This dude never adds anything to the subreddit in form of discussion or insight. Only thing he does is post his mediocre videos about populist crap. Getting sick and tired of his posts with only his YT link in there..

He's after publicity

Yes. And I'm sick and tired of his methods. He has absolutely nothing to add, doesn't use this reddit other than self-promotion. One of those who try to make some bucks on a new trend.

He's after the money and shit is really starting to get annoying. He basically cried for patreon donations. He had to make a whole video about it, same goes with sandbitch.

Yeah which is why I think it's time. To address these practices. Also cause they pretend to represent MGTOW as a community.

I honestly don't care if he uses this subreddit to advertise his videos. I do like the content that he creates. You say that he doesn't add anything in form of a discussion but his videos do foster discussions.

As for him wanting to make money off of his videos, so what? It takes a lot of time and effort to pump out that many youtube videos and I doubt he would continue spending that time making content for us to watch if he doesn't get anything out of it. Patreon is completely optional, you don't have to fund him or watch his videos.

There is absolutely 0 effort put into it and that's what I do not like. That's what bothers me. He puts it up there, no explanation, no preface. He doesn't respond to any kind of feedback.. And well... each their own..

I would be fine with his posts if he prefaced the link with a short paragraph introducing the discussion point of the video and ideally responded to comments here on reddit.

But he doesn't at all. There is absolutely 0 effort put into it and that's what I do not like.

I agree.

This is reddit, not YouTube. If you want to engage the reddit community you should 'use' reddit, that means typing and replying to comments (where appropriate).
