

Vagina Envy

September 19, 2018 | 1903 upvotes | by chazthundergut

We have a lot of posts rightfully scoffing at chicks and their penis envy.

Women are so turned around that they think the path to happiness is by acting like a man.

The Modern Woman: I will become highly educated. I will build a successful career and make lots of money. I will have sex with as many partners as I can

Women who enter their masculine frame and start acting like men end up miserable and lonely. We all know it, and we clearly see it playing out in society.

But there is a much more nefarious and less-frequently discussed phenomenon that I find much more disturbing.

Vagina envy.

Men are cutting off their own balls, their own masculinity, and acting like they wish they had a vagina.

The Modern Man: I can't wait to find a chick to settle down with. I will sit around doing nothing meaningful with myself, praying for Mrs. Right to save me from my boring life. I want to cuddle on the couch with her and whisper sweet nothings. My greatest ambition in life is to find the Right One.

Barf.

When our boys stop acting like chicks, maybe our women will stop acting like dudes.

Final thought:

You don't become the King by chasing after the Queen. The Queen comes naturally, as a byproduct of you being the fucking King.

So chase the crown, never a bitch.

Holy shit this is too real I've never seen it that way before.

fuck, I needed this right now.

[deleted] • 39 points • 20 September, 2018 12:01 AM

Get your Testosterone levels checked. When I was having this issue it was around 150. When it should be 600-800. I'm on TRT now and don't have these types of thoughts anymore.

The average T levels in men has been decreasing over the decades. It's likely it will become the normal to be just a few times that of a woman's instead of being 20 times.

knwmte 1 points 20 September, 2018 03:18 PM [recovered]

Can this be done in just a regular checkup? I'm starting to wonder if it's part of my problem

[deleted] • 13 points • 20 September, 2018 04:11 PM

Yes. And you can do it yourself. There should be a Lab near you that is cash pay only. If you're in the US it's likely to cost $20 to get your T checked. There's multiple types such as Total T and Free T. You can just order both.

I would personally do it without your doctor first so you know. Once you do it at the doctors make sure to do it in the AM or else insurance won't accept it or they'll try to say it's an acceptable range because it's later in the day. I had that happen.

LarrySellerz • 15 points • 20 September, 2018 07:52 PM

Dude how old are you? Going on trt will ruin your bodies ability to produce test!!!!

[deleted] • 2 points • 20 September, 2018 07:54 PM

1. And my T levels were 150 when I was 25. Which is why I started.

LarrySellerz • 3 points • 21 September, 2018 12:10 AM

Why not try drastic lifestyle changes?

[deleted] • 8 points • 21 September, 2018 12:11 AM

Because I know what is causing it. Edit:

I'll rephrase as what I said isn't useful.

I did lifestyle changes. I have Crohns and Severe Anemia. My entire adult life has been one big "let me change my lifestyle to see if it can keep me out of the hospital." At some point I gave up and realized the TRT was so much more effective and manageable.

Sylvester_Sterone • 5 points • 21 September, 2018 06:09 PM

I'm with you. Stated TRT two years ago at 29 when after a couple years of low-t symptoms. Wish I did it earlier.

Some people have asked, "Don't you know that it will ruin your natural test levels?"

I respond , " Why would you wan't to come off?"

[deleted] • 6 points • 21 September, 2018 07:59 PM

It can't ruin what's not there to begin with.

RobertTene • 2 points • 21 September, 2018 12:23 AM

Hey I was diagnosed with Major Thalassemia which also makes me have severe anemia.

Wanted to ask you if you think the anemia affected your T levels?

[deleted] • 3 points • 21 September, 2018 01:30 AM

From the research papers I found it seems the causation is reversed. Low T causes anemia.

Royalway7 • 0 points • 20 September, 2018 09:44 PM

Should I test for it as a teen? I'm 16 and sometimes I find myself having these thoughts too. Maybe it is a common thing for the unexperienced? I still try and ignore them though

[deleted] • 3 points • 20 September, 2018 09:46 PM

You're a male teen. It'll get better in a few years and substantially better around 25. No doctor will test your T levels at 16 unless your sex organs were underdeveloped and you still looked androgynous. Meaning male characteristics did not form.

In other words, if the men are strong enough, there's no need for women to act strong.

