

This may not count here but I was just laughing my way through FDS and saw a pretty sad post so I went to the comments and saw this shit basically calling all men rapists and that homeless men don't deserve empathy

And then they wonder why they can't get any man to date them except male allies. Idiots

"I never really feel sorry for men because at least they can do physical labour". I'm sorry, since when were all women unable to do physical labour? It sorta sounds like you're, like, assuming based on gender. But no woman would do such thing, right?

They're thought process is that men have life so much better that's if they can't succeed with that then they deserve it ig

Geez these things actually live on another world. I have no doubt they believe what they're saying, so delusional

They're the type to be lesbians not because they're attracted to women but instead because they're scared of men

Yes i wonder what happened in their lives, they must not have been born that way. I was raised in a family with lots of guys in it and ive been fighting for male equality for years now, maybe these girls had no male figures in their life. Still, their minds are diseased

I was thinking either past abuse or no male role models

they can always do physical labor jobs

Correct me if I'm wrong, but isn't it sexist to imply women can't?

As a woman who hauls around bricks and makes brickwork for one of my school subjects, I confirm, that women CAN do physical work. Just because biologically we may have less muscle mass doesn't determine how well we can work. Everyone can lift a brick, everyone can lift some plasterboard. All it takes is a bit of hard work, commitment and perseverance. Anyone could have the latter 2 traits.
