

What benifits could come from MGTOW becoming a household term?

One day nobody knew fidget spinners, the next thing everyone did. If MGTOW hit the mainstream, just awareness of it, what effects could that have immediately? Weeks after? A year after?

None. And it is widely known.

I have to disagree, I've asked many people IRL and they've never heard of it or anything like it so it's far from a household term.

Nothing is going to happen.

We are dropping from the society and trying to live a simple life. our impact on the society is minimum.

Society stop caring about us long time ago. whether we live or die it doesn't matter. we are not "the one" more likely we are like the "no one".

There is no need to going your way if anyone is caring about you. We are the lost cause just like truth, justice and respect.

We give up on everything other than on our self. change everything is not our motto, live your life only for yourself is our motto.

It's just going to bring a whole bunch of NAWALT and whiteknights/cucks defending the NAWALT'S

Men will continue to simp and bluepill until they learn the hard way.

If MGTOW ever goes mainstream, that means things are well and truly fucked, to the point even the most delusional BP cannot ignore it. At that point, the downfall will have begun, and almost nothing could stop it. Tho I would expect bachelor/childless taxes to be put in place to stave off the inevitable until it finally arrives.