“Hard times create strong men. Strong men create good times. Good times create weak men. And, weak men create hard times.”

notthatinnocent24 • 34 points • 19 September, 2018 10:08 PM

Hard Times create strong AF women too

Fiesta17 • 62 points • 20 September, 2018 12:36 AM

Don't listen to the down votes on this one bro. Hard times create strong people, men, women, and everyone in between, the weak ones die off. A real man is best complimented by a strong woman who can handle the shit life throws at her, not a harem of girls with the maturity of children. There's a reason the King still has a Queen even though he has his harem for pleasure.

1v1MeLittleBitch • 3 points • 21 September, 2018 12:28 AM

Harem for pleasure? Can you elaborate on that?

Fiesta17 • 6 points • 21 September, 2018 03:16 AM

I just meant like, what does any man have a harem for? My understanding is to use in order to fulfill his sexual fantasies so a king's harem is for his pleasure but the queen still fills an important role in the life of a king.

1v1MeLittleBitch • 3 points • 21 September, 2018 04:41 AM

So the queen doesn't fill the sexual fantasies? I just think if u had 1 girl it'd be a lot less messy but as long she's cool with it do ur thing. She would be cool with it right? You would never want to keep a secret like that from a loved one

Fiesta17 • 2 points • 21 September, 2018 09:05 AM

I mean sure, every situation is different but a king is a king and does what a king wants. There are things multiple women can do that one woman cannot and things that differ with emotional attachments. Not every king desires a harem and not every king desires a queen. Whatever situation, we are the kings of our lives, we live by the rules we choose to live by but all of our decisions have consequences so we also choose the rules we allow others to set for us as well. Honesty with a chosen loved one is an honorable decision.

1v1MeLittleBitch • 1 point • 21 September, 2018 02:16 PM

It's a mutual decision... You don't do whatever you want after you make a vow

RoughKee • 2 points • 21 September, 2018 08:19 PM

You shouldn't be getting to the point of making vows without being perfectly clear what you need from a partner and what other needs you have. If you want a side piece or side pieces your main LTR should know that and be ok with it.

Fiesta17 • 1 point • 21 September, 2018 07:25 PM

I mean, yeah dude. That's the way it goes. I think you're reading too far into what I'm saying. I'm just talking about the fundamental philosophy of how hard times create strong women along with strong men. I fail to see how this is related to the original point.

ATPSynthase12 • 15 points • 19 September, 2018 10:24 PM

Weak men create strong women. When the men of your society are too busy eating soy, watching porn and cutting their dicks off they can't be strong by nature so the women have to step up to a role they weren't meant for.

Example: today's society

max_peenor • 11 points • 20 September, 2018 06:48 PM

Weak men create strong women

No they don't. They just create demanding women. Right now they get away with it because they are feeding off of waning imperial wealth. One day that spigot will go dry.

ATPSynthase12 • 2 points • 20 September, 2018 06:49 PM

ganner 1 points 19 September, 2018 02:53 AM [recovered]

Many will read this and call it misogynistic. I'm going to call it antihuman. This POV denies every man and woman an essential aspect of their humanity. To desire to be loved and accepted. To desire physical and emotional intimacy with someone you love and respect and who loves and respects you. To desire success in the form of contributing meaningfully to the world and producing more than is needed to take care of one's self. These are neither masculine nor feminine, they are simply human. And your narrow view of gender relations denies all of us an essential aspect of our humanity - or else shames us for seeking it.

blaine_freelance 1 points 19 September, 2018 03:43 AM [recovered]

Well, I think you can get all that, the feelings of love, the snuggling, etc. I don't think this post is really saying you can't have that.

I think the point is, you waste time pining and yearning for it, when you should probably be concerned with other things.

At least, that's how I interpreted it.

Dominimus 1 points 19 September, 2018 04:25 AM [recovered]

I think they were talking more about the gender bending people in this case. Search people also have a right to pursue their own happiness as they understand it

max_peenor • 35 points • 19 September, 2018 02:21 PM

Ug. I need a tampon after reading this.

To desire to be loved and accepted.

Validation seeking behavior is the universal road to ruin for all men. You don't have to adore or despise women for that to be truth.

