

I live in the UK and I'm looking for cabin home ideas and help

Hello,

I'm looking into insulated cabin homes and would appreciate some ideas or recommendations. I have some garden space and would like to put a self contained cabin in there to accommodate a single person. I would require a fridge, double sofa bed, air conditioning and a seperate bathroom suite. I can run water and electricity to it from my main home and connect it to all the sewage pipes. I have between £10k-£15k to spend.

I have probably missed out a lot of details and information but this is all new to me and this is just a rough idea of what I'm looking to have.

Any help will be appreciated! Thank you

Hey man best of luck for your new venture. I don't know much about cabin homes, but since nobody replied to you, I'll give you a suggestion to get an air purifier as a small place with lots of stuff gets pretty dusty. I have a room where I keep my tv, 3 desks and 2 PC's and it gets pretty dusty that I have to clean it almost every week.
