I cheat on my very great girlfriend. I do feel bad when I am committing the act but I like it as most men I know. Any advice on how to handle this? Continue on or change my ways?

Don't do it or accept it. Stop whining. Make a choice.

If you want to eliminate the desire, you could take certain medications like adderall, which can destroy libido. Personally, I just accept that I'll always want to fuck random women. And I often do.

Guess me banning you from asktrp wasn't enough to stop your trash posting in more RP spaces. Enjoy them banning you here!

This made me slow-smurk lol

I'll leave this quote here:
