

Do I live in a hellhole, or are girls like this everywhere?

I'm starting to become so jaded over dating. For the past two years I've been completely disappointed with the quality of girls I've met. I'm trying to find a feminine, traditional woman who has a modest past and wants to have kids. Instead, I'm meeting girls with sexual pasts that rival any prostitute, SJWs, feminists, etc.

The last girl I went on a date with told me 15 minutes into the date that she hooked up with a famous musician on his tour bus, as if that would impress me. Another girl let it slip that she has a sex tape on the internet and lost count of how many guys she's been with. One girl seemed like my type. She was in a PhD program and really beautiful. I showed my friend her picture and he thought she looked familiar. A few minutes later he sent me a link to her seekingarrangement profile. Another girl seemed decently feminine, but then told me she has herpes. I've gone on 30 first dates within the past couple years and without fail they've all had substance abuse problems, eating disorders, mental health problems, money problems, or daddy issues. I just don't get it... Where the fuck are the decent girls at?

GL with that.

CutLiver • 89 points • 24 January, 2018 07:17 PM

Let me guess... you're meeting them online?

sjdfhskdjfh[S] • 58 points • 24 January, 2018 07:19 PM

Mostly. I thought I'd give meeting girls at church a shot. That's where I met the one with the sex tape and a thing for MMF threesomes.

girls at church

Lots of folks to go church on Sunday to get forgiven for what they did on Saturday night.

Thethrowawayoption • 1 points • 25 January, 2018 01:41 AM [recovered]

I grew up in a Christian family, even got sent to church school and stayed through college cause christian college meant financial help. Here's the thing: Christians, and churches too, are not the same. Like not even close and that's just within one denomination, not even counting the differences between denominations.

For example in the church my parents visit every week, it's mostly older folks. They sing hymns. They have a sermon about how prayer works wonders and god cares about you and shit. Then they have a potluck where all the old ladies try to bring the best casserole. There aren't a lot of young women there, but the ones who are there have no tattoos, want children, want to pause their careers to stay home with the children, and it's going to be months before you get sex if you get it at all before marriage. But that's just one building.

Go 15 miles down the road, and there's another church. Same denomination, but the people are different. In this church the songs have electric guitars and drums, and it's as much about hearing that one leader with the amazing voice as it is about singing along. The women who go there are just as fashion conscious, dramatic, and catty to each other as any club goer. Many have tattoos (like on the ankles or whatever--even one is pretty rebellious for this denomination). They want to have careers; don't want kids. They're cheating and divorcing and acting just like secular people with the exception that they talk about god a lot and pray in public.

Point is that if you want a certain kind of stereotypical church girl, you should try out lots of different churches (and depending on your flexibility, also denominations) to find the vibe that fits what the type of girl you want would like. I'm not about that cause I'm an atheist now and not interested in dating a christian even if she's otherwise getting a lot of my wants right, but I've been there so I know.

WishingForWhiteness • 2 points • 25 January, 2018 07:45 PM modern evangelical churches are utterly corrupt. I get that the ideal for many TRP goys is to pull some qtpatootie virgin sweetheart and mould her to their beliefs, but 99% of TRP is not willing to commit to a religion to acquire that. If you can't handle not getting laid for a long time and committing to an ideology that challenges you, you're in for a tough fucking sale.

Well-spoken post, though. Finding a quality church these days is a challenge. Hillsong needs to die a quick death.

CutLiver • 9 points • 25 January, 2018 01:19 AM

It's a numbers game, bro. Not much you can do about it except go on a lot of dates and weed out the weird ones. Eventually you'll find what you're looking for. Keep dating, and write down a list of traits your ideal woman would have. When a girl doesn't have at least 5 of your top 10 most important qualities on that list, drop her.

For example, my list is:

Dark hair, between 5'0" and 5'5", dark eyes, feminine, ambitious, sexy, fit and active, generous, good cook, and funny.

Every time I meet a girl, I do a mental check for those qualities. It helps to know what you want.

And this is just my opinion, but I wouldn't worry too much about how many guys they've been with. Women can get dick anytime they want, so if they're over 25, most of them are going to be in the teens or 20s even if they're "good girls". Look at it like this: the more sex they've had, the better they're likely to be in bed. You're not going to find a virgin, bro. On the off-chance that you do, she's probably going to be a nutcase.

