Patriarchy

whats wrong about patriarchy? its a system that people choose to do, and its their choice. and all the statistics shows that men are more productive so the line going from father to son and so on isnt really that bad. and by the way, if the father doesnt have a son it just goes to the daughter. so theres nothing wrong about it. why you guys hating?

First mistake was implying the Patriarchy exists

I used to make it a point to get banned from the fem-centric BS subs like that, but now I don't even enjoy it. They're just so far gone, so broken, and arrogantly so, that I can't even read their shit. I don't even want to see it, it's just nauseating.

It's that female imperative run amok. They've destroyed themselves but their bullshit is so reinforced by society (other women and their beta bitch orbiters) that they don't suffer the consequences. They're shining examples of why misogyny hasn't died and isn't going anywhere soon.