SasquatchMcKraken 1 points 19 September, 2018 04:25 AM [recovered]

Both you and the OP are right. Yes, it's pointless to be a nihilistic and hedonistic hookup artist. You may not think so when you're 18 or 22, but human bonding is vital. And this is missed by many (probably most) dudes on TRP. But at least the final paragraph of the OP's holds: if you want birds, build a bird house first. That bond you want isn't just going to fall into your lap.

KeffirLime • 10 points • 19 September, 2018 08:05 AM*

This POV denies every man and woman an essential aspect of their humanity. To desire to be loved and accepted. To desire physical and emotional intimacy with someone you love and respect and who loves and respects you.

This is not at odds with OP's sentiments. In fact this is a byproduct of OP's recommendation. One must not get caught up desiring niceties without being aware that there is time, effort and work that needs to be put in to achieve it. Expecting it without earning it is simply entitlement.

To desire success in the form of contributing meaningfully to the world and producing more than is needed to take care of one's self

This may be your mission statement, does not mean it has to apply to all. Each man has the liberty to decide for himself where he derives meaning.

And your narrow view of gender relations denies all of us an essential aspect of our humanity

Beware of denying your biological desires in pursuit of humanity.

I could have said that the post suggests its a bad idea or that its now how things 'should', its not the best path to take but it still boils down to the same thing, a particular idea of the way things 'should' be, so what nuance? The post is very clear about how OP thinks the world should be dbz0x • 24 points • 19 September, 2018 07:04 AM*

Mainstream induced/regulated habits such as entertainment, porn, literature are only brainwashing men more and more. Sad to see the slow decline of what it means to be a man, unapologetically. I can't go a day without some soy boy telling me women deserve respect if I say something men would say traditionally in a man to man conversation. All this while his girl is probably getting raped by her coworker. Currently we're seeing an attempt to blend the lines between masculinity and femininity. Shits fucked, stay woke my brothers.

TheReformist94 • 3 points • 21 September, 2018 10:19 AM omjagvarensked 1 points 19 September, 2018 04:55 AM [recovered]

While I can appreciate your point. I think there is something to be said for a man's gentler side. I think the most important issue is not knowing when to be a 'man' and when to act like a 'woman'. Kindness and gentleness come at far too great a cost to us men and I personally think the stronger man is the one who can achieve a balance and know when the time to be gentle is and when the time to be hard is.

styxus90 • 17 points • 19 September, 2018 06:45 AM

As i understood it, OP never said not to be kind... its more a statement against passively sitting around, having a boring life, and waiting for an external source to resolve that. That being said, I think you are right when you say balance is key. One can be a gentle and kind soul, but still get a realistic world view. Thats TRP goals right there.

chazthundergut[S] • 16 points • 19 September, 2018 09:59 PM

Yes. And what does kind mean anyways?

Deep down in their soul, most women want to be dominated and used by high-value men. Dicking her down until she is making animal noises into her pillow is just about the nicest thing you can do for a chick.

You do yourself and your woman both a disservice when you enter your feminine frame and give up your masculine edge. When you blow up her phone and suffocate her with neediness and affection. When you validate her and seek her validation. When you realign your life to orbit a bitch, instead of chasing your dream and allowing her to orbit you as nature intended.

Let the women worry about kind.

You focus on being a man.

Col-D • 8 points • 19 September, 2018 07:27 PM

No, acting like a man is the ultimate kindness. Problem Is young men no longer have the age old male outlet for the desire for the challenge to over come. A rite of passage to adult manhood

ATPsynthase12 • 9 points • 19 September, 2018 03:32 AM

I think it comes without saying OP but for those who are slow on the draw, hyper masculine women are a product of hyper feminine/weak men. Society needs the alpha to function. By men becoming weak/feminized we thrust our women into a role they weren't made for and aren't prepared for.

Not to be nostalgic but there is truth to the saying:

Strong men beget Good Times, Good times create weak men, Weak men create hard times, Hard times create Strong Men

Do you think Alexander the Great got his epitaph by sitting around reading his copy of the Iliad and wishing he was Achilles? No, he picked up his shield and spear, got on his horse and fucking became him.

[deleted] • 8 points • 19 September, 2018 03:43 AM

There is a serious shortage of traditional men in Western society.

Be trad. and the women will come. It's not rocket science what women find attractive and they can never change it no matter how feminist theory they read and talk about.