A22H013 • 15 points • 25 January, 2018 08:37 AM

Look at it like this: the more sex they've had, the better they're likely to be in bed.

That's like saying the more crashes a car's been in, the better it'll drive.

[deleted] • 3 points • 25 January, 2018 07:09 AM

That's the thing, there's nothing special about a chick that's been around. She's just more of the same. Why hold your standards at the bare minimum?

When living standards make overindulgence easy, it's much more respectable when someone can say "no, I won't do that." and follows through with what they believe is better in the long term. This doesn't even have to apply to sex, it applies to just about anything.

[deleted] • 120 points • 24 January, 2018 07:18 PM

I am guessing you're mid to late twenties, possibly older.

You're looking for a traditional girl who is still available and modest.

Here's what you sound like:

"Yes I'd like to buy a used car made in the late 80s early 90s with one owner and hardly any miles!"

And you can't believe that all of the cars you're looking at have been in accidents / scrapes and bruises along the way?

Sounds like you can't afford a new car. Level up or buy used. Hit the gym.

Random_throwaway_000 • 1 points • 24 January, 2018 10:01 PM [recovered]

Are you saying he is dating mid to late twenties girls, can't date younger girls, or that girls after high school become used up?

all4gibs • 14 points • 24 January, 2018 10:49 PM

yes to all of that he's saying OP is complaining about shitty quality because his target age range is 98% shitty quality

resnine • 1 point • 18 June, 2018 10:27 PM

That's a good analogy. What's also similar is the business triangle. Money, time, quality. If you want something quicker and good quality (young) it will cost you, but instead you can get something slower and poor quality (old) it will be cheaper. A lot of this stuff really does come down to economics/business exchanges.

iknowthewhey • 30 points • 24 January, 2018 07:27 PM

Decent girls? You won't find decent girls anywhere unless you are looking in a society based on strict religion. Religious girls are your best option but even then you will likely be surprised how much just like every other girl they are. Some career focused girls can be this way like the ones studying for Med school but you're shit out of luck if you are looking in a bar or tinder to find a decent girl. AWALT.

nastynickdr • 24 points • 24 January, 2018 07:54 PM

In my country there's a ton of girls who were promiscuous sluts that join a church/religion and then all of a sudden she's a born-again-virgin in her head. Of course if she regrets it it doesn't count, the hamster does all the job. I know a handful who now have a BF/fiancee who they would only fuck after marriage, after years of being party-sluts.

iknowthewhey • 6 points • 25 January, 2018 02:58 AM

Like I said. You would be surprised how similar religious girls are like every other girl. But I was mostly referring to girls that have been very religious their whole lives. Your point holds true though but if a guy can't see through a "born-again" virgin then he is beyond saving.

2comment • 3 points • 25 January, 2018 04:07 AM

This usually happens in time for them to jump the wall.

Guys think they are getting virgin Mary when they're really getting Mary Magdalene.

Yup, this is pretty much the norm of today's society.

This is the result of generations of women raised without a masculine figure in their life, albeit, there are still "unicorns" who were raised by a masculine father to have self confidence.

There are a few daughters of masculine men at my gym (men who are still lifting into their 40's & 50's) who you can tell have self-esteem that is just head & shoulders above all other girls. You just have to look in the right place to find girls like this.

Many girl I see on social dating apps have this kind of autism. They have no idea of what are good qualities and bad qualities in a girl and think that having sucked miles of dick is okay, or worse, attractive.

As someone else has said here, it's probably due tot the lack of a masculine figure.

beginner_ • 5 points • 25 January, 2018 07:13 AM

And I say this is a good thing because it makes it trivial to weed them out. The main difference to 20 years ago is that they used to shut up about this stuff and you had to make good guesses yourself. But don't for 1 second belief that there were no sluts 20 years ago.

666mafioso • 3 points • 25 January, 2018 01:30 PM

Don't give autism a bad name like this... 98% of autists are male regardless. These hoes are just common thots regressing to their primordial behavior without anyone giving them boundaries. Since the boundaries they can set on their own are as permeable as Internet Explorer firewalls and based on "feels", we're just seeing what was bound to happen

We are out there, go on RPW and you'll see :). I am from Sweden so I was brainwashed into thinking that feminism is true, I saw the truth when I was 16 (I'm turning 21 this year).

