018 06:22 PM

This post doesn't say anything about disrespecting her or not enjoying her company.

iamtheswoop • -3 points • 1 July, 2018 04:42 PM

See I disagree I don't think this advice is saying that you should be arrogant nor is it saying that you should be insecure on the contrary it's saying the opposite you need to be completely in tune with who you are be completely emotionally vulnerable when you do these things. You basically have to become an amazing person that can do this naturally. To your point , If you're playing "a part" in any relationship that relationship will fall apart it doesn't matter if it's platonic or sexual.

Personally I have found this advice to be spot on. Especially the girl last night. She was fucking all over the place a God damn emotional nightmare, but I held firm followed the rules withheld my emotional investment and it paid off.

[deleted] • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 05:43 PM

To be honest, carrying out TRP in verbatim is already causing that.

I think the list is good. It might not apply to all women, but in the general sense probably.

LiveAFTSOV • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 06:18 PM

Are you trying to suggest, NAWALT?

ThePantsThief • 7 points • 1 July, 2018 07:35 PM

I mean, AWALT doesn't literally mean we think all women are the same. Are you trying to suggest it does?

LiveAFTSOV • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 07:42 PM

AWALT = potentials and subconscious/psychological/biological/sexual reactions + impulses

There may be different "types" and "shapes" of women, but they all carry the same firmware and software of "hypergammy 1.0" from prehistoric caveman and tribal days.

So like I said, they all will react the same way to a hot buff guy walking into the room and chatting with them.

From there, it becomes a personal difference whether she's gonna tell him to go away cus she's got a man, if she's gonna flirt with him, slip him a number, or drop to her knees and suck him off right then and there.

but they will all be turned on.

ThePantsThief • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 07:51 PM

My point was that AWALT means knowing there are exceptions to the rules, but that the exceptions aren't worth considering. Which is what you seemed to be getting at in hindsight.

Anyway, you seem to understand it. I thought your original comment was sarcastic, never mind!

LiveAFTSOV • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 07:53 PM

The exceptions prove the rule!

[deleted] • -7 points • 1 July, 2018 07:10 PM

Yes kind of. I disagree with most sentiments blanketing groups with a shared characteristic. It's simple logic. "99% are like that" I can support, since it accounts for outliers. Saying 100% about just about anything is dangerous. That's what extremists do in their religious propaganda.

I still agree that the list is a really good blueprint. It's just, be prepared to be flexible.

Edit: changed "yes" at the start to "yes kind of" since that was what I intended to write. Got carried away.

LiveAFTSOV • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 07:18 PM

I understand where you're coming from. There are ALWAYS outliers, but it's the exceptions that prove the rule.

If people have to outright say "Hey, not all women are cheating whores" it's a good bet that the majority of them are.

Exception proves the rule.

But yes AWALT is about A.) women share the same potential, and B.) they all have the same biological/subconscious programming and react the same way, it becomes a matter of conscious resistance.

A slut can't resist being flirted with and will cheat on her man - whereas a non-damaged girl will still enjoy the flirt, but will be resistant.

Then we get into the nuance of "well if a SUPER high SMV guy..." and yadda yadda.

---

I disagree with you because "Carrying TRP out in Verbatim" is not the cause of anything - it's a toolbox to accomplish your (red pill) goal.

If you want a RP LTR and RP marriage, you can do it.

If you want a bunch of RP STR's you can do that too.

[deleted] • 2 points • 1 July, 2018 07:31 PM

Alright that sentiment mirrors mine.

Still, I'm basically still a blue-going-red beta, so I'm not that well-versed yet (there's a literal fuckton of material here) but my view of TRP is that of a toolbox as well. That's how it's supposed to be used. That's why my comment about in verbatim was supposed to point to the fact that if you follow every generally agreed upon sentiment here... Well, then a LTR relationship is beyond unlikely to even be considered.

If you see it as a toolbox then it's fine. Use what you need (especially the knowledge) but such that it fits you. That's how I intend to use it. As goes with this list of tenets (think it's the right word, non-native in English); it's a toolbox, not a guide.

...I'm starting to realize maybe I formulated myself like an idiot.