My aunt has been a very outspoken feminist her whole life. Recently I showed her a clip of some Romanian men in their small village in Romania. The government had tried to trick the village into accepting migrants by building a migrant centre but lying about what it was really for. The locals found out the centre's true purpose when the centre started hiring people. These men were on the news saying "we will never accept this. If you push this upon us we will react with violence and force. This is not a reflection of Romanian politics but just us protecting our homes. We don't want to do this but we will and you have been warned. We will not allow our communities to become like the ones in France where the men fear for their women and children walking the streets. We will not let you harm OUR women." Now obviously this is very "problematic", but my aunt surprised me by saying how fucking sexy that male attitude really was. She's spent her whole life as a feminist and is now a forever alone 60 year old. She's calmed down a lot and finally accepted what she has been fighting her whole life. Women like men like that.

[deleted] • 3 points • 19 September, 2018 05:01 AM

It's no surprise this happens. When a society starts attacking the old fashioned male figure young boys will lose the role model and substitute it with the strong woman who is glorified. I believe nature abhors a vacuum and that explains what's going on.

My future son in law is just like that. A liberal, pro-feminist, no-balls, skinny jeans wearing girly man. He sits on the floor at my stepdaughter's feet like a little dog. She puts him down and he just laughs. I wonder if he will grow a set one day and become a real man, but I think those balls are long gone. Stepdaughter decided they wouldn't be having kids (he has no say in the matter), so it's not like he needs them anyway, right?

wmat213 1 points 19 September, 2018 03:58 AM* [\[recovered\]](#)

That's what I always preach: It is mens fault. The fact women are like that nowadays, the fact that they have totally lost control and don't know shit, make themselves miserable etc. ... it isn't surprising. They're grown children. Who would blame a 7 year old for not being able to run the house?

The problem is not women, the problem is first and foremost weak men. Women stopped believing in men because men stopped believing in themselves. They'd rather believe the whole "muh equality" myth, and it all started with the womans right to vote. Now they influence more and more of society, get more and more unhappy, parallel to their power. And whose fault is it? You're right, feminists: It is mens fault. We gave them the right to vote. We were kind but foolish, like the father giving 50 bucks to his 6 year old son just to find out he bought tons of sweets with that money instead of books for school.

Cgbgjr • 2 points • 19 September, 2018 07:46 AM

Perhaps a better analogy (seen here before) is giving a teenager a new car full of booze in the back seat and waiting to see what happens next. I knew a kid who drove drunk and wrecked four cars in his teen years--his dumb parents kept buying him another car!

As a woman, the more autonomy I have, the happier I am. I wonder where you got your statistics that the more success/power women amass, the less happy they become. Please share sources.

chazthundergut[S] • 7 points • 19 September, 2018 10:31 PM

Deep down, most women want a high value man who they can trust to take the lead. A man who will take her by the hand and bring her into his cooler, better reality. A man she can submit to and bear children for. A man she can worship.

But few women will ever admit to it.

ApolloRubySky 1 points 19 September, 2018 10:39 PM [\[recovered\]](#)

From what reliable source did you get this information? It would be interesting to read. I know our worlds are very different because where I come from women want to achieve their own success and happiness and it doesn't all have to derive from a man. We want men who are kind, capable, funny, and not someone who sees her as a child he must care for. No we don't want to submit to a man and some of us don't even want to birth babies. Nobody is worthy of worship, all we want is an equal who will treat us as such. Only dumb women who have been beaten down to have low self esteem would display what you described. Sorry if this upsets you but we are not children or sheep.

chazthundergut[S] • 6 points • 19 September, 2018 10:53 PM

It doesn't upset me at all. I just feel bad that you've never had the experience of submitting to a masculine man. It scratches an itch that goes back millennia, way before feminism and social justice.

My sources are the women I've spoken to and observed. Especially those age 35+ who focused on financial/ career success over finding a high-value man and starting a family with him.

But you do you. If you are happy, keep doing what you're doing. This post wasn't for chicks anyways.

ApolloRubySky 1 points 19 September, 2018 11:02 PM [recovered]

I know it's not for chicks, but if this sub has strong opinions about us, they should take into account our perspectives. Your source is anecdotal from other women, and I hope that you'll add mine to your catalogue. Women are not a homogenous group, there is variation among us and I hope you take that into account too. I can't argue all men want the same thing, and when a men offers a perspective that doesn't confirm my bias, just ignore it. I think you are generalizing too much, for instance I am very happily married to someone that treats me like an equal and it works for the two of us, we've been together almost 11 years. Maybe you'll find a girl who like being submissive, but for other women that lifestyle can lead to depression.