As you've probably heard a thousand times, but my femininity and my deep desire to submit to a strong man comes from me having a dad who is incredibly strong and masculine. It has completely shaped what I thought a man should be like, I always felt safe around my dad and protected. He taught me what men look for, got mad if me or my sister tried to dress to sexually. I automatically became like my mum who is feminine and submissive. If you don't already ask what the girls relationship with her parents ESPECIALLY her dad I think you should.

You are searching in the wrong places.

Y'know, what you're doing is akin to going to an electronic music concert then complaining why aren't you hearing any rock. No shit dude, you're in a wrong spot.

You don't need to go to the church explicitly to find the girls you're looking for, but consider what kind of girls are going to be looking for men in the places you visit.

If you're dating Tinder, do you want a girl who would install Tinder? Think of the multitude of women who believe the sole idea of having Tinder is degrading to them. They won't be there.

You are already screening the women by the places you look for them in.

resnine • 1 point • 18 June, 2018 10:32 PM

True, it's like a self-filtering/self-organizing process. The good one's will be in certain places, and the bad one's will be in others like dating apps.

It is impossible to find girls with the values you desire in post modernistic shithole countries. My recommendation? Work hard earn money then move to Poland or similar country and live as a king. Those kinds of countries still have family values.

It's called the decline. It's pretty universal in much of the west although there might be pockets here and there, with the internet getting less likely all the time.

Some say enjoy it... there's really nothing else positive you can do other than seek outside countries. They might be better but no utopia.

Soderbergh • 7 points • 24 January, 2018 08:03 PM

Girls like you want to exist, but they are few and far between.

Also, the ones that are good are taken by the high smv alpha guys.

So, it's difficult. What in life that's worth it is not?

Keep improving yourself and look for girls in everyday life.

The good ones are usually 'hidden in plain sight' and not initially knock-outs.

blackoutedfast • 4 points • 25 January, 2018 02:59 AM focus on your social circle game. become that cool guy who knows everyone and is always doing fun stuff. plan events and get-togethers. tell your friends that they're welcome to invite any cool friends/co-workers/roommates/cousins/whatevers. keep doing this and constantly upgrading the quality of your social circles and you'll start meeting more and more single girls aren't looking to slut it up and ride the CC.

[deleted] • 2 points • 25 January, 2018 05:54 AM

I had one of those unless your LTR game is tight, they will leave and cheat like any other.

beginner_ • 3 points • 25 January, 2018 07:06 AM

First of you are doing fine if you get them to reveal their dirty secrets albeit I'm not sure we are already that far that they don't even get these are dirty secrets. Anyway, you are able to weed them out and aren't falling into the trap.

What can you do?

Whatever you are doing isn't working. So change how you get these dates. Online? Stop it and move to daygame. Barsluts? Stop it and move to day game and/or online.

The type of women you look for almost certainly isn't on tinder. If you must go the online route use a paid site.

Yeah sucks but it's a numbers game. You can only hit up that many girls each day with day game. Importantly is to continue approaching in real-life.

I honestly think were just fucked. Im 33. Which means Im a rare breed that dated 18-25 year olds pre-smart phones and now have dated after. These bitches are DIFFERENT now, in just a few short years.

No one can deny that social media on steroids (I was a junior in college when facebook came out but you had to be a sorta homebody sitting on your computer to use it) changed womens expectations.

Also, my last serious gf accidentally let out that the last guy she was 'seeing' was an NFL player. Same as OPs example, she said it as if she was bragging... these bitches are retarded.

resnine • 2 points • 18 June, 2018 10:44 PM

Their options have broadened because access to top tier men is more readily accessible through social media. They can be pickier and choosier because they see all this information on social media, if she can keep stalking alphas on social media that give her hints of a relationship or even fwb, well, anything below that will just falls short. The expectations for your average guy are insane. The incel community get's a lot of hate and for good reason but this point they talk about I have to agree with.

GunnarX • 2 points • 25 January, 2018 01:46 PM

I think it's unfair to say nothing good comes from relationships. One would argue consistent sex-on-demand is a benefit, along with learning to calibrate yourself/habits to keep that going.