[deleted] • -2 points • 1 July, 2018 10:05 PM

So the downvotes indicate that people are uncomfortable with sentiments denying that TRP is infallible gospel rather than just an amazing approach to life among current day women?

Or is it just that my comment has been shut down so often that it's a tired thing here?

dingleburry_joe • 5 points • 1 July, 2018 03:33 PM

IX. Connect with her emotions

Didn't completely understand this one. Shouldn't we have a measure of emotional detachment?

DrExtra • 1 point • 2 July, 2018 12:13 PM

Sometimes you can be "too masculine". But if a woman dips out on you for those reason it just shows you that she couldn't handle a real man. My ex was extremely mentally weak and super fucking sensitive, has anxiety and depression and can turn the smallest misinterpretations into a full out WAR. My ex left me because of financial issues, but she was the one laying around the house while Im the one working. Yeah...okay, but she also said she mainly resented me for my insensitivity and lack of emotion. Yeah I had a extremely stoic and unemotional Dad and I guess I inherited that later on in my life... Basically said my masculinity was toxic and I need to work on that. Said I never apologized. She also had jealousy issues and understood that women knew I was a alpha male that didn't have to do shit. Now I swear women are fucked up creatures. They know the don't make any sense and naturally use their emotions to manipulate. During our breakup I did a complete 180 and threw away my pride and dignity trying to get her back. Started trying to make it work. NEVER DO THAT. Now the same guy who was "emotionally hardened" overwhelmed his ex by following his heart for the first time. NEVER FOLLOW YOUR HEART. FOLLOW YOUR MIND. I learned from my mistakes but now I'm going back to being a tough, heartless bastard. I'm growing for myself and getting back in touch thanks to this subreddit. Please after the break up I realized how good I was at attracting women. The less you do when talking to a woman the more you do.

Next time I'll have something to read to remind me how to keep my frame and why. Magnificent work.

Making her jealous is childish and immature. If you are in a committed relationship, flirting with others is uncalled for.

JohnIan101 • 6 points • 2 July, 2018 01:29 AM

There are levels of flirting, not singular.

And as for the first; isn't the goal to make her want you - to be good enough for exclusivity? To earn her spot.

courtesy_flush_plz • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 05:26 PM

I heard to only tell them they're beautiful etc literally during sex... its called anchoring or something right?

Lib3rtarianSocialist • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 09:59 PM

That concept sounds interesting. What is the reasoning?

courtesy_flush_plz • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 10:06 PM

because giving compliments to a woman about her beauty in other situations will hurt the attraction. It is not behavior of an indifferent alpha who is on his own adventure & doing his own thing,

It is the behavior & phrase typical of a desperate, chasing beta...

extreme horizons in the examples I listed? most likely yes.

Like giving a dog a treat after its done the trick, perhaps. Im sure a more seasoned RP will step in any time & add to this/tell me to shutup

eluethero • 1 point • 1 July, 2018 10:24 PM

About the apologizing part;

Guys of course you do not need apologize for everything but for the big mistakes not apologizing might be temporary gain of power in relationship yet in long run it will not work.

Sacrifices shall be made unless the mate is as near as 2 or 3 moves ahead. Wasting a piece like that will cause more harm than good in long run.

Isn't that the point of this forum?

[deleted] • -7 points • 1 July, 2018 03:09 PM

This is such a good read I'm speechless as to what to comment.

TrenGod37 • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 11:52 PM

Read the sidebar dick. It's one of the first things on it

[deleted] • -5 points • 2 July, 2018 12:45 AM

Shut the fuck up wise guy. My comment obviously meant the the read was good so don't have to add my 2 cents in.

CC-c • 0 points • 1 July, 2018 03:17 PM

Can I find them into "the book of Pook" or they're a summary of one of Pook's post?

To be honest, I always missed the XIV point. How can I improve in that area if I have few opportunities?

LiveAFTSOV • 3 points • 1 July, 2018 06:15 PM

The book of Pook is written by a guy named pook.

These commandments of POON are written by manosphere blogger, heartiste.

Click the link at the bottom of the OP oh Jesus. I thought it was just an error of typing...

thanks:)

I found the first draft notes...