Damn, "chase the crown, never a bitch"

KeithKATW • 3 points • 19 September, 2018 10:57 PM

I had the crown. Bitches still retarded... Just cuz a motherfucker wants to lay up with a bitch doesn't mean hes a bitch... All niggas want to lay up with a bitch... Bitches are just retarded, which is why they're getting knocked up by retards, becoming single mothers, depending on "child support", 6 jobs, and "Grandma" to take care of the children... Bitches are easily fooled. I know this cuz I used to fool the fuck out of them. Had'em tryna suck on my nuts, but, something inside said "this is wrong", knowing how easy they were to manipulate, so I blew my own cover, on purpose... Now here we are, a couple years down, and bitches just got fucked over by much lesser men, in many cases... Relationships are about a lot more than "fucking"... I was looking for a bitch who WASN'T retarded... someone I could trust... The more I looked, the more I realized that all of these bitches are retarded (or at least a good majority of them)... Modern society is retarded, for that matter... I'm "red-pilled" the fuck out... Still love me some bitches though :)

Ps: go watch an Amazon documentary to see more "natural" roles for men and women... The women dont think they're "princesses", nor do the men "act like kings"... They just get along, and function, without being retarded... Something missing in modern life...

Technophobiakills 1 points 19 September, 2018 04:20 AM [recovered]

Fantawaters • 4 points • 19 September, 2018 06:40 AM

Great, great post, right to the point....late to the party here.....women are, indeed, a lagging indicator.

I was at the coffee shop a couple hours ago, and the water was out. I had been flirting with the hired help, joking about how I might lose my man card if I drink the coconut flavored coffee (as if my preferred french vanilla is any more manly)....so, she hadn't filled the water that I pointed out was empty an hour previously. I said, "The water is still empty" and she said she's been busy, but the pitcher was right there. I just looked at her quizzically. Some dude was like, here's some water, grabbed the pitcher, filled my cup, and proceeded to fill the water container, bragging about it the whole time.

I could have done the same. Fuck that. I want to keep the flirtation in the right place, and that place certainly is not from supplication.

The funny thing about penis envy is that is what fuels these replacing men reboots. They wish to replace men in every successful role on television, politics and anything else that they can think of. The comedy in it is that it is perpetual failure.

I have seen some blue pill men go for the idea of wanting to be women (not being hated for being a man) and pretend to be more feminine. I think it is a mental disorder from suffering from childhood, and could be fixed through therapy or such. Not so much if they go all out and remove the very essence of being a man, as they will be irreparably damaged physically and mentally at that point.

Either way, let them have their collapse, as women claim their superiority, as then they will need men like us to fix what they have broken. That is much how I see it.

unclequavo 1 points 19 September, 2018 02:41 AM [recovered]

The demographic is people (predominantly men) trying to better themselves by any means. Its quite something because it goes against the norm of a feminised world where women are put on pedestals by weak men. Keep reading through the posts and sidebar and you'll learn a few things.

MartialEagle69 1 points 19 September, 2018 03:29 AM [recovered]

Yeah, bettering yourself by using a woman as a "cum dumpster" until she convulses. Apparently all women love this too? Lmao

I've seen some dumb blanket statements but that one might take the cake. Get off your computer and go outside. Hating women isn't going to cure your loneliness or inability to connect with a female (it is possible, believe it or not)

unclequavo 1 points 19 September, 2018 03:47 AM [recovered]

This sub isn't about hating women, but okay.

If you want to get into men treating women vs women treating men then it can be discussed.

Talk to any teenage girl and they will talk about guys as if they were walking dicks who any of them can get. Women can be hyper-sexualised and use men for dick but men can't see women for nothing but sex without being attacked like so?? Are men that much more disposable because this is a feminised society? Think about the stupidity which you have just written.

Its bettering ourselves by recognising our worth, teaching discipline, self-improvement through an independent mindset and lifting heavy. Read the sidebar and you will see how to better yourself, its all there for you.

