

Don't peddle your candidate.

I'm annoyed that I have to say it, but no peddling your candidate.

Yes, I like Trump and he's a clever guy, but it's done.

Locked because I don't care to hear the drama. It's done, it's OVER.

For those of you who took offense or perceived some sort of impropriety over my recent pro-Trump postings, I hereby apologize and disavow any further discussion of politics in /r/theredpill. Some of my personal leanings were becoming too overtly apparent, and I let my political motivations get the best of me.

I have consulted in good faith with the lead mod, /u/redpillschool, on this matter, and it is hereby considered over and done with, not to be mentioned again. None of the actions were mod-endorsed, so you can rest easy in your faith in TRP subreddit. Like RPS has said, it's a closed matter, and it's over.

I hereby return you to your regularly scheduled programming of lifting, improving yourselves, eating a healthy, high-protein diet, and slaying strange pussy.