BestSC86 • 2 points • 25 January, 2018 05:43 PM*

Usually the "nothing comes from relationship" dudes are those who playing a part to get in a girl's panties so the relationship falls apart when that shell breaks...whether that relationship is two weeks or two months.

It is like they forget that the reason they came looking for help with women was to figure out how to develop the ability to connect with women\people in their lives. It seems that they learn a few behaviors\maneuvers which allows them to trick a few girls into dropping their panties, then simply stop growing. Those girls start ejecting out of their lives as they learn that the dude wasn't what was projected, the dudes get caught in the same loop over and over again....find girl, use behavior, fuck girl, girl ejects, repeat....dude then blames the girl and get even more bitter...but having found something comfortable which "works" they just become stalled.

That goes on for a variable length of time until the dude realizes that finding hole number 31 wasn't what they began the journey about...as nobody was really impressed with them having fucked 31 women as they thought they would be so they were not getting the external validation and even worse the internal validation of feeling better about themselves has not happened either regardless of the number of holes.

It has happened to ALL the so-called legends of PUA and to most of the dudes who have come thru the community.....they realize that it wasn't the number of holes into which they could stick their little weewees for which they came searching but the original thing that made them go searching...learning how to connect with people on a emotional\intimate\real level, so they begin the process again and this time do not stop at just finding a couple of cheats to get a girl to drop her panties.

[deleted] • 1 point • 25 January, 2018 01:53 PM

I mean consistent really is iffy to me. A high SMV should get you consistent pickups with girls and this can help calibrate habits to keep going. Though you are right it's mildly easier (really depends on the girl in the relationship)

GunnarX • 2 points • 25 January, 2018 02:24 PM

This is true, depending on your living situation. When you live in a small town like me, the consistent sex is just a better bet.

maxrp • 1 point • 25 January, 2018 10:21 AM

Metalageddon • 1 point • 25 January, 2018 12:13 PM

You need to practice vetting and nexting.

First, set some minimums for yourself. "Redhead, big titties, in shape, likes funny guys, no tattoos."

Run this checklist every time you associate. If they fail, move on. The harsher your checklist the less chicks will fit, but the more successful your interactions will be if you tailor it to your type, and your success history.

I know plenty of those. Sadly they're my family members and no, you can't find them on tinder. Besides - who the hell wants to have kids. Do YOU want kids? I guess if a woman offered you a marriage right away, but you must impregnate her today, you'd decline. GL with that traditional woman!

Also, personality of women that is most inclined towards family and kids is also the most boring personality to talk with. Details, details, details. Also they hassle you about better job/pay 24/7. I had this traditional woman. I'd take medium woman or SJW over that.

kejflk34jlkd • 1 points • 24 January, 2018 08:47 PM [recovered]

Yeah, I have some cousins that are traditional and feminine, but they married their high school sweathearts right after college. Sadly, if you didn't lock a girl down before she entered college, the odds of finding decent wife material is slim.

Tercalerc • 1 point • 25 January, 2018 04:15 AM

RedwallAllratuRatbar • 1 point • 25 January, 2018 08:57 AM

Yeah my mother was close-minded witch. Traditional = bigot (on this area I somewhat agree with SJW's). To be honest, ok marriage, while I wouldn't marry a SJW, they're are MUCH more fun to talk with than those close-minded, work-hard, burn-witches-on-stake traditional women. Probably the BEST woman for marriage is one that WOULD be SJW if NOONE snatches her EARLY. Because, you know - people pleasers go crazy with the amount of shit in this world. They are not fit there and just go bonkers crazy with green hair and armpits (sing of idealism). Some people may bash myers briggs when they take the test, but to deny that there are ARCHETYPES of people is plain retarded. If someone is metalhead in his 30's then there is high chance he is a nerd too etc.

Compare typical traditional woman profile <https://mypersonality.info/personality-types/istj/> With typical SJW profile <https://mypersonality.info/personality-types/enfj/> with typical redpiller <https://mypersonality.info/personality-types/intj/> of course these descriptions, while true, concentrate on "best sides". I can infer bad sides easily from reading those, after years of typing people

Lastly, if you are _N _ _ chances you can talk with _ S _ _ and not get bored are small.