JimmyOTEL 1 points 19 September, 2018 04:03 AM [recovered]

unclequavo 1 points 19 September, 2018 01:17 PM [recovered]

My man, you come to a self-improvement thread and complain that it isnt what you want? The whole point of self-improvement is change and you very clearly had no motive to change yourself at all, let alone learn the fundamentals of what trp is about. Please read the sidebar and understand what this is about as opposed to reading a few comments and forming an opinion.

You're looking to change your philosophy but you are not open to understanding another? I'd say it is pretty obvious that it makes you anxious and insecure that not all people don't agree with you...

MartialEagle69 1 points 19 September, 2018 03:18 AM [recovered]

The demographic is that nerd you remember from high school who got wedgied by a bully in front of hot chicks and was rejected by women for the entirety of his academic life as a result.

From reading some of the hilariously pathetic posts, it's clear that none of these guys have been truly loved or cared for by a woman. This sub is a very poor band aid to a deep rooted problem.

v74u • -2 points • 19 September, 2018 06:24 AM*

I swear this is about the millionth time on this sub I've heard to never worry about one woman. I feel like most the guys on this sub didn't get girls and felt rejected so now they just try to get as many girls as possible, chasing the feeling they never felt when they were younger. Treating their past feelings of rejection and loneliness with as many girls as possible. Not realizing they just traded in one mental issue for another. Seeking happiness through women will always leave you miserable, the key is to realize that. It doesn't matter if you just want to be with one girl or a hundred.

wmat213 1 points 20 September, 2018 03:36 AM [recovered]

People downvoting you but not refuting your thesis shows that you're right. I absolutely agree. Chasing women is always stupid. A woman cannot change your self-worth, only you can. Around here it's just like with people on the NoFap sub, they stop pornography and masturbation, but they immediately go to seek sex with any person they can lay their hands on, even if the chick's barely a 3. They'll go from porn and masturbation addicts to sex addicts. Like you so perfectly said, trading one addiction for the other. It's sad to witness.

FieldLine[] • 1 point • 20 September, 2018 03:58 PM

You're missing the point.

wmat213 1 points 21 September, 2018 04:35 AM* [recovered]

No, I think you are missing out on evolution.

There is no need to have sex all the time. There are many men following semen retention (next to NoFap which should be compulsory for everyone on the Red Pill) and they are perfectly fine. If biology worked like that, celibate monks would implode and die.

What I see here, and I say this in the nicest way possible, is many very horny men, who may have stopped masturbation but are still addicted to the vagina. They think they have swallowed the red pill, but they still chase the holy vagina, as if it'd cure them. Hint: It doesn't. Been there, done that. That being said, I am a big believer in freedom so I can't and I won't stand in your way. I just don't think it's beneficial.

FieldLine[] • 1 point • 21 September, 2018 09:22 PM*

The fact that you can do something in an obtuse way doesn't automatically imply it is an efficient way to operate.

You can remain celibate because you're religious or in an attempt to somehow prove that you are "above biology" or some other stupid reason. But don't preach about how you are a higher tier of man because you've "evolved" past physical desire.

Do whatever the fuck you want, dude. I like sex, and most guys like sex, so I'm going to keep teaching them how to get it. What are you even doing here?

The William Lynch speech is an address purportedly delivered by a certain William Lynch to a audience on the bank of the James River in Virginia in 1712 regarding control of slaves within the colony.

"[...]

The Black slave after receiving this indoctrination shall carry on and will become self re-fueling and self-generating for hundreds of years, maybe thousands. Don't forget you must pitch the old Black vs. the young Black male, and the young Black male against the old Black male. You must use the dark skin slave vs. the light skin slaves and the light skin slaves vs. the dark skin slaves. You must use the female vs. the male, and the male vs. the female.

[...]

Therefore, if you break the female mother, she will break the offspring in its early years of development; and when the offspring is old enough to work, she will deliver it up to you, for her normal female protective tendencies will have been lost in the original breaking process.

Therefore, we shall go deeper into this area of the subject matter concerning what we have produced here in this breaking process of the female nger. We have reversed the relationship; in her natural uncivilized state, she would have a strong dependency on the uncivilized nger male, and she would have a limited protective tendency toward her independent male offspring and would raise male offsprings to be dependent like her. Nature had provided for this type of balance. We reversed nature by burning and pulling a civilized nger apart and bullwhipping the other to the point of death, all in her presence. By her being left alone, unprotected, with the male image destroyed, the ordeal caused her to move from her psychologically dependent state to a frozen, independent state. In this frozen, psychological state of independence, SHE WILL RAISE HER MALE AND FEMALE OFFSPRING IN REVERSED ROLES.

