Black Lives Are In Danger. Within their own communities, from their own people.
But BLM doesn't want to talk about that...

Most homicides were intraracial, with 84% of White victims killed by Whites, and 93% of African American victims were killed by African Americans

But BLM won't talk about that..

I'll be banned for this post in 3...2..1...

Saying 'blacks will kill blacks' isn't okay...

I agree saying only Blacks are victims of police brutality is heavily ignorant, but BLM isn't protesting to end violence against only black people, they want to get rid of police brutality in itself.

Whenever a movement like this happens people get so caught up in the idea of what they're fighting for that they forget to be decent people.

Tbh I can see why they have movements like this after stuff like the Ahmaud Arberry Case for example. Police officers just consider black people more suspicious and the such, which can lead to killings.

No it's when they are in the black neighborhood. In the city definitely not. It's about culture.

"I keep swinging my hand through a swarm of bees, I can't understand why they're stinging me"

Black people every time police brutality occurs (perceived or actual): Let's "protest" by destroying the "white mans" private property and challenge their authority by smashing windows of public buildings that everyone's (black and white) tax dollars pay for!

Also black people: I just doesn't under stand why the police always got to racially profile us.

This sign says that as if there isn't actual footage of "protesters" telling each other to shoot white people.

Is every sign is supposed to address every thing that's going on by all other protestors? To knock on this guy for having a positively messaged sign is ridiculous. Considering the title it's almost as if you're accusing them of perpetrating those acts of violence yourself.

I would argue that this person, one holding a sign meant to disarm people who have the wrong idea about BLM rather than inflame them, is on the right side of the violence. Otherwise he wouldn't have taken the time to address the concerns of other populations (the all lives matter counter-protesting), they would simply have attacked them.
