

Say, if the gap did exist, surely companies would hire women instead to be more profitable? Common sense.

You forgot workplace death gap. Dangerous jobs tend to pay better and rightly so.

Not to mention all the men working their asses off to support their wives (and family).

Feminism is cancer.

Not only that, 2 employees will have same salary if they have:

1. Same work experience in same field
2. Total work experience which includes all fields
3. Same department
4. Same designation
5. Same number of years working in that company and under same department
6. Same number of working hours
7. Same overtime
8. Same qualification
9. Same skills

It is unlikely that 2 employees can ever have all these factors same.

Just playing devil's advocate...

There are 2 bluetooth headphones one is $15 the other is $30. All the same specs and everything. The $30 has better reviews saying it works longer(battery), and lasts longer (durability).

Just say for sake of analogy it's a monthly expense.

Which would you rather buy?

Shuja1Ali[S] • 1 point • 31 March, 2020 07:31 PM

That depends on the kinda person you are, if it's a monthly expense I'll go for the $15 one

[deleted] • 1 point • 31 March, 2020 08:09 PM

Let me rephrase it. You are a content creator, when someone buys the headphones you are wearing you make money off of it.

Which would you rather buy.

Also you cant fix either headphones. Unless they are completely gone.

I would go with the $30

Shuja1Ali[S] • 1 point • 31 March, 2020 08:12 PM

It's hard to say BC both have their arguments, and rilly it depends on the kinda content creator you are

[deleted] • 1 point • 31 March, 2020 08:19 PM

So in other words companies hire both men and women, because there are both pros, and cons, but it depends on the type of company it is.

Btw I'm not saying the pay gap is real. It's just a hypothetical situation.

cert1fieddumbass • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 03:46 PM

yeah this is the dumbest thing i've ever seen

Shuja1Ali[S] • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 03:46 PM

Reason?

cert1fieddumbass • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 03:50 PM

sure! i actually do appreciate you asking for a reason before just going off. where are you getting these statistics? are these actually proven or just opinion? because when evaluating the wage gap, they didnt just go off comparing workers at different levels. we're talking comparing people who have the same job and the same experience, and it was found that (as im sure you heard before) men got $1ish for every womans 79 cents

Shuja1Ali[S] • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 03:57 PM

These are studies found, you can msg me and I will send you these studies if you want man, and also this graphic also represents men and women in the same job, as men are more likely to do overtime, and less likely to take leaves than women in the same job

Shuja1Ali[S] • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 04:01 PM

So would you like to me send you these studies?

cert1fieddumbass • 1 point • 2 April, 2020 04:02 PM

please do