For fear of the young male's life, she will psychologically train him to be mentally weak and dependent, but physically strong. Because she has become psychologically independent, she will train her female offsprings to be psychologically independent. What have you got? You've got the nger woman out front and the nger man behind and scared. This is a perfect situation of sound sleep and economics.

CrazyZooarchLady 1 points 19 September, 2018 11:42 PM [recovered]

I have an honest question and observation, although I am sure a few will be rude, I hope a few will also answer me. I'm a 39 yr old woman. Been married 19 years and have 3 sons. My boys are 16, 17, and almost 18. The oldest was placed with us about 2 years ago by DCS out of a terrible home full of drugs and abuse.

Anyway as I stated above, I have been married and 100% faithful (since some people think that doesnt happen anymore) to my husband for 19 years. He is a generator mechanic and I am an archaeologist work toward my Ph.D.

I dont agree with everything in this post, but the part about men and women having an identity crisis and swap is spot on!

I have always been a tomboy and bit more masculine than other women. My grandparents raised me and papaw was in the army for 24 years so he was a major influence on me growing up and I have 5 brothers that made it impossible to be too girly. I have never had much tolerance for a man who is less of a man than I am.

But, women now days seem to have no problem with the males around them being super feminine and it is disturbing. I see these couples that look like they share a closet. And these guys follow them around like lost dogs.

In 19 years my husband has never raised a hand to me (nor would he have the chance to do it twice if he ever did). We haven't even really had a serious arguement in over a decade. He acts like a man should, he is strong and decisive, he provides for his family, works fulltime plus, and always shows respect to others.

What I am seeing lately is that the males who aren't on the more feminine side of the spectrum are swinging toward a false masculinity. I read and hear guys talking about being an alpha and the majority of their examples of how they were an alpha are really just examples of being an asshole. So on one side there are guys in skinny jeans and on the other are guys who think they have to be an abusive asshat. Neither of these are what women want or need. I hate the term "toxic masculinity" almost as much as I hate the term "feminazi" but in some ways that's what it really is on both sides. And this whole incel subculture is terrifying.

My sons are thankfully like their father and after a couple years of living with us, the oldest boy has figured out that being a man doesn't mean being an asshole.

So my question is, how do we as a society stop this extreme shift in gender identity?

There will always be women who want to be dominant, but in general we really want and need a strong man. Not a man we can control but not one that treats us as an ignorant child or animal either. I could not have made 19 years work with a man I could push around because I would not respect him. But I would not have stayed with him if he didn't respect and treat me as an equal either. It is hard to raise sons in a culture that encourages men to either be a pansy or a neanderthal.

Last question, I read all the time that guys think women want a man that's an asshole. But really the problem is that, like I said above, most guys seem to think being a domineering and abusive asshole is the only alternative to being a soft feminine Male. So women have to choose between a giant man baby or a giant asshat. Do you guys really think we want to be treated badly? Please explain the logic if you do.

1. We empower men to be masculine. For the benefit of themselves.
2. If you must choose, raise Neanderthals. We have a million years of biological hardwiring driving our desires and behavior as a species. Women are not gonna stop craving strong, dominant, masculine men any time soon.
3. Yes I know that women like being treated badly. This is based on observation and personal experience. Don't hate me for pointing out the obvious- I didnt make you into the machiavellian, fickle, hypergamous beasts that you are. Blame God or Darwin.

Why are you arguing with vaginas?

Why did you have to mention the fact that you're a woman to ask about societal gender shifting?

"When our boys stop acting like chicks, maybe our women will stop acting like dudes.

Final thought:

You don't become the King by chasing after the Queen. The Queen comes naturally, as a byproduct of you being the fucking King."

Hello, we have internet. I guess You dont understand how much internet affects women, men, society..

I guess not. The other night I had a chick request to suck my balls, after she had already swallowed my semen and I had put my pants on. I said yes and pulled my pants back down and she sucked my balls.

Good thing I am more worried about becoming the King than some goofy bitch. Or the internet, for that matter.