I. Never say 'I Love You' first

Remember, you are a scared manbaby and your emotions are ludicrously fragile. I mean, what if she didn't say it back, bro?

II. Make her jealous

Feel free to skip this, you are so galactically unappealing it is almost certain no one will ever feel jealous of anything you do.

III. You shall make your mission, not your woman, your priority

You are not a hopeless loser on a fast track to nowhere. You are an awesome Sex Soldier on a cool "Mission", 'kay?

IV. Don't play by her rules

Even when they exactly align with what you want. Remember; it's never too soon to let The Red Pill start ruining your life.

V. Adhere to the golden ratio

But first, someone tell me what the Golden Ration is? I saw it in some Soy Boy's coffee table architecture book, and I have no idea what it means.

VI. Keep her guessing

This should be easy. Since TRP makes zero sense, we're guessing half the time anyway.

VII. Always keep two in the kitty

And one in the bush. Also some in the hand. And up a tree. A pear tree. With that partridge. Two partridges. Have sex with partridges!

VIII. Say you're sorry only when absolutely necessary

Like when she's about to leave you and you suddenly realize you'll die alone.

IX. Connect with her emotions

May as well connect with someone's, because God knows, you're utterly alienated from your own.

X. Ignore her beauty

Any woman's appeal is a deliberate and evil plot to make you feel bad for finding someone attractive. If ignoring it doesn't work, try poking yourself in the eyes with a spoon.

XI. Be irrationally self-confident

Again, super easy. TRPing is more irrational than, say, Flat Earthing anyway, right?

XII. Maximize your strengths, minimize your weaknesses

Strengths; hanging out in echo chambers. Weaknesses; reality.

XIII. Err on the side of too much boldness, rather than too little

This is just XI with different words. We're deep-thinking philosophers!!

XIV. Fuck her good

Like TRPing has fucked you!

So actually "fuck her badly" is more appropriate.

That's the only way you know how, right?

You got this.

XV. Maintain your state control

Be like a cold, dead robot. Like all successful, happy, functional adults. Like, y'know ... that one guy?

XVI. Never be afraid to lose her

I mean, she's imaginary anyway. "She lives in Canada".

Well, you get a "C" for effort at least. So much for women trying to be funny

JezebeltheQueen5656 • -1 points • 2 July, 2018 08:06 PM

C, really? u jelly u lack witt?

VoidInvincible • -1 points • 3 July, 2018 01:44 AM

Hahahahahahahahahah. You should be a comedian.

In other words you are lookong for "The One" and you must suffer from Onietis.

thegodofwar74 • 4 points 1 July, 2018 01:17 PM [recovered]

Forgive the noob question, but what's the difference between Pook and Poon?

throwaway-aa2 • -17 points • 1 July, 2018 01:29 PM

he made a mistake... it should be Pook. Poon is just another word for pussy.

Persaeus • 6 points • 1 July, 2018 01:34 PM

No , it's Poon as in pussy not the author pseudonym Pook.

Don't you kids google?

monadyne • -3 points • 1 July, 2018 03:57 PM

It's "poon" which is short for the jive term "poon tang" meaning "pussy." It's believed that "poon tang" derives from the French word, "poutaine" i.e., "whore."

purlemashpotato • 0 points • 1 July, 2018 05:20 PM

Post was removed. What was the original content?

LiveAFTSOV • 4 points • 1 July, 2018 06:16 PM

It was probably removed because this is literally a copy paste straight out of the sidebar and an original manosphere blogger.

TheRedPike • 5 points • 2 July, 2018 12:40 AM

Automod got vaginal. It's back up.

NoMoreMisterNiceGuy95, you Remind me of Ovid his ars amatoria ... without the stories and imagery of Roman gods

JedYorks • -27 points • 1 July, 2018 01:39 PM

this is doing too much,ain't got time for all this work.

[deleted] • 17 points • 1 July, 2018 03:16 PM

What are you doing with your time that's so important and pressing that development of self awareness has to wait?

ThePhilaDood • 7 points • 1 July, 2018 03:50 PM

You must not have time to work on yourself then duntoon • 1 point • 2 July, 2018 05:25 AM

Good choice. Heartiste devolved into an alt-right bitter pedophile. His "commandments" aren't worth shit.
